Abstract	Walter Washington served as the city's first appointed, and later, elected mayor. The Walter E. Washington Papers document Washington's career as mayor-commissioner, and later mayor, of Washington D.C., as well as his personal life in the years before and after his political career. Included are mayor-commissioner files, mayoral files, Bennetta Washington files, correspondence, photographs, subject files, and artifacts.

Biographical/Historical note

Walter Washington served as the city's first appointed, and later, elected mayor. He was born in Dawson, Georgia. He later attended Howard University and earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Sociology and Public Administration in 1938. He would return ten years later and earn a law degree. He excelled in school, serving as president of Student Council and president of the Collegiate Auxiliary Chapter of the New Negro Alliance. He led civil rights protests throughout the city. In the early 1940s, Washington was appointed by President Kennedy as the Executive Director of city housing, which was later named National Capital Housing Authority. He briefly served as a member of New York mayor's John Lindsay cabinet, presiding over the city's Housing Authority. President Johnson, who a few years earlier resisted appointing Washington head of the developing police department, called him back to D.C. to serve as the first appointed mayor of the newly established city. Washington served as mayor-commissioner from 1967-1974, and elected mayor 1974-1979. Washington was married to Bennetta Bullock, who passed away in 1991. His second wife, whom he married in 1991, is still living. Washington passed away on October 27, 2003.

Scope and Contents note

The Walter E. Washington Papers document Washington's career as mayor-commissioner, and later mayor, of Washington D.C., as well as his personal life in the years before and after his political career. Mayor-commissioner files span 1967-1974 and include official correspondence, personal schedules, committee files, social calendars, itineraries, newsclippings, speeches, and other documents. Mayoral files span 1974-1978, during Washington's term as mayor, and include campaign files, books, committee files, complaints and petitions, agency files, daily briefings, budget documents, official schedules, info files, photographs, speeches and statements, correspondence, and photographs among other items. Bennetta Washington was Walter Washington's first wife and was known for her work as an educator, advocate for the poor, and assistant to the Assistant Secretary of Labor, as well as the director of Women's Job Corps. Her files span from 1944-1993 and include schedules and monthly planners, diaries, correspondence, Department of Labor reports, awards, photographs, speeches and statements. Correspondence spans from 1955-2003 and includes much of Walter Washington's personal correspondence, as well as some professional correspondence. Photographs span from 1944-2001 and span much of Washington's career; Bennetta Washington is included in many of the photos as well. Subject files include material that falls outside the scope of Washington's years as mayor-commissioner and mayor. Many of the files date from Washington's time as Executive Director of the National Capital Housing Authority in the 1960s. Artifacts date from 1948 to 1979 and include awards, certificates, and honorary degrees among other items.
