My dear Sir:-

I am greatly obliged to you for your very kind favor of July 20th, again extending me an invitation to lecture during the coming season, under the auspices of your Young People's Lecture Association. I am compelled to refer this letter, as I did the former one, to Rev. R. C. Bedford, 832 Park Ave., Beloit, Wisconsin. As I wrote you before, Mr. Bedford is the secretary of our Board of Trustees, and is in no way connected with a lecture bureau. He very kindly consents to arrange my western engagements, because he is better acquainted in the West than I am.

I hope the way will be opened for me to serve you some time during the season.

Yours truly,

Booker T. Washington.
