THE CALL OF YOUTH COMES TO HOWARD

Students are expected to meet the challenge.

A. LINCOLN RICHARDSON

Washington, D. C., FEB. 17—The Youth Movement known as The American Youth Movement began in the United States in the fall, and now has branches in every state and territory of the country. It is the most widespread and well-organized youth movement in the world, with over one million members.

The movement is based on the belief that youth is the most precious asset of any community and that it is the duty of every community to do everything in its power to develop and utilize this asset. The movement is dedicated to the ideal of freedom, power, and responsibility for youth.

The movement was founded by Dr. John H. White, a prominent educator and social reformer, who saw the need for a movement to help youth develop their potential.

The movement has a wide range of activities, including clubs, camps, and_events to help youth develop their leadership skills. It also provides opportunities for youth to engage in community service and to make a difference in their communities.

The movement is supported by a network of local and national leaders, who work together to ensure that youth have the resources and opportunities they need to succeed.

The American Youth Movement is a powerful force for change, and it is expected to continue to grow and expand its influence in the years to come.

Taking a strong stand for support of dry law enforcement Georgetown University through the official organ of its student body, declares that respect for the Volstead Act should begin in the schools, colleges, and universities of the country. The determination of the University ar in a direct challenge to colleges to set a national example in showing respect for dry law enforcement and ban the stamp of faculty approval. The elimination of the practice of drinking among college students depends upon a steady and gradual education which will emphasize the responsibility that rests upon the more learned of the people of the country to uphold the law of the nation. More than the constant efforts of the students because of the unique bond between the faculty and the students is needed.

The Volstead Act which is promising to become one of the leading clauses in the bill, if enacted into law, will be a very democratic measure for the protection of the public from the evils of a deep friendship for the late John Barleycorn.

It is maintained by a classmate that "Pick" Green, "Fresh Men" is so happy, he is wondering whether the State Board is a prank.

It is a very good thing that you say "Hill." M. S. talks in his sleep.

Miss Curran got her business card on Feb. 22, which foot-eped for the discernment.

We wonder how many girls there will be left to serve as punch of the Valentine party.

Miss Rogers has completely forgotten Miss Eaton since Ruby's talks have become less personal.

It is rumored that Miss Holloway won out each of the past week end with a different man.

The general assembly is the place for the political meeting of a broader field of voting for the Engineering students. This attempt is successful because of the opportunity for closer acquaintance and the presence of a social atmosphere. The student of The School of Applied Science, securing speakers at the meetings, engineers and architects of prominence, and being seen by great general in formation of value to the student. As a further means to this end the society intends to make a band room in the office of the society.

Howard Swamps Lincoln

Howard Baskettiers brought the home crowd to its feet by running the ball into a fast break and scoring two quick points. "That was a good move, but I don't think it will work against us," said Howard. "Our defense is tight, and we'll hold them to a minimum of points." The game continued with Howard taking the lead, only to be matched by Lincoln. "We're evenly matched," said Lincoln's coach. "This will be a close game." The crowd roared as Howard scored two more points, increasing their lead to 12-8. "We're on our way," said Howard's captain. "We're confident of winning." The game ended with Howard winning, 15-10, and the crowd cheering in excitement.

Kappa Alpha Psi Wins Game

On Saturday afternoon, February 23rd, the Delta Big Five and Kappa Alpha Psi faced off in the University of Pennsylvania's basketball series. The game was uneventful, with the Kappa Alpha Psi team dominating the court. "We had a good game," said Kappa Alpha Psi's captain. "Our defense was strong, and we were able to hold our opponents to a minimum of points." The crowd roared as Kappa Alpha Psi scored two more points, increasing their lead to 12-8. "We're on our way," said Kappa Alpha Psi's coach. "We're confident of winning." The game ended with Kappa Alpha Psi winning, 15-10, and the crowd cheering in excitement.

Investment Tips

Investing in stocks can be a great way to grow your money. Here are a few tips to help you get started:

1. Research: Do your homework before investing. Look into the company's financials and track their performance over time.
2. Diversify: Don't put all your eggs in one basket. Spread your investments across different sectors and industries.
3. Keep an eye on the news: Stay informed about the stock market and the economy. This can help you make informed decisions.
4. Be patient: Investing is a long-term game. Don't be too quick to sell, even if there are fluctuations in the market.
5. Consult a financial advisor: A professional can help you navigate the stock market and make informed decisions.

We hope these tips help you get started on your investment journey. Good luck!
