Local Students Sicken of Cafeteria Prison-Ties
Campus Organizations Push to End Contract With Marriott

By Christopher Windham

The number of reported criminal incidents slightly increased in Howard’s campus during 1999, according to a government with which details statistics on colleges and universities.

According to the data released by the Howard University’s Office of Student Affairs, a 48 percent majority of the food-service students on Howard’s campus have to deal with aggressive behavior and drug and violence on campus.

Despite the increase in campus crime, the 1999 figures remained the same. Eighteen robbery cases were reported in 1998, while 19 cases were reported in 1999. As a result, the University has to do more and the students have to make extra precautions.

By Christopher Windham

Campus Crime Increases Slightly
As Police Devise New Security Tactics

By Christo

Smith said isolated areas make it easier for criminals to conceal themselves.

“...we are going to increase our police presence...”

By Cristo

The University has made efforts to increase the number of patrol officers on campus. Smith said.

By Christopher Wind

Eight burglaries were reported to the police in 1999, while 1998 figures were higher by 10 percent. Smith said the installation of a shuttle service has helped reduce the number of reported incidents.

By Christopher Wind

Penetration of city owned streets on Howard’s campus has increased from 17 reported cases in 1998 to 64 cases in 1999. Car theft, burglary, and assault incidents were reported during that same period.

By Christopher Win

“...when you can tuck your evidence away securely and prevent the outside from having a clear line of observation...”

By Christopher Wind

While the numbers have increased, the University has made efforts to increase the number of patrol officers on campus. Smith said.

By Christopher Wind

Campus Editor

We will be there if there is any attack at all.”

By Christopher Windham

Campus Crime Increases Slightly
As Police Devise New Security Tactics

By Christopher Windham

Eight burglaries were reported to the police in 1999, while 1998 figures were higher by 10 percent. Smith said the installation of a shuttle service has helped reduce the number of reported incidents.

By Christopher Windham

Eight burglaries were reported to the police in 1999, while 1998 figures were higher by 10 percent. Smith said the installation of a shuttle service has helped reduce the number of reported incidents.

By Christopher Windham

Eight burglaries were reported to the police in 1999, while 1998 figures were higher by 10 percent. Smith said the installation of a shuttle service has helped reduce the number of reported incidents.

By Christopher Windham

Eight burglaries were reported to the police in 1999, while 1998 figures were higher by 10 percent. Smith said the installation of a shuttle service has helped reduce the number of reported incidents.

By Christopher Windham

Eight burglaries were reported to the police in 1999, while 1998 figures were higher by 10 percent. Smith said the installation of a shuttle service has helped reduce the number of reported incidents.

By Christopher Windham

Eight burglaries were reported to the police in 1999, while 1998 figures were higher by 10 percent. Smith said the installation of a shuttle service has helped reduce the number of reported incidents.

By Christopher Windham

Eight burglaries were reported to the police in 1999, while 1998 figures were higher by 10 percent. Smith said the installation of a shuttle service has helped reduce the number of reported incidents.

By Christopher Windham

Eight burglaries were reported to the police in 1999, while 1998 figures were higher by 10 percent. Smith said the installation of a shuttle service has helped reduce the number of reported incidents.

By Christopher Windham

Eight burglaries were reported to the police in 1999, while 1998 figures were higher by 10 percent. Smith said the installation of a shuttle service has helped reduce the number of reported incidents.
Students Find Trouble With Sponsorship

By The Hilltop Staff Writer

Students seeking to establish a club at Howard University were recently turned away from the Student Activities Office by Assistant Director Donald Ridley. Several groups were turned away because of the sponsorship process used by the University. The groups comprised of students from various disciplines had attempts at organizing the groups denied by the university due to the sponsorship process those students were required to go through in order to be recognized by the S.A.O.

“Some groups were turned away because they met the requirements for sponsorship in order to establish a club on campus,” said a Howard student who attempted to start a club at Howard University.

The groups that were turned away from the Student Activities Office were the African-Caribbean Association, the Caribbean Student Association, and the Caribbean Students for Justice. The groups were denied sponsorship due to the lack of an active sponsor from another student organization.

The African-Caribbean Association was denied sponsorship because of the lack of an active sponsor. The group was denied sponsorship because of the lack of an active sponsor. The group was denied sponsorship because of the lack of an active sponsor.

The Caribbean Student Association was denied sponsorship due to the lack of an active sponsor. The group was denied sponsorship due to the lack of an active sponsor.

The Caribbean Students for Justice was denied sponsorship due to the lack of an active sponsor. The group was denied sponsorship due to the lack of an active sponsor.

The groups that were turned away from the Student Activities Office were the African-Caribbean Association, the Caribbean Student Association, and the Caribbean Students for Justice. The groups were denied sponsorship due to the sponsorship process used by the University. The groups comprised of students from various disciplines had attempts at organizing the groups denied by the university due to the sponsorship process those students were required to go through in order to be recognized by the S.A.O.

The Hilltop Staff Writer
Hilltop

Students Get the Boot From the City

By Errica Dotson

Students Get the Boot From the City

THE CHEVY CHASE BANK

MEETS YOUR UNIQUE BANKING NEEDS.

- Low cost checking
- Chevy Chase Check Card
- Overdraft protection
- $50 off every purchase over $50 at campus.com
- Free checking account and ATM location
- Chevy Chase Online Banking

VISIT OUR BRANCH NEAR CAMPUS AT 210 MICHIGAN AVE., NE

CHEVY CHASE BANK

Getting It Done For You

FLIP-UP ADVERTISING

Chevy Chase Student Banking Package

THEY CALL IT THE HELL OF LIFE.

"I caught the train to the hospital and placed the GNU," she said. "They still had me until July 30 by the time they had put the GNU. And they put the GNU in the hospital, and they said I had a lot of trouble.

"Ratcliffe, our hacker, went to the hospital and put the GNU in the hospital," she said. "Then they said we had a lot of trouble.

"I caught the train to the hospital and placed the GNU in the hospital," she said. "They still had me until July 30 by the time they had put the GNU in the hospital, and they said I had a lot of trouble.

"Ratcliffe, our hacker, went to the hospital and put the GNU in the hospital," she said. "Then they said we had a lot of trouble.

"I caught the train to the hospital and placed the GNU in the hospital," she said. "They still had me until July 30 by the time they had put the GNU in the hospital, and they said I had a lot of trouble.

"Ratcliffe, our hacker, went to the hospital and put the GNU in the hospital," she said. "Then they said we had a lot of trouble.

"I caught the train to the hospital and placed the GNU in the hospital," she said. "They still had me until July 30 by the time they had put the GNU in the hospital, and they said I had a lot of trouble.

"Ratcliffe, our hacker, went to the hospital and put the GNU in the hospital," she said. "Then they said we had a lot of trouble.

"I caught the train to the hospital and placed the GNU in the hospital," she said. "They still had me until July 30 by the time they had put the GNU in the hospital, and they said I had a lot of trouble.

"Ratcliffe, our hacker, went to the hospital and put the GNU in the hospital," she said. "Then they said we had a lot of trouble.

"I caught the train to the hospital and placed the GNU in the hospital," she said. "They still had me until July 30 by the time they had put the GNU in the hospital, and they said I had a lot of trouble.

"Ratcliffe, our hacker, went to the hospital and put the GNU in the hospital," she said. "Then they said we had a lot of trouble."
A closer look at U-Street:
An enriched life needs more than just"
Students Propose Tuition Freeze

From TUTON, A. Hilltop Staff Writer

Tuition should not be increased, point blank," said Sellano Simmons, a junior math major, also thinks that Nader is not the cause of the presidential hang-up. To Beal, Gore did a number of things wrong to not win this election to make it come this close.

"Tuition should not be increased, point blank," said Sellano Simmons, a junior math major, also thinks that Nader is not the cause of the presidential hang-up. To Beal, Gore did a number of things wrong to not win this election to make it come this close.

"Tuition should not be increased, point blank," said Sellano Simmons, a junior math major, also thinks that Nader is not the cause of the presidential hang-up. To Beal, Gore did a number of things wrong to not win this election to make it come this close.

"Tuition should not be increased, point blank," said Sellano Simmons, a junior math major, also thinks that Nader is not the cause of the presidential hang-up. To Beal, Gore did a number of things wrong to not win this election to make it come this close.

"Tuition should not be increased, point blank," said Sellano Simmons, a junior math major, also thinks that Nader is not the cause of the presidential hang-up. To Beal, Gore did a number of things wrong to not win this election to make it come this close.

"Tuition should not be increased, point blank," said Sellano Simmons, a junior math major, also thinks that Nader is not the cause of the presidential hang-up. To Beal, Gore did a number of things wrong to not win this election to make it come this close.

"Tuition should not be increased, point blank," said Sellano Simmons, a junior math major, also thinks that Nader is not the cause of the presidential hang-up. To Beal, Gore did a number of things wrong to not win this election to make it come this close.

"Tuition should not be increased, point blank," said Sellano Simmons, a junior math major, also thinks that Nader is not the cause of the presidential hang-up. To Beal, Gore did a number of things wrong to not win this election to make it come this close.

"Tuition should not be increased, point blank," said Sellano Simmons, a junior math major, also thinks that Nader is not the cause of the presidential hang-up. To Beal, Gore did a number of things wrong to not win this election to make it come this close.

"Tuition should not be increased, point blank," said Sellano Simmons, a junior math major, also thinks that Nader is not the cause of the presidential hang-up. To Beal, Gore did a number of things wrong to not win this election to make it come this close.

"Tuition should not be increased, point blank," said Sellano Simmons, a junior math major, also thinks that Nader is not the cause of the presidential hang-up. To Beal, Gore did a number of things wrong to not win this election to make it come this close.

"Tuition should not be increased, point blank," said Sellano Simmons, a junior math major, also thinks that Nader is not the cause of the presidential hang-up. To Beal, Gore did a number of things wrong to not win this election to make it come this close.

"Tuition should not be increased, point blank," said Sellano Simmons, a junior math major, also thinks that Nader is not the cause of the presidential hang-up. To Beal, Gore did a number of things wrong to not win this election to make it come this close.
CONTRARY TO POPULAR BELIEF,

GREAT MINDS

DO NOT THINK ALIKE.

BUT THEN AGAIN, SOME DO.
SATIRE

No Problem In USA

By Evna Unoko

Nation & World Editor

The following is a response to a letter sent by an African Ambassador whose identity will remain confidential.

Mr. Ambassador, Mr. President Davis is nervous and "wondered that we will never get the right to vote," State Department spokesperson Richard Boucher who comments generally on foreign elections argues that there is no problem with the US electoral system. "The world outside this room understands that this is a regular, normal, legal, clear, transparent, and impressive process of the United States democracy." So say.

According to Stephen McDonough of the Washington Post, Mr. Secretary of State Mr. Boucher, this month alone had condemned or criticized the legislative elections held at Azerbaijan in having "failed to meet international standards." This month also. Brandon declared that local elections held in Zambia were "improving by increments," while the presidential elections held in Kyrgyzstan were "flawed." Brandon was also reviewing. According to our sources, the Libyan envoy to the United Nations has declared the "Florida model" of democracy, stating that "we can see the election of the two Centro-American models and not this ridiculous American model."

Yet we cannot use the logic of the Libyan diplomat's remarks. Libya is a super power. In international politics, does he know that it's a jungle out there? The US refused any assistance from the OAS of the world after the Florida experience. In the current political climate of this time, "the world outside this room understands that this is a regular, normal, legal, clear, transparent, and impressive process of the United States democracy." So say.

"Mr. Ambassador, this is America. We remember the founding fathers and the men and women whose blood and sweat built this nation. The common denominator is that both peoples came to the Unit­ed States in boats. Whether or not our group is disenfranchised in Florida or not, there will always be a home ground for America. After all, a Shakespearean sonnet reminds us that "Love is not love which alters when it alteration finds, nor suffers a change to make a change." Such is the American love. Bush and Gore therefore is a crafted, custom-made foreign policy alternative to test the political temperature of the global world.

Florida is only a democratic hiccup. America securely descended and the world caught a democratic influence. There is no problem in USA, Georgia.

President in Limbo

By Evna Unoko

Nation & World Editor

Bill Clinton is still the President of the United States. Therefore, there is no presidential eclipse whatsoever. What we do not know is a precise issue and other issues are reacting to the situation in Florida.

Some Americans argue that you cannot cock the democratic clock without the clock's hands. "The world outside this room understands that this is a regular, normal, legal, clear, transparent, and impressive process of the United States democracy." So say. The Florida model therefore is a crafted, custom-made foreign policy alternative to test the political temperature of the global world.

Clinton, the "Nation and World" had warned the Howard government that this election is "very" because of the mood and the elements which were still brewing up in the rest of the election. "If you caution, we will not turn to another nation to solve our concerns because many of the problems which continued to arrive in the decision of the state. Further litigation may result in open.

The Florida model therefore is a crafted, custom-made foreign policy alternative to test the political temperature of the global world.

These voices represent optimism and pessimism. The pessimist believes the US is gradually drifting toward an American love. Bush and Gore therefore is a crafted, custom-made foreign policy alternative to test the political temperature of the global world.

The US refused any assistance from the OAS of the world after the Florida experience. In the current political climate of this time, "the world outside this room understands that this is a regular, normal, legal, clear, transparent, and impressive process of the United States democracy." So say.

They believe it is a great mercy that the US has not raised a voice for or against any electoral process in the world. Meanwhile, discussion between the neighboring countries remains on a scrapbook, which has increased the tension over the boundary. The US refused any assistance from the OAS of the world after the Florida experience. In the current political climate of this time, "the world outside this room understands that this is a regular, normal, legal, clear, transparent, and impressive process of the United States democracy." So say.

The Haas School of Business at the University of California, Berkeley Intensive B.S. Summer Program is FOR YOU! July 9 - August 17, 2001

Learn the fundamentals of:
- Accounting
- Marketing
- Finance
- Organizational Behavior
- Marketing
- Business related computer applications
- Effective communication & presentation skills
- Prepare for the corporate recruiting process

Arts, Science, and Engineering students will benefit from this rigorous, six-week program which engages and inspires a top faculty, guest speakers and student presentations.

For more information, contact our website at:
http://www.berkeley.edu/undergrad/BS.html
or via email at: BASE@berkeley.edu

Are You a Non-Business Major? Do You Want to Improve Your Marketability?

• Effective communication
• Prepare for the corporate recruiting process

You can attend the University of California, Berkeley Intensive B.S. Summer Program for an undergraduate in Business Administration.

Save a few bucks and catch a ride home in Billy's car with James, Thomas, allay Andrew, cindy Jennifer, Kevin and smelly Bob, Oh, and Billy needs the car back on Sunday. Be sure to bring fifty bucks for Peter Pan/Greyhound. And leave smelly Bob behind.
Goldman, Sachs & Co.

is pleased to invite

all Junior and Sophomore Undergraduate Women to

WOMEN’S DAY AT GOLDMAN SACHS

Wednesday, December 20, 2000
Thursday, January 4, 2001
Tuesday, January 9, 2001

This will be an educational forum designed to give insight into our industry, business lines, and culture.

Enjoy a day of divisional overviews, alumni panels, trading floor tours and interaction with Goldman Sachs professionals.

Please return the attached form by Thursday, November 30, 2000
All dates are filled on a first-come, first-served basis

Name ___________________
School ___________________

Choose one:  O Junior  O Sophomore

E-mail Address _______________

Phone number where you can be reached during winter break ___________________

I would be pleased to attend “A Women’s Day At Goldman Sachs”
  O Wednesday, December 20, 2000
  O Thursday, January 4, 2001
  O Tuesday, January 9, 2001

Please enclose a recent copy of your resume

Goldman, Sachs & Co.
180 Maiden Lane, 23rd Floor
New York, New York 10038
Attention: Claudine Fino Bazinet
'Nightline' Holds Town Hall At Georgetown Law Center

By Hyoung Chang

WASHINGTON (UPI) -- A panel of six legal experts debated the numerous possible outcomes that could result from recounting votes, which Koppel said struck him as "particularly appropriate setting for a time-limited, in which we can very briefly, at first, examine the political, legal and constitutional ramifications that are in the news.

The panel was comprised of George Karlan of Stanford University Law School. Pamela Karlan of Stanford University Law School. Trevor Poner, former chair of the Scotland of Georgetown Law Center. and Cass Sunstein of the University of Chicago Law School. Bill Lash of George Mason University Law School. and James Kogan of the University of California, Berkeley.

Sunstein suggested that the Electoral College was designed without Florida's votes in mind, and that without Florida, the states would not be able to do their job. He agreed and added that it wouldn't be a political decision because of the magnitude of the situation.

The panel agreed that if the electoral college does not come to a decision for any reason, House Speaker Dennis Hastert (R-Ill.) would become president. He did say that if one network called a race, it would be democracy, because the electoral college is intended to prevent disorder and tumult.

Koppel said the Florida election system has a history of problems similar to those it is now experiencing, including 7,000 votes having been thrown out in 1996. He said that if one network makes a projection of a state, "I doubt there is power in the nation to match it."

Koppel said his own network has not been slow to correct as a journalistic issue. He said that if one network makes a projection of a state, "I doubt there is power in the nation to match it."

Sunstein said he believes the Electoral College was designed without Florida's votes in mind, and that without Florida, the states would not be able to do their job. He agreed and added that it wouldn't be a political decision because of the magnitude of the situation.

The panel agreed that if the electoral college does not come to a decision for any reason, House Speaker Dennis Hastert (R-Ill.) would become president. He did say that if one network called a race, it would be democracy, because the electoral college is intended to prevent disorder and tumult.

Koppel said the Florida election system has a history of problems similar to those it is now experiencing, including 7,000 votes having been thrown out in 1996. He said that if one network makes a projection of a state, "I doubt there is power in the nation to match it."

Sunstein said he believes the Electoral College was designed without Florida's votes in mind, and that without Florida, the states would not be able to do their job. He agreed and added that it wouldn't be a political decision because of the magnitude of the situation.

The panel agreed that if the electoral college does not come to a decision for any reason, House Speaker Dennis Hastert (R-Ill.) would become president. He did say that if one network called a race, it would be democracy, because the electoral college is intended to prevent disorder and tumult.

Koppel said the Florida election system has a history of problems similar to those it is now experiencing, including 7,000 votes having been thrown out in 1996. He said that if one network makes a projection of a state, "I doubt there is power in the nation to match it."

Sunstein said he believes the Electoral College was designed without Florida's votes in mind, and that without Florida, the states would not be able to do their job. He agreed and added that it wouldn't be a political decision because of the magnitude of the situation.

The panel agreed that if the electoral college does not come to a decision for any reason, House Speaker Dennis Hastert (R-Ill.) would become president. He did say that if one network called a race, it would be democracy, because the electoral college is intended to prevent disorder and tumult.

Koppel said the Florida election system has a history of problems similar to those it is now experiencing, including 7,000 votes having been thrown out in 1996. He said that if one network makes a projection of a state, "I doubt there is power in the nation to match it."

Sunstein said he believes the Electoral College was designed without Florida's votes in mind, and that without Florida, the states would not be able to do their job. He agreed and added that it wouldn't be a political decision because of the magnitude of the situation.

The panel agreed that if the electoral college does not come to a decision for any reason, House Speaker Dennis Hastert (R-Ill.) would become president. He did say that if one network called a race, it would be democracy, because the electoral college is intended to prevent disorder and tumult.

Koppel said the Florida election system has a history of problems similar to those it is now experiencing, including 7,000 votes having been thrown out in 1996. He said that if one network makes a projection of a state, "I doubt there is power in the nation to match it."

Sunstein said he believes the Electoral College was designed without Florida's votes in mind, and that without Florida, the states would not be able to do their job. He agreed and added that it wouldn't be a political decision because of the magnitude of the situation.

The panel agreed that if the electoral college does not come to a decision for any reason, House Speaker Dennis Hastert (R-Ill.) would become president. He did say that if one network called a race, it would be democracy, because the electoral college is intended to prevent disorder and tumult.

Koppel said the Florida election system has a history of problems similar to those it is now experiencing, including 7,000 votes having been thrown out in 1996. He said that if one network makes a projection of a state, "I doubt there is power in the nation to match it."

Sunstein said he believes the Electoral College was designed without Florida's votes in mind, and that without Florida, the states would not be able to do their job. He agreed and added that it wouldn't be a political decision because of the magnitude of the situation.

The panel agreed that if the electoral college does not come to a decision for any reason, House Speaker Dennis Hastert (R-Ill.) would become president. He did say that if one network called a race, it would be democracy, because the electoral college is intended to prevent disorder and tumult.

Koppel said the Florida election system has a history of problems similar to those it is now experiencing, including 7,000 votes having been thrown out in 1996. He said that if one network makes a projection of a state, "I doubt there is power in the nation to match it."

Sunstein said he believes the Electoral College was designed without Florida's votes in mind, and that without Florida, the states would not be able to do their job. He agreed and added that it wouldn't be a political decision because of the magnitude of the situation.

The panel agreed that if the electoral college does not come to a decision for any reason, House Speaker Dennis Hastert (R-Ill.) would become president. He did say that if one network called a race, it would be democracy, because the electoral college is intended to prevent disorder and tumult.
While Campus Security

Sloppy, but No Seconds

Stop Before You Get Burned

Copyright Negligence

On Matters of Style and Taste
Fear the Mullet
Bryan Bracey

"Hey! Sweet mullet!'

I did a double take when I saw my friend'mullet' Air had been smiling back at me from the Woodside Federation when they were electing officers. I almost fell out of my seat. The kind of mullet I have seen is like the one on the cover of Rolling Stone, but Air's was different. It looked more like a horse's tail. I was amazed and thought, 'What the heck is this guy doing?'

In short, a mullet can be identified as a hair style that is long in the back and short on the sides and top. It is a style that has been popular among some young people. In fact, I have seen many students wearing them on campus. I think that several students had never seen a mullet before I held my talk. I firmly believe that mullets are a form of self-expression. They allow individuals to express their identities and personalities. Mullets can serve as a form of cultural rebellion against societal norms.

Mullets are not just for males, as I have seen many females on campus wearing them. Some people have criticized mullets for being childish, but I think they can be quite stylish when done right. Mullets can be a way for individuals to express their individuality and uniqueness.

I urge you to give mullets a chance. They are not just for cowboys or gangsters anymore. They can be a way for people to stand out and be noticed. So the next time you see someone with a mullet, give them a smile and say, 'Hey, Hoo!'
HOWARD vs. Delaware State at Greene Stadium Tomorrow Nov. 18 @ Noon
STUDENT TICKETS WILL BE DISTRIBUTED FRI., NOV. 17 FROM 11 AM TO 7 PM...WHILE THEY LAST Reminder: No Free Student Tickets are distributed on the day of the game.

HU SHARKS vs. U.M.B.C.
Fri., Nov. 17, 6:30pm @ BURR POOL

Women's Basketball LADY BISON vs. U. of Maryland
Sat., Nov. 18, 7:00pm @ THE BURR

Best Wishes to:
Men's Basketball in California Wrestling at Old Dominion Invitat'1

Division of Student Affairs November 2000
BISON ROUNDUP

MEAC FOOTBALL SCORES
Last weekend's Nov. 10th: N.C.-A&T 28, Tuskegee 20; Howard 27, Hampton 13; Morgan State 20, N.C. Central 7; Savannah State 20, South Carolina State 14; Virginia State 24, North Carolina Central 20; Morehouse 23, North Carolina A&T 22; FAMU 42, Delaware State 13; North Carolina Memorial 13, Howard 17; Virginia Union 17, Norfolk State 10; Maryland Eastern Shore 25, Tusculum 0; Norfolk State 13, Morgan State 7.

SATURDAY'S GAMES
11/12/94•

MEAC STANDINGS
Conference Record Overall Record
Hampton 8-0 11-0
Virginia State 7-1 11-1
Howard 6-2 9-3
N.C. State 6-2 8-4
Virginia 5-3 7-5
Howard 4-4 6-6
Fairfax 4-4 6-6
Morgan State 3-5 3-9
South Carolina State 3-5 3-9
Norfolk State 3-5 5-7

SPORTS BRIEFS

SOUSA TRADE TALKS WITH TEXAS
Chicago--Major league sources confirmed that not only did Texas withdraw its offer to trade Tim Souza, the Texas Rangers are also considering pulling their bid for Padres shortstop Tony Gwynn.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)--Indiana will take the floor without Bob Knight for the first time in 13 years, and the Hoosiers are prepared to defend the reputation he left behind.

GOODWYN, GOOD-KNIGHT
BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Indiana's job without Bob Knight is almost as difficult as it was when Coach Knight was fire.<r>

THE END OF THE ROAD
Dwight, Fla. (AP)—Thomas Thompson will miss the rest of the season, but may remain with the team until the end of March. Thompson, a junior guard from Orange City, Fla., was ruled ineligible by the Atlantic Coast Conference after transferring from Duke.

Hampton at Win MEAC Regular Season

Hampton (10-12 overall, 1-5 MEAC) was only selecting the Pirates as the team to beat in the conference. They got the difficult looking schedule block in from a year ago. This year's schedule is a much softer.

Hampton Pirates (17-12 overall, 1-5 MEAC) is just the only ones selecting the Pirates as the team to beat in the conference. They got the difficult looking schedule block in from a year ago. This year's schedule is a much softer.

BISON BOUNDARY IS FULL BY JU RILEY

Free Throw: Do You Know?” This weekend marks the first time since 1984 and 1985 that the Bison football team has suffered consecutive seasons under .500.
Bethune-Cookman Shreds Bison

Benson give up three touchdowns in the third quarter, fall 35-0 to the Wildcats.

By Camille M. Harvey

Special to the News

While most students were enjoying their Friday off, Howard University’s Varsity and Diving team traveled to Atlanta, GA for the MEAC/SEC Challenge. A new tournament Although he loses Liesha Mitchell, the cupboard is not bare. Back is Keisha Brooks who plays the game from end to end, and senior led her team with 1.6.4 points per game. Morris will score 20 points a game for the rest of the season.

Ooh La La Dancer of the Week

Name: Melissa Morgan

Class: Freshman

Age: 18

Born: March 2, 1982

Sign: Pisces

Major: Physical Therapy

“Our attitude, not your aptitude, that determines your attitude.”

Lady Bison head MEAC competition

From MEAC WOMEN

Benson is last year’s MEAC Tournament Champion, and the Bison will be one of the favored teams in the conference this season. Benson is returning two starters from last year, and has added several new players to the mix. Benson is expected to be a tough team to beat, and is a team to watch out for this season.

Sharks Victorious in MEAC Showdown

By Camille M. Harvey

Special to the News

Delaware State University’s Basketball teams took on the Lady Sharks of Florida A&M University last week. Delaware State won both games, 77-67 and 71-57. The Lady Sharks won every event except for the 200-yard backstroke. James Miller will have the points locked down with his 40 percent shooting guard in 3-point land. Helped by the return of Reggie Allen, who should make them a competitive team.

MEAC Conference Predictions

From MEAC MEN

Maryland Eastern Shore (12-17 overall, 8-10 MEAC): With a new head coach in place, the Hawks are looking to improve their record this season. The Hawks are expected to be a tough team to beat, with the potential to make it to the MEAC tournament.

The Howard University defense contained the Bethune-Cookman Wildcats throughout most of the first half, but allowed 17 points in the third quarter. Bethune-Cookman will meet Florida A&M Rattlers in the quarterfinals of the Division II-AA Playoffs.

Once we fall apart, we just can’t get it back together. Benson said. “Just have to get it and pass it around. We want to keep the points down. Our team does it just now.”

Despite only having one beats team versus Florida, A&M. The lady's still managed to pull out some wins. The key to this team was defense. The Hawks have a number one defense in America, schedule and that is the way we want to play. We will not allow 20 points in a game, and our defense will be key to our success. Our defense has been good enough to win a lot of games. The Hawks are on a roll, and are looking to keep it going into the playoffs.

The Hawks have a strong defense, and are looking to improve on their offense this season. The Hawks are expected to be a tough team to beat, with the potential to make it to the MEAC tournament.
Bison Look to End Season on High Note

Howard hopes to defeat the Delaware State Hornets on Senior Day

By Tyrone McCandies

Head Staff Writer

With back to back losses to Bethune-Cookman and Savannah State, the Delaware State Hornets (5-6 overall, 4-5 MEAC) look to end their season with a win over Howard (1-11 overall, 1-10 MEAC) in the Hornet Nest on Saturday.

"Our season has been a tough one. From the beginning of the season, we knew it would be a struggle. But we have to keep our heads up. We have to keep fighting," said Coach Brandon Birchfield.

The game is set to tip off at 1 p.m. at the Delaware State University Multipurpose Arena. The Hornets are currently riding a two-game losing streak and are looking forward to breaking through. The Hornets have not won a MEAC game since November 21, according to Birchfield.

The defending MEAC Champion Howard Bison (5-6 overall, 4-5 MEAC) are looking to secure a victory in their final MEAC game of the season.

"We are looking to win our last MEAC game. We are looking to end our season on a high note," said Coach Daniel Williams.

The Bison are currently riding a two-game winning streak and are looking to continue their success. The team has not lost a MEAC game since November 7, according to Williams.

The Delaware State Hornets and the Howard Bison are both looking to end their seasons on a high note. The game is set to tip off at 1 p.m. at the Delaware State University Multipurpose Arena. The Delaware State Hornets are currently riding a two-game losing streak and are looking forward to breaking through. The Howard Bison are currently riding a two-game winning streak and are looking to continue their success.

The game is set to tip off at 1 p.m. at the Delaware State University Multipurpose Arena. The Delaware State Hornets and the Howard Bison are both looking to end their seasons on a high note.
Marchand’s ‘Vibrations’ An Abstract Journey

By Heather Makin

All images in this catalog are ©2000 and come from the collection of Marchand’s Vibrations. The colors work together without the more traditional girlish activity. pirouetting-practice, scorning Billy for taking up such a traditionally feminine activity. Billy Elliot, Almost Tutu

The Legacy of Self-Taught Artisan Lives On ‘Holy Mountain III’

By Vivianne Orji

‘Billy Elliot’ Almost Tutu

Good To Be True

Vibrations is a show for lovers of abstract art. ‘Vibrations’ is an excellent exhibit that is dominated by Marchand’s transcendent works, making it a show for lovers of abstraction. ‘Vibrations’ can be viewed daily through, Nov 26 at the Zenith Gallery, 413 7th St., N.W.

If you have gotten a real act for homecoming day, why did you pay for that year on your own money.

The Legacy of Self-Taught Artisan Lives On ‘Holy Mountain III’

‘Billy Elliot’ Almost Tutu

Good To Be True

Vibrations is a show for lovers of abstract art. ‘Vibrations’ is an excellent exhibit that is dominated by Marchand’s transcendent works, making it a show for lovers of abstraction. ‘Vibrations’ can be viewed daily through, Nov 26 at the Zenith Gallery, 413 7th St., N.W.

FINAL THOUGHTS

1. Can we have Clinton one more time?

2. Hey Steven, with the full page ad, we could have gotten a real act for homecoming day, why did you pay for that year on your own money.

3. Why don’t you go to the hilltop potluck tonight?

4. AEcho Sangari means just the beat.

5. Final Thoughts on Exhibition

Reinstallation of Holy Mountain.

The Legacy of Self-Taught Artisan Lives On ‘Holy Mountain III’

By Vivianne Orji

Holy Night Winter

The legacy of self-taught American artists is realized in ‘Holy Mountain III,’ a show that explores the biographical, religious and cultural dimensions of a 19th-century painting. The show will be on display from Nov. 15 through Dec. 23.

Holy Mountain III is a highlight of the Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden. The exhibition, which includes the Hirshhorn’s permanent collection, is part of a national tour that features a selection of paintings from the Smithsonian’s Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden.

Eugene Pippin, one of the first self-taught African American artists in the United States, was born in 1888, in West Chester, Pennsylvania and grew up in a town where he witnessed lynchings in the segregated American South. Pippin began painting as a child and his work continued to evolve during his lifetime.

Pippin’s paintings are notable for their simplicity and directness. His work often depicts the lives of African Americans, who were subjected to racial violence and segregation. Pippin’s paintings are characterized by their use of bold, contrasting colors and an emphasis on the human element.

Pippin’s works are well-known for their depiction of African American life in the early 20th century. His paintings often feature scenes of daily life, such as a man working in the fields or a woman cooking in the kitchen. Pippin’s work is widely regarded as a key example of African American art, and his paintings have been the subject of many exhibitions and publications.

The Legacy of Self-Taught Artisan Lives On ‘Holy Mountain III’

By Vivianne Orji

Holy Night Winter

The legacy of self-taught American artists is realized in ‘Holy Mountain III,’ a show that explores the biographical, religious and cultural dimensions of a 19th-century painting. The show will be on display from Nov. 15 through Dec. 23.

Holy Mountain III is a highlight of the Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden. The exhibition, which includes the Hirshhorn’s permanent collection, is part of a national tour that features a selection of paintings from the Smithsonian’s Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden.

Eugene Pippin, one of the first self-taught African American artists in the United States, was born in 1888, in West Chester, Pennsylvania and grew up in a town where he witnessed lynchings in the segregated American South. Pippin began painting as a child and his work continued to evolve during his lifetime.

Pippin’s paintings are notable for their simplicity and directness. His work often depicts the lives of African Americans, who were subjected to racial violence and segregation. Pippin’s paintings are characterized by their use of bold, contrasting colors and an emphasis on the human element.

Pippin’s works are well-known for their depiction of African American life in the early 20th century. His paintings often feature scenes of daily life, such as a man working in the fields or a woman cooking in the kitchen. Pippin’s work is widely regarded as a key example of African American art, and his paintings have been the subject of many exhibitions and publications.

The Legacy of Self-Taught Artisan Lives On ‘Holy Mountain III’

By Vivianne Orji

Holy Night Winter

The legacy of self-taught American artists is realized in ‘Holy Mountain III,’ a show that explores the biographical, religious and cultural dimensions of a 19th-century painting. The show will be on display from Nov. 15 through Dec. 23.

Holy Mountain III is a highlight of the Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden. The exhibition, which includes the Hirshhorn’s permanent collection, is part of a national tour that features a selection of paintings from the Smithsonian’s Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden.

Eugene Pippin, one of the first self-taught African American artists in the United States, was born in 1888, in West Chester, Pennsylvania and grew up in a town where he witnessed lynchings in the segregated American South. Pippin began painting as a child and his work continued to evolve during his lifetime.

Pippin’s paintings are notable for their simplicity and directness. His work often depicts the lives of African Americans, who were subjected to racial violence and segregation. Pippin’s paintings are characterized by their use of bold, contrasting colors and an emphasis on the human element.

Pippin’s works are well-known for their depiction of African American life in the early 20th century. His paintings often feature scenes of daily life, such as a man working in the fields or a woman cooking in the kitchen. Pippin’s work is widely regarded as a key example of African American art, and his paintings have been the subject of many exhibitions and publications.

The Legacy of Self-Taught Artisan Lives On ‘Holy Mountain III’

By Vivianne Orji

Holy Night Winter

The legacy of self-taught American artists is realized in ‘Holy Mountain III,’ a show that explores the biographical, religious and cultural dimensions of a 19th-century painting. The show will be on display from Nov. 15 through Dec. 23.

Holy Mountain III is a highlight of the Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden. The exhibition, which includes the Hirshhorn’s permanent collection, is part of a national tour that features a selection of paintings from the Smithsonian’s Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden.

Eugene Pippin, one of the first self-taught African American artists in the United States, was born in 1888, in West Chester, Pennsylvania and grew up in a town where he witnessed lynchings in the segregated American South. Pippin began painting as a child and his work continued to evolve during his lifetime.

Pippin’s paintings are notable for their simplicity and directness. His work often depicts the lives of African Americans, who were subjected to racial violence and segregation. Pippin’s paintings are characterized by their use of bold, contrasting colors and an emphasis on the human element.

Pippin’s works are well-known for their depiction of African American life in the early 20th century. His paintings often feature scenes of daily life, such as a man working in the fields or a woman cooking in the kitchen. Pippin’s work is widely regarded as a key example of African American art, and his paintings have been the subject of many exhibitions and publications.

The Legacy of Self-Taught Artisan Lives On ‘Holy Mountain III’

By Vivianne Orji

Holy Night Winter

The legacy of self-taught American artists is realized in ‘Holy Mountain III,’ a show that explores the biographical, religious and cultural dimensions of a 19th-century painting. The show will be on display from Nov. 15 through Dec. 23.

Holy Mountain III is a highlight of the Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden. The exhibition, which includes the Hirshhorn’s permanent collection, is part of a national tour that features a selection of paintings from the Smithsonian’s Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden.

Eugene Pippin, one of the first self-taught African American artists in the United States, was born in 1888, in West Chester, Pennsylvania and grew up in a town where he witnessed lynchings in the segregated American South. Pippin began painting as a child and his work continued to evolve during his lifetime.

Pippin’s paintings are notable for their simplicity and directness. His work often depicts the lives of African Americans, who were subjected to racial violence and segregation. Pippin’s paintings are characterized by their use of bold, contrasting colors and an emphasis on the human element.

Pippin’s works are well-known for their depiction of African American life in the early 20th century. His paintings often feature scenes of daily life, such as a man working in the fields or a woman cooking in the kitchen. Pippin’s work is widely regarded as a key example of African American art, and his paintings have been the subject of many exhibitions and publications.

The Legacy of Self-Taught Artisan Lives On ‘Holy Mountain III’

By Vivianne Orji

Holy Night Winter

The legacy of self-taught American artists is realized in ‘Holy Mountain III,’ a show that explores the biographical, religious and cultural dimensions of a 19th-century painting. The show will be on display from Nov. 15 through Dec. 23.

Holy Mountain III is a highlight of the Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden. The exhibition, which includes the Hirshhorn’s permanent collection, is part of a national tour that features a selection of paintings from the Smithsonian’s Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden.

Eugene Pippin, one of the first self-taught African American artists in the United States, was born in 1888, in West Chester, Pennsylvania and grew up in a town where he witnessed lynchings in the segregated American South. Pippin began painting as a child and his work continued to evolve during his lifetime.

Pippin’s paintings are notable for their simplicity and directness. His work often depicts the lives of African Americans, who were subjected to racial violence and segregation. Pippin’s paintings are characterized by their use of bold, contrasting colors and an emphasis on the human element.

Pippin’s works are well-known for their depiction of African American life in the early 20th century. His paintings often feature scenes of daily life, such as a man working in the fields or a woman cooking in the kitchen. Pippin’s work is widely regarded as a key example of African American art, and his paintings have been the subject of many exhibitions and publications.
She just said she could handle it. My State University. I was so proud of my sister that I actually cried at her graduation. My hero demonstrated her human aspects. A person that I look up to and admired is my older sister, Cicely. Also, she provided an inside track on learning about girls because she was one herself. She taught me lots of things to keep in my head, a secret you should never reveal. Though watching how she handled respect, I also learned how to treat women.

She wasn't the best in the books either. She wasn't of average height or weight, her skin was not really toned, and her mother encouraged her to join a small high school, convincing herself a scholarship to Alabama State University. I was so proud of my sister that I actually cried at her graduation.

My hero was going somewhere in life. She was on top, until reality finally caught up with her.

My sister went off to college in August of 1997. A sparkling freshman, C.C. was doing fine until the death of my grandmother for the following November, which caused her to miss a substantial amount of class and allowed her grades to slip. While many would have given up after losing someone so close to them, she did her best to persevere. However, that didn't really pay her another in the following years.

I saw C.C. around Thanksgiving of 1998 and knew something was different about her. Let's say that some things were a little more serious. She never got her own clothes, but she was wearing a large sweater with a full face to go with it. She was trying to believe what I didn't know. I asked a question. I obviously knew the answer to "C.C. ever pregnant?" And with an almost care-free response, sobbing, "Yeah, I'm pregnant!"

When the female emergency room that evening, my father, stepmother, grand mother, and my little brother took the announcement as if it was normal. I was outraged. "How you going to go to school and have a baby, C.C.?!"

She just said she could handle it. Her heroism over her humanity aspects.

She had to take a biology from a school to her last year. Edward, St. Howard's, was on and a drunk road, she found the way to weather the storm. She essentially was instead about while working to take care of LE and herself. She would do with the money to go to school. She was able to go to school.

Although this may appear to provide a lot of information for me to handle alone, we can persevere and fight through adversity. Nothing can truly stop us but we can persevere and fight through adversity. That's why I'm proud of the C.C. not only my sister, but she's also my hero.

MY SISTER...MY HERO

By JOHNNY J. JONES
Hilltop Staff Writer

When I think about people that I have grown to admire in life, many come to mind initially. Many, such teachers, Michael Jordan, etc. But when I think about people that look up to me greatly is my younger sister. Cicely.

My sister was born two years before me and we were very close growing up. I didn't need an older brother because she was able to perform anything a boy could even begin to handle. With her shorter, yet agile build I have witnessed my sister change her haircuts several times, play on her brother's basketball teams instead of mine. (I tried when she was 10, but she was so much faster and so much more athletic.) She was always up on my older cousin, Steven. She was quite feminine. Mansion.

She did什麼 when nothing was really any use of C.C.

Also, she provided an inside track on learning about girls because she was one herself. She taught me lots of things to keep in your head, a secret you should never reveal. Though watching how she handled respect, I also learned how to treat women.

She wasn't the best in the books either. She wasn't of average height or weight, her skin was not really toned, and her mother encouraged her to join a small high school, convincing herself a scholarship to Alabama State University. I was so proud of my sister that I actually cried at her graduation.

My hero was going somewhere in life. She was on top, until reality finally caught up with her. She wasn't the best in the books either. She wasn't of average height or weight, her skin was not really toned, and her mother encouraged her to join a small high school, convincing herself a scholarship to Alabama State University. I was so proud of my sister that I actually cried at her graduation. My hero demonstrated her human aspects. A person that I look up to and admired is my older sister, Cicely. Also, she provided an inside track on learning about girls because she was one herself. She taught me lots of things to keep in your head, a secret you should never reveal. Though watching how she handled respect, I also learned how to treat women.

She wasn't the best in the books either. She wasn't of average height or weight, her skin was not really toned, and her mother encouraged her to join a small high school, convincing herself a scholarship to Alabama State University. I was so proud of my sister that I actually cried at her graduation.

My hero was going somewhere in life. She was on top, until reality finally caught up with her. She wasn't the best in the books either. She wasn't of average height or weight, her skin was not really toned, and her mother encouraged her to join a small high school, convincing herself a scholarship to Alabama State University. I was so proud of my sister that I actually cried at her graduation.
Forthright Testimony

Something tells me that through your eyes, your desires are chased by guilt. See, something tells me that when God's silent whispers from a true spiritual grounding ... words of wisdom in your ear, which leads you to ask: "Why?"

Autumn Jimerson

Broken...

You say what you leave, head down, fighting friendship's decline. Hold back by gravel clays and I only feel the breaking. After you had disappeared, there was so much that I tried to say. But words can be folded and crumpled, and there should have been more that I thought to do. That maybe I should have gotten through to you. They say that it is better to have loved and lost; and that God knows who to love. Before you realize that it's love; Blood seems to flow in different colors. And then, I swear that heart different now. This page couldn't hold my grief. They say that it is too much to speak a thousand words.

Cola Flaveny

Friends don't let friends drive.

Travel one way for as low as $8.

So you can call this the preamble to the caption: Beneath a picture of a man doubled over with no twine in sight, scraping the footprints in the sand on a beach. — Gurney. A flash he kept strapped to his chest. To preserve the very steps of his lost love. How do I explain this cold, lonely darkness? I never knew that cold could be smacking. Or how so brave... They say that I am a man with a silver tongue. And that I am good with words. My poetry isn't poetic, no rhyme or reason. And there is nothing that I can say that can alter your course. As you walk the pavement lined with regret and worries, on the road most traveled. — Out of my life! And I've never known my eyes to sweat the body...

Willie Cambridge

Still Waters

Struggle to keep your feet dry, my friend! Fight with all your strength. If the flood waters of society come, Swim against the tide. Fight the urge to abide. Less the swells, rushes, and whirlpools engulf you, in a vortex of confusion. You're blinded by the salty spray of illusion. Social pressure collapse your lungs, If you rise up. Leaving you breathless, Lifeless. Gasping. Frustrated, Try to leave your mark on the water's surface, It disappears in empty ripples. The tension fractures your will. Brainwashed ashore. Unsure of what the journey meant. The sweeping waters of conformity. Leaving all individualism dead in its wake...

Cola Flaveny
"Kristin's Story" - A Tragic Tale From a Mother's View

By Elizabeth Bobeck
Special To The Diamondback

(U-WIRE) Maryland - Kristin Cooper thought her daughter's death was a homicide.

"I thought Kristin had been murdered," Cooper said.

But after the police investigation, it turned out to be a suicide. Kristin Cooper, who was raped by an acquaintance, killed herself by cutting her wrists.

Kristin was a student at the University of Maryland, College Park. She was a sophomore when she was killed.

Cooper said she was surprised to hear about Kristin's suicide.

"I didn't think Kristin was going to commit suicide," Cooper said.

But Cooper was wrong.

Kristin was a victim of acquaintance rape.

"Acquaintance rape is a hidden crime," Cooper said.

Cooper said she was/(continued)

This season, Deion's biggest contribution to Washington won't happen on a Sunday.
prepaid wireless as low as 15¢ a minute.
what are you waiting for, permission?

Now getting wireless is easy:

- No credit checks, monthly bills or annual contracts.
- Package includes the latest Motorola V3997 phone with changeable faceplate, headset and $25 airtime card.
- Plus features like VoiceMail, Caller ID, Call Waiting, and more.
- Free2Go Wireless service is as low as 15¢ a minute with purchase of $200 airtime card on the Local Calling Plan.

WIRELESS FROM AT&T
YOUR WORLD. CLOSE AT HAND.

Important Information

Rates not available outside the U.S. or when calls require a credit card to complete. International rates vary by destination. Airtime for such calls is measured in full minutes and rounded up to the next whole minute.

Coverage available in most areas. Service available as follows: 60¢/min, $34.99/mo. and $59.99/mo. Plans and prices are subject to change. International rates apply. Other restrictions may apply. Service is provided by AT&T Wireless Service. Service may not be available everywhere. AT&T Wireless Service is not available on local calls made from Eastern time zones outside of AT&T Wireless Service Coverage Area. Service may not be available on local calls made from Eastern time zones outside of AT&T Wireless Service Coverage Area.

Motorola Mail-In Rebate Offer: Rebate will be provided in phone box providing choice of $20 or $30 Majesty bag and CO or $30 Majesty phone. One rebate per purchase of each. Motorola V3997 phone. To be eligible, phone must be used on AT&T Wireless Service for at least 30 days and phone must be active on AT&T Wireless Service at the time rebate is processed. Certain restrictions apply. For details, see mail-in rebate offer. Offer ends 1/31/01. For details, visit www.att.com.

Premier Dealer
att.com/getconnected

1 800-IMAGINE
HOWARD UNIVERSITY SUPPORT ORGANIZATION (HUSSO)

and

HOWARD UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL (HUH)

invite

All Howard University Students
Who will be remaining on campus over the Thanksgiving Break to a

Thanksgiving Dinner

in the

Hospital Cafeteria
2nd Floor

on

Wednesday, November 22, 2000
2:00 - 5:00 p.m.

Michael B. Jones, President, HUSSO
Sherman McCoy, CEO, HUH
Illegal Drug Convictions May Limit Financial Aid

Renee Lynch
Distinguished writer and former ELI-BRIDY, Maryland, a word of warning to college students who do not want to end up in prison: If your worst nightmare comes true, you could find yourself being forced to work for little or no pay.

Because of a new law that took effect this fall, college students with drug-related convictions may not receive some or any federal financial aid.

Nearly 7,000 students across the country have been affected by the law, including Howard University students, said William Leith, director of Student Financial Aid.

The restrictions on aid end at eligibility level four, or three convic...tion on a drug-possession charge, and two years for a second conviction. These can be removed individually for a third conviction. If you are called to a collection facility, a felony and a felony within two years of eligibility for aid, you may only have one additional opportunity for a second conviction.

The convictions are self-reported, with students answering questions about whether they have been convicted on charges or on drug charges on their student aid applications.

College and university officials may ask the student to prove their story; they may look at the conviction, during which school, which state, and when the conviction occurred.

But the new law is not designed to affect those who need it most. "For the student who’s the best student, the one who’s an athlete, the one who’s the best student in the class, there’s no way that he could get financial aid," said John M. Goode, the general counsel for the Education Department.

"Everyone will agree it could have been enacted," Goode said. "The question is, will it be interpreted in the way that we know it will be interpreted?"

Leith said it is unlikely the law will be challenged in court.

A spokesperson for MTV said the network was not aware of the regulations and were interpretation of the law, and said it does not plan to challenge any of the regulations.

"We don’t know what the regulations are," she said. "They’re a young person’s rights to vote. If you have a drug or a marijuana conviction, you may not be able to vote in the election. We’re surprised."

"We’re surprised," she said. "We’re surprised."

"We’re surprised," she said. "We’re surprised."

"We’re surprised," she said. "We’re surprised."
Friday, 17th

"The Grinch," starring Jim Carrey, is back to steal Christmas from Whoville. Don't worry it's only a movie, and it's open today. Check local listings for theaters and showtimes.

Enjoy Jazz every Friday from 6 to 9 p.m. at Westminster Church, 400 National Gallery of Art's Ice Skating Rink, 700 Constitution Ave. NW. To take a spin on the ice, but wear your knee and elbow pads today at the mat. Information, call 202-543-3955.

"The Grinch," starring Jim Carrey, is back to steal Christmas from Whoville. Don't worry it's only a movie, and it's open today. Check local listings for theaters and showtimes.

Saturday, 19th

Take a spin on the ice, but wear your knee and elbow pads today at the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force's Ice Skating Rink, 700 National Gallery of Art's Ice Skating Rink, 700 Constitution Ave. NW. Admission is only $5. For information, call 202-446-7700.

Sidestepping, comedian, Sheryl Underwood, of Def Comedy, Jennifer, will be at the Improv Comedy Club, 1501 Connecticut Ave. NW, through Sunday. For information, call 202-296-7008 or visit www.improv.com.

Want some cheap, I mean, inexpensive laughs? Chocolate and Teddy Carpenter will be doing jokes at Jokes On Us Comedy Club, 312 Main St., Laurel, Md., at 8:30 and 10:45 p.m. For information, call 301-490-1993.

Saturdays, 17th, 24th

Join the Hip Hop Harmony: Walkathon at Freer Plaza in the morning and Penn State in the afternoon. NW sponsored by Fraze Mar Foundation. Registration begins at 8 a.m. and the walk starts at 10 a.m. For information, call 1-877-WALK-HTH or visit www.hiphopmarathon.org.

Sisters in Spirit: Shirley Caesar, Yolanda Adams and Mary Angel-James, will speak at your heart tonight and tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. at D.A.R. Constitution Hall, 1776 Constitution Ave. NW. Tickets are $35 and sold through each theater. For information, call 202-296-7008 or visit www.dcimprov.com.

The Source are thankful for the help of our sponsors. And remember, don't drink and drive.

Monday, 20th

Tonight you can see four plays for just $9.99. Yes, $9.99! The Source Theatre Company, 1835 14th St NW and The Performing Arts Society Children of the Gospel Masque Choir present "The Last Generation IV" concert at 2:30 p.m., and "Voices of the Future Tour 2000" with Youssou Ndour & Le Super Etoile. Tickets are $35 and sold through each theater. For information, call 202-432-SEAT.

TUESDAY, 21ST

Johnnie 2000 with Yossou Ndour & Le Super Etoile (I can't pronounce it but it looks interesting) will be at the Lincoln Auditorium, 21st and H Streets NW. Tickets are $25 to $30. For information and the correct pronunciation, call 202-394-1330.

THURSDAY, 23RD

It's a day of Thanks, it's a day of giving, it's a day of EATING. Happy Thanksgiving. Today's event is to enjoy the holiday with people you are thankful for. And remember, don't drink and drive.
For: All Contacts in attendance after tonight at 7:00 pm in Douglass Hall, Cancun, Jamaica, Bahamas, Mazatlan, California Club Rowling to be organized of Students at Lowell and 5 words afterwards. Transportation provided.

The Ladies of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Incorporated, Eighth Chapter in the District of Columbia, are regretting to announce that the 8th Annual Toy Drive, which was scheduled for December 16, 2000, has been canceled. For more information, call (202) 353-9712.