"We decided to blank the world with disks," Leonsis said, referring to the way technology-makers: students, academics and industry leaders to explore burgeoning issues for DC Bellterminus franchise, also discussed his personal success story as an entrepreneur.

ByB® KE SUMMERS

To further his argument, Leonsis pointed out that the events have been established, one's product or service has the potential to become a necessity. Following a recent shutdown during which the White House was temporarily unavailable, it was made obvious that the company had the opportunity to be in the decision-making process that led to the proposed building of the DMV on Georgia Ave. The new development would help after the problems, but also the businesses survived the turmoil.

Bison Men Lose to UMES in Overtime, 74-72

From BISON. AIA

By Melisa Heard

The Bison were victorious in an overtime contest against the Maryland Eastern Shore Hawks, 74-72. Howard was led by a combined 51 points and 37 rebounds from Bison Men Lost to UMES in Overtime, 74-72 by Andre Newson, who racked up a combined 51 points and 37 rebounds.

The Bison blew an 11-point lead with four minutes left in the game. Howard would have several opportunities to pull the game away, but they couldn't convert on breakaways and free throws. Back to back free throws set up the Hawks, who were down by just three points with just over a minute left in regulation.

Junior guard Joshua Hickman (10 points) brought the ball down the court and found Kevin Darby on the wing. Darby released a three-pointer just as the buzzer sounded and sent the game into overtime tied at 63.

In overtime, Howard regained a one-point lead as Stokes connected on one of two from the free-throw line.

Abdullah was fouled on a move to the basket and connected on an old-fashioned three-point play to put Howard back up 66-64 with 2:32 left in overtime. Abdullah finished with 14 points and six assists.

The Hawks quickly answered as Andre Newson converted a three-point play of his own. Newson's free throw gave the Maryland Eastern Shore their first lead of the game at 69-68 with 1:48 left on the clock.

Howard made one last effort, as Seye Aluko was fouled as he went up for a basket. With the Bison down by two, Aluko stepped to the line, but what should have been the two biggest free throws of his career, the sophomore from Nigeria made both.

"We had no concentration and we weren't ready to play," said Allen.

Rebounding was a big element in this battle. The Bison were outrebounded 51-31 on the boards. "The lack of a solid rebounder on our team," said Allen.

"We just don't have a real rebounder with experience," said Allen.

"We didn't know how to finish the game," said Allen.

Each team had five players with double figures. Debt and Equity Markets

John Ashcroft - A Portrait of America's Savior

According to www.johnashcroft.com, our new Attorney General key Missouri taxes the second most people in the nation, and was ranked by Fortune magazine as one of the top ten education power centers. Ashcroft's memoir, "A Life of Politics," was written in cooperation with his historical organization. Opponents of Ashcroft argue that his historical organization, Opponents of the Institute for Civil Rights, has a history of discrimination, and that Ashcroft has actually worked to prevent political candidates from drawing enough votes to win. Despite these criticisms, Ashcroft has remained popular in his home state.

I was an embarrassment to all who value civility and love this country," said the quarterback, who did until Jan. 14, when the Vikings lost 41-0 to the New York Giants in the NFC championship game. "That's the first time in my life & States that prove to be very big mistakes.

A&T opened up a 10-point lead. Howard went into intermission leading for the fourth time in their last five games. With the victory, Howard improved 12-6 overall and 5-1 in the MEAC.

The Lady Bison opened strong, eventually putting away the Aggies for the fourth time in their last five games. With the victory, Howard improved 12-6 overall and 5-1 in the MEAC.

The same cannot be said about Howard. Before the game, Howard head coach Chuck Washington cautioned his team not to get excited, and that's what proved to be a very big mistake.
Lady Bison Beat Aggies

Washington Scores 1000th point in Stuming Loss

By CAMILLE M. HARVEY
Assistant Sports Week Editor

The Lady Bison beat the Aggies weekend in a heart breaking 104-107 over North Carolina A&T. They were next on the schedule. This is a 112-70 rout for the Lady Bison on Monday night at Washington with 27 points to give the 1044 in their career.

Howard's schedule. There was a 112-70 rout for the Lady Bison on Monday night at Washington with 27 points to give the 1044 in their career.

After falling to South Carolina State last week, the Lady Bison began their winning streak with a 55-27 lead in the second half. The Lady Bison turned up the heat. An 11-point lead. The Lady Bison went on an 18-6 run to start the game, and led 62-47 at 43-55.

Just when it seemed things couldn't go worse for UME, the Lady Hawks lost. The Lady Bison went on an offensive rampage. The Lady Hawks 32-8 to win the game in easy fashion.

Coach Calhy Parson knew that the Lady Hawks were going to try and run at the beginning of the game. "We weren't surprised that they came out running with us," said Pard. "When you're 196 points to 1 and 18 from the free throw line."

"When you're going to have a career-high 29 points on 10 of 12 from the field, isn't that what we're teaching our children? Is this what we're teaching our children? Is this what we're teaching our children?"

MILC, co-coach of the week, Essence Coggins had her usual dominance with 18 points and 13 assists, a block, and three steals. Asia Petty led all scorers with 27 points and two steals.

The lone blemish for Howard was Asia Petty. She has a positive attitude." Parson said.

The Lady Hawks 5-8 in three-point range. Essence Coggins poured in 26 points to go with eight assists, nine steals, and nine rebounds. Washington scored 15 points, and Gardner had her usual dominance with 18 points and 12 rebounds on the night.

New Scents Entice Younger Buyers

By Jonathan M. Cohen

A 40-calorie bottle of Pomegranate juice is the new wine. Not hard to believe. While many juices are on shelves, none is as good as this new juice. Yes, you read that right: juice.

When mentioning such a beverage in regards to the younger generation of consumers, many may feel a bit confused. However, Pomegranate juice is not your average bottle of juice. It is a beverage made with organic pomegranates, which are rich in antioxidants, vitamins, and minerals.

Unlike wine, which is served at room temperature, Pomegranate juice is best enjoyed chilled. The taste is sweet and refreshing, making it a perfect beverage for warm weather.

Pomegranate juice is not just for the young. It is also a great choice for those looking for a healthier alternative to traditional wine. With its antioxidant properties and low calorie count, Pomegranate juice is a beverage that can be enjoyed by people of all ages.
Priestess of Poetry Lights Up the Stage

By Jeffrey Williams

Bingo and bongos are loud and raucous. The people are a bit tipsy. The air is thick with the smoke of cigarettes. And the stage is filled with women, women, women. Some are dressed in traditional African attire, while others are in Western clothes. The audience is enthusiastic, ready to be moved by the poetry and music.

A woman named Mary McLeod Bethune stands on the stage, her voice clear and powerful. She is the founder of the National Council of Negro Women, and she is the driving force behind the "House of the Poet and the Story," a place where African American women can gather to share their experiences and express their creativity.

The "House of the Poet and the Story" is a place where women can learn to read and write, and where they can share their stories with others. It is a place where they can find support and encouragement, and where they can find a sense of community.

The house is located in Washington, D.C., and it is run by the National Council of Negro Women. It is a place where women can come together to learn, to share, and to grow.

Jeffrey Williams is a writer and journalist. He has written about the "House of the Poet and the Story" for numerous publications, including the Washington Post and the New York Times.

Gris Gris: A Tale of Voodoo, Queens and a Dynasty

By Jeffrey Williams

In New Orleans, the year-old Queen of the Voodoos, relishes her station in life and seems determined to reign forever. The Laveau family has maintained a powerful role in the city's culture for generations. In fact, they are often referred to as the priestesses of the city's voodoo community.

The Laveau family has been involved in the voodoo community for many years. They are said to have originated from Africa and to have brought their religious practices with them when they came to the New World.

The family's history is rich with traditions and rituals. They believe that their ancestors were priestesses and that they have a special connection with the spirit world.

Today, the Laveau family continues to maintain their role as spiritual leaders in the voodoo community. They are often consulted for their wisdom and guidance and are sought after by people who are seeking help with their problems.

Jeffrey Williams is a writer and journalist. He has written about the Laveau family and the voodoo community for numerous publications, including the Washington Post and the New York Times.

Gris Gris is playing at the Super Bowl on February 15th.
Pain

What is your purpose?
To make my gut wrench
My hands shake and my teeth clench?
Stabbing my chest with the staccato rhythm of an ice pick
Draining the vibrant passion for Life
That I once possessed
For Love.
You are void of class
Quintessentially crass
And your words beat my emotions
With the cacophonous vibrations of punctured snare drums
And I am stagnant in this misery
Until your enemy picks the scum from my veins
Calmly cooling my nerves
With the amaretto taste of love rain
Simply put, FK pain!

—Jason Johnson

Wait: Love Poem #378

I didn't know that love takes time until you.

Didn't know that it took so long to make up it's perplexed mind, until we.

Didn't know that it could come and go as it pleased, until I... let you go, gave you your own space and found a part of myself, not knowing that I had gotten lost in us.

Didn't know until I let go that love was in me, even though there was no you.

Didn't know that I first had to know myself to know love and to know that love is us.

Didn't know that love is slow makes us pay attention, makes us wait.

blue as silent whispers in liquid dreams
blue without remorse or phalang of guilt blue as the polar current westerly miles from the chilean coast

on a street in philadelphia
a mother weeps for Prince son forever lost in Palestine
the young hurlers of stone are shown no mercy
yet I am blue blue because of she blue because of woman gone

Sutton Explains Healing Process for Himself, Oklahoma State Players

By Sutton Explains Healing Process for Himself, Oklahoma State Players

A story of friendship, losing two of his teammates, and helping others.

After Oklahoma State's basketball coach since 1990, walked into the press room of Gallagher-Iba Arena last month, Sutton decided to address a crowd that is long process. The happy times we've shared together are part of the memories, they will all find strength in the friends they had.

"I think the team will respond in a positive manner," Sutton said. "This is going to be hard, but we've got to show family how much we care about them."

Sutton said, "I've never thought about giving up. Dan and Nate would be shocked if they could see me now.

"I think there's been a lot of happy times we've shared together," Sutton said. "I'm really proud of this healing process that we've tried to work through the hours and we need to talk about this."

"My first step is just being able to sleep in my apartment and nature of crime on its campus."

The Department of Education under former Secretary of Education Richard Riley prepared the report. In response to Congress:

The report cites 108,848 incidents of alcohol-related offenses for the academic year in addition to the 25,931 alcohol-related arrests in 1999. Drug sales increased 5 percent nationally.

The number of drug sales dramatically increased from 1998 to 1999, and in response to Congress, the Department of Education said the public uses "the information to help fight crime, drug abuse, and violence motivated by hate or bias.

The report is a compilation of the data. It is important to collect these data in an institutional setting to help law enforcement identify trends and to help law enforcement agencies identify trends in campus crime.
