A Gymnasium Soon

Of the surprise of many and the delight of all, there will be opened up, very soon, on the main floor of Spaulding Hall, Howard's first gymnasium. The ceiling of the hall has been made exceptionally firm; a small but convenient annex, with dressing booths and shower bath, has been built; gymnastic apparatus, at a cost of about $1,000, has been purchased; and the "gym" will even be in use soon. The University is providing this place for physical exercise for the students. A trainer will be secured and a fee of fifty cents per month will be charged for the rest of the year for the privileges of the gym. Next year, no doubt, there will be an annual tax for these privileges.

Among the apparatus purchased, by the University of A. G. Spaulding & Bros., Incorporated are:

- 1 Horizontal Bar
- 1 Horse
- 2 Inclined Spring Boards
- 1 Traveling Rings
- 1 pair of Flying Rings
- 1 Combination Ladder
- 1 Parallels Bar
- 1 Low Parallel Bar
- 1 Striking Bag Disc
- 1 Striking Bag
- 1 Rubber Bladder
- 6 Bar Stalls
- 6 Bar Stall Benches
- 6 Climbing Ropes
- 2 Mats
- 2 Mats 3 x 6 feet
- 20 Pair Indian Clubs 1 lb.
- 50 Dumb Bells 1 lb.
- 50 Dozen Wands 3 ft. x 3 in.
- 1 Locking Wand Rack
- 1 Fairbank's Physician Scale with height tester.
- 10 Chest weights.
- 55 Pair Club and Bell Hangers
- 4 Medicine Balls

Although these present arrangements for physical exercise are neither elaborate nor in the form of our magnificent "alumni and student gymnasium", they are, certainly, both opportune and worthy; for, as is significantly and forcibly expressed by Secretary George Wm. Cook, from this beginning, there will develop for Howard a real gymnasium.

The Kappa Sigma Installs

On Thursday evening, February twenty-eighth, the Kappa Sigma Debating Club met for the installation of its officers. Mr. H. H. Long, the recent winner of the "Gregory Prize" in debating, was chosen to perform the installation ceremonies. Mr. Long, on this occasion, fully justified the confidence heretofore placed in him. He made a brilliant, thoughtful and inspiring address, one that will not be forgotten soon by the society. The speaker captivated his audience in describing "Ideas, Thoughts, Ideals—things that will aid the Negro while he is on trial intellectually".

Mr. Ricks, the President of the Kappa Sigma, made a stirring speech in behalf of the officers of the society and in a masterly way designated the duties that were to be assumed. He also pointed out very graphically the opportunity (Continued on Page 5)

Big Conference on Foot

VIDENTLY, one of the most auspicious and epoch-making occurrences of the year for colored people will be a conference of college students, professors, and race leaders, which, at present, has been proposed to be held at Atlanta, Ga., from May 14 to 17. John R. Mott, the great religious worker, will lead, and it is calculated that about one thousand delegates will be in attendance.

The plan of holding this conference, was brought to Howard on March 1, by a member of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A., President Frank Sanders, of Washburn College, Topeka, Kansas. He represented John R. Mott, who, as a member of the Extension Committee of the Edinborough Missionary Conference, is securing in various countries of the world great conventions, for the extension of missionary work. President Sanders presented his plans to President S. M. Newman, Dr. E. L. Parks, Secretary J. G. Logan, and the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet of the University. The conference will consider especially, the consecration of college men and women for religious and social service, their work for the uplift of their own race, and for the evangelization of Africa. Besides, on account of the great purpose of the conference, Mr. Hunton and other Y. M. C. A. leaders strongly support the plan at this time for the reason that John R. Mott will soon leave the country for a period of several years and the postponement of the assistance of this able and powerful man would be unwise.

In view of the import of such a gathering, Howard heartily endorsed the plan, and is now contemplating immediate and vigorous effort toward sending a good delegation. Be ready then, all Howard.

Invitation to Take Part in International Exhibition

Dean Kelly Miller has received a letter from Pastor Paul O. Hentsch, of Leipzig-Lendenau, Germany, inviting the dean to take part and assist in The International Exhibition of the Book-Industry and Graphic Arts at Leipzig. The Exhibition is a significant one. It is under the patronage of His Majesty King Frederick Augustus of Saxony, and will be participated in by many countries.

In his letter, Pastor Hentsch says, "You have no doubt already heard of the great Exhibition that will take place in 1914 and of which His Majesty King Frederick of Saxony is the patron. When I read the news I ask myself, if it would be possible to show at the Exhibition some Exhibits of the Colored people of America, in whose matters I am especially interested, and I finally succeeded in getting those competent in the matter interested for my plan. So now I am going to collect such exhibits as would be acceptable for this great world's fair.

Here is an opportunity for the Colored people of America, and for those who have devoted their lives to the culture work among the Colored people, to demonstrate what they have done already and what they could do in the future."

Pastor Hentsch, who has secured the supervision of the "Exhibits of the Colored Citizens of America," is interested in the welfare of the colored people. He is the author of a book on the church life of the Afro-American.

The Manager's Report on "Richelieu"

The question is often asked, "What becomes of the money made by the Dramatic Club?" To our surprise there is no satisfactory answer ever given to this inquiry. This is due, doubtless, to the fact that no full report was ever made to either the Faculty or to the student body. The present manager and his assistants are very anxious to report, through the medium of the Journal, to both the Faculty and the students of the expenditures and receipts of the play presented at Howard Theatre, on Saturday evening, February 21, 1914.

On account of lack of space we are unable to give an itemized report, which, to our minds, would be better; but we shall endeavor to present it in such a way that the students will get an idea of the present financial condition of the Club.

Loyalty and the Journal
Subscriptions

"Loyalty to a newspaper, as we understand it, means nothing more than a continuous belief in its honesty and good intentions—a general readiness to ascribe its occasional mistakes to something else than malice or corruption—a decent appreciation of journalistic conditions and the many and great difficulties in the way of producing a perfect newspaper."

The above comes from an editorial of the New York Times, and expresses far better than we can, just what we want to say to our subscribers. The Journal has at all times received a great deal of criticism, and will as long as it exists. Much of this has been just, and has been highly valuable to those who are entrusted with its editing; but, on the other hand, much of it has been pronounced without due regard to the principles so clearly outlined in the above quotation—a belief in its honesty, an appreciation of journalistic conditions and a realization of the difficulties which it has to face.

It is now our time to do a little criticising, and the Journal wishes to offer as its first indictment that, it is not properly supported by way of subscribing, and presents the following figures in proof of that fact:

Present total circulation of the Journal 260
No. Professors and Instructors in the University 121
No. of Professors who subscribe 42 or 33 per cent.
No. Students in University 1458
No. " subscribing 185 or 13 per cent.

Classified according to department, these are distributed as follows:

College of Arts and Sciences
Total Number of students 303
No. subscribers 86 or 28 per cent.
Students in Teachers College 175
No. subscribers 53 or 30 per cent.
Students in Academy 380
No. subscribers 114 or 4 per cent.
Students in Medical College 121
No. subscribers 7 or 6 per cent.
Students in Theolog. School 105
No. subscribers 7 or 6 per cent.
Students in Law School 105
No. subscribers 6 or 6 per cent.
Students in Commer. College 110
No. subscribers 4 or 4 per cent.
Students in Dental School 122
No. subscribers 1 or .8 per cent.
Students in Pharmac. College 48
No. subscribers 0

Now this is the deplorable situation with regard to the support of the Journal, by way of subscribing; this is loyalty and the Journal. But some may argue that the Journal is not worthy of the full support of the student body and Faculty. To this we ask, Whose Journal is it? What do the owners do to make the Journal worthy?

Another phase of the situation will be presented in our next issue.

Alpha Phi Election

The semi-annual election of officers for the Alpha Phi Literary Society was held on Friday, February the twenty-seventh. Mr. G. E. Daniels was chosen President; Miss Edna M. Jackson, Vice-President; Miss Cavassa Satterwhite, Secretary; Miss Sarah De Fries, Assistant Secretary; Miss Lottie Gatewood, Treasurer; Mr. Emory B. Smith, Chaplain; Mr. Guy S. Ruffin, Journalist; Mr. L. H. Newman, Critic; Mr. James W. Jackson, Sergeant-at-arms; Miss Jane Lee, Musician; and Mr. A. L. Tunnell, Reporter.

Little interest was exhibited in the election. The keen spirit of competition for honors in this organization, which is the backbone of our literary life at Howard, was sadly lacking. However, the new staff is one of character and literary personal. They have an admirable task before them, and we look to them for a reawakening of the slumbering literary consciousness of the school.

EDITORIAL

In one of our columns, several weeks ago, a consideration from the students was solicited for the organization of the S. P. M. whose purpose would be the correcting of errors made in the speaking of English at the University. While the proposition may appear to be a matter of kindergarten, we believe that there is much in it. At least the proposition could be tried. If it is found unworkable, it can be dropped. The students, then, should give a consideration to the S. P. M. E.

The report is now rife that Prof. Kelly Miller's new book, "Out of the House of Bondage" will appear soon; and many people await with piety this message from the authority on the Negro question. What will the message be? Will the author, incensed by the increasing onslaught of injustice, advocate something conspicuously radical; or will he, but reinforced with the truth of the race question, continue, in his usual calm and uncompromising manner, to make clear the position of the Negro and demand for him "equal recognition in civil and political rights?" All hail the speedy appearance of the book.

In the several articles, which we shall present to our readers, under the caption, "Loyalty and the Journal," we intend to be very frank. The present situation of the Journal is not new: every year, criticism of some character comes to the staff; the number of subscribers has been about the same for several years; and the paper has been as literary this year as it has been in former years. Then, too, as former staffs, the staff of this year has received many excellent compliments. But notwithstanding that, we know this long standing situation; we feel that the proper support is not given to the Journal; and we offer our criticism on the same.

The Freshman Class of the College gave an "At Home" in Miner Hall, Saturday evening, February the twenty-eighth, from 7:30 to 9:30. Miss Cavassa Satterwhite and her able committee provided a very enjoyable evening to all the young ladies and gentlemen present.

With the President acting as Business Manager, elaborate plans are being made for the Fisk-Howard debate. It is hoped that this debate will eclipse any ever held at Howard not only in the quality of the debate itself, but also in the interest shown by the student body.

The following officers were installed: President, W. E. Ricks; Vice President, J. W. Jackson; Secretary, Chas. V. Henley; Asst. Secretary, I. R. Scruggs; Treasurer, W. H. Foster; Chaplain, V. E. Perkins; Serg't-at-Arms, H. E. Moore. J. F. W.

Brackett Club

The Brackett Club, under the auspices of the Sophomore Medical Class held its semi-monthly meeting on Friday evening, February 27, at the University Medical Building.

The feature of the evening was a very interesting discussion on "The Susceptibility of the Negro to the Hookworm," by the president, Mr. Howard Stitt, who brought some interesting points as to its origin and specific relation to the different races. He took exceptions to the theory advanced by some investigators that the Negro was more susceptible than other races and showed by well investigated facts and statistics that the Negro is not only less susceptible to the Hookworm infection, but also to its effects.

The paper was a credit to the reader showing that he evidently gave the subject careful study and thorough investigation.

In response to Mr. Stitt's paper the Club had the pleasure of listening to a few remarks by Dr. Lyons, Professor of Bacteriology, who not only entertained the Club in speech but after the meeting gave the members a "light repast" which was not only a pleasant treat but a great treat.

It is reported that the Strattons, Halls, Dingles, and Fosters are planning to unite and form a Fraternity of Brothers. In case of such a coalition the Fosters will have a decided advantage since a new one appears every year and there are several under cultivation "back home" in Alabama.

Temple and Butt did not see "Richelieu"; reason—they were disappointed in securing female companions. Both had obtained two choice seats and after being informed that their ladies were "indisposed" (which is very ambiguous), they took their stand in the snow in front of the theatre and offered the seats for sale. Both lost on the transaction and failed to witness the production.

"Yes", returned the unshaken Ricks of the Clupp, "but he wasn't paying any board."

THE DECISIVE EVENT

There is one good thing that can be said about the annual play of the College Dramatic Club: It always shows just who is who and where he stands. (Dr. Humbert)

Sampson annoys his roommates very much by singing in his sleep, especially since the act is performed through his nose. The latest stunt heard was that old familiar vacation hymn: "My Wife's Gone to the Country."

Delegates Entertained

The delegates attending the Teacher's Association and the Negro Improvement League of Virginia were entertained at the University on Friday. President Newman made a fitting address. After the completion of a short program, a reception was held in the Library and refreshments served to a large number. This reception emphasizes the importance of the close connection between Howard University and the public schools of our neighboring states, which are feeders to this University. The reception was highly appropriate as well as enjoyable.

Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. Coralie Franklin Cook addressed the Young Women's Christian Association in Miner Hall, Sunday, March 1, at thirty p.m. Mrs. Cook said in part:

"In the work of a great artist, his brush responds to his thoughts in such a manner that, although we may not be artists, we see the picture, and are able to understand his purpose. So, in one's life, how necessary it is that, we, like this artist have a definite purpose. The purpose of the Y. W. C. A. should be fourfold and should consist of individual development, mutual helpfulness among its members, influencing the life in Miner Hall and in the University and community at large. No phase or activity is too mean or lowly. Remember in 'The Boy and the Angel,' Browning's conception that God missed his 'little human praise' when Theocrite ceased to sing."

One of the most interesting features of the lecture was when Mrs. Cook read from a letter of Miss Eva Bowles, General Secretary of the Y. W. C. A. In this letter Miss Bowles said, that the Y. W. C. A. of Howard University is an ideal source from which we may find leaders for our women in the community life to which they will go when they leave school.

The Academy Entertains the Y. M. C. A.

At the Sunday afternoon meeting of the Y. M. C. A., February twenty-second, an excellent program was rendered by members of the Academy. The program took the form of a symposium, together with the rendition of vocal and instrumental selections. The topic for discussion was, "Lessons from the life of Paul." Those who took part in this discussion utilized the time well in commenting upon the important events in Paul's life, and in showing the practical lessons that might be learned from this great life. The musical selections were fitting for the occasion, and were presented in such a manner as to reflect credit upon those who rendered them. Thus, for the presentation of such a program before the Y. M. C. A. the Academy is indeed worthy of praise.

The American Academy

The American Academy, the School of Classical Studies, chartered by the state of New York and incorporated by the Congress of the United States, sent to Howard recently their announcement of fellowships to be awarded in 1914. One of $1,000 a year for one year, and another of $1,000 a year for two years will be given. In order to compete for these scholarships classical students must "submit evidence of attainment in Latin literature, Greek literature, Greek and Roman History and Archaeology, also an ability to use German and French."

These fellowships are more often awarded to Instructors who have finished college and have done graduate work, and have had some experience in teaching. Mention is given here of these opportunities because it is hoped that some of Howard's sons will keep them in mind with a view of competing at some future time. There are many such awards offered every year to students who will fit themselves to receive them.

A Home Versus Clark Hall

Clark Hall, the "home" for young men, is fast becoming undesirable as a place of abode for students who wish a studious atmosphere, or at least, a quiet retreat where one might escape the noise of the campus. Two definite causes may be assigned for this: the opening of the fraternity houses has taken from the hall a large percent of the really earnest students whose influence insured quiet, at least on the two bottom floors; and the Professors who reside in the building seem to have repressed their former inclination to see to it that certain hours at least are observed.

If the authorities provide legislation to prevent the disturbance of study and quiet, mass meetings would promptly be called, resolutions drawn up and the action condemned as humiliating to men and suitable only for kindergartners. But unfortunately, few persons are inclined to regard their rooms as real homes which they should enjoy without taking special pains to let others know they are enjoying them. Individuals who have been in attendance upon meetings invariably have a weakness for "harmonizing" when they return; others, leaving the hall are religiously careful to acquaint their friends—and incidentally others—with the fact. This is probably done with a view of establishing their whereabouts for purposes of safety, but it often causes disinterested and busy persons to commit grave sins by wishing various things not calculated to be the teachings of the Scriptures.

Something must be done to re-mind the more thoughtless residents—all of whom by no means come from the lower classes—of the discomfort they cause their associates. Authorities should never have to be appealed to in such cases. Let's get together and correct it.

The Eureka

On Tuesday, February 17th, the Eureka Literary Society held a special meeting for the purpose of electing the officers of the Mock Congress. After a keen and spirited campaign the following officers were chosen with scarcely any majority over which they could "gloat": President, Mr. Benton R. Latimer; Vice President, Mr. J. T. Tucker; Speaker pro tempore, Mr. Sumner T. Bohne; Clerk, Mr. Jefferson; Chaplain, Mr. B. M. McFarland; and several other equally as important officers.

On Friday, February 27th, occurred the inauguration, and the Eureka passed into Mock Congress. The grandeur, dignity and masterful speeches of the incoming officers, together with the unparalleled installation of officers by Hon. William A. Pollard of the Empire of Great Alpha Phi, might well be taken as exemplary proceedings for the national parties of the "United States of Howard University" when these parties enter politics in 1916.

Notes

A complete system of student government has been established at Walden University in Nashville, Tennessee.

Mr. Arthur L. Tunnell, Arts and Science '16, has a poem entitled "On Segregation" in March's issue of the Crisis. This poem, inspired by the Washington protest meeting, is well worth reading.

At Hampton Institute, teachers and students celebrated Founder's Day on February 1. The address in commemoration of Gen. Samuel Chapman Armstrong was given by Dr. Stephen S. Wise, Rabbi of the Free Synagogue of New York City.
