Talks with Stereopticon Views on Negro Life in the Black Belt of the South

By Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Calloway,

Teachers of the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute, Tuskegee, Alabama.

Backwoods School Improved by a Tuskegee Graduate.
SOME APPRECIATED TESTIMONY

CONCERNING THE WORK OF THE

Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute, in Alabama.

BOOKER T. WASHINGTON, PRINCIPAL.

THE LATE GEN. S. C. ARMSTRONG, of Hampton Institute, said:

“It is, I think, the noblest and grandest work of any colored man in the land. What compares with it in genuine value and power for good? It is on the Hampton plan, combining labor and study; commands high respect from both races; flies no denominational flag; but is thoroughly and earnestly Christian, well managed and organized.”

REV. DR. A. D. MAYO, of Boston, after careful inspection, said:

“Within the past seventeen years I have visited nearly every school of high class among the colored people of the South. I have never found, on the whole, the religious, social, and personal condition of the pupils so far advanced as at the Tuskegee Institute. I have nowhere found, in the South, in one school, a body of colored teachers where as much of intelligence, character, social culture, and genuine sacrifice and consecration were evident.”

REV. DR. W. S. RAINSFORD, of New York City, says:

“I do not believe that in these United States today there is a better work.”
The stereopticon views have been made by Mr. and Mrs. Calloway themselves, mostly from photographs taken by them in travels through the Black Belt of the South, and cover

Negro Life in Cabin, Cotton Field and Camp Meeting,
Illustrations of All Phases of the Tuskegee Institute,
Striking Features of the Annual Negro Farmers’ Conferences,
Graduates’ Homes, Schools, Stores, Portraits, etc.
