GLEANINGS FROM OUR ALUMNI

IT IS a great source of pleasure for us to hear of the civic political and professional activities of our alumni. We are anxious to make this a very live column containing news items about these various activities. We appreciate the co-operation of our field contributors and appeal to every alumnus to send us alumni news of interest either directly, or through the field contributor nearest you.

1899

Dr. C. Clifford Fry is rounding out his eighteenth year as Chief Dental Inspector in the colored schools of Washington, D. C.

1910

Dr. Carey V. Freeman, after a short stay in New England, has returned to Jacksonville, Fla., and is located at 1814 Jefferson St.

Dr. William D. ("Bill") Giles is one of our graduates who has had a varied, interesting and commendable career.

He prepared for his professional study in the public schools of Asbury Park, New Jersey, and in the College department of Howard University. During his preparatory years, Dr. Giles and his two brothers (Charles E. and Robert E.) entered into campus activities, and, because of their musical talents, were prominently associated with the University band, orchestra and choir.

"Bill," as his friends knew him, is energetic and versatile. These characteristics have stood him in good stead over a period of years. He matriculated in the College of Dentistry, and graduated with the Class of 1910.

During his career at Howard, he saw several steps in the evolution of the University take place: namely, the erection of the Carnegie Library and Freedmen's Hospital, the completion of the reservoir (which enhances the beauty of the University environs), and the establishment of a chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity at Howard (Beta Chapter), of which he is a charter member.

Upon leaving Howard, he became an associate of Dr. J. A. Wimbush, in Atlantic City, New Jersey, and, then, leaving the East, he entered the office of Dr. T. A. Curtis, in St. Louis, Missouri. From this, he entered into private practice at Evansville, Indiana, but, desiring to further himself, he moved to Chicago, where he matriculated at Northwestern University Dental School, and, in 1917, received his degree.

During the years intervening between 1917 and 1931 he maintained a practice in Chicago. In the latter year, however, he began preparation for his Master's degree in Oral Surgery at Northwestern University, maintaining general practice at the same time.

Dr. Giles is a member of the staff of Provident Hospital, Vice-president of the National Medical Association, ex-President of the Lincoln Dental Society, a member of the Illinois and Chicago Dental Societies, the American Dental Association and of the Eighth Infantry, Illinois National Guard.

He has ventured into literary channels through the publication of several articles, notably, "Burning Tongue" (Bulletin of the Chicago Dental Society, February 3, 1932), "The Practice of Dentistry" and "The Fundamentals of Oral Surgery" (Journal of the National Medical Association, 1933 and 1934 respectively).

Dr. Q. B. King recently presented to the College museum a gold swaged partial denture, which was worn for many years by a patient, who is now 93 years of age. This denture was constructed by Dr. Robert T. Freeman, a Harvard Dental graduate, of 1869.

1916

Dr. Edgar H. May is practicing at 1020 S. Sixth St., Atchison, Kansas.

Dr. Wm. E. Ingram, of 265 Washington St., Providence, R. I., has pursued post-graduate courses at Brown University, at Harvard Dental School and at Tufts Dental College.

1921

We heard recently from Dr. Uriel S. Gunthrope, who is living at 23 Lathers Park, New Rochelle, N. Y.

1923

Dr. William T. Grady, of Washington, D. C., is a member of the board of directors of the Medical-Dental Service Bureau, an organization which renders financing service to members of all groups.

Dr. Roscoe Cassius Ward has earned a very reputable standing in his community, Port Chester, N. Y., where he has been for eleven years. As a churchman, he has distinguished himself in the A. M. E. Church of which he is a trustee. In politics he chooses to be flexible-minded, and is classified as an Independent. Ward realizes the value of professional affiliation and maintains membership in the Westchester Academy of Medicine, in the Westchester Dental Society, and in the National Dental Association. The Ward home is patterned after an old Normandy Castle, and is one of the show places of Port Chester.

Dr. Phillip Brooks, of 400 Convent Ave., New York, N. Y.; recently pursued post-graduate courses in Anesthesia at the Sydenham Hospital, and is now a member of the Eastern Society of Anesthetists.

Dr. Judson E. Best, 300 Stuyvesant Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., is a member of the dental staff, of the Department of Health of New York City.

Dr. Henry Cicero Edwards, formerly of Pittsburgh, Pa., is now engaged in practice at 631 M St. N. W., Washington, D. C.

DR. H. WHYTE CAMERON

1926

Dr. H. Whyte Cameron is a graduate of the Class of 1926. After graduation he returned to his native land, British Guiana, and is located at 30 Hadfield St., Georgetown, Demerara.

Since his return, he has taken much interest in the social, spiritual and political life of his home town. Three years ago, through his efforts, the Government of the country established a Public School Dental Clinic in the city for the children attending the elementary schools, in which clinic he is employed as a part-time school dental officer.

In church life, he is a Lay Representative at the Annual Synod of the Protestant Episcopal Church, presided over by Dr. Oswald H. Parry, D.D., Bishop of the Diocese.

During the 1931 celebration of the Centenary of British occupation, he successfully appealed to the Governor of the country for the release of long-term prisoners of good behavior, for which he received congratulations from all sections in the community.

Dr. John E. Ford ("Tin Lizzie"), of 1116 Fifth Ave., New Brighton, Pa., was a clinician at the state convention, and at the Fall Meeting of the Odontological Society of Western Pennsylvania.

Dr. Geo. E. Monroe ("Money") is in Northfork, W. Va., and is a member of the staff of the McDowell County Dental Clinic.

1927

Dr. Percival D. Batson, of Glennada Place, Brooklyn, N. Y., is on the Dental Staff of Unity Hospital.

Dr. James E. Bowman has returned to Washington, D. C., to practice.

1928

Dr. Robert W. Morgan, 281 Main St., Poughkeepsie, N. Y., is very active in his local society.

1929

Word comes from Dr. J. Dwight Martin that he is upholding his class at 417½ E. Second St., Charlotte, N. C.

1930

Dr. Jas E. Carter, in addition to his professional duties, devotes considerable time to civic affairs. His address is 1271 Agusuta Ave., Augusta, Ga.

Dr. Norris Atkins recently opened his office in Washington, D. C.

1931

Dr. E. E. Carrol, of New York City, recently held a clinic in Full Denture Construction, before the Odonto - Chirurgical Society of Philadelphia, Pa.

Dr. J. B. Ewers is now located at 311 N. Church St., Winston-

Salem, N. C. On Thursday, April 4th, he gave a radio health talk in connection with the observance of National Negro Health Week.

Dr. Harry Penn, of Roanoke, Va., recently sent to the College a very interesting specimen for the museum. It is a large sequestrum removed from the left side of the body of the mandible.

Dr. R. O. ("Red") Wilson, of Uniontown, Pa., sent us some specimens for the museum. Thanks.

1932

Dr. Geo. C. McNeeley, of 109 Park Ave., Plainfield, N. J., is employed as a public school dentist under the C. W. A.

We are in receipt of a letter from Dr. Aldrich M. Brooks, who recently began practice in St. Louis, Mo. He enclosed some photographs of his office and, also, an interesting case report, with accompanying roentgenograms. Keep up the good work, Brooks.

1933

Dr. Gorham C. Fletcher recently passed the District of Columbia Board.

1934

Dr. William E. Harper and Norbert C. Bain have passed the New York Board. Bain has already opened his office in New York City.
