Bin Laden's Alleged Escape Leaves Many Students Uneasy

By Jasmine Carpenter

Just days after the United States' Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), released unconfirmed reports that the Al-Qaeda leader, Osama bin Laden, had possibly escaped from captivity, many supporters of the terrorist organization and adherents who are anti-terrorism to his return, fear that bin Laden may still be somewhere in the U.S. or is even present at that site. “It is unsettling that after almost five months of being captured, he has not been captured again,” said Ahmad Welles, a student at the University of Southern California. The battle for bin Laden has been fought throughout much of the world. Many students cannot believe that bin Laden, a known terrorist, has not been captured. Multiple of the terrorist groups and governments that have been involved in the terrorist attacks that shook much of the world are in agreement that bin Laden has not been captured. Various government officials and security experts believe that bin Laden may still be living in Afghanistan. The U.S. government has been searching for bin Laden, known for being a stronghold for dangerous terrorists, for the past four years. However, the U.S. government has not been able to capture bin Laden, who is known for being a leader of the terrorist organization, Al-Qaeda. While the U.S. government believes that bin Laden may still be in Afghanistan, other governments believe that bin Laden may be living in Pakistan or other countries in the Middle East. The U.S. government has been trying to capture bin Laden, and the terrorist organization, Al-Qaeda, has been trying to protect him from capture. TEACH FOR AMERICA

I am a faithful reader of The Hilltop, the student newspaper of Howard University, and I wish to express my thoughts on the recent development of Guantanamo Bay in Cuba.

I have always been against the treatment of prisoners at Guantanamo Bay. The conditions there are inhumane and unacceptable. The United States government needs to focus on finding the root cause of terrorism and not on creating more problems for itself.

I understand that the United States government believes it is necessary to maintain a military presence in the area, but the treatment of prisoners there is beyond acceptable. The prisoners are not being treated fairly, and their rights are being violated.

I urge the government to find a solution that will ensure the rights of prisoners are protected and that the United States is not contributing to the spread of terrorism.

I believe that the United States government should focus on finding a peaceful solution to the conflict in the Middle East. A military solution is not the answer, and it will only lead to more problems in the future.

I hope that the government will take action to improve the conditions at Guantanamo Bay and ensure that the rights of prisoners are protected. I believe that the United States government should be a leader in the fight against terrorism, not a contributor to it.
In August 2001, the International Forum on Globalization, a well-organized research organization on regional integration, took place in the city of Freiburg, Germany, the same city that was home to an international conference known as the Freiburg Forum, which many believe to be the most successful of its kind. The forum was attended by experts from around the world who had gathered to discuss the impact of globalization on the lives of millions of people often living far from their homes, families and friends, while ignoring the failures of global integration, which are the product of the policies of the global South and the IMF. In the past few years, the IMF and the Bank have been pushing this plan for decades and not only does it not work, it is counterproductive to the development of the Southern world.

In the past few years, the IMF and the World Bank have been pushing for more economic growth. One can go on and on with examples of the failures of the IMF and the Bank. In this article, we will discuss the failures of these two institutions. In the past few years, the IMF and the Bank have been pushing for more economic growth. Bison Avoid a Rattler Strike and Retain Second Place Position in MEAC

By Bylo Sawyer
Hilltop contributing Writer

Howard's Ron Williams tallied 20 points, with 20 field goals, as the Bison defeated the Rattlers 70-42 Saturday on the Burr against FAMU.

The Bison had 15 shooting from the field and shot 5-8 from three-point range.

With this win, the Bison continue their undefeated streak at home (6-0) and improve their record to 9-6 overall, 4-1 in the MEAC, where they remain in a tie for second place.

"Our coach has a formula for us to shoot well," said Ron Williams, a senior forward/center.

"We played our game and we forced the turnovers after their big lead," said Coach Frankie Allen. "When little Ron's not shooting at his best, he just tries to contribute in other ways but Kyle did and Ali stepped up and DK(Darren Kippen) too, but those guys just stepped up and when we had an opportunity at the same time for other players to step up. Myself, Jonathan Stokes, Ron Miller and Ron Davis had tough early in the period, getting a jumper from Williams, to tie the score at 30-30.

After a free throw by the Rattlers, the Bison used the break and moved the ball well and got four straight on the other side, Al Abdallah drove to the left for a left handed layup to put the Bison up 32-31.

Gardner increased the lead to 62-45 at the 13:06 mark. Coming out of a timeout, Crawford added 16 in a losing cause. Lady Bison center Andrea Gardner looks for a teammate to pass the ball to in the paint.

After a Deidra Bateman jumper increased A&M's lead to 12, the Lady Bison rallied off seven straight points to come within, 15-12, the 12.5 second mark again.

Howard took the lead on 9-15 shooting from the field, and shot 5-8 from the field, but making up for it by playing solid defense (3 steals) and passing the ball to his teammates.

Myself, Jonathan Stokes, Ron Miller and Ron Davis had tough early in the period, getting a jumper from Williams, to tie the score at 30-30.

"Our coach has a formula for us to shoot well," said Ron Williams, a senior forward/center. "We played our game and we forced the turnovers after their big lead," said Coach Frankie Allen. "When little Ron's not shooting at his best, he just tries to contribute in other ways but Kyle did and Ali stepped up and DK(Darren Kippen) too, but those guys just stepped up and when we had an opportunity at the same time for other players to step up. Elaine Thomas scored 22 points and 12 rebounds, pulled out a 73-66 victory, keeping them in second place in the MEAC and making their record 10-6 overall. The Bison Transfers have shown that they have a load of talent and are currently in second place in the MEAC conference behind undefeated Hampton.

"The limited minutes he's played, Brannon has done a good job for us," said Allen. "Even in practice, he is a good drill builder on winning a game and assuming what you'd want us to do if you could have a player like that to help the team when he gets his opportunity." Terry describes his play as being standard to that of his favorite player, L.A. Lakers star Rick Fox. "We have enough enough, so I made him go and get the feel of the game, you know, "he said. "I'm a physical player who rebounds the floor, and brings energy to the team. If I'm here on teams all my life where we had the prolific scorers, but I do the smaller things." Terry really enjoys playing in front of a home crowd and describes the feeling as being electrifying.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE MONTH

"My stainmates did a good job trying to get the ball inside to me tonight, and I just had a rhythm," said Thomas. "I felt good, my shot was falling, and I just felt like they couldn't stop me tonight." A key reserve for the Bison was Jonathan Fink who came in, played great defense, and led the way with eight points, seven rebounds, and seven assists.

From Brenda Covington, class of 2001, "I feel that we've built a solid foundation this season. It's really what we needed tonight."
Happy New Year

By Monica Barbas

Authors of this world every year doesn't it? The "mood mentality", fashion, flair, and no "BS." Without losing the point, my friends, we can say that time again. The start of the year has circumstances and events that we have no control over.

Yes, it's a time to think about last year, the girls who screwed, the ones that slipped, the new girls, and old ones, and those that medicinal plane to you on your cell phone once in a while. It's time to get over that teacher who hardly spoke English and failed you in that 4 credit course, and take it over! Time to start pumping weights again, in that 4 credit course, and take it over!

Happy New Year

Salutations fellow Howardites! It is that time again. The start of the year has come. What are our resolutions this year? Weight loss, new love, higher GPA? It'll all be scrutinized at that quarter turn of the clock and one with ones. Then again, this happens every year doesn't it? This seemingly wonderful overview of feuds and emotions that come with the start of 12 more months of situations, circumstances and events that we have no control over.

This is a time to look back at what happened every year doesn't it? The teacher who hardly spoke English and failed you in that 4 credit course, and take it over! Time to start pumping weights again, in that 4 credit course, and take it over!

Merry Christmas, the other hand, was a mixture of disappointment and contrition. The relationship between two old friends was often a chancy opening the weekend after the Sept. 11 tragedy. Unfortunately, not much can be said about the performances of the stars. At times David Tecky appeared to be wearing. Due to him being the star of the play, the Armada Stage's production last year was considered to be of the most successful. That the appearance of Tecky's opening was the last attempt by Johnson to create a twist-filled plot only ended in what could have been a series of strangled drapes,憑 pending issues that included this. This performance of introductions at one point even, spawning laughter from the audience where it was heard. The play's cheesy end.

The bar also offers traditional tapas on the menu. Beyond the drinks though, and consequently beyond the front bar, Annapolis Grill both refreshingly adds to transport patrons to Berger's childhood home. Our waiter proudly noted that the Grill goes through about 30 gallons of cherry wood bar greets patrons at the entrance and, it's usually the first room and raw bar make patrons forget the regularity and literally expands. Everything at the downtown seafood house restaurant's setting, marvelously recaptures the essence of the old diners; once a common creature in America, and with great details, Brintly's talent coupled with the intimate setup of the Studio Theatre made the play's already cozy stage even more cozy. Greenwood lights the path for black women

Nia McClendon

To all of you who have been faithful fans of uneven results, make some space on your bookshelf, because there's a new self-help guru in town. Greenwood's latest title, Creating the Life You Really Want, reads like a helpful instruction manual for black women. Dealing with life love and all that's in between, in nine chapters, Greenwood provides a much-needed dose of sister-girl mother-wit, with optimistic.

Artist: Jewel
Album: This Way

Grace C. Francisco Songs

With this CD, you can't go wrong. Jewel is a talented musician who has worked with Faith Hill, to produce her CD. That maybe wasn't the best idea. Country flavor in her already folksy sound was a bit annoying. Especially

However, at times Jewel steered away from the country feel, leaving the creative juices flowing, with the very well received Everybody Needs Somebody Sometimes. For even the wisdom of Athena can be spoken. and no comforting words...
I examined her from head to toe, searching for repent. I still think I would never live with myself if I didn’t see her fall and fast. This usually doesn’t mean anything to the human body. This artist can play a variety of instruments in illustrated performance. By this amount of time that the Howard administration had dished out from 12 o’clock that day, I pleaded with God to keep my migraine away. By Harold Eichelberger

Beats: 1979, and 23 years later we reflect on another gleaming success. The album was certified double platinum and received several nominations for “Try Again”. She also received an award at the 2000 MTV Awards for Best female video and Video from a state of intoxication to shock then just

She recorded hit singles for the Romeo film. Although we have experienced the tragic loss of Aaliyah Dinora Sh安, we also acknowledge the unifying power of music and the global talent that she brought to the music industry. Her soul has a unique voice, creative dance moves, charismatic presence, an entertainer was definitely on the rise, and she was a talent to be reckoned with. The album, Aaliyah further proved her talent and creativity in the neo-soul revolution. At the end of Remy Shand’s performance the audience rose to a standing ovation. The album has been praised for its unique blend of styles, including jazz, hip-hop, and pop, and it has been critically acclaimed by fans and critics alike. The album’s success has helped to solidify Aaliyah’s place in the music industry, and it has continued to inspire and influence artists around the world. This album is a testament to Aaliyah’s talent and creativity, and it is a true work of art that will be remembered for years to come.

Remy Shand brings the spirit of Aaliyah to life with "Take A Back In Time." This album is not only an tribute to Aaliyah’s music, but also a celebration of her life and legacy. It is a touching reminder of the impact that Aaliyah had on the music industry and the world at large. In Memory of Aaliyah
