GLEANINGS FROM OUR ALUMNI

IT IS through the fullest cooperation of our field contributors that this column may be kept alive and interesting. We again express very deep appreciation for past attention in this connection, and urge every alumnus to contribute to the column, either directly or through the alumni representative in your area.

1888

We are very sorry to hear of the passing of one of our oldest alumni, Dr. Nathan Nesbitt of 15 Chilton St., Montgomery, Ala.

1909

The eminently successful career of Dr. Stephen J. Lewis has been divided into periods of practice in Harrisburg, Pa., Washington, D. C., and his present location in Mannassas, Va., his home town. Since his graduation in 1909, Dr. Lewis has kept in active touch with Howard University and has worked with earnest zeal in every movement in interest of his Alma Mater.

Dr. Lewis has kept pace with the most progressive dental thought and procedure, and has contributed articles to a number of publications, including "A Survey of American and Canadian Dental Schools," "Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching," "Dental Items of Interest," "Dental Student," and "Opportunity." His broadcast over station WAAB, "The Mouth and Health," was enthusiastically received by the profession and the public. His affiliation with the A.D.A., the Pa. State Dental Society, the Harrisburg Dental Society, the Old Dominion Dental Association, and the National Dental Association attests his interest in the progress and scientific advancement of his profession.

A deep-rooted civic-consciousness led Dr. Lewis to participate in the activities of the "Manassas Horse Show and Fair Association," the "Manassas School League and Parent Teacher Association" and the "Prince William Civic and Farmers Alliance."

As dental editor of the Journal of the National Medical Association and of the Interstate Bulletin, Dr. Lewis is known throughout the country, and his valuable contribution to the profession of dentistry should inspire present and future students of Howard University.

1910

At commencement time last June we were happy to welcome back to their alma mater, Dr. I. M. Lawrence of 1410 N. 21st Street, Philadelphia, Pa., and Dr. A. L. Jackson of 39 Camp Street, Providence, R. I.

1913

Dr. John A. Jackson was re-elected secretary of the National Dental Association. Dr. Jackson received much commendation for the manner in which he handled the registration at the Louisville meeting, with the very capable assistance of Mrs. Jackson.

1916

Dr. William O. Claytor, of 1419 Q Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., was born in Virginia. He graduated from Hampton Institute and taught school for nine years in his state. He then came to Washington where he engaged in government service for seven years, during which time he studied Dentistry at Howard. He graduated in 1916 and immediately entered practice. Besides practicing he has been continually interested in civic and community work. For years he has been an active worker and an officer in the Men's Club of 15th Street Presbyterian Church; for twelve years he has been a member of the committee of management of the local Y. M. C. A.; he is now a member of the Interstate Y. M. C. A. committee, a member of the Board of Directors of the Community Chest, ex-president and member of the Robert T. Freeman Dental Society, a member of the National Dental Association, and a promoter of the Frederick P. Barrier Memorial Student Aid Fund for the College of Dentistry of Howard University.

DR. WILLIAM O. CLAYTOR

Dr. Reginald Beamon, of Cincinnati, Ohio, along with Dr. H. Inge Wilson, '21, and others from Cincinnati, proved himself to be quite a campaigner in winning the 1936 convention of the National Dental Association for his "hometownners."

Howard Alumni were made to feel very proud of Dr. Chas. H. Dorsey, of Philadelphia, Pa., for the most efficient way in which he presided over the sessions at the last meeting of the N. D. A. His address was a credit to the profession and we commend it to the careful attention of all our readers who are interested in the progress of scientific dentistry.

We are very glad to hear of the good work being done by Dr. William E. Ingram, of 56 Washington Street, Providence, R. I. One of his recent activities will be found in another section of this issue.

1918

Dr. Charles W. Preston, who has been enrolled in the "Lost Battalion" for a long while, was seen at the Louisville meeting of the N. D. A. He has been ill, but is much improved now. He sent some interesting and rare specimens to the museum. His present address is 68 Edgecombe Avenue, New York City.

Dr. Powell Johnson, of Detroit, Mich., accompanied by Mrs. Johnson, recently visited the college.

Dr. Elmer D. Edwards visited the school recently. We are all happy to note that his health is greatly improved.

Dr. B. J. Martin, of New Orleans, La., is one of the new members of the contributing staff of THE DENTOSCOPE. We were very pleased to see him at the convention.

1923

Dr. H. Sumner Colum, of Chicago, Ill., writes that he enjoyed a trip to St. Louis after leaving the Louisville meeting last summer. While there he visited Drs. Miller, Suter, Gibson, and Teabeau.

Dr. A. Panama Johnson, of Syracuse, N. Y., reports that he is enjoying his work upstate and is a one hundred percent booster of his alma mater and of the National Dental Association in his community.

Dr. Jackson L. Davis was elected president-elect of the National Dental Association at the meeting in Louisville, Ky.

Dr. Harry C. Hardwick presented a clinic on the curing of Luxene at the Louisville meeting.

Dr. Judson E. Best, Brooklyn, N. Y., has begun to devote most of his time to surgery and solicits referred cases from his fellow practitioners.

Dr. Flemming Norris, of Passaic, N. J., is a member of the Board of Athletic Control of Howard University. Dr. Norris' recent visit to the Dental College was very much appreciated.

Dr. Harry J. Greene, of Philadelphia, Pa., motored to the meeting of the N. D. A. with Drs. Harry Hardwick and Chas. Dorsey.

Dr. Samuel A. Lindsay, of 115½ Main St., West Rochester, N. Y., was a visitor in Washington, recently. We hope that he will pay the school a visit next time.

Dr. Isadore Mitchell, of Los Angeles, California, has caught the Hollywood spirit and turned playwright. He recently wrote a play which was produced and well received at the Lincoln theater of his city.

Dr. Charles M. Colden, of Alliquippa, Pa., has a very well established practice and is well respected in his community. As an avocation he maintains a very beautiful garden and also raises rabbits.

The class of 1926 is scheduled to hold its reunion this year to celebrate its tenth anniversary. Plans are being made and a one hundred percent attendance is expected. The permanent secretary, Dr. Clarissa P. Wimbush, will communicate with each member very soon. Start now with your preparations to come.

1928

Dr. Lorenzo Carter barely escaped fatal injury in an automobile accident last summer. At this writing he is recuperating rapidly.

1929

Dr. Theodore M. Bundrant, of Monroe, N. Y., has consented to be the contributing editor representing the New York area. His task is a great one, and all possible cooperation from alumni in that district will be greatly appreciated.

1931

Dr. J. B. Ewers, of Winston Salem, N. C., passed through the city recently en route to New York where he plans to attend some clinics.

1932

Dr. A. M. Brooks has been re-appointed to the staff of the General Hospital in St. Louis, Mo.

1933

Dr. Gorham C. Fletcher is now located at 2712 P St. N. W., Washington, D. C.

Dr. Ernest R. Kimbrough has opened his office at 128 W. Burke St., Martinsburg, W. Va.

Dr. William M. Gibson, who is now practicing in Beckley, West Virginia, is very pleased with the present outlook in that community.

1934

Dr. William E. Harper has opened his office in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Dr. Lester F. Reid, who recently completed an internship at the Forsyth Dental Clinic, is preparing to open his office in Schenectady, N. Y.

Dr. Norbert C. Bain was reappointed as a clinician at the Guggenheim clinic in New York City. His office is at 540 Manhattan Ave., New York City.

Dr. Herman E. Gaskins was recently recalled by his alma mater to serve as an instructor in Dentistry.

Dr. Francis M. Hall passed the Florida State Board last June and is located at 40 East End Ave., Panama City, Fla.

1935

Dr. James E. Brown is serving an internship at the Forsyth Dental Clinic in Boston, Mass.

Dr. Ceasar J. Valdes is interning at Freedmen's Hospital this year.
