REPORT, COMMITTEE ON PRIZES AND AWARDS,
COLLEGE OF DENTISTRY, HOWARD UNIVERSITY
1934-35—1935-36

THE crisis through which our country is now passing has been a constant threat to the full development of many worthy minds. This is particularly true in our college of dentistry where there are so many opportunities for the student to spend money during the active school session, but so few opportunities on the outside for him to earn money during the summer recess.

Indeed, this situation would offer much more cause for worry and unrest among the members of the faculty, as well as among the students, were it not for the noble spirit that has prompted certain individuals and organizations to heed the calls which have been sounded throughout the nation to come to the rescue of youth. As chairman of the committee on prizes and awards it is my happy privilege to acquaint you, through this report, with the sources from which, during the past two years, many of our students of various grade classifications, whose names appear herein, have been benefited.

In the college of dentistry the available awards for the school year 1934-35 were:

In passing, may this quotation from the poem, "Life's Mission,"

by Samuel Longfellow, be dedicated to these young men and women who would dare to press on in the face of many obstacles:

*“Go on from innocence of youth
To manly pureness, manly truth;
God’s angels still are near to save,
And God Himself doth help the brave.”*

And, to those individuals who are responsible for the many helpful contributions which these students have received, we dedicate this verse from a poem, “Generosity,” author not known:

*“Now we read here a lesson:
Love is the Rose of Life—
Let it bloom out in joyous rout
'Till all the world is rife
With sweets of loving kindness,
Perfumes of noble deeds,
And savors rare, beyond compare,
Of succor for all needs.”*

Respectfully submitted,

EUGENE E. T. MAVRITTE, D. D. S.,
Chairman, Committee on Prizes and Awards.
