Scope Note

The Crystal Bird Fauset papers were donated to Howard University by Mrs. Sophia Yarnell Jacobs, and Mrs. A. Mercer Daniels in 1966. Mrs. Jacobs was a close associate of Mrs. Fauset. Mrs. Daniels was Mrs. Fauset's sister. The papers document some of Mrs. Fauset's activities from 1944 - 1959, with the most documentation being provided for the years 1946-1950.

The papers are approximately 3 linear feet in size. Crystal Bird Fauset was an educator, social worker, and an activist in local and national politics. In 1938 she became the first Black woman to be elected to the Pennsylvania House of Representatives. After 1944 she worked as a volunteer with the United Nations Council of Philadelphia. Scrapbooks in this collection document her activities with this council.

Photographs which indicate her participation in a Ghanaian independence celebration (1959?); a few items of correspondence, and a typed scripted autobiographical sketch are also included within this collection. Noteworthy is Scrapbook #4 which documents Mrs. Fauset's 1950 trip to India and Pakistan. The photographs in this book show Mrs. Fauset in the company of leading Indian dignitaries, including Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and the former Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.
