Dear Dr. Tate,

I received the book that you sent last week. It is a very good book. Hook and Hoover read it also, and several of the men in my company have put in requests to read it. Every American Library should have a copy of that book. Each of the several opinions voiced is outstanding.

Due to the setup over here, I haven't seen but a few of the fellows since I've been released from the hospital. Since I can't see the fellows face to face, I've resorted to reach them through mail. I've asked each of the fellows to send some money. I don't know how many will co-operate, but I'm sure a few of them will.

Thanks a lot for sending me the book.

Sincerely,
Shadcan
