Theological Department.

This is under the joint supervision and aid of the Presbytery of Washington, and of the American Missionary Association, New York City, and its Professors are of four religious denominations.

Admission.—This department is open to students of every Christian denomination. Every applicant for admission must present testimonials of Christian character, and evidence of such preparation as will enable him to profit by the studies of the department.

Course of Instruction.—The circumstances of many young men who are preparing for the gospel ministry in several of the religious denominations—especially among the colored people—as regards their age, their previous degree of education, the qualifications required of them in their work, and the limited time they can spend in study, makes it impossible to pursue, with them, the usual routine of a theological seminary. While the full regular course is given to all who are qualified for it, others are dealt with according to the necessities of each case, and, in addition to their theological studies, are taught gratuitously, in the lower departments, according to their ascertained deficiencies and the time they can spend upon their education. They receive, at the close, only such a certificate as their acquirements justify.

Junior Year.—Biblical Introduction; Geography and Antiquities; Greek Testament—Gospels; Hebrew—Grammar and Pentateuch; Natural Theology; Biblical Theology of the Old Testament; Sacred History; Evidences of Christianity; Lectures on English Language; Rhetorical Exercises; English Bible.

Middle Year.—Interpretation; Greek Testament—Acts and Epistles; Hebrew Bible—Psalms and Prophets; Biblical Theology of the New Testament; Church History to Reformation; Homiletics and Pastoral Theology; Mental and Moral Science; Rhetorical Exercises; English Bible.

Senior Year.—Interpretation; Systematic Theology; Homiletics—Exercises in Construction of Plans and in Preaching Sermons; Church History, from the Reformation; History of Christian Doctrine; Ecclesiastical Polity of New Testament; Lectures on Missions and English Bible.

Expenses.—No charges will be made for instruction, nor for rent of rooms; but each student will pay $5 per year for incidental expenses, and $3 for care of halls. Good board can be had for $10 per month; cheap table, $5 per month.
HOWARD UNIVERSITY.

It is believed that with the opportunities of self-support which Washington affords, and with the aid of benevolent persons, churches, &c., which the Faculty will seek, any young man of promise can here enter upon and complete a course of theological studies. No one of good abilities, of earnest piety, and who is persuaded that God has called him to preach the gospel, need hesitate in seeking a preparation to enter upon the great work of the Ministry.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

SESSION OF 1879-’80.

The Annual Session of the school commences the first of October, and continues twenty weeks. This Department commands all the means and advantages in use at the present day for giving a complete and thorough course of medical instruction. A gratuitous Spring course of lectures begins in April, and is open to all.

CLINICAL INSTRUCTION.—Arrangements have been made for the admission of the students of medicine, under proper restrictions, to the Freedmen's General Hospital and Asylum, situated within the grounds of the Institution, for the purpose of studying diseases at the bedside. Surgical, medical, and obstetrical cases will be seen by the class, under the supervision of the professors, and operations will be performed in their presence in the amphitheatre. Clinical instructions occur twice a week.

HOSPITAL FACILITIES AND RESIDENT STUDENTS.—The hospital contains several hundred patients, and presents unusual facilities for the study of practical medicine and surgery. Resident students are selected every quarter from the graduating class to serve in the wards of the hospital. They will write prescriptions, under the directions of the Professors, and keep histories of all the interesting cases, and assist at clinics.

MATRICULATION.—1. The department is open to all, without distinction of race or sex.

2. The applicant must furnish evidence of good moral character.

3. He must possess a thorough English education, and a sufficient acquaintance with the Latin language to understand and write prescriptions, and to understand medical terms in common use.
LAW DEPARTMENT.

GRADUATION.—1. The candidate must furnish evidence to the Dean of having studied medicine three years, under the supervision of a regular practitioner of medicine, during which time he must have attended two full courses of lectures at some regular medical college, the last of which must have been in this Institution.

2. He must have dissected, at least two terms, and attended the clinical lectures.

3. He must present to the Faculty an acceptable thesis, original and in his own handwriting, upon some medical subject.

4. He must be twenty-one years of age, and pass a satisfactory examination in all branches of the course.

For information as to terms and other particulars, write to C. B. Purvis, M. D., Secretary, Freedmen's Hospital, Washington, D. C.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

ADMISSION.—Applicants for admission are expected to be well grounded in the common English branches, in Rhetoric and in Elementary Natural Science. They will be required, unless graduates of some college, to pass an examination in Algebra, Geometry, Latin, Logic, and Mental and Moral Science. With less intellectual discipline than this amount of preliminary study implies, in the opinion of the Law Faculty, students will fail, in a two-year's course, to master the leading principles of the Law, or to become adequately fitted for the higher work of the profession. The department is open to all who are over eighteen years of age, and possess the proper qualifications. Each student must apply to the Secretary of the Board for tickets of admission, and make satisfactory arrangements with the Treasurer for the payment of all dues to the University, before attending the exercises of the Law Department.

SECOND YEAR.—Evidence, Greenleaf; Real Property, Williams; Contracts, Parsons; Pleading, Stephens; Torts, Bigelow; Equity;
Adams; Laws of Business, Parsons. Lectures.—R. B. Warden, esq., Legal Art and Science; A. A. Birney, esq., The Law of Bailments; R. T. Greener, esq., The Roman or Civil Law.

THIRD YEAR.—Post-Graduate Course.—Constitutional Law, International Law, Constitutional Limitations, Law of Shipping and Admirality, Wills and Administration, Domestic Relations and Medical Jurisprudence.

EXERCISES.—The recitation system is maintained, with the addition of lectures. Students are required to take notes of all lectures. The exercises are held in the main University Building, at hours convenient for those who may be employed during the day. Forensic exercises, debates and essays on legal subjects are held under the supervision of the Law Faculty. Practice in copying and drafting legal forms are continued throughout the course. A. A. Birney, esq., presides over the Moot Court, which meets each Thursday evening. Written examinations, each term, are considered of great importance as testing the actual acquirements of students. The Library connected with the Law Department is open to the students.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES.—Our Law Department is believed to be the only one south of New York City, open alike to all. Washington, from its location as the Capital of the Nation, furnishes some peculiar facilities for students-at-law, in attending the sessions of the Congress, the deliberations of the Supreme Court, the Court of Claims, the Courts of the District of Columbia, in the operations of the various Departments of the National Government, and in the ready access to the Library of Congress, and the Law Libraries of the United States.

GRADUATION, DEGREES AND EXPENSES.—The degree of Bachelor of Laws, LL. B., will only be conferred upon students who have pursued the prescribed course, passed satisfactory examinations, attended regularly upon all the exercises and complied with all regulations of the University and the Law Faculty. By a recent rule of the Courts of this District, no student can be admitted to practice, who has not studied three years at a regular law school, in a lawyer's office, or partly in each. Our Post-Graduate year is designed to comply with this requirement of time, while the instruction embraced in the two year course, will enable students to be admitted in the other States. Admission to the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, is granted to students on examination. This, by courtesy, admits to the bar in a majority of the States. Tuition is $10 a year, when paid wholly in advance; otherwise, $20, payable in advance on entrance in September; $15 in January, and $15 in April. No deductions are made for absence or fractional parts of a term. Students may enter at any period of the course, provided they pass a thorough examination on the previous studies and pay tuition up to the time of entrance.
ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are examined in the studies of the Preparatory Course, or their equivalents, as follows: Latin, three books of Caesar, five orations of Cicero, and two books of Virgil's Encid; Greek, Crosby's Lessons and three books of Xenophon's Anabasis; English, Arithmetic, (High School,) Algebra to Quadratic Equations, three books of Geometry, Grammar, Composition and Geography. Those who desire to enter advanced classes must, in addition, pass examination in the studies already pursued by such classes. Certificates of good moral character are required, and, from those who have studied elsewhere, evidence of honorable dismissal.

SPECIAL STATEMENT.

ADMISSION.—The Institution offers the full advantages of each department to all, without regard to creed, race or sex.

RECITATIONS AND DEPORTMENT.—A permanent record is kept of the recitations, general conduct, attainments, and delinquencies of each student.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.—There are two weekly prayer-meetings—one on Thursday evening, conducted by the officers of the Institution; the other on Saturday evening, conducted by students. There is also a preaching service in the afternoon of the Lord's Day, usually conducted by the President, and a morning religious exercise in the Chapel.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.—Literary Societies are formed in each of the Departments, fostered and encouraged by the several Faculties, for improvement in elocution, extemporaneous speaking, written discussions, and general culture.

EXAMINATIONS.—There will be examinations in all the Departments at the close of each term, oral or written, at the option of each Faculty. The examination at the close of the year will be before a committee appointed by the Faculty. At all these examinations members of the Board of Trustees are, ex officio, an examining committee.

LIBRARIES AND CABINETS.—The general library contains about 7,000 volumes, many of them choice and select works. The Professional Departments have each a separate library. The mineral cabinet contains over 4,000 specimens, including fossils, minerals, etc., etc. The museum contains various articles illustrative of foreign and American history, a collection of coins, medals, and curious notes, specimens of valuable woods, Indian relics, portraits of distinguished men and women, views of the late war, engravings and photographic views of classic ruins in Rome. The Trustees are desirous of enlarging the collections in these departments, and solicit contributions from all friends of the Institution.

AID TO INDIGENT STUDENTS.—The Institution has no permanent fund for the aid of this class of students, but continued and successful efforts are made by officers and teachers to obtain help for those who deserve it.

UNIVERSITY SITE AND BUILDINGS.—The Institution occupies an elevated and beautiful site, just outside of the city of Washington, on the north, at the head of Seventh street, facing the University Park. Two lines of street-cars lead to it. Its University edifice is four stories in height, containing recitation and lecture rooms, chapel, library, philosophical rooms, museum, and offices. The Medical Building is on the south of the Park.

Miner Hall, set apart for ladies, will accommodate one hundred and forty students, together with rooms for matron and teachers. The rooms are arranged in suites of two, with two closets, each suite to be occupied by two persons. The basement of this building is arranged and furnished as the University boarding hall.

Clark Hall, for young men, will accommodate two hundred students, and its rooms are furnished like those in Miner Hall.

ANNUAL STATEMENT.

The Trustees of the Howard University would congratulate its friends, that, under a favoring divine Providence, the Institution is rapidly coming upon a foundation of permanent prosperity. It has had the usual trying experiences attending the infancy of such institutions, growing out of the era of building and of costly experiments, the incurring of heavy debts, the changes of administrations and of instructors, the opposition of the unfriendly, and difficulties from the financial distresses of the times. But it has survived these dangers, and it is hoped, through benevolent aid and by economical management, to prevent the return of embarrassments. The debt of $100,000, which, a few years since, was so heavy a burden, has been entirely liquidated, and the property of the University held for permanent use, consisting of five large buildings, several professor’s houses, and thirty acres of ground, and valued, even at present low estimates, at $250,000, is without incumbrance. But to accomplish this result has taken funds which were needed for the endowment of the professional chairs and of scholarships. The income-bearing assets of the University produce but $8,500 per annum, including the rental of some real estate; but it has contiguous unimproved land on sale, which may, at no distant day, prove valuable. Congress has also made an appropriation of $10,000, to aid in meeting the current expenses of the coming year. The Trustees have appointed a Financial Secretary—Rev. C. A. Harvey, D. D.—and would earnestly appeal to the benevolent to endow the various departments to an extent sufficient to make their work efficient and permanent. Were this done, it may truly be affirmed, that no institution in the land would have before it a career of greater usefulness.

The educational operations have gone forward with marked success. The number of students is gradually increasing, and in the Theological and Medical Departments is much larger than ever before, and promises continuous growth. Indeed, nothing but inability to render needed aid in deserving cases, prevents doubling or trebling the number of students, judging from the large number of applications which yearly are made in person and by letter, from all parts of the land. As fast as possible, also, the instructors are raising the standard of scholarship in every department, as regards the conditions of admission, continuance, and graduation, while a better class of pupils is constantly reaching the institution. Having received the national endorsement of Congress, and enjoying, as it is believed, the more important favor of God, the Howard University looks to the future with courage and hope.

In behalf of the Board of Trustees,

WM. W. PATTON, PRESIDENT.
