BILL, '15.

Horace Mann's Talk To Boys.

You are made to be kind, boys, generous, magnanimous. If there is a boy in school who has a club-foot, don't let him know you ever saw it. If there is a boy with ragged clothes, don't talk about rags in his hearing. If there is a lame boy, give him some part in the game which does not require running. If there is a hungry one, give him part of your dinner. If there is a dull one, help him to get his lesson. If there is a bright one, be not envious of him.

Students of Howard University who were present at the Metropolitan A. M. E. Church of this city on the evenings of November 24th and 25th should congratulate themselves upon having had the opportunity and pleasure of hearing at length two of the greatest public speakers on the American platform; namely, Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan and our own Prof. Kelly Miller.

Professor Miller was the principal speaker at a meeting of the Washington Branch of the National Negro Business League, which was held in conjunction with the Bethel Literary and Historical Association. Prof. Miller spoke very eloquently on the subject: "What Commerical Development Means to the Negro." His address was enthusiastically received and very highly appreciated by all that heard him.

On the previous evening, the eloquent editor of the "Commoner," leader of the Democratic party and three times candidate for the presidency of the United States, Hon. William Jennings Bryan, was the principal speaker. The meeting at which Mr. Bryan's speech was made was held by the officers of the Colored Social Settlement in memory of the late Dr. John R. Francis, former president of the Board of Trustees of that organization.
