The Hilltop 9-5-2003

Hilltop Staff

Follow this and additional works at: https://dh.howard.edu/hilltop_0010

Recommended Citation
https://dh.howard.edu/hilltop_0010/128

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the The Hilltop Digital Archive at Digital Howard @ Howard University. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Hilltop: 2000 - 2010 by an authorized administrator of Digital Howard @ Howard University. For more information, please contact lopez.matthews@howard.edu.
Richard English Promoted to Interim Provost

By Zachary Kenworthy
Hilltop Staff Writer

It's that time of year again when academic leaders take to the podium and applaud the graduates, but there will be one fewer this year, said Head Coach, Rich English. Not because he was any less of a leader, just because he was No. 1 on the list of head coaches.

English is a head coach for Texas Southern, but he's also a head coach for Howard University. He was named Interim Provost over the summer.

Locke and Fink Principal, Ph.D.

English is ready to work hard in order to achieve his goals. According to the head coach, the biggest challenge is to "put together a winning team and maintain it over the course of the season." He also plans to strengthen the team's defense and offense, which has been a consistent problem for Howard.

In his transition and ability to work," English said. "He knows how to run a program, he knows how to manage people, and he knows how to make decisions."
On campus

What actions should be taken to commemorate the death of School of Business founder Dr. Milton Wilson?

Shir Pilgrim
Senior

"Students should have a memorial service on the campus by the flagpole."

BISON ON VIEWS

By Takara Swopes

Howard Students Living it Up During Labor Day

By Charrash Jackson
Hilltop Staff Writer

Howard students took a break last weekend from registration, exams, and student accounts to relax for Labor Day weekend.

With the stress associated with moving into school, some Howard students were happy to just relax this past weekend.

"I traveled home to Charlesville to visit my parents," senior information systems major Heather Prenter said. "I cooked out every day, I enjoyed the fried food and good weather.

Not all were lucky enough to make the trip back home. Junior English major Daniel Nunley spent his Labor Day playing with friends and shopping.

"Holiday traditions prevailed as many Howard students realize there is nothing like good food. I had the best fried chicken," Nunley said. Senior women's basketball player Brittany Burns spent the rest of her holiday weekend going to church, volunteering, and catching up on some much-needed rest.

Other Howard students found even more interesting ways to spend the first long break since classes began. Sophomore criminal justice major Ali มาลิตเน will be the most pleased to not only take her little sister to the mall, but also to Baltimore, to then head to New York City to join the fun at the West Indies Day Parade and Carnival.

"There are always parties to have a mellow weekend and have some down time," I went bike riding and while walking a little I got dressed up in a suit. I decided to just enjoy the rain in this beauty," film graduate major Tasha Hillard said.

For some freshmen it was their first experience to have a short holiday and be away from home. Luckily, many freshmen spent the day having fun at the fair, other classes of senior students as they choose to have a day of fun at Kings Dominion.

"We cooked out everyday and I enjoyed the free food and good weather," - Rashad Frazier

Spelman College:

Spelman College appoints Professor Bryant, a winner of 2003 Bible scholarship, as new President. Camille Cosby Endowed Professor in Humanities, Dr. Weems will be the fifth woman to hold this prominent position.

Clark Atlanta:

From October 1 to December 12, Clark Atlanta University will host "The Lithographs of Joseph Norman Woodard," a series of lithographs capturing the life of Joseph Norman Woodard, a noted and outspoken African American architect.

Howard University:

Howard University was recipients of a $250,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Energy to study the reduction of greenhouse gases that causes acid rain and urban smog, for a three-year project. Hampton will design and test a tin oxide-based catalyst to remove large amounts of sulfur dioxide and nitrogen oxides from power plant gases in order to help treat air pollution.

Tuskegee University:

Tuskegee University will hold its Eighth Annual National Book Fair in the Student Union on October 7 to 8. The conference uses the philosophy and perspectives of Booker T. Washington to address present economic, social, and political challenges and developments in the rural United States.
Richard English
Promoted to Interim Provost

ENGLISH from A1

they know that most important to me is the quality of our interaction with our students and their achievement.

Richard English, who has been with Howard for over 15 years, said he advised the dance was spectacular and influenced them to continue studying.

"I've never been to an African dance in my life and it has opened my eyes to differ-et parts of my culture," said
Audrey Smith, a student at Howard.

This week, dance classes are being held at Howard University's Kennedy
Recreation Center, on
Seventh and O Street NW.
Each class will cost $15. For more information call (202)581-3275 or go to www.
kankouran.org.

Football Team Opens Season at Texas Southern

FOOTBALL from A1

and pressure Texas Southern quarterback Carlos Pierson.
To achieve the pressure the need to win. Perry said, "They'll just need to put things together and keep in the ball game only,
but we will be rotating the line and using multiple fronts through the game."

Linebacker Greg Spigner will also play a major role for the Bison and in his senior year will be looking to assert himself as the leader of the linebacking corps.

The Bison "will grow in confidence as the season goes on and that's what we will be looking forward to."

The quarterback controversy has been solved.
Junior quarterback
Marvin Monroe will start for the Bison in the season opener and is looking to build upon his minimal workload of a season ago. As a junior, Monroe has an ideal opportunity to develop into a true leader on offense, andamento a green he has been a part of for just a season, while looking to the future.

However, for senior wide receivers Shaun Miller,
Jonathan Brewer and Darryl
Nunn, the future is now.

Although HU alum Kevin Simmonds had four touchdowns catches a year ago in the season opener, it was Miller who picked up the game-winning touchdown for the Bison against Southern. Perry will be looking to build upon his in the season opener.

Brevard should still pose the dominate deep threat that proved producible for quarterback
Donald Clark last year.

Sophomore running backs
Jamir Smith and Ken
Culbert will take over the role at running back.

The offensive is already emptied of a fundamentally sound odd of youthful aggression and senior experience so HU will focus on a season based on limited opportunities that Culbert and Smith will contribute to.

"They are not lacking in ability only, they have much more playing experience than most sophomores," think he will be a good fit for both of them," Perry said.

The opening kickoff signals the start of another season for Howard Bison fans who have longed for and reluctant dream of our heroes of fall and fan loyalty.

A3

September 5, 2003
The Hilltop
Hamas Conflict in Israel Escalates

By Amber Skinner
Contributing Writer

Since August 19, when a Palestinian suicide bomber shutdown hopes of peace in Israel, Hamas has been waging war on terrorist organization and Palestinian Israelgian group Hamas. Senior member of the armed wing of Hamas, Muhammad Deif, was killed Monday as an Israeli helicopter fired four missiles at a car carrying him and three other Hamas leaders. The attack killed one and wounded another, sources say. The number of Palestinians killed in missile strikes to 14, including 21 Hamas leaders.
The recent series of Israeli attacks on Hamas is in response to the suicide bombing in Jerusalem, which left 6 dead. Both Israeli and Hamas leaders called for a seven-week ceasefire agreement last week will be for the exoneration of Hamas co-founder Israeli Abba Shalom. However, senior Hamas leader, Yasser Arafat called for the resumption of the ceasefire agreement with Israel. Despite Arafat's request, Hamas leaders rejected the ceasefire report regulation negotiations and say they will continue to call for Israeli citizens.
Some blame the renewed fighting on the manner in which the EU and European Union are handling either side, citing it for the resumption of Hamas and terminate dealings with the Hamas.
"I think (the fighting) is directly related to the failure to implement the "Roadmap to Peace,"" said. "And it is..." clearly demonstrated that the United States has failed to implement the Roadmap to Peace, and that the United States of America and Israel are not interested in the Roadmap to Peace at all.

If the United States does not condemn the acts of Israel, Palestine is going to continue to retaliate. –Evears Daur, senior

Nigerian Satellite Brings Promise to Developing Nation

$16M Satellite developed by Nigerian and Russian scientists expected to increase security of Nigerian oil pipelines and generate revenue from subscribers.

This month marks a new scientific era in Nigeria. Since Nigeria launched its first satellite, the country hopes to bring in revenue and advance the technological landscape of the country.

Built by both Nigeria's National Space Agency and Russia's Kosmodrom, the satellite is scheduled to launch from Russia. Upon return to Nigeria, the satellite will be for use by the government, law enforcement, and private companies.
The satellite is expected to provide a much-needed boost to the economy.

According to Nigeria's Minister of Science and Technology, the satellite is expected to bring in much-needed revenue to the economy.

According to Nigeria's Minister of Science and Technology, the satellite is expected to bring in much-needed revenue to the economy.

The satellite is expected to provide a much-needed boost to the economy.

“The Government should try to use the technology to increase the economy of the country,” said Nigeria's Minister of Science and Technology.

Nigerian media will be able to expand with television to more rural areas and weather forecasting will also increase with the advent of the satellite.
North Korea Weapons Talks Stall

By Yae-Soo An
Staff Writer

The stakes are being raised in the game of nuclear disarmament as the latest round of talks between North Korea, the U.S. and five other nations ended in stalemate. Meetings lasted three days and involved international powers: China, Russia, South Korea, Japan and the United States. "This was not the 'hand-line stance' from the U.S. at the last round," South Korea officials announced that there was no point in continuing with further talks and that they have no other option than to continue to hold their nuclear force.

Official announced that unless the U.S. agrees to sign a nonproliferation pact, they would carry out plans to continue their nuclear program.

North Korea keeps breaking agreements with the U.S. and the talks would be indicative of the potential for any agreements that may be signed. They believe that if they perceive that they have to choose between the nuclear non-proliferation treaty and the nuclear weapons program, the nuclear weapons program is more important.

"If the United States continues to develop and deploy the nuclear program first and ignores our appropriate proposals, we have to take action to break up our nuclear deterrent power," a South Korean statement said.

Despite North Korea's ambitions and the corresponding threats, they are still experimenting to reinvigorate for talks in the nuclear arms negotiations.

The dozen countries involved are taking action against North Korea in efforts to stop the export of weapons of mass destruction, illegal drugs and other activities which could lead to international agreements.

Many feel that North Korea's nuclear program and the corresponding threats are just bargaining chips to get aid for the resource-starved country, causing skepticism and distrust among the nations.

Outright stasis from October when the nuclear weapon program was discovered and since the U.S. nuclear non-proliferation treaty broke. The broken treaty, signed in 1994, caused western countries to slash shipments to the already impoverished country.

Regarded as a member of the Bush Administration's "Axis of Evil," North Korea's covert nuclear ambitions were not discussed. The talks were seen as an indication of their potential to take aggressive action.

Although the U.S. has its reservations about the honesty of the North Korean government, it will keep an eye on the situation to make sure the North Koreans do not take aggressive action.

Jesse Jackson Arrested at Yale University

Labor Day Protest Leads to Arrest of More Than 30 Workers Union Supporters

By Sean Parker
Asst. Nation World & Business

While most people were celebrating the Labor Day holiday by going to parades, barbecues etc., Jesse Jackson was marching, protesting and getting arrested. Jackson, along with 15 others, was arrested after blocking an intersection on the Yale University campus in support of striking university clerical and service workers.

During the Labor Day March, the workers participating in the strike chanted, "No Contracts - No Work, No Peace!"

The march ended at the president's office, where a riot police took place following the march. After two hours speeches from union leaders, the marchers took to the streets.

On September 5, 2004, Jesse Jackson was arrested at a Yale staff protest after signing a group of protesters in the middle of a road.

"No Contracts - No Work, No Peace!"

Community leaders, Jackson said. "This is going to be to economic justice what Selma was for the right to vote."

At the end of his speech, Jackson asked anyone who was wearing an armband of any sort to come forward. About 35 union supporters came forward.

PARKER FROM A3

Graham (we'll get to him later) will put you to sleep faster than a Mike Tyson uppercut.

Richard Gephardt doesn't really need much else to know. I know he is working tirelessly for the American laborers, but I don't feel that is enough. He has time to run for President, if he appeared on the short list for Vince Foster. Gephardt doesn't have a chance.

The purpose of my opinion is to fo to the biggest disappointments. The long study should be done on how to turn your popularity on, this will make you more likely to win before the first primary. Edwards looks like a humbling-stumbling Baptist.

Al Sharpton has provided the most comic relief and the best punchlines. I don't think that Al Sharpton will be the best black president, but I do appreciate his willingness to agitate so that the other candidates are as well and the African-American voters. While he doesn't have a chance at winning the election, her efforts and the support are appreciated.

The current Presidential candidate is the latest candidate to enter the race and it looks like he will not last. But if you listen to him speak, you might have to check your facts. I'm just that boring. Although he is boring, he would be a good V.P. candidate. I'm just that boring. Although he is boring, he would be a good V.P. candidate.

For any Presidential candidate besides Senator from Florida and he is on the American Political Committee which would be helpful with the Heath and Cheney's Defense record strategy.

Lastly, Dennis Kucinich is in the race. He is a Sieg, not someone who is qualified. But, like Graham, he is the only African-American, but he is in the bottom of the pack for any realistic chance to receive the nomination.

Sean Parker is a Junior political science student at Howard University. If you would like to contact Sean, please email him at sparker@cupu.com.
you accidentally knock your roommate’s toothbrush into the toilet. He’s not home, what do you do? answer the question, compare your opinions with others, explore what matters at pwc.com/lookhere.
Weekly Horoscopes
(Sept. 5 - Sept. 11)

By Erica Williams
Astrologer, Body, and Soul Editor

Ladies, how many times have you all heard guys say “They’re tired of better women who have been hurt in previous relationships?”

Guys, how many times have you or someone you know said, “I was a good man until a woman was trampled?”

This week’s focus on these feelings and taking them into our new relationships can usually mean only negative consequences.

The positive feelings that you may feel after a relationship has ended only become old baggage if brought into a new relationship. This baggage usually weighs down the relationship and saddens and mixed emotions.

Tori Fillman, a counselor at the George Washington University Student Counseling Center, says she has seen extreme cases where students have had a hard time in relationships that have gone bad.

“It simply becomes a cycle,” she said. “This usually leads to him becoming a ‘bad guy’ and the ‘bad guy’ becomes a ‘bad guy’ as well.” She added, “If they adopt becomes hurt or get involved with Virgo and Taurus.”

Jealousy from a previous partner can sometimes have detrimental effect on a current relationship.

Libra (Sept. 22 - Oct. 20)

This week, you will be given kudos for a job well done. Your perfectionistic qualities will be recognized, so expect a few jealous stunts. Although you are a busy person, try and sneak in some time for the special someone who may be a potential boy/girlfriend.

Virgo (Aug. 23 - Sept. 21)

This week, you will be given kudos for a job well done. Your perfectionistic qualities will be recognized, so expect a few jealous stunts. Although you are a busy person, try and sneak in some time for the special someone who may be a potential boy/girlfriend.

Libra (Sept. 22 - Oct. 20)

This week, you will be given kudos for a job well done. Your perfectionistic qualities will be recognized, so expect a few jealous stunts. Although you are a busy person, try and sneak in some time for the special someone who may be a potential boy/girlfriend.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 - Dec. 20)

You’re not the type to carry a planner and make a note of everything. Just remember to keep track of all your belongings— you are prone to losing important documents.

Capricorn (Dec. 21 - Jan. 19)

You are either making plans to travel or you just got back from a mini-trip. A new relationship is in the works for some of you. It’s a good sign.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 17)

Like many of the other signs, this hasn’t been the best year. This week, however, will be filled with happy moments. Someone who has had their eyes on you for a while will finally get the courage to ask you out or vice versa.

Pisces (Feb. 18 - Mar. 20)

Expect to be involved with anything related to the arts this week. People appreciate you for your creativity and talent. People love to be close to you because of your laid back personality.

Compiled and written by Leona Davis

The Ex-Factor: Bringing Old Baggage into a New Relationship

By Niamhi Wilder
Contributing Writer

Essence Magazine’s Editorial Director, Nicole Taylor, has compiled 22 of her most inspirational writings into a book appropriately titled In The Spirit. The book is meant to inspire and support the reader in a time of need.

The type of day one has is dictated by the signs he has chosen to read. For example, if one’s birth is not in Leo, or she may turn to the essay entitled “Reserve Your Place” and “Receive your inspiring words” wherever one’s year is where God is.” If someone’s significant other is testing their partnership, be he or she can be counseled by “Soul to Soul.” Other issues addressed include losing a loved one (“Passage”), making a fresh start (“Clear Beginnings”), and staying positive (“A Winning Attitude”).

However, many of the essays resonate similar points and may seem repetitive if read back to back. Though, entirely possible to do so, the book is less effective if finished in one sitting. Reading a few essays per day gives the reader time for meditation and reflection. The essays are meant to be read slowly, to be savored like a fine meal.

Taylor admits in the foreword, “It’s my job to heal and cure and it’s my business to be hurt and both can become lethargic.”

A fresh new magazine editor major who has been hurt in the past relationships can often mean many more drain relationships, new people have or will demonstrate the same in their lives.

Taylor Phillips, a student graphic design major, says she has once committed the crime “Cheating before being chased down any longer.”

She believes people major Chris James says that although he has never been in a relationship, he doesn’t see himself settling down anytime soon.

Vegetarianism: You Are What You Eat

By Kaciocese M. Brown
Contributing Writer

While vegetarianism is seen as an emerging lifestyle in recent years, the diet’s roots run deeper than one may think. Vegetarianism is an ancient custom in different parts of the world.

In the Hindu and Buddhist religions, there is the belief in the preservation of animal life as it is sacred to the people. Others believe that the killing of animals is cruel and dishonors animal life, so they will not indulge in eating meat.

Other people see meat in their diet for less philosophical reasons.

Some adopt the vegetarian diet for ancestral and societal reasons. In the United States, lower rates of diabetes and prevention of some type of cancer has been a benefit to vegetarians as well.

However, for others, vegetarianism is not even an option.

Thaddeus White, a junior political science major, says he loves meat.

“A few chicken smoothies, a couple hamburgers,” said White. “That’s all I want, for I love the taste.” However, he said, “I wonder if I could be a vegetarian.”

He added, “I don’t know I could do it.”

Some adopt the vegetarian lifestyle. Phakiso Collins, a senior graphic design major, is one of them.

“I tried being a vegetarian before and I got sick, maybe because I didn’t understand all the options you have in being a vegetarian,” he said. “I know what it feels like to be a diet, but I don’t think you need to do a vegetarian lifestyle.”

Other people nix meat in other ways, too. They may choose to eat vegetarian based on nutritional and eco-diet.

Many students choose vegetarianism as an alternative diet.

Stephanie Goggans, a journalism major, says she is a vegetarian.

“I love chicken breasts, all the options you have in being a vegetarian, but I can understand why some people use. We are an American nation to monitor what we eat more and more. I have to be really disciplined. If I don’t have a salad or a meat, I have to have something else,” she said.

Stephanie Goggans, a journalism major, says she is a vegetarian.

“I love chicken breasts, all the options you have in being a vegetarian, but I can understand why some people use. We are an American nation to monitor what we eat more and more. I have to be really disciplined. If I don’t have a salad or a meat, I have to have something else,” she said.

Stephanie Goggans, a journalism major, says she is a vegetarian.

“I love chicken breasts, all the options you have in being a vegetarian, but I can understand why some people use. We are an American nation to monitor what we eat more and more. I have to be really disciplined. If I don’t have a salad or a meat, I have to have something else,” she said.

Stephanie Goggans, a journalism major, says she is a vegetarian.

“I love chicken breasts, all the options you have in being a vegetarian, but I can understand why some people use. We are an American nation to monitor what we eat more and more. I have to be really disciplined. If I don’t have a salad or a meat, I have to have something else,” she said.

Stephanie Goggans, a journalism major, says she is a vegetarian.

“I love chicken breasts, all the options you have in being a vegetarian, but I can understand why some people use. We are an American nation to monitor what we eat more and more. I have to be really disciplined. If I don’t have a salad or a meat, I have to have something else,” she said.

Stephanie Goggans, a journalism major, says she is a vegetarian.

“I love chicken breasts, all the options you have in being a vegetarian, but I can understand why some people use. We are an American nation to monitor what we eat more and more. I have to be really disciplined. If I don’t have a salad or a meat, I have to have something else,” she said.

Stephanie Goggans, a journalism major, says she is a vegetarian.

“I love chicken breasts, all the options you have in being a vegetarian, but I can understand why some people use. We are an American nation to monitor what we eat more and more. I have to be really disciplined. If I don’t have a salad or a meat, I have to have something else,” she said.

Stephanie Goggans, a journalism major, says she is a vegetarian.

“I love chicken breasts, all the options you have in being a vegetarian, but I can understand why some people use. We are an American nation to monitor what we eat more and more. I have to be really disciplined. If I don’t have a salad or a meat, I have to have something else,” she said.

Stephanie Goggans, a journalism major, says she is a vegetarian.

“I love chicken breasts, all the options you have in being a vegetarian, but I can understand why some people use. We are an American nation to monitor what we eat more and more. I have to be really disciplined. If I don’t have a salad or a meat, I have to have something else,” she said.
HUSA ORGANIZATIONAL FUNDING

TO APPLY ORGANIZATION'S MUST:

☐ HAVE A BANK ACCOUNT IN ORGANIZATION'S NAME
☐ COMPLETE AN UPDATED CENSUS FORM
☐ COMPLETE A SETTLEMENT REPORT
☐ BE RECOGNIZED BY OFFICE OF STUDENT ACTIVITIES (Suite 117)

APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE IN HUSA OFFICE BLACKBURN SUITE 102

COMPLETED APPLICATIONS DUE BY 5:00 PM FRIDAY SEPT 19TH
NO EXCEPTIONS.

*Attendance at the "APPLYING FOR HUSA FUNDING" Forum on Monday, September 15TH in Blackburn room 150 is strongly recommended.

Questions? Contact HUSA at (202) 806-7007 in Suite 102 of Blackburn University Center
The Ex-Factor: Are You Really Over Him or Her?

BAGGAGE from A7

"I see what my friends go through with their girls," he said. "It's a lot of indecisiveness and confusion. I don't have time for that."

Jamison adds that the problem of exes has helped steer him away from girls, too.

"All the girls I have met have issues that mainly come from their old boyfriends," he said.

So how does one not bring old baggage into a new relationship?

Hopskins recommends avoiding thoughts of rekindling romances after they have ended.

"Simply leave that old girlfriend or boyfriend, husband or wife where they belong: in the past," she said.

"Remember everyone is not the same and maybe that person just could not complement who you are as a person."

Although, it is easier said than done, it can be done. Relationships come and go yet while we are with that special someone we often feel as if the relationship will last.

"When moving on after a relationship has ended, giving your self time to heal is the number one thing," said Hopskins. "This allows you to carefully evaluate what went wrong in you're past relationship while also learning to appreciate your single self."

In their book The Second Wives Club, marriage experts Lauren Millian, Ph.D. and Stephen Millian, Ph.D., agree that the temptation of past loves is sometimes hard to resist.

"Who among us has not tempted our senses and our fate by once again exploring the same territory in which we found joy in other times and with other people."

There are good people out there who want what you want in a relationship. Preconceived notions and old relationship baggage will only hinder you from seeing the good in yourself and new relationships that may have a chance of flourishing.

Book Review: In The Spirit

SPIRIT from A7

says one who is considering becoming a vegetarian should remember to take vitamins.

"People often feel that eating green leafy vegetables is sufficient but one must also take protein supplements and vitamins," said Rao. "Green leafy vegetables are good for iron."

As there are pros to a vegetarian diet, there are also cons. If one is not interested in a total vegetarian diet, it may be wise to consider adding additional vegetables to consume all the recommended nutrients on a daily basis.

Vegetarianism: You Are What You Eat

EAT from A7

says one who is considering becoming a vegetarian should remember to take vitamins.

"People often feel that eating green leafy vegetables is sufficient but one must also take protein supplements and vitamins," said Rao. "Green leafy vegetables are good for iron."

As there are pros to a vegetarian diet, there are also cons. If one is not interested in a total vegetarian diet, it may be wise to consider adding additional vegetables to consume all the recommended nutrients on a daily basis.

The Hilltop would like to give a warm welcome to Professor Yanick Rice-Lamb from the Department of Journalism, as the new Hilltop advisor. It's been a long and hard struggle but now we finally have one of our own looking out for the paper. Here's to a great year!!!

-Editorial Staff
BEST WISHES ON THE ROAD @ Texas Southern in Houston on TOMORROW, Sept. 6

NEXT SATURDAY - FIRST HOME FOOTBALL GAME!!!
HOWARD (THE FIRST, REAL & ONLY HU!) vs. Hampton
THE HOWARD UNIVERSITY "HALL OF FAME GAME"

NOON, SATURDAY, SEPT. 13 @ GREENE MEMORIAL STADIUM
STUDENTS WITH "CAPSTONE CARDS" MAY PICK UP ONE FREE TICKET AT THE HILLTOP LOUNGE, 2ND FLOOR OF BLACKBURN CENTER THURSDAY & FRIDAY, SEPT. 11 & 12 FROM 10 am to 6 pm (WHILE SUPPLIES LAST.......ADDITIONAL TICKETS MAY BE PURCHASED AT CRAMTON)
(NO STUDENT TICKETS ON DAY OF GAME)

BOOKBAGS, TOTE BAGS, BACK PACKS, ETC WILL NOT BE PERMITTED IN GREENE STADIUM

BISON SOCCER

CONGRATULATIONS TO MEN'S SOCCER FOR THEIR WIN vs. George Washington in the DC College Cup

WOMEN'S FIRST HOME GAME
HOWARD vs. Delaware State
6PM, NEXT TUESDAY, SEPT 9 @ GREENE STADIUM

Women's Volleyball

FIRST HOME GAME - TUESDAY
6PM, TUESDAY, SEPT. 9 @ THE BURR
HOWARD vs. Coppin State

BEST WISHES TO:

Cross Country Track

At the University of Delaware Saturday, Sept. 13

CONGRATULATIONS!!

JUSTIN PHILLIPS & JASON CROSS OF THE MEN'S SOCCER WERE NAMED TO THE ALL-TOURNAMENT TEAM OF THE DC COLLEGE CUP SOCCER

BISON IN THE NFL: OFFENSIVE TACKLE MARQUES ODGEN (JACKSONVILLE), LINEBACKER TRACY WHITE (SEATTLE), both Rookies, and MARQUES DOUGLASS (BALTIMORE) in his fourth year in the NFL.

HAVE YOU HEARD THE HOTTEST CD ON CAMPUS!!

"Traditional Songs of the HU SHOWTIME MARCHING BAND" is NOW on sale.
Simply go to The Howard Center (above the HU Bookstore), 2225 Georgia Ave., NW, Suite 901. Cash, checks or credit cards accepted. You can also order by phone at (202) 238-2340.
Supplies are limited and the price is only $15.

ALSO, NOW ON SALE AT THE HU BOOKSTORE
Proceeds benefit the MARCHING BAND through the BISON EXPRESS Division of Student Affairs

September 5, 2003 The Hilltop A10
Are You Ready for Some Football?

Bernard Murray
Sports Editor

Man, it's football season already! First, I want to give one more shout-out to the Bucs nation. Big ups to the sidewalk chalk artists, who are more unthriftiable and prove joy with their colorful tickets, defense wins games. Giving them a final shout-out last year's upset behind us. But before we begin a new season, it's only proper that we take a moment to remember the passing of Jerry Rice, Super Bowl MVP. He was the best receiver to ever wear a football uniform.

Yesterday between the Washington Redskins and the New York Jets, I'll give my predictions and forecasts for this season, but first let me comment on the festivities that took place downtown D.C.

Washingtonians were more than happy to host the pre-season opener that had everything a football fan could ask for. As hundreds of thousands of people flocked to The Mall and took part in the game, there were thousands of students, black and white, young and old. They were filled with a sense of pride and excitement for their teams, which reflected in their communications shells returned from the game.

Wait, hold the phone, these students didn't have the proper facilities to complete their pre-first day obligations for school. No, they didn't. As parents and students spent their entire Labor Day weekend watching their teams in their pitifully small stadiums, these students spent their entire Labor Day with no place to sleep. They spent their entire Labor Day dollar to spend on the pre-NFL season.

TheHour: Land of the Terrorists... just making sense of it all.

By Soraya N. McDonald
Contributing Writer

GAME TO WATCH: vs. Jacksonville State, Saturday, September 21.

While other MEAC teams may have a reasonable chance at the conference title, they're still going to need luck to catch the Wildcats. And for good reason. Head coach William "Bill" White and the Wildcats have one of the nation's strongest offensive lines. That's why the Big East is ranked #1 in the country, averaging almost 34 points a game. Veteran running back Tor-El Robinson will score touchdowns all game, while a clear standout in the conference.

First, I want to give one more shout-out to the Bucs nation. Big ups to the sidewalk chalk artists, who are more unthriftiable and prove joy with their colorful tickets, defense wins games.
By Mike Lyles

Contributing Writer

American Football Conference
For the past few NFL seasons, the AFC's Eastern Conference rival has been the most competitive division in the American Conference and arguably the most competitive league in the league. This year will be no different as the Buffalo Bills, Miami Dolphins, and New England Patriots will all compete for the division crown and the conference title.

The AFC South
The Bill's talent and strong defense will be tested in the AFC East as the Buffalo Bills, Miami Dolphins, and New England Patriots. The AFC East will be the toughest division to win in the NFL. While the AFC West and AFC North have struggled in recent years, the AFC East has continued to be perennially competitive. The Buffalo Bills, Miami Dolphins, and New England Patriots are all strong teams with a mix of experience and young talent. The AFC East is one of the toughest divisions in the NFL to win, with all three teams capable of making a deep playoff run.

The AFC West
The AFC West features three teams capable of making a deep playoff run. The Denver Broncos, Las Vegas Raiders, and Los Angeles Chargers are all strong teams with a mix of experience and young talent. The AFC West is one of the toughest divisions in the NFL to win, with all three teams capable of making a deep playoff run.

Life's a Sport: Play Hard, Have Fun, Compete
By Bernard Murray

Sports Editor

Whatever said being an athlete is easy, has never been on a team. After playing four years of high school football, I can tell you that the main reason why students play on a team is because there are no limits to what you can achieve. Football is a great sport because it teaches you to work as a team, to be patient, and to never give up.

The NFL season is one of the most anticipated events of the year. With the start of the NFL season, the league is back and fans are excited to see their favorite teams compete. The NFL is one of the most popular sports in the world, with fans from all over the world. The NFL season is a great way to showcase the talent of the athletes who compete in the league.

The NFC West
The NFC West is another division that features three teams capable of making a deep playoff run. The Arizona Cardinals, Los Angeles Rams, and San Francisco 49ers are all strong teams with a mix of experience and young talent. The NFC West is one of the toughest divisions in the NFL to win, with all three teams capable of making a deep playoff run.

The NFC South
The NFC South features the defending Super Bowl champion Tampa Bay Buccaneers, who have added depth to their roster this off-season and still feature their impenetrable defense that is eager to keep the ball out of the opponent's hands. They are the popular pick to win the division.

The Atlanta Falcons, who were without quarterback Mike Vick to start the season, will be vying for a division crown and can still challenge for a conference title when Vick returns.

Also, the New Orleans Saints have a young team that is dynamic and has the potential to make a deep playoff run.

Candidate is a quality back but not on former run- ning back Steven Davis' level.

The NFC North, the Rams will be boosted by the return of Mainstays Fins and Turner, who, along with the Vikings and the young Detroit Lions, figure to trail behind the Packers for at least another year.

In the East, the Eagles suffered a huge blow when they lost quarterback Michael Vick to injury. This leaves the team with no long-term options at quarterback. However, the Eagles have a talented roster and can still make a playoff run.

The NFC East

The NFC East is expected to be a two-team race between the Dallas Cowboys and Washington Football Team. The Dallas Cowboys have a talented roster with quarterback Dak Prescott and running back Ezekiel Elliott. The Washington Football Team has a strong defense and is led by quarterback Alex Smith. The NFC East is one of the toughest divisions in the NFL to win, with both teams capable of making a deep playoff run.

The AFC East

The AFC East is expected to be a two-team race between the New England Patriots and Buffalo Bills. The New England Patriots have a talented roster with quarterback Tom Brady and running back Sony Michel. The Buffalo Bills have a strong defense and is led by quarterback Josh Allen. The AFC East is one of the toughest divisions in the NFL to win, with both teams capable of making a deep playoff run.

The AFC South

The AFC South is expected to be a two-team race between the Houston Texans and Tennessee Titans. The Houston Texans have a talented roster with quarterback Deshaun Watson and running back Lamar Miller. The Tennessee Titans have a strong defense and is led by quarterback Marcus Mariota. The AFC South is one of the toughest divisions in the NFL to win, with both teams capable of making a deep playoff run.

The NFC West

The NFC West is expected to be a two-team race between the Arizona Cardinals and Los Angeles Rams. The Arizona Cardinals have a talented roster with quarterback Kyler Murray and running back Chase Edmonds. The Los Angeles Rams have a strong defense and is led by quarterback John Wolford. The NFC West is one of the toughest divisions in the NFL to win, with both teams capable of making a deep playoff run.

The NFC South

The NFC South is expected to be a two-team race between the New Orleans Saints and Carolina Panthers. The New Orleans Saints have a talented roster with quarterback Drew Brees and running back Alvin Kamara. The Carolina Panthers have a strong defense and is led by quarterback Sam Darnold. The NFC South is one of the toughest divisions in the NFL to win, with both teams capable of making a deep playoff run.

The NFC East

The NFC East is expected to be a two-team race between the Dallas Cowboys and Washington Football Team. The Dallas Cowboys have a talented roster with quarterback Dak Prescott and running back Ezekiel Elliott. The Washington Football Team has a strong defense and is led by quarterback Alex Smith. The NFC East is one of the toughest divisions in the NFL to win, with both teams capable of making a deep playoff run.
THE OFFICE OF THE PROVOST, ON BEHALF OF PRESIDENT H. PATRICK SWYGERT AND THE UNIVERSITY COMMUNITY, WISHES TO THANK EVERYONE WHO CONTRIBUTED TO A VERY SUCCESSFUL OPENING OF THE SCHOOL YEAR, ESPECIALLY:

Cabinet Officers and their Units
Special Student Services
Residence Life
Student Life and Activities
Student Activities
International Student Services
Blackburn Center
Scheduling
Intercollegiate Athletics
Athletics Compliance
University Counseling and Career Services
Enrollment Management
Records
Admissions
Recruitment
All Schools and Colleges
Academic Advising Units
University Libraries
Financial Aid and Student Employment
Student Financial Services
Administrative Services
Physical Facilities Management
Cashiers and Student Accounts
Center for Academic Reinforcement
Information Systems and Services
Bookstore (HUBS)
Parking and Shuttle Operations
Dining Services
Campus Police
Student Health Center
Team Physicians
Switchboard
Pre-Orientation & all Summer Programs
HUSA
Student Councils
UGSA & GSA
International Pals
Campus Pals
The Hilltop
Zeta Phi Beta, Delta Sigma Theta, Omega Psi Phi, Alpha Kappa Alpha
Team Leaders
Resident Assistants
Graduate Assistants
A Few Good Men
Gentlemen of Drew
Ladies of the Quad
Student Life Peer Mentors
...and, of course, each and every staff and faculty member.

Office of the Provost

August 2003

September 5, 2003

The Hilltop
Deeper than Skins
By Aaron Cammings
Life and Style Editor
Our faces are televisions, everything we do is broadcast. Most of our problems would be solved if we lived in a bubble, we would have new clothes everyday, and every problem would be a vacation.

Unfortunately that isn't our reality, which goes to show that art doesn't imitate life. The most recent example of this hails from HBO. In the City" for finally giving the first interracial relationships on television. In real life, most people who are concerned with their appearance are so different and we just can't get used to it because it's...hic. This is a problem with this approach.

Looking through old photographs of black college students in the early 1900s, there is a common thread among those and most people who lived during that time. Men were fashionable in their grooming habits and, though their resources may have been limited, most were impeccably dressed.

Towards the 1970's and 1980's, men began to take certain liberties with grooming and dressing, adding more colors to the individuality and allowing for more versatility with hairstyles. Sometimes between the 1970's and 1990's, men stopped caring about how they looked. Painting their hair usually became the concern of women, while grooming became a simple chore.

It makes sense for men to care about their appearance. Many of the public figures and fictional characters we appreciate are quite snazzy dressers. So in 1970's. We are starting with everyday maintenance. Getting facials can also feel like a new level of "dainty." Once you get past the initial feelings of sickness, you leave with a clear and clean face. Your nails are in better shape with the manicurist will offer you. For a more masculine, manicure and pedicure with a hot towel swap with your naked bodies. Deeper than Skins...
Ten Things Every Girl Should Own

By Jennifer L. Williams
Assoc. Life & Style Editor

In the ever-changing world of fashion, there are countless trends that we are bombarded with every season. With so many styles to choose from, it's hard to figure out what will be stylish two weeks after you purchase it. A remedy? Staples. These fashion staples, which are timeless, go with everything, and will never go out of style.

1. The Jean Jacket: From dark denim to light washes, from motorcycle styling to preppy, the jean jacket is the fashion staple that has the power to give any outfit a flash of attitude. For this season, most jacket shapes are cropped and fit closer to the body, and will go with virtually every pair of jeans and every skirt that you own. A good pair of jeans that are both stylish and comfortable are definitely something every girl should own. A good pair of jeans should be able to withstand their wear, vibrant tops are easy to match with, and flattering to your figure. Black pants also go with everything, so you can easily make your "what to wear" dilemma.

2. Black Pants: The perfect addition to any closet, black pants instantly dress up any top you own. They also have the ability to take you from day to evening, with a simple change of shoes or jewelry. Black pants also go with everything, so you can easily make your "what to wear" dilemma.

3. The Little Black Dress: Nothing is easier to slip on and dress up than a Little Black Dress. With so many cuts and fabrics to choose from, you can't go wrong.

4. Tights: From motorcycle styling to preppy, tights, from day to evening, with a simple change of shoes or jewelry. Black pants also go with everything, so you can easily make your "what to wear" dilemma.

5. Black Paints: The perfect addition to any closet, black pants instantly dress up any top you own. They also have the ability to take you from day to evening, with a simple change of shoes or jewelry. Black pants also go with everything, so you can easily make your "what to wear" dilemma.

6. A Good Pair of Jeans: Jesus that are both stylish and comfortable are definitely something every girl should own. A good pair of jeans should be able to withstand their wear, vibrant tops are easy to match with, and flattering to your figure. Black pants also go with everything, so you can easily make your "what to wear" dilemma.

7. Diamond Studs: The classic gold diamond and pearl necklace or the modern, All Black style that is trendy, will never go out of style. These are two pieces that will go with virtually any outfit, and will never go out of style.

8. Stilettos: Heels: (A word of advice, ladies: LEARN THE RIGHT way to walk in heels before you wear the set out in public. This can save you a lot of time and keep you from becoming exhausted.) Stilettos give added drama to any outfit you put on. Go classic and get a pair in basic black, or go bold and get a colorful pair, from lipstick red, to fuchsia, to aqua blue.

9. Bright Top: T-shirts: It's time to add a punch to anything you wear. Vibrant tops are easy to wear, and flattering to your upper body. Also, bright tops can go with neutral colors, so figure out what to match with what is not difficult.

10. Wrap: A Great Addition: Whether you're just using a rhyme, except that's all you would traditionally that's all you would have all these elements," Parker said. "But I try to give you're just using a rhyme underneath. The funkiness is something to the most legendary artist. Even in today's R&B world, names like Brown and Wonder are icons but not on top of the charts, Parker says he still hears the funk in everything that is popular today. "It's kind of like using an instrument, except you're just using a rhyme scheme," Parker states. But the better thing is the funk underneath. The funkiness is something to the most legendary artist.

For More Information Call 202-232-0789

The Columbus of Funkytown

As elegant as they are timeless, as the Godfather of Soul's most legendary figure he is today, which is because of the funk music he helped create. Having worked with artists such as Stevie Wonder, Parker and James Brown, Parker has always been the man to bring that extra something to the most legendary artist.

Most legends want to be treated and looked on as such. They do not care who you are. Just know who they are, and everything will be okay. But saxophonist Marcus Parker is different. He is humble, and almost to a fault.

Perhaps if the legendary saxophonist did more to put his name out there, he would be granted the same recognition as legends. If there were ever a 30 Years of Funk gala, Marcus Parker would definitely be on there because people have certainly heard his work. His solo on James Brown's "Papa's Got a Brand New Bag," is as recognizable as the Godfather of Soul's vocals. Still, do not bow down to Parker, he would rather you "just stand up and dance to his music."

"I have a respect for people who do what they want to do," Parker says from his home in Kinston, N.C. "I've taken home and I've been in the spotlight, but I don't need all that attention."

Parker's humility is obvious on his latest studio effort Made by Marcus, Out, Parker sticks to his head and fuses with some of the down home soulful funk funk from expect from him. He knows why he is the legendary figure he is today, which is because of the funk music he helped create. Having worked with artists such as Stevie Wonder, Parker and James Brown, Parker has always been the man to bring that extra something to the most legendary artist.

Regardless of how fashionable an outfit is, everyone will be okay. But saxophonist Marcus Parker is different. He is humble, and almost to a fault.

Perhaps if the legendary saxophonist did more to put his name out there, he would be granted the same recognition as legends. If there were ever a 30 Years of Funk gala, Marcus Parker would definitely be on there because people have certainly heard his work. His solo on James Brown's "Papa's Got a Brand New Bag," is as recognizable as the Godfather of Soul's vocals. Still, do not bow down to Parker, he would rather you "just stand up and dance to his music."

"I have a respect for people who do what they want to do," Parker says from his home in Kinston, N.C. "I've taken home and I've been in the spotlight, but I don't need all that attention."

Parker's humility is obvious on his latest studio effort Made by Marcus, Out, Parker sticks to his head and fuses with some of the down home soulful funk funk from expect from him. He knows why he is the legendary figure he is today, which is because of the funk music he helped create. Having worked with artists such as Stevie Wonder, Parker and James Brown, Parker has always been the man to bring that extra something to the most legendary artist.
Is something broken in your room or around campus and it needs to be fixed?

Go to www.thehilltoponline.com and post your concern or complaint under submissions.

We will see that something gets done.

You’re up.

Choose the Student Banking Package
- Flexible Checking
- Online Banking
- ATMs on or near campus
- 24-hour access to cash
- FREE Chevy Chase Check Card
- Overdraft Protection

AND get your FREE Sports FANtasy Pass with information on select ticket discounts and other cool stuff from the Orioles, Wizards and Capitals!

To sign up, visit our branch near campus at 210 Michigan Avenue, NE or call 301-987-BANK or 1-800-987-BANK (out of area) or visit us online at chevychasebank.com/student

FDIC

OVERDRAFT PROTECTION IS SUBJECT TO CREDIT APPROVAL. MUST BE 18 YEARS OR OLDER TO APPLY.
WEDNESDAYS ARE FOR HUE!
30% OFF ALL HAIR SERVICES*

“Enjoy an upscale urban haven where nothing is more important than the time, appearance, or feelings of our guests.”
— Nicole M. Coker, Owner (HU Law ’06)

29 FLORIDA AVE, NW • 202.888.SOUL • WWW.SOULSAYBA.COM
(*availability is limited and appointments are preferred)

DAMAGE:
$10 MEMBERS
$15 FUTURE MEMBERS

MUS WEAR WHITE

INTERESTED IN WRITING FOR THE HILTOP? IF SO, COME TO OUR WEEKLY BUDGET MEETINGS...
TUESDAYS @7PM IN THE HILTOP OFFICE WEST TOWERS
Modern Day Propaganda

Next Wednesday will be the second birthday of the day that dramatically altered American politics as we know it. As September 11 rolled around again, the Bush administration remains as ever-present as it was in the wake of the attacks two years ago.

The Bush administration has been staunchly committed to the cause of ending terrorism across the globe. Much of the American public has expressed support for the war in the name of disproving terrorism than to let the people actually experience the terror that existed on that fateful day. Appeal to emotion is perhaps the most effective of all propagandists. It is important to be informed, and information is not to be lacked by tactful and astute minds such as those. There is no reasonable explanation to release these tapes. It serves no purpose in silencing those who still mourn. On the other hand, it will only fuel the debate of revenge and retaliation and increase fear to attempt the American public.

Our view: The release of the 911 phone calls from September 11 is a tactical move to garner support for the war on terrorism.

The Hilltop, a “modern day propaganda” and not an alternative to vote. Instead of standing in line or voting delayed, the burdens are not set.

Our view: Online voting will drastically help the traditionally chaotic special elections.

Overall, this new system seems as if it would greatly expedite the voting process. Most importantly, online voting would drastically cut the amount of error that is possible when doing the voting the old way, in order to have an accurate final result. Overall, this new process might not be complete without some flaws. Using computers for voting does bring up questions and concerns that bakers who could possibly manipulate votes, but low numbers such as this are minutes in comparison to the many benefits that could result from online voting.

In the age where we are not regulated for classes and even pick our four-year-old children, it is not fitting to take the little time to be able to vote online as well.

Bu$h Cuts Funding to AIDS Programs

Think back to President Bush’s State of the Union Address earlier this year. Bush vehemently promised to make the AIDS epidemic a number one priority in his agenda. Now it seems as if those words have fallen into oblivion. That should have been expected. Not surprisingly, his determination to this cause was not as evident in the recent decision of the Bush administration to cut funding to programs that would primarily benefit black and Asian AIDS patients. The administration claims that the funding was cut because the programs focused on abortions. However, there is no proof as of yet as to the veracity of this accusation. The program would provide medical services and procedures that could possibly prolong the lives of AIDS patients of African ancestry or Asian ancestry. There is much more to the story than the Bush administration is willing to let on.

Our View: The Bush administration should not have cut funding to AIDS programs benefitting blacks and Asians.

The Hilltop, The Nation’s Largest Black Collegiate Newspaper

Corey Cunningham, Managing Editor

Maryann Jones, Copy Chief

Rhonda Cumberland, Assistant Copy Chief

Maryam McPherson, Copy Editor

Lea Flanagan, Arab News

Ashley Kelly, Business Editor

Miriam Ahmad, News & World Editor

Sean Parker, News & World Editor

Ariam Jeannerson, Publisher

Cory Thomas, Business Manager

Maya Gilliam, Photo Editor

Jodi Hurst, Online Editor

Online Voting at the Hilltop

Online voting is currently in place as a result of the new system. Online voting is currently in place as a result of the new system. Online voting was also a great portion of the student body to vote. Many people don’t have time to make it to the polls but if they could point and click to cast their vote, all students would be able to vote in the election.

Online voting would also allow greater a portion of the student body to vote. Many people don’t have time to make it to the polls but if they could point and click to cast their vote, all students would be able to vote in the election.

Online voting was also a great portion of the student body to vote. Many people don’t have time to make it to the polls but if they could point and click to cast their vote, all students would be able to vote in the election.

Online voting would also allow greater a portion of the student body to vote. Many people don’t have time to make it to the polls but if they could point and click to cast their vote, all students would be able to vote in the election.

Online voting was also a great portion of the student body to vote. Many people don’t have time to make it to the polls but if they could point and click to cast their vote, all students would be able to vote in the election.
Toni Winston

Okay, so we have conquered the first two weeks of school. In this time, I have bumped into old friends, met some new ones, and realized that there are always going to be those that I had class with and spoke to practically all the time who, when they see me now, won't speak. Just how sad that is? I'm not sure, but a prime example is the other day. I was walking out of the East Tower on my way to run a few errands when I saw him. I looked at him in his face and he did the same. So I opened my mouth to speak and he turned his head, I was a bit confused.

My first thought was, "Maybe he didn't hear me." As I did closer and was about to ignore me, I knew that I was not just imagining his blatant "Look at me". Like I said, I had things to do, so I didn't sit and meditate on it, I just kept it moving.

"My first thought was, "Maybe he didn't hear me.""

As the brotha scoffed at me and walked away, I was a bit confused. ·

...She said

By Nakisha Williams
Asst. Editorial and Perspectives Editor

Fall into yourself

I've always wondered what it is about "ugly guys" that makes them so bold and gutsy. One guy doesn't even seem to try at all, but bashful only. Ugly guys have no shame!

They'll stroll up to you with a flirtatious confidence. Yeah girl you look good enough to eat, but all you can do is think to yourself "Ugh! I wish he would stop hitting on me that position a million times.

One particular time I was at the club doing my thing when someone spotted the guy from across the room giving me the eye, I presumed that the attention lookin' man wouldn't stop up ini­

But then, it stops enough, the birthmark on my arm, the name and number and I gave him the standard "pence" for my hold, and I'm the only one takin' the "Ouch!"

..I was prepared to get even more stuck because I thought he was going to press the issue. But he flipped the script. "Well I may not be the face you want, but I'm the only one talkin' to you!"

So the brotha snuck at me and walked away, saddened, it might add, I wouldn't help but feel bad.

And it was that night that I learned an invaluable lesson.

So not the "yes, you all in to talk to the ugly guy" lesson (although I did make a mental "ugh! that guy"

My lesson was a little different. I was simply at a bar, just was not as comfortable with your presence as you are your friend, I'm sure.

It's not that I would prefer to talk to the ugly guy, but it seems like "ugly guys" just have a way of making you feel like they know what they're working with. They are not attractive, but once they attract them, they do not let you go. Or let anything, I'm sure.

And it's just that you don't want to be afraid to live your life or, my future sexual partners of my life. But if we... Maybe they are m, to something.

All of the above we make excuses for not doing what we really want to do our. We don't feel qualified enough, so we don't apply for the job. We don't feel pretty enough that night, so we don't go out. We think of ourselves and others for simply being who we are.

Most men in the opposite sex are your real effort and that is why we really want in life. But if we could just learn to understand ourselves and be comfort­

We don't have to be afraid to live our lives or, my future sexual partners of my life. But if we... Maybe they are m, to something.

Thank you "Mr. Ugly!"
B.O.A. presents
"The Toga Party"
Fri., Sept. 5, 2003
SP, DR, BR, AC
Wear a Toga or pay $20

Happy 21st
JEREL
From
Tasha, Ruby, Angelar, & Corey

Don’t Forget
All Freshman Males
G.O.D.S.C. Applications
Due Sept. 8-9

To Kamari and Stacey... Y’all are the greatest! I just wanted to let y’all know
Jennifer L. Williams

Wanna argue a real case in front of a real judge? Come try out for the Mock Trial Team September 16th in room 149 in Blackburn...
But there will be an open debate for interested students to see what the Mock Trial team is all about on September 10th, in Blackburn, 6:00pm
“Remember the Bison”

My Shit: Better job next week, but we still have a LONG way to go.
Jozen: Your section was hot. Come with it next week too, hopefully on time :)!
P: Sports looked great as we won the basketball game. They ain’t ready though.
Lesia: LuV the picture baby! You’re such a diva but next time we’re using a professional Shani: Great job with N&W. I told you everything would work out! No worries dear.
CC: Love & adopt a 411!!! Be a Perspective page. Keep the creative ideas coming.
Steph: Way to come thru despite all that happened this week. Everything will be alright, I promise. EIC:
My My: U always come thru for me...trust me

Jennifer L. Williams

AISHA

...Not to get Corey... I truly appreciate you helping out on your days off. You clearly have my back and I’m very grateful. We’ll do a great job.
EIC: We’re better than 11... but not quite. But it’s perfect — mark my words. You’re a great job
Hang in there, it will get better.

Apo

Be A Leader... Be A Friend... Be of Service...

24 Survivors
M.E.S.S.

Coming soon...

The 2003-2004 Hilltop Editorial Staff

Top row, from left: Ruth Tisdale (Campus Tuesday), Maryann James (Copy Chief), Shani Hilton (Nation/World Friday),
Lizzy Fleagen (Asst. Sports Editor), Nessa Aziz (Staff Writer), Joel Hart (Online Editor)
Next row, from left: Stephanie Crook (Campus Friday), Sonya McDornald (Sports Tuesday),
Jennifer Williams (Asst. Lifestyle), Lesia Rivers (Mind/Body/Soul Editor), Cassandra Cambone (Editorial/Perspective Editor), Danielle Seng (Asst. Campus Editor)
Next row, from left: Ashley Kelly (Illustrator), Charnelle Jackson (Staff Writer), Arion Jamerson (Pagenator), Melanie Holmes (Copy Editor), Miriam Ahmad (Nation/World Tuesday)
Bottom row, from left: Joann Cummings (Lifestyle Editor), Cory Thomas (Illustrator)

FLIERS COMING SOON
SEXually Frustrated?
Let Me Help.
E-mail all of your sex and dating questions to Lifeandstyle@AOL.com

The 2003-2004 Hilltop Editorial Staff

Top row, from left: Ruth Tisdale (Campus Tuesday), Maryann James (Copy Chief), Shani Hilton (Nation/World Friday),
Lizzy Fleagen (Asst. Sports Editor), Nessa Aziz (Staff Writer), Joel Hart (Online Editor)
Next row, from left: Stephanie Crook (Campus Friday), Sonya McDornald (Sports Tuesday),
Jennifer Williams (Asst. Lifestyle), Lesia Rivers (Mind/Body/Soul Editor), Cassandra Cambone (Editorial/Perspective Editor), Danielle Seng (Asst. Campus Editor)
Next row, from left: Ashley Kelly (Illustrator), Charnelle Jackson (Staff Writer), Arion Jamerson (Pagenator), Melanie Holmes (Copy Editor), Miriam Ahmad (Nation/World Tuesday)
Bottom row, from left: Joann Cummings (Lifestyle Editor), Cory Thomas (Illustrator)

PHOTO BY MAYA GILLIAM