NATION

From diverse backgrounds
And similar plights,

Through toil and hunger
And stifled might

Black folks come
And Niggers go.

All want

But few know.

Misdirection

In the masses...

Where is direction
In the classes?

Some feel there is apathy

But then they say
"Don't bother me."

We're now emerging
With strength and hope

To fill the voids

And broaden our scope.

From diverse backgrounds
And similar plights

United in purpose
We'll take our rights.

THE ALMA MATER

Reared against the eastern sky
Proudly there on hilltop high,
Far above the lake so blue
Stands old Howard firm and true.
There she stands for truth and right,
Sending forth her rays of light.
Clad in robes of majesty
O Howard we sing of thee.
Be thou still our guide and stay
Leading us from day to day;
Make us true and leal and strong,
Ever bold to battle wrong.
When from thee we've gone away,
May we strive for thee each day.
As we sail life's rugged sea
O Howard we'll sing of thee.

WORDS BY J. H. BROOKS, '16

STUDENT LIFE

Registration, one of the biggest hassles on Howard's campus, became the first problem confronting the freshman class of 1975. With the help of their parents and the Campus Pals, the entering freshmen went through the rigors, not only of registration, but also of moving into the dorms, adjusting to a new environment, and meeting new people.

The transition was not all hard. During Freshman Week there were a number of social activities to entertain the new arrivals— a picnic, a boatride up the Potomac featuring Scacey and the Sound Service, and a dance at WUST Music Hall

Many parents became involved in orientation activities. For many the events of that week reminded them of years gone by.

Homecoming: "A Salute To Black Women"

When concerned about Nation Building or Black unity, we must be politically aware and politically active in affairs that involve Black people. In accordance with the theme of Homecoming, "Tribute to Black Women", Mrs. Georgia Jackson was invited and flown from Berkely, California to rap with Howard students.

Before an overflow crowd at Cramton, she came to relate her tragic experience. Mother of slain Soledad brother, George Jackson, Mrs. Jackson was the main guest at "Political Night", first event of Homecoming Week. Her efforts were aimed at exposing the unorthodox procedures of the San Quentin prison officials before and after her son's death. Emotions in the audience were aroused, and varied from astonishment to disgust. Petitions were signed by Howard students requesting immediate investigation into the murder and action by the United Nations.

Black Genius

Before a capacity crowd in the Men's Gymnasium, Isaac Hayes and his "Soulful Strings" gave a mind-blowing performance to highlight the Homecoming activities. Mr. Hayes was escorted onto the stage by his "body-guard and his close-shaved assistant. Filling the night with entertainment, "Black Moses" displayed his talents as composer, singer, and musician.

Talent from the Howard campus was featured in the US Night talent show held at Cramton Auditorium. Entertainment consisted of singing, dancing, and band-playing.

The Office Of Student Life

The Office of Student Life is one of constant activity. Located in the University Center, the Office receives countless inquiries about campus events, organizations, student government and tickets for various activities.

This year the Office of Student Life sponsored the Boston trip for the Howard versus University of Maryland Eastern Shore charity football game, Howard's contribution to the D. C. Operation Cleansweep project, and the campus newsletter, published weekly with information of the week's activities.

A vital part of the campus community, the Office of Student Life works towards greater heights in student and community involvement.

The University Center: Refuge For The Weary Student

Our University Center, overlooking the waters of the reservoir, houses recreational and rest facilities for the weary student as well as serving as the seat for various student organizations, including student governments for the University at large, the College of Liberal Arts, and various service fraternities and sororities.

The ballroom is the most welcoming room of the Center, providing a place to kick up your heels and watch television or even, perhaps, study or snooze. It doubles as a facility for many school dances and affairs. One may find the blasting music, the quick snacks and the shuffle of cards in the Punch Out a repose from the active life of campus. There are, in addition, facilities provided for pool and ping-pong in the game room. All serve as means of enhancing student social and interpersonal life.

HUSA and LASC have found the University Center a centralized spot for setting up office and carrying on the business of student government. Other organizations have also found it a convenient spot for holding meetings and communicating news of current events.

Whatever its chosen purpose, the University Center has for years served as the core of organized student activities and a retreat from the hustle and bustle of the student's academic routine.

The Bison Portrays Unity

How do we go about building a Black Nation? The first step is to develop a sense of unity. This year, the Bison Yearbook is designed to emphasize the humanistic part of Howard University . . . that is, YOU, one of the 11,000 students, a faculty member, an administrator, or a staff member. It is our way of doing our share in building Black Unity, the only road to a Black Nation.

Hilltop Now No. One

The HILLTOP 1971-72, under the direction and editorship of Robert "The Black" Taylor, has this year attempted to express Stokely Carmichael's twin concept of skill and ideology.

The skill is Black journalistic professionalism and the purpose of adhering to the twin concept is to provide the Howard community with a paper which is technically correct and provides sociopolitical direction.

This year the HILLTOP has rightfully earned the distinction as the "largest and best known Black student publication in the world."

Howard At Mississippi

Through the efforts of the Political Science Society, 90 students from Howard travelled to Mississippi in October. The three day trip was sponsored to help the campaign for Charles Evers, Black gubernatorial candidate for the state of Mississippi.

Coordinator Bobby Reed solicited donations and contributions to pay for the chartered buses, while Black Mississippians provided housing accommodations for the students. Those who volunteered had to provide their own living expenses.

The group found Blacks from Mississippi friendly and genuine. Their standard of living is extremely low with at least 2/3 of the population living in shacks. Many of the old traditions of the South still exist, as evidenced by the presence of vigilante groups and unfair employment systems, wherein Blacks are paid extremely low wages.

However, some changes have been made and Howard students want to help in promoting these changes in hopes that the future for Mississippi and the Blacks in that state will be different.

Gospel Choir

A moving production was given by the Howard University Gospel Choir during Homecoming Week. The performance included their interpretation of the theme "From Cotton Field to Campus". Ending with selections from their first album, the Choir provided a very entertaining night for all.

Howard's 103rd Annual Commencement Exercises began as the members of the procession strode proudly down the aisle with the Chapel Choir singing in the background. Honorary degrees were bestowed upon three well-known figures: Edward K. Ellington - Doctor of Music, Sterling Brown - Doctor of Literature, and Julian Bond - Doctor of Laws.

A brilliant address by the Georgia legislator, Julian Bond, followed the conferring of degrees. The exercises ended with music by the Howard University Stage Band under the direction of Donald Byrd.

Nu Lambda Bama

Nu Lambda Bama was founded in 1966 at Howard University in the interest of directing new women students through a channel of sisterhood and service. The organization's programs and projects included the operating of a Breakfast Program, aiding the Merriweather Home and the Alabama Project. Through their social activities and service projects, Nu Lambda Bama sorors have helped to bring several women into the main stream of campus life.

Howard University: Producer of Black Leaders

Howard University is now well on its way to becoming the citadel of leaders for the Black community. In addition to producing most of our Black leaders, it will also serve as a retreat where Black leaders can meet, exchange ideas and refurbish their areas of learning.

To achieve this, President James E. Cheek feels that the scope of the professional schools within the University must be widened to encompass the whole spectrum of needs in the Black community.

Since 1969 the University has added new schools and programs which will serve as bridges to the community. Three new schools are Business, Communications and Education. The College of Liberal Arts is to be restructured, creating the Schools of Arts and Sciences and the School of General Studies.

Moreover, radio station, WHUR, the only Black-owned and operated station in the D. C. area, will serve as the voice of the Black community. For the future, cable television will provide further educational services for the campus and the D. C. area.

Through education, Dr. Cheek feels we will lay the foundation on which to build unity for the Black world.

President Cheek chats with Vice Presidents Nichols and Billingsley. Dr. Geraldine Woods, Trustee, gets into car after Board meeting.

Vice Presidents of the University

Casper Harris

Vice President
for Fiscal and Business
Affairs

The main purpose of Howard is to provide an excellent education. The administration should work more closely with the students. Harris, a Certified Public Accountant attempts to enlist more Blacks into the public accounting field.

Dr. James Bryant

Vice President
for Development and University
Relations

"Howard can serve Blacks more effectively by soliciting additional funds, increasing alumni support, and heightening interaction with the community."

His dual role as a Howard Administrator and a Ford Foundation officer was instrumental in obtaining over two million dollars in Ford Foundation grants for Howard.

Dr. Carlton Alexis

Vice President
for Health
Affairs

Dr. Alexis would like to develop a Health Science Center at Howard. He hopes to establish a school of Allied Health Professions by 1973.

Dr. Alexis has attempted to recruit more Blacks for the Dental and Medical schools by changing the curriculum to make it more relevant.

Dr. Carl Anderson

Vice President for Student Affairs

Dr. Carl Anderson and the Office of Student Affairs aim to develop student leadership by offering them meaningful experiences. To this end they are working on programs including the D. C. Project, Black Man's Development Center, and community tutorial programs.

Owen Nichols

Vice President
for Administration

His office is now responsible for the Computer Center, which serves the Administration as a research tool for instructional service.

Through new programs, Mr. Nichols is attempting to make the educational system at Howard sensitive to the needs of students.

Dr. Andrew Billingsley Vice President for Academic Affairs

Dr. Billingsley realizes the need for more competent Black experts in every field of education. Dedicated to developing a strong Black university, the office has made many curriculum changes to represent the new ideology.

Administrators Work Toward Black Unity

William Sherrill

Dean of Admissions and Registration

The main objective of this office is to make Howard's registration and admission policies a model for the country. A first major effort has been to pre-register the entire student body.

Mrs. Goldie Claiborne

Director of Financial Aid and Student Employment

The chief function of this office is satisfy the financial needs of students. Over 4,000 students receive aid each semester through federally funded programs and student employment. The new Law Enforcement Education program will provide financial aid to students who work as law officers in the community.

Billy T. Norwood

Director of Division of Safety and Security

This year the staff has made efforts to provide more parking spaces for students. The major goal, however is to create better student-security officer relations.

Vincent Johns

Director of Student Life

For the most part, the Office of Student Life is concerned with coordinating activities initiated by students. However, there are occasions when this office develop programs, such as setting up a Volunteer Assistance Bureau. This program will assist students interested in volunteer work on campus and in the community.

Clarence Hunter

Director of Public Relations

Public Relations has the task of reflecting the vibrations of the University to the entire community. A weekly newsletter "Right On," has been published for distribution on Campus. Also, the alumni magazine, "New Direction," has been revised to make it more University oriented.

Thomas D. Lowe

University Purchasing Agent

Through material procurement and contract negotiation, this office lends University support to the growth of Black business. Whenever possible, goods and services are obtained from Black companies and representatives.

Alexander Chalmers

Director of the Physical Plant

Physical Plant supplies maintenance service for the University. A 24-hour emergency minor maintenance section helps to insure proper functioning of University facilities. The office received an award for its service from the Howard University Mississippi Project (HUMP).

William Cunningham

Director of University Libraries

Evaluation of the University Libraries in terms of the needs of the students is the first priority of the new Director. Also, it is necessary to gear the services of the libraries to those needs.

A new medical-dental library and an additional wing to Founders library, to be constructed with the next three years, will provide more space and facilities.

Dr. Austin D. Lane
Assistant Dean of Students (Veterans)

Edna M. Calhoun
Associate Dean of Students

William Mills
Director of Off-Campus
Housing

James A. Hurd
Director of Auxiliary
Enterprises

Dr. Carolyn Payton

University Counseling Service

Recently several programs have been initiated to provide students with leadership training. In addition, there are non-credit seminars on drug use, abortions, and campus relations. Further a "hot line" service, operated by students, has been established to provide emergency and assistance to students in distress.

Clarence Cope

Director of Alumni Affairs

Working towards a unified Howard, the office stresses closer alumni-student relations. Many affairs sponsored this year by the Alumni office have included students as well as alumni.

Samuel Hall

Director of Graduate Placement and Career Planning

Ernest Wilson

Foreign Student Advisor

With a 2,000 foreign student enrollment, Howard can show the world Pan-Africanism in action. Mr. Wilson feels that an educational exchange program abroad for Black Americans can strengthen the bond of Pan-Africanism.

Dr. Evan Crawford

Dean of Chapel

The Dean provides overall coordination, both locally and nationally, for religious activities on campus. This year he sponsored the Gospel Choir's performance at the Kennedy Center, provided prayer-breakfast programs, and featured Sunday morning sermons with local and national guest speakers.

Robert Wilson

Director of Personnel

In order to decrease the 12-14% turnover rate in personnel, his office provides security, recognition, and involvement for employees. A reduction in the personnel turnover would save the University money. This saving will afford new faculty members and more scholarships for students.

SPECIAL SERVICES

William Boykins
Cashier

The Cashier's office seeks to improve its operations by eliminating unnecessary red tape in procedures. Adequate facilities reduce long waiting lines and more effectively meet the needs of the students.

Dr. Samuel McCottry
Director of University Health Service

The primary goal of the University Health Service is to assure the best service available to students on campus. One step is to provide expanded year round health coverage. Another step is an expansion in facilities. The new temporary building is designed to serve student medical needs until the new medical annex is completed.

George Ward
Comptroller

In an effort to boost Black business, the University has always dealt with Black banks. Plans have been made to establish a branch of the Black owned United Community National Bank here at Howard.

Special Services

University Health Service

The Health Service of Howard University, under the direction of Dr. Samuel B. McCottry provides personal health care to the campus community. It draws upon the resources of as many disciplines outside of the Health Service as possible. Much emphasis is placed on preventive medicine.

The A-Building's Information Lobby

The Information Lobby, located on the first floor of the Administration Building, works in conjunction with the Offices of Admissions and Public Relations. They distribute applications and catalogs for each of the schools and colleges and provide directions to visitors.

Hump

Howard University Mississippi Project (HUMP) was conceived in 1968 at the request of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. It was centered around Quitman County, and the Project's purpose was to further knowledge and educational background to help deal with rural living and contemporary society. HUMP was designed to institute health-aid programs, and to set up models for the communities. More than 2000 children in the Head Start program benefited from badly needed dental and medical care.

HUMP has now moved into Phase II. This phase is designed to help direct Quitman County in self-determinism. Monies have been given to the Quitman County Community Service Corp. for this purpose.

ACADEMICS

OUTSTANDING FACULTY

Bowden And Yette Acclaimed

Her perception of people may be a crowning reason for Dr. Bowden's selection as an outstanding faculty member. Dr. Lovenger Bowden, Professor and Chairman of the Department of Speech, feels that Black awareness necessitates the definition of Black norms in Black terms. "In this way there need be no apology for being", she said. According to Dr. Bowden, speech discipline can "help to define a new speech pattern that is more relevant to the heterogenous culture that exists here in America."

Dr. Lovenger Bowden
Chairman, Department of Speech

Samuel Yette, author of the acclaimed book THE CHOICE, comes to Howard's Department of Journalism with strong demonstrated feelings for Black development. He feels the "need for Black people to have both the ability and the facilities to communicate their own ideas and to test the ideas and actions of their government and others are absolutely crucial to Black survival and liberation. A first-rate and effective School of Communications at Howard becomes critical to that need."

Samuel Yette
Associate Professor of Journalism

McAdoo Honored

Sociological research is the forte of Dr. Harriet McAdoo, professor of social work. "Research into the development of racial attitudes of pre-school Black children is one area directly affecting the long-run development of the Black community. A child who is confident in his identity will have a higher self-esteem and capacity for development."

Outstanding Anatomist For Black Unity

Dr. W. Montague Cobb, distinguished professor of anatomy is not for Black separation, but for Black unity. "Black unity is essential, but will not be effective until man has had enough of extermination." Dr. Cobb feels Black people must use reason to make a better way. "The brother will advance when he has a greater respect for intellect."

Green And Kahlow Outstanding

Dr. Johnnie H. Green, a management instructor, advocates a sound student-instructor relationship. She believes success in the class is a shared responsibility. It is important that the instructor not only know his subject matter, but be able to communicate with the student on an understandable level—expectations and goals must be established for the students said Dr. Green.

Ron Kahlow is an instructor of business finance and data processing. He feels that a knowledge of business is very important for the development of Blacks in this country. An understanding of computerized data processing is especially important to the Black student of business.

High Standards

"The direction the University is taking is toward a greater awareness of Black people and their experiences." These are the sentiments of Dr. Earl H. West of the School of Education. He feels that there are certain attitudes that should be instilled in each student. Those attitudes relative to the field of education must include respect for new view points, an appreciation of other people's accomplishments and an interest beyond the student's experience.

Right: Dr. Earl H. West
Professor of Education

Below: Dr. Edmonia Davison
Professor of Education

"The students should learn here some direction and planned change," Dr. Edmonia Davison emphasized. Aware that the University is involved in community problems in the D.C. area, she continues "the involvement of the university must go beyond the rhetoric. The students should use methods and techniques learned here as an implement in the community."

Outstanding: Hoyte And Hampton

Dr. Alfred F. Hoyte
Electrical Engineering

"All groups of people must learn to produce for themselves the things that will make life more comfortable," states Dr. Hoyte. He believes Engineering can be used as a tool by Blacks to better control their environment. Engineering skills can be used to eliminate problems which directly affect inner city Blacks.

Dr. Hampton would like to see Howard use realistic goals to achieve higher level of expectation from the students, the faculty and the administration. He feels that the direction for Howard is in preparing Black students to seek positions and responsibilities as leaders in the struggle for self-determination.

Dr. Delon Hampton, Civil Engineering

Music's New Blood

Mrs. Paula Weakley, is adding new blood to what could be a restrictive subject. She has been with the Music Department for three years. In her course, Introduction to Music, Mrs. Weakley has expanded the cultures involved to encompass more music from Africa, India, and the Caribbean at the constructive request of students. In her concern for Black direction and goals, Mrs. Weakley recognizes the great potential that Howard has but also the problems encountered in trying to implement change.

Mrs. Paula Weakley

Positive Change For Pharmacy

Right: Dr. Kenneth Scott
Assistant Dean of Students

Below: Dr. Mohammed Fayez
Visiting Professor

Dr. Kenneth Scott, can be characterized by his activism and ideas. Goals of community relevancy are greatly needed in the school by Dr. Scott's standards. As one of the three Black Pharmacy colleges in the U.S., he feels that Howard should take the lead in community awareness. One proposed interdisciplinary project would involve research into lead poisoning in the ghetto.

A dedication to the student is the driving force behind Dr. Mohammed Fayez of the College of Pharmacy. In his opinion, the students have moved to positively change the quality and usefulness of an education in Pharmacy. The emphasis in Pharmacy is changing from product-oriented pill counter to becoming a clinically-oriented member of the health professions.

Sinkford Recognized

Busy would be an understatement in describing Dr. Jeanne Sinkford's activity in the College of Dentistry. As a teaching Associate Dean and a research advisor, Dr. Sinkford feels strongly about the new activism and community commitment of the school's graduates. Curriculum modifications have made an overall improvement in health care training. This improvement will affect the Black communities that many of the graduates will serve, according to Dr. Sinkford.

Hayes Outstanding

Dr. Raymond Hayes, professor of endodontics, has many years of experience and dedication to teaching. In his thirty-seven years of teaching in the College of Dentistry, Dr. Hayes has taught every subject except orthodontics. This factor contributes to his outstanding teaching method.

This endodontist feels that Howard's contribution to Black dentistry is vital to the level of urban community health.

Wood Selected Outstanding

Dr. Don H. Wood, distinguished professor of neurology, understands the needs of the disadvantaged. He feels that the goal of the College of Medicine is to change the system of health care delivery to a method that would encourage more Blacks to seek medical care before their problems become critical.

Dr. Wood's attitudes towards Black medical care explains the reason for his selection as an outstanding faculty member.

Clark Is Effective

One outstanding feature Dr. John F. J. Clark has is his enthusiasm for medical recruitment. Dr. Clark is professor and chairman, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology. His present teaching method for students and residents is evident since Freedmen's has the lowest percentage of birth deaths than any other hospital in the city.

Dr. Clark feels that since the Black community surrounds Howard, the College of Medicine should be involved in teaching and developing a medical interest among elementary school children.

Liberal Arts Honors Four

Banner
Thorpe
Wilkins
Henry

The role of the University is to "have an impact on society that would change it for the better," stated Dr. William Banner, Associate Dean of Liberal Arts and outstanding faculty in philosophy. Dr. Banner says that the role of a teacher is to teach the students to think interdependently and to be able to reach independent judgements. A responsible teacher must "open up for students, materials of human culture since they come from every society and every age. The instructor should inform, elucidate, and promote discussion but not indoctrinate," said Banner.

Dr. William Banner

Dr. Arthur "Moon-Sample" Thorpe, professor of physics, feels that the primary purpose of a Black instructor is to train first-rate Blacks. A recruiter for Howard himself, Dr. Thorpe got his nickname "Moon-Sample" from the research work he did on the moon sample brought back by the astronauts. He is the second Ph.D. graduate in Physics from Howard.

Dr. Arthur Thorpe

Dr. J. Ernest Wilkins

Dr. J. Ernest Wilkins, distinguished professor of physics, came to Howard from Gulf General Atomic of California in 1970. He regards his professorship in mathematical-physics as the fulfillment of a personal goal. At Howard, Dr. Wilkins feels he can sincerely enjoy the process of training and educating future Black physicists. He feels that Howard's dedication to training professionals is a unique and important role in Black development.

"Teaching Blacks entails utilizing Black culture as a base to build upwards. This is the philosophy of Dr. Warren Henry, professor of physics. Often described as an inventor, coordinator and educator, Dr. Henry is now working on a training program for minority groups which would enable them to travel and study. He obtained his Ph.D. and post doctorate degrees from the University of Chicago.

Dr. Warren Henry

School of Nursing Faculty - All Outstanding

Outstanding Lawyers

Direction and action are but two mild adjectives for the work and teachings of Herbert O. Reid, Constitutional Law Specialist. His numerous awards, which include the new Charles H. Houston Distinguished Law Professor Chair, are evident of his involvement in the law profession. He has taken part in the investigations of George Jackson's death and the Attica prison conditions. Reid reminds the Black student that law should never become an academic pursuit independent of its primary mission - legal controversy and resolutions for today's problems.

Herbert O. Reid

Paul A. Diggs

A diverse background has helped bring forward the quality that makes Professor Paul A. Diggs an outstanding member of the Law School faculty. After graduate work in both law and linguistics, Diggs joined Howard University in 1957. Between 1960 and 1963, he helped structure a new law school at the University of Nigeria. Digg's first priority now is his program in communication skills and legal materials. Its aim is to strengthen the analytical skills of Howard's law students to provide them with greater competence in their fields.

Religion And Identity

A one time Bison coordinator, Dr. Leon Wright has been participating in Howard University's life for nearly three decades. "Self identification is a prerequisite to nationhood," asserted Dr. Wright. "Only when each man knows who he is will he be able to take care of broader concepts." According to Dr. Wright, Religion can provide that initial self-identification.

Dr. Leon Wright
Professor, School of Religion

New Social Dynamics

A man of diversified experience is Social Work's Jay Chunn. He has owned a day care consulting firm and has taught. Chunn sees the School an attempt to "define and operationalize a new social work based on social change and the liberation of Black people". He feels that the knowledge of their African heritage is a crucial step for Blacks towards Nation Building.

Jay Chunn
Professor of Social Work

Dr. Larry Gary
Professor, School of Social Work

According to Dr. Larry Gary, Howard University needs challenge. He places great emphasis on the development of skills, without which, Blacks have no upward mobility. Blacks, he feels, must rise to positions which will allow control within their communities and the curriculum of Black schools must accommodate the need for these skills without underestimating the abilities of either the teacher or the student.

Howard Mackey

Former Dean Outstanding

"The Black architect is coming into his own," is the way Howard Mackey, professor of architecture, likes to think of the progress Blacks have made in this field. As the former first dean of the school, Mackey emphasizes that many more are still needed to add to the ranks of the 500 licensed Black architects in this country. In order to draw more students, Mackey sees merit in a flexible program in which the time needed to graduate would depend upon the individual's rate of academic preparation.

Frank West

West Favored By Students

A student favorite, Frank West, associate professor of architecture, finds that the education of potential Black architects provides tremendous opportunity for positive educational input. He is one of the five members of the Board of Examiners and Registrars of Architecture for the District of Columbia. In that position, Mr. West has ample chance to see how Howard's graduates fare in the final testing before becoming licensed architects. He has a definite interest in constructive curriculum changes that would produce competent architects while curbing the sharp attrition rate at the school.

LIBERAL ARTS

New Direction For Liberal Arts

Joint student-faculty cooperation and educational accountability are what the new dean of Liberal Arts considers most important in the development of the School. The direction is towards a more scholarly community in which students and faculty can more freely interact. Dean Owens believes Liberal Arts should allow the student freedom in a world of ideas, freedom to develop and equip his mind in order to build a meaningful nation.

ARCHITECTURE & PLANNING

Progressive Architecture

New methods of presenting ideas to the students of the School of Architecture and Planning are hoped to upgrade and update the total program this fall. The school will be more progressive now than in the past. Students must be able to help build Black America through development of skills necessary for molding communities. Periodic projects and assignments help students to perfect those skills needed to fulfill their goals in Nation Building.

SOCIAL WORK

Social Work In The Black Community

Dr. Douglas Glasgow, Dean
School of Social Work

The School of Social Work is striving to "put out a different type of technician for the Black community." This is an example of the change the School is trying to make under the aegis of Dr. Douglas Glasgow, the School's new Dean.

The need for a broader based social work student is being recognized in the present curriculum changes. There will be ample stress put on out-of-class in community experiences. Dean Glasgow feels that with a new curriculum, courses stressing technological skills guided by black perspective, the potential that Howard University School of Social Work has for effecting change in the community and particularly of Black social workers is most formidable.

BUSINESS

Expanding Business

Operating under the direction of Dean Milton Wilson, the year old School of Business is striving to expand its course and degree offerings. For example, a graduate program in Business and Public Administration is underway. There are also plans for a Black owned and run campus bank, which will aid in training students. Involved in the economic activities of the community, the School provides counseling for small Black businesses.

FINE ARTS

Black Culture in Perspective

The College of Fine Arts is concerned with the development and awareness of Black values. Through the arts Black culture can be explored, added to and enriched.

The divisions of the School are devoted to music, art and drama in the context of a black perspective. Dean Fax points to the need for a broad sense of discipline in addition to placing emphasis on heritage.

MEDICINE

Medicine And Action

Howard University's College of Medicine has restructured its curriculum to indicate the need for community workers and problem work with other professionals. There is a shortage of physicians. Dr. Mann, Dean of the Medical School, is initiating a program for training more physicians by increasing class size at Howard. "Our role toward a Black nation can be fulfilled," stated Dr. Mann, "by giving the students a better understanding of everyday, practical, and common sense actions that we readily need in the community."

DENTISTRY

Dental School Serves Community

The Howard University College of Dentistry has made itself an integral part of both the immediate area and the University. The college's program of low cost dental care provides invaluable experience for each student dentist and a service for the patient. Dean Joseph L. Henry has greatly helped in curriculum changes that include the five-fingered dentist concept: Professionally competent, politically informed, civically active, community oriented, and socially conscious.

EDUCATION

Education To Build

"Education is vital to the building of any nationhood concept," asserted Dr. John Durham, new dean of the School of Education. "A nation's schools usually reflect its goals and its culture," Dr. Durham continued. "Black development in education is long overdue." Teacher training must emphasize a total understanding of blackness in order to actively cultivate Black awareness at the elementary and secondary school levels. A new dedication and passion for teaching are needed to develop young Black minds.

PHARMACY

Pharmacy Works for Unity

Enrollment in the College of Pharmacy reached an all time high of 241 students. This is the highest since World War II, said Dean Chauncey I. Cooper. Last summer, a program in clinical Pharmacy was initiated. This new program enables the students to spend a major portion of their time in the hospital.

Dean Cooper pointed out the necessity for unity between the schools within the University. The pharmacy students are working to achieve this goal.

LAW

Law School Plans Legal Center

Paul Miller
Dean

Innovation and planning are key words for the future of Howard's Law School. As the producer of 75 percent of all Black lawyers in the United States, the school is changing directions to broaden the scope of each graduate. The areas of education, employment and consumer affairs can all have legal and practical effects on the Black community.

Dean Miller stated that the school's long-range goal for the seventies is the formation of a Student-Faculty manned legal center. The center would serve some 2,000 students in obtaining practical experience, at the same time helping members of the community with legal problems.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

Graduate Training Thrust

Dean Miller feels that future development of Blacks depends upon the discovery and training of those with potential. He added that Howard, at the graduate level, plays a significant role in preparing Blacks to deal in the mainstream of political and economic power for their communities. Dean Carroll Miller emphasized that a break from established patterns in education at all levels may be needed to stimulate this overdue development. One of the hardest tasks may be to sustain the educational interest of high-potential blacks, he said.

ENGINEERING

Changing Role

The economy's demands on many technical fields has changed, and Howard's School of Engineering must adjust as well. Today's engineer is asked for technological solutions to new urban needs and problems. Dean Percy A. Pierre cites the new interdisciplinary Urban Systems Program as one that is both solution and practice oriented. The program would enable students to study a problem such as waste disposal from both social and technical levels, and devise a workable solution benefiting the community.

Communications School Started

Dean Tony Brown

The new School of Communications has the challenging task of creating and stabilizing an institution for social and technical communications. Specialization in any of the media fields follows a program rich in the basic of the Black experience. Dean Tony Brown, producer of Black Journal, stresses the dual preparation which will enable a graduate to communicate academically and technically in his field and with his people.

Howard Goes on the Air

At 6 p.m. on December 10, 1971, there was a history-making event at Howard University. WHUR-FM went on the air as Howard's first radio station. Phil Watson, Program Director, is operating with a capable staff of experienced disk jockeys. The station broadcasts on a "round the clock" basis, bringing a variety of jazz and "soul music" to the Black community.

Upon accepting this gift from the Washington Post, President Cheek stated that it would be used as a training and research laboratory in the new School of Communications.

NURSING

Nurses Serve D. C. and Mississippi Community

The Howard University School of Nursing prepares men and women for beginning positions in nursing. The curriculum is designed to enable students to get a basic foundation in liberal arts and the sciences the first two years and professional and clinical nursing courses in the third and fourth years. Completion of these courses leads to a Bachelor of Science in Nursing.

"The students are aware of the Black community and often do volunteer community work", states Dr. Anna B. Coles, Dean of Howard University School of Nursing. Students worked energetically in Project Cardoza giving health lectures in grooming and hygiene to high school students. They were also instrumental in the Mississippi Project.

FREEDMEN'S

Freedmen's Provides Service and Training

Freedmen's Hospital is concerned with providing exceptional service and patient care. Education and training are as much a part of the Freedmen's program as direct medical services. Dr. Ireland feels that the new hospital will greatly improve both the quality and quantity of Freedmen's services to the community.

Dr. Charles S. Ireland
Hospital Administrator

Dr. J. Harold Nickens
Acting Medical Director

As the largest of the two predominately Black teaching hospitals, Freedmen's Hospital provides a distinct service to the community. Notably, the Family Practice Program provides the intern with practical experience while serving community health needs.

New 500 Bed Hospital

The new Howard University Hospital will be a seven story, 500 bed, 632,707 square-foot brick building, designed to augment the existing facilities at Freedmen's. Presently, Freedmen's has 496 beds and is professionally staffed by 527 nursing personnel, 383 physicians and surgeons, and 117 medical and dental interns and residents.

The new hospital will add a new arm to the University's Center for the Health Sciences. Units of the Center include College of Medicine, College of Dentistry, College of Pharmacy, School of Nursing, and the University Health Service.

Varied Summer Programs

The programs available under the Summer School Program are quite varied in nature. Many groups have benefited from the summer programs on campus. Black teachers receive help with urban problems through the Adult Basic Education Institute. The Upward Bound Program gives pre-college help to Black high school students. Local day care workers are trained through the Pre-School Methods Program.

Football Team Finishes 4-5 After Exciting Season

After what could easily be termed their most challenging season in recent years, the Howard University football team finished with a 4-5 record.

Under the supervision of Head Coach Tillman Sease, the Bison opened their season in Boston, Massachusetts against the University of Maryland-Eastern Shore. Although they lost that game and the following one to South Carolina State, Howard managed to take the next three in a row, including its Homecoming game against West Virginia State with an impressive 41-6 score.

The highlight of the season was the game against Morgan State in RFK Stadium. The pro scouts came out to see Morgan but they left with Howard on their minds.

The estimated crowd of 12,000 wasn't surprised when Morgan's Jimmy Joe scored six from the one yard line early in the first quarter. But that, and Joe's conversion kick, turned out to be all the points that Morgan saw that night. Howard ended up outplaying heavily-favored Morgan. The Bears scarcely slid by Howard with a final score of 7-0.

Morgan's coach, Earl Banks, was counting much on his tough running back John Sykes, but Coach Sease's men were not to be out-done. The Bison defense worried Sykes so much, allowing him only 71 yards in 18 carries, that Banks took him out of the game early in the third quarter—but not before Charles Milhouse recovered a Sykes fumble.

Although Howard didn't score, there was much to see in the defensive team. Two interceptions by Ronald Mabra and another by Bruce Williams provided Howard with excellent field positions.

In spite of a losing season, the team ended the year with some impressive individual achievements. Willie Harrell and Frank Ridley were the team's best ball carriers. Other outstanding offensive men were receiver Joe Jones, Thomas Payne, and Dennis Mosley. Defensively, key linebacker Anthony Becks and co-captain and senior Johnny Fairfax were the leading pass defenders. Ron Mabra, Bruce Williams, and Fairfax led the team in interceptions.

Booters Make It To The NCAA Finals. . . .

Following a 10-0-0 regular season, the unbeated 1971 Howard University soccer varsity attained defensive 'perfection' while the Blue and White blanked three NCAA regional foes by a total of 12 points to none.

First to fall before the Bison in a crucial regional championship test was the University of West Virginia. The determined Mountaineers battled the Bison through three windy, scoreless periods at Howard Stadium before bowing 1-0. The losers had brought a 9-2-1 record to D. C.

The 11-1-1 Midshipmen of the U. S. Naval Academy paid their first visit to the Howard campus and were beaten by a 3-0 score. Coach Glenn Warner's unit was able to muster only six attempts at goal kicking and missed on all.

What was supposed to be the toughest test of the three-game series took place when Howard met Penn State.

Bison Coach Lincoln Phillips prepared carefully for the test. Penn State had just handled the 13-0-0 University of Pennsylvania Quakers by 2-1, after erasing a 1-0 deficit in the last minutes of the final quarter. The Lions held the Bison to only four goaling attempts during the first quarter, while gaining a pair of tries themselves. At the end of that quarter, it was an 0-0 game.

In the second quarter, however, the Bison smashed through for a dozen goaling attempts and notched three of them for a 3-0 halftime margin.

With soccer coaches and scouts from four major universities looking on, the Bison overcame a furious Penn State defensive rally in the third period with goals by Keith Aqi and Mori Diane.

The Bison stampede regained full momentum in the final period, with a 12-2 advantage in attempted goals. All-American Aqi toed the ball past two defending Lions for the final goal blast, at 11:00 of the final quarter. Nigeria's Olusegun Onedko's earlier goal, at 6:01 of that same quarter, had provided a 7-0 Bison margin. Aqi scored three goals for the day and Alvin Henderson, the other Bison All-American choice, contributed two.

With these victories under their belts, the Bison were eligible for the first time in their history to compete in the NCAA Semi-finals.

Number One In The Nation

A good portion of the crowd of 5,852 fans turned out at the Orange Bowl in Miami, Florida to see the Howard University soccer team lose to top-ranked and much-favored St. Louis. But Howard decided to disappoint them and walked away with its 15th victory of the season and the NCAA Championship title.

Two nights before, the undefeated Bison had beaten Harvard in the NCAA Semi-finals. Ian Bain, assisted by Alvin Henderson, scored the only goal of the evening with 10:36 left in the final quarter. In the second game of the double-header, St. Louis stomped San Francisco for the honor of meeting Howard in the finals.

At first it was doubtful that Howard was going to make it in the final meet. Top scorers Keith Aqui and Alvin Henderson were not expected to play due to injuries sustained in the semi-finals. However, on the night of the game, Alvin was on the field, but Keith was on the bench suffering from a high fever.

St. Louis scored the first goal of the night with 17:36 to go in the first period. Three minutes later, Henderson shot one in, tying the score 1-1. But the Billikens were not to be outdone. Dennis Hadicon of St. Louis got a shot past goalie Samuel Tetteh, putting his team in the lead.

With Howard trailing for the first time this season, Keith Aqui insisted on being put in the game. Coach Phillips hesitated. Keith was running a fever of 105 degrees. But for Keith it was clearly a case of either die on the field or die on the bench. Phillips sent him in with six minutes left in the first half.

This was all the inspiration the Bison needed. Mori Diane, assisted by Henderson, scored the tying goal just before the end of the first period. The game was only 1:01 in the third quarter when Henderson scored the winning goal. After that, the Howard defense played the clock out to hold its lead.

When the clock showed 0:00 at the end of the last period, the stadium went wild. Howard University had won its first NCAA Championship in any sport. While the disappointed white spectators filed out of the stadium, the 150 Howard supporters from Washington hit the "Poly-Turf" along with the cheerleaders and the band. The all-white St. Louis squad left the Number One Soccer Team in the Nation happily crying and dancing on the fifty-yard line of the Orange Bowl in Miami, Florida. It was indeed a victorious night—in more ways than one.

Track Team

This year, injuries did not hamper the track team's efforts for victory as much as they had in 1970, although they did claim again Desmond Shakespeare, the sensational junior from Kingston, Jamaica.

However, Coach William Johnson had much to be proud of in his remaining men. The team won the sprint medley at the Penn Relays in April and placed second in the same event in the American University Relays. The team also took second in the Norfolk Relays in the mile run.

Without a doubt, the star of the 1971 team was Michael Nixon. Nixon, a junior from Harlem, New York, captured the mile and the half-mile events in both the CIAA Qualifying and Championship meets. He was also given the Most Outstanding Athlete award.

Dennis Smellie of Seaforth, Jamaica, took second in 880 at the CIAA Championship and placed third in the mile relay.

Other members of the team included Gerald Lytle, David Cannady, and Ervin Gibson.

Wrestling Team Takes First MEAC Championship

Matmen Still No. One

After winning the CIAA Championship title six years in a row, the Howard University wrestling team proved consistent by winning the first annual Mid-Eastern Atlantic Conference wrestling title.

Coached by John Organ, the Matmen finished with a 13-9-0 season record and a 5-0-0 conference record. Top performer of the season was co-captain Samuel Rucker, a junior wrestling in the 190 lbs. weight class. He came through with a 19-1-0 record. Senior and co-captain Moses Ebron (150 lbs.) was right behind Rucker with 16-3-0. Other top men included Art Cox (142 lbs.) with 15-3-2; Gerald Robinson (134 lbs.) with 14-5-1; and Kevin Robinson (118 lbs.) with a 14-5-3 record.

Tournament champions were Kevin Robinson, Gerald Robinson, Art Cox, Moses Ebron, Frank Glington, and Sam Rucker. Don Lewis and Harold Green finished second in their matches. Also on the team were Fred Bloom, Larry Brow, Ed Martin, and Ernest McAllister.

Baseball Team #3 In Nation

With players like Steve Powell, Eugene "Rock" Newman, Glenn Harris, and Curtis "Butch" White, the baseball team couldn't help but make a good showing last season. The team was in first place with a 12-6 overall record until it dropped its last three games to Virginia State. Nonetheless, Howard placed third in the CIAA conference with a 6-6 conference record.

Much of the team's success was based on Steve Powell, the invincible pitcher who was twice voted the squad's Most Valuable Player. Powell, team captain and a junior from Washington, D.C., has an average strikeout record of a man per inning.

Rock Newman and Glenn Harris combined for over fifty runs batted in last season. Third baseman Newman, carrying a .400 batting average, brought in all the runs in the game against Hampton where Howard won 3-2. Robert Woodland, right-fielder and pitcher, struck out seventeen men in the same game.

Other team members include Harold Parker, Anthony Becks, Mark Lassiter, and Lionel Oliver.

The Bison take their boat out of the water after a meet on the Potomac.

It's Another Disappointing Year For Crew Team

Early morning chill and apathetic attitudes have once again made it a bad year for the Howard crew team. Coach Nathaniel Case, a graduate of Yale University, took over the nation's only black crew team in hopes of providing a catalyst to spur the Bisons to victory. His presence was thought to have caused the rise in crew members at pre-season practice to 50, including female coxswain Candy Caruthers. But by the time the season got underway, the number had dwindled to 24.

The team won one race out of four, and defeated four crew while losing to seven. The squad rowed what could be considered its best meet of the season at the Dad Vail Regatta in Philadelphia until, close to the finish line, it failed to qualify by only one second.

Cricket Team Enjoys Another Successful Year

For the third year in a row, the little recognized cricket team made an excellent showing. Previously the squad had a winning season of 22 straight games before losing its first game in two years during the 1970 season. The 1971 season was equally successful.

Cricket is one of the two sports on campus which is dominated by Howard's foreign population. Coached by Ted Chambers and captained by Vaughan Wright, the squad has members from such far away places as Guyana, Grenada, Sierre Leone and Nigeria.

Team members included Ernest Skinner, Desmond Alfred, John Trotman, and Kenny Thomas.

Basketball Team Goes To Conference

The Howard University basketball team managed to get to the first Mid-Eastern Atlantic Conference in Durham, North Carolina. After beating Morgan State 67-66 in the semi-finals, the Bison met the much-favored Aggies of North Carolina A. & T. State University. Howard's defense could not stop the fast moving A. & T. offense and the Aggies took the MEAC title, 71-62.

Under the watchful eye of Coach Marshall Emery, the Bison finished its season with a 10-5 conference record and an 18-9 overall record.

The only hold-over from the 1970 team was Larry Eato, captain and senior from West Hempstead, New York. During his last year with the team, Eato proved to be one of the top scorers of the season.

Other outstanding men of the season were Robert Lewis, Warren Hollins, and Arnie Young, all second-year starters; and Levi Williams, a freshman from Los Angeles, California.

Coach Emery was selected as "Coach of the MEAC Tournament." Bob Lewis, a sophomore from Chicago, Illinois was named the Tournament's Most Valuable Player, received the individual sportsmanship honor, and won a place on the All-Tournament team.

Commentary:

Howard's good points

by Evita A. Paschall

A letter was left in HILLTOP'S mailbox with no return address. Inside was an extremely interesting letter. Due to the oddity and nature of the letter, it is imperative that the entire student body learn of its contents. The letter began in this manner: To Whom It May Concern,

I am Howard University, one of the most influential colleges in the United States. My roots run as deep as the mother continent of Africa and wherever Black people dwell in the nation. Among other colleges both Black and white I stand tall like the giant sequoia trees of California.

My history is most impressive also. I was established by an Act of Congress, March 2, 1867, as a university for the education of youth in the liberal arts and sciences under the name, style, and title of "the Howard University."

The original idea as conceived by General Otis Howard, Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau, was to establish an educational institution for newly emancipated slaves. My first students were white girls, children of two of the founders. But I rapidly became a predominantly Black university increasingly committed to Black education.

In the years since my inception I have grown from a single frame building to a 72-acre campus of buildings and equipment valued at over $60 million.

Traditionally I have had the largest gathering of Black scholars in the world among such people as John Hope Franklin, E. Franklin Frazier, Ralph J. Bunche and Associate Justice Thurgood Marshall. Presently among my many gifted and innovated instructors are such people as Don L. Lee, Samuel Yette, Chancellor Williams, Clay Goss, Donald Byrd, and Tony Brown. Among my graduates who are presently in the news are Roberta Flack and Stokely Carmichael.

But before I get bogged down in my history let me tell of my present attributes. My President, James E. Cheek, is one of the most creative and progressive presidents of any college. Cheek is one of my better presidents.

I own a radio station (WHUR) which is aimed toward a better communication between Black people. My student newspaper, the HILLTOP, has become the largest and best known Black student publication in the world.

My soccer team won the 1971 N C A A soccer championship. However, they have never received the type of respect and publicity their title demands. Which only goes to prove, the only victory for a Black man is the one that's won within the soul.

My student government has left a lot to be desired in terms of progress and dedication to Black people. There is much potential in both HUSA and LASC. But until my leaders allow their ability and Blackness to overcome their ambitions, ego and conceit, my student government will remain stagnant and pursue integrationist ideas.

On my campus, many conferences such as the Pan African Conference, and Political Science Conference have been presented. In March, the first National Black Communication Student Conference will be held. The idea was conceived on my campus.

My academic excellence is one of my most prized possessions. I can truly say it's one of the best found anywhere. Although I get a better chance at excellence than most Black or white schools, since I begin my academic year with some of the most artistic, innovative, intelligent and gifted students of the universe.

The elements of my greatness are too numerous to mention completely. But note that this letter is not an ego trip or a publicity kick. Also, I am not trying to overlook my bad points by emphasizing my good points. Nor am I trying to break the credibility of my dissenters. Although we must be able to differentiate between constructive criticism and intended internal strife with a vested interest of destruction.

This letter is to remind Black people that my structure, foundation and basic aspects are good. Also to show that while my shortcomings should be emphasized, my greatness should be remembered. That regardless of my bad points, I deserve some type of love, pride and respect from my students and Black people.

In 1968, President James Nabrit's promise of a brighter tomorrow was not soon enough. The incoming freshmen wanted "immediate" change. Howard wasn't Black enough, so they joined "the Revolution" and moved "Toward a Black University". Through H.U.S.A. President Q. T. Jackson, the class of '72 demanded such changes as new courses in Black Studies, and the abolishment of curfew for women—these demands were met. The freshmen joined the spring protest of the Sociology-Anthropology students for more Black courses and better instructors in that department.

...We did in fact experience during that academic year five different student boycotts and building takeovers, the largest of which resulted in the closing of the University for five days, the arrest of twenty-one students including the President of the Student Body, and an estimated damage cost in excess of $132,000.

Nabrit explains H. U. disorders to U.S. Senate subcommittee

Sophomore year, '69-'70, was the year of change. Howard got a new president, Dr. James Cheek, who emphasized "improvement". "Tricky Mickey Collins" held the H.U.S.A. president's gavel with a calm and conservative manner, and H.U.S.A. came to stand for "Hustling Unscrupulous Sly and Avaricious" (Jomo, The HILLTOP, Sept. 26, 1969, p. 7). Everyone forgot about the revolution and took up more important issues, such as panty raids and playing cards in the Punch-Out. Women finally got co-ed visitation and the 1969 Leadership Conference produced the decision to abolish Homecoming Queens because they were "irrelevant".

We tried to keep up the revolution by attending the Viet-nam Moratorium (for whatever that was worth), and the Jackson State murders. Spring 1970 gave us "community geared workshops" instead of finals. . . . Remember how the powerful 'P' saved those of us who were on 'Pro'? That had to have been the best spring, academically speaking, Howard had every known.

1970-71

In the beginning, everything seemed alright. The Pre-Opening Conference was held to determine "where we were going" in the 70's, and we had the campus revolutionaries in political office. Mike Harris was President of HUSA and John Holton held the L.A.S.C. presidential seat. HUSA began the D.E. Project, and organized to send 86 students from Howard, F.C.C., and Georgetown to campaign for the Black candidates in Alabama. We got our first writer-in-resident, Clay Goss, and the Art students beautified the campus with murals.

But then, Homecoming '70 became legend behind the sudden acquisition of a 'Brand new' yellow Jaguar by the "Super revolutionary," Joel Mungo. HUSA's budget was frozen for an audit and investigation.

During the spring, Howard hosted the Political Science Conference; the School of Communications almost became a reality, and Howard was given a radio station, no license. But the revolution was still alive; we ended the year with the "cafeteria boycott."

“What’s Going On”? 1968-71

Our freshman year mini skirts were the thing, and everyone was doing the Popcorn; Marvin Gaye’s “I Heard It Through the Grapevine” was THE number one hit. This era brought in bell bottom jeans and drugs.

“Do Your Thing”

“Do Your Thing, and It’s YOUR Thing” was our theme. Hard rock artists like Sly, Chambers Brothers, Rare Earth, and Chicago became a part of everyone’s collection. Reefer paper sales went up 100 per cent. Demonstrations were big that year.

September '69 was supposed to be the year of change. Afros were catching on, and we all had to have one . . . well, almost. Military paraphernalia gave us that REVOLUTIONARY LOOK, and we kept on dancing.

So, we did do something our sophomore year. That same year the Jackson Five broke out with "ABC" and a music style that proved to be hard competition for the hard rockers. James Brown put out four records on the subject of popcorn—that's where everyone's head was at.

“Who’s Gonna Take The Weight”?

By the time our junior year rolled around we decided to put an end to all the irrelevant shit that had gone down before. We were tired of rhetoric. FIRST: We only did two dances; The Sex Machine and The Penguin (both were very relevant). SECOND: The concept of Hot Pants (which came along just in time). Things were clearly on the move. James Brown told us to “Get On Up, Get Into It, and Get Involved.” The Jackson Five simply said “I Want You Back.” Sly thanked us and acknowledged “Everybody is a STAR.” Kool and his Gang foresaw the coming of the “Funky Man” and asked the question “Who’s Gonna Take The Weight?”

September '71 Marvin's record was still out and we still wanted to know the answer. Women started going bald and double knits save us time, but that didn't help because everyone was still CONFUSED. James Brown, who has more solutions than junkies have holes, suggested "Escapism." Isaac Hayes said more or less the same thing with "Shaft" and the Delfonics came up with a brilliant solution entitled "Walk Right Up To The Sun."

SIGNIFICANCE 1971-72

Editorial Lessons from 1971

1971, through its major events and developments, bequeathed America's Black populace several important guides to its future survival and development.

It showed that today, as in the days of yore, that the greatest weapons used against the Black man are: 1) his own disorganization, 2) a failure to comprehend the true relationship of Blacks to the American society and 3) a lack of long-range planning and programming based on a clear-cut racial direction or ideology.

Along with recognizing the above negative attributes of the race, those of us who have given the Black situation in America some scientific study from a nationalistic perspective have been able to discern that in the decade of the seventies Blacks in America will continue to face the four basic problems which have confronted them since their forced arrival on these shores.

At the hands of the white man and his system, we have and will continue to be victims of

- * political control and subjugation
- * economic dependence and exploitation
- * cultural degradation and
- * institutionalized racism

The reason we will continue to be oppressed by these four basic hinderances to our liberation is because we have failed to deal effectively with the three negative attributes mentioned above.

All that we as a race do in the decade of the seventies must be based on a clear, scientific analysis and understanding of our objective conditions in and our objective relationship to racist-capitalist America.

In other words, we must be both descriptive and analytic in our future approaches to finding solutions to our problems.

In doing this (starting at the objective reality of our condition and situation and distinguishing it from the subjective perception of that reality) we will find that Black people occupy a colonial relationship to the wider, white American society.

The domestic colonial relationship means that Blacks are segregated from, politically subjugated by, and economically dependent upon and exploited by white America.

And in the words of Frantz Fanon in a colonial relationship "you have two forces which are opposed to one another by their very nature." After a point in time there can be no peaceful coexistence or mutual development between the two.

During the next ten years Black programs and strategies for survival and development must be based on the above conception of our relationship to America.

Also, after we have determined the perspective or conceptual framework from which we must plan and operate in the years to come, we must scientifically and using history as a guide, come up with a racial ideology or direction which will contain ultimate goals, strategies and tactics for achieving those goals, and a value system for determining which actions are correct or incorrect.

What do we as a race ultimately want?

Our ultimate goals must be stated concretely and clearly, or plans, programs, and organizations will proliferate (as they do now) without any overall plan of attack or unifying purpose.

Answers of freedom, justice, and liberation will not be adequate. For the very abstract, amorphous nature of such words lend them to a thousand different interpretations. Do we want to become an integral part of America, establish an interdependence between the two races, or do we want to go on a course of our own?

We do not propose to have any divine right to tell Black folk what they should ultimately be about, but we do unequivocally maintain, as Marcus Garvey did a half a century ago, that the highest goal to which any people can aspire is: a Nationhood, a nation, land and government of our own.

African peoples, the world over, must reach for this star. For no group of people can long survive unless they see to their own economic, political, and cultural uplift.

We must be scientific in our approach to the solutions of our problems. We must realize that we are colonial subjects in America and are doomed to that relationship under the present racist-capitalist structure. And we must be about Pan-African unity and nationhood. Black people the world over must come together to form that Black nation-state which will see to the survival and development of the African race.

Campus best for 1971

1. Most significant political event - Election of Sandy Daly as HUSA president as a result of the Black Caribbean vote.

2. Most disappointing political development - The performance of Sandy Daly as HUSA president (but he was not alone, the HUSA senate was basically a non-functioning, directionless group of brothers and sisters who displayed that they had learned well the lessons of negro confusion and niggeristic conflict).

3. Most tragic developments - The deaths of Helena Richardson, Julian Weekes and Brenda Joyce-Jones.

4. Biggest controversy creating incidents - The Angela Davis honorary court for Homecoming, Larry Coleman's first "Vibration," the first and second HUSA meetings (if these were our most controversial issues, the Struggle damn sure suffered a set back in 1971).

5. Greatest group effort on the part of Howard students - The sending of 81 students to Mississippi in campaign for Black candidates, the national victory of the soccer team, and "Operation Cleanseep" (As quiet as it is kept, these were the only group efforts).

6. Most misguided student - The sister, E. Patricia Walker, who wrote to The HILLTOP saying that Black folk needed no ideology, but that integration should be our modus operandi.

7. The most callous administrators - Liberal Arts Dean Owens and the faculty members of the Liberal Arts Executive Committee who refused to seriously negotiate with students over the abolition of the foreign language requirement.

8. The administrator most deserving of the title "the Great Black Father" - Howard president James E. Check (J.C.).

9. The most non-leading of the student government leaders - Liberal Arts vice president Danny Simms (He is always busy but no one knows what he is doing, not even him).

10. Most paranoid student government personality - Elijah Cummings, treasurer of LASC (However, as of late HUSA vice president, Charles Hall, has been displaying tendencies in the same direction).

11. Student most likely to succeed during this spring's student government elections - Sophomore class president Geoffrey Simmons (All he needs is a stronger will, more ideological direction, and less LaMont Flanagan).

12. The shortest lived protest leaders - Mavis, Ron Hatcher, Mike Harris, and Michael Littlejohn the prime motivators behind a one hour protest against HUSA policies on the D.C. Project (From the steps of Douglas Hall, of course).

13. Student politicians most likely to become professional politicians - LASC president LaMont Flanagan and Charles Hall (Flanagan will be New York City's first Black mayor and Hall will be the political kingpin in Birmingham, Alabama - I think).

14. The greatest campus potress - The HILLTOP's Aisha Adja (Even if she is moody).

15. The most politically together freshman - Hasani Nweusi.

16. The most politically non-functioning class - the seniors.

17. Hardest working non-student government figure - Charles "Gaypop" White (Too bad he's negro).

18. Hardest working administrator - Carl Anderson, Vice president for Student Affairs.

19. Most disillusioned student on campus - Michael Harris, last year's HUSA president (maybe, he was always disillusioned).

20. Student most deserving of a political victory during this spring's elections - HUSA senator Raymond Johnson (He tries so hard).

21. Most revolutionary students - There are none (which says a lot for the "citadel of Black learning").

22. Student with most historically correct ideological direction - ... we all know who that is.

Howard Moves Into Broadcasting And Banking

WHUR-FM, Howard University's radio station, began its broadcasting history this year. The station, donated by the Washington Post Company and Post-Newsweek, is the first Black controlled and operated in the metropolitan Washington area. It allows people in the area "to share the Black experience," according to Station Manager Phil Watson.

The National Black Communications Society (NBCS) was founded March 29, 1971 at Howard University by Clara McLaughlin, Daniel Simms and Robert N. Taylor. Its aims are to promote better communications within the Black community; provide more professional Black communicators and cultivate the highest standards of competence for its members in their respective fields. The organization was founded for students and professionals in communications.

NBCS held its first national conference March 3-5, with a theme "Communicate to Liberate." Of the almost 900 participants, including representatives of some 80 schools, more than half pledged to join the Society's membership rolls. It was generally agreed by the organizers and participants that the conference was indeed a success.

Convention termed great success

by Nyya Lark, John Johnson, and Robert "The Black" Taylor

"A great success" were the words most often used by the organizers of the National Black Communications Society to describe the Black communications conference they held here on campus last weekend.

The unprecedented conference brought together nearly 900 Black professionals and students of communications in the United States and the Caribbean to Howard's Cramton Auditorium March 3-5 to, in the words of NBCS president, Robert N. Taylor, "give ideology, organization and unity to Black communications in the Pan-African world."

The conference consisted of speeches, lectures, panel discussions and workshops on various areas of communications and had as its theme "communicate to liberate."

In addition to such well known professional Black communicators as "Black Journal" executive producer, Tony Brown, former Newsweek staffer, Sam Yette, author of The Choice, Tom Johnson of the New York Times and John Woodford of Muhammed Speaks, the conference delegates were also paid visits by George Wiley, Chairman of the National Welfare Rights Organization and Edward Brown, brother of imprisoned Black activist H. Rap Brown.

But perhaps one of the most well attended sessions was the address delivered by Sam Yette. Yette, associate professor of journalism at Howard University spoke on "The Crisis of the Black Communicator in the general media."

Brother Yette divided his topic into "three urgent needs" of the Black communicator: 1) The Black reporter severely

Most Outstanding

Dr. James E. Cheek, president of Howard University is considered the most outstanding person on campus. The president's qualities are many. He has great concern for the Black community not only in the United States but throughout the Pan-African world. He is constantly promoting Black education, communications, economics and politics. Dr. Cheek is not just a "desk" president, he is a whole president and is often seen walking across campus and visiting the classroom buildings.

The 1972 Bison is proud to salute Dr. James E. Cheek, a Sagittarius.

Best Administrator

Dr. Carl E. Anderson has been a member of the Howard University community for the past 14 years, serving a cross-section of administrative positions from educational director of Cook Hall to his present position of Vice President for Student Affairs. Vice President Anderson feels "that Howard will continue to be the focal point for the development of Black leadership to our ultimate goal, Black unity."

Dr. Anderson in his interaction with faculty, administrators and students has achieved a harmonious blend on all three levels.

The 1972 Bison proudly hails Dr. Carl E. Anderson, a Libra.

Student Authors

Gary Ayers, Graduate School and Michael Harris, College of Liberal Arts and 1970-71 president of HUSA, are the co-authors of the newly published Ain't Gonna Shuffle No More. The book is an analysis of the events and attitudes which shaped the Black student movement of the sixties, emphasizing events and personalities at Howard University.

Most Extraordinary

She is perhaps the most active on campus. Her name is Karma and she moves from the College of Fine Arts to Douglass Hall, Locke Hall, the "Punchout", Founders Library, Baldwin Hall Dormitory, to the Bison/Hilltop office with the ease of any student. Of course she never fails to participate in the Friday Greek activities. Karma is indeed Howard's most extraordinary.

Best Faculty Member

Dr. Winston K. McAllister, professor of philosophy, has been a member of the Howard University community for the past twenty-seven years in both Faculty and administrative positions. As the present chairman of the Philosophy Department, Dr. McAllister feels that "education is one of the conditional factors necessary for true Black nationhood and that any learning activity should be considered as communications". As an educator in philosophy, Dr. McAllister has displayed concern for individual potential and conciseness of subject material. These qualities have distinguished him as a superior faculty member.

Best Student Leader

Lamont Flanagan came to the Howard community from New York in 1969. Since that time Lamont has distinguished himself as a strong student leader. He has held such positions as HUSA senator and LASC president. Further, he achieved merit as the campus organizer of 1970-71.

"MARS: A Tribute To The Last Black Eunuch" is a Howard University Drama production, written by Clay Goss, playwright-in-residence and directed by Eric Hughes. The play provides a new twist on the uniqueness of the Black Experience. It explores the aspirations, disappointments, frustrations and despair of the Black man here on earth and suggests possible salvation might be found on MARS.

The Music — an accomplishment in its own right — is written by the performing artists and is used throughout the production to heighten and intensify the action.

The "country preacher" thrills Cramton

by Theola Miller Douglas and Kathleen Wills

"It's nation time and I am somebody!" shouted Rev. Jesse Jackson to a cheering crowd in Cramton Auditorium Wed. night.

President James Cheek, in an unprecedented move, welcomed and introduced the "Country Preacher" and described him as the "individual who has come to aid us in taking a totally new direction in our country." It is believed to be the first time Dr. Cheek has ever participated in a Project Awareness program.

The program's panel consisted of Miss Olive Taylor, of the History Department, Michael Harris, ex-HUSA President, Harold Dobson of Cook Hall and Kathleen Wills, Hilltop News Editor. Questions were also entertained from the audience. The 90-minute program was broadcast live throughout the Washington metropolitan area over Howard University's radio station WHUR.

"This is the year for major mass political and economical movement," announced Jackson. "I came here (to Howard) for two or three rather specific purposes — Not to run anybody down, not to apologize, Jackson cited three reasons for his coming to Howard: to organize those who are interested in involvement in politics and economics, to report on how to organize, and to "deal with survival techniques within the parameter of the limitation of our existence."

Best Concert

Freddie
Hubbard

Freddie Hubbard has always impressed Howard audiences with his free form of jazz. His concerts give listeners all of Freddie or most of him, depending on the mood of the times. All that he had to give, he gave on February 27 to the memory of brother Lee Morgan - a humming "Sidewinder," a Freddy-plus "Mr. Clean." He was great!

Alumni Affairs

Emphasis has been placed by the Office of Alumni Affairs on student involvement. Outstanding Alumni

Dr. Leroy Weekes

Dr. Leroy Weekes is outstanding as a gynecologist, community leader, and alumnus. He graduated from Howard with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1935 and Doctor of Medicine degree in 1939. After completing a two year residency in obstetrics and gynecology at Freedmen's Hospital, Dr. Weekes established his medical practice in Los Angeles.

He is currently president and chairman of the board of the Julian W. Ross Medical Center and is on the staff of several hospitals. He is also a clinical professor in obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Southern California Medical School.

A few of Dr. Weekes' honors include the Certificate of Merit by the Los Angeles Cancer Society, the Charles R. Drew Medical Achievement Award, and the Father of the Year Award by the Southern Area Boy's Club. In 1968 he became the 23rd Distinguished Service Medalist of the National Medical Association.

Also, in 1968 Howard University presented him with the Alumni Achievement Award at its Charter Day Convocation. It was on this occasion that he announced the establishment of a substantial scholarship fund for undergraduate and medical students. The Alumni Federation honored him with a meritorious award at its 1971 Gala and Awards Dinner.

Dr. Weekes has begun compiling a textbook on gynecology and obstetrics, the proceeds from which will go to the University and the College of Medicine.

Charles J. Baron

Attorney Charles Jesse Baron has been appointed Deputy Regional Director of Management, Region IV Office of Action in Atlanta, Georgia. He assumed his duties in late December, 1971, leaving his previous post as Executive Director of Greater Omaha Community Action, Inc.

After receiving the Juris Doctor Degree in 1968 from Howard University, Baron taught and directed programs in the District of Columbia school system before going to Omaha in August, 1970.

Attorney Baron is a member of the Nebraska and District of Columbia Bar Associations, Screen Actors' Guild, American Federation of Television and Radio Artists, the American Bar Association, Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, NAACP, and the Omaha Chamber of Commerce.

He was conferred an Honorarium in 1971 by the Omaha Community Action Agency, Inc. for services rendered as Executive Director of the agency.

Dr. Geraldine Woods

Serving on a great number of committees, Dr. Geraldine Pittman Woods is active both in and out of the medical field.

Her involvements have ranged from the launching of Project Head Start with Mrs. Lyndon Johnson in 1965, to the presidency of the Auxiliary to the Medical, Dental, and Pharmaceutical Association of Southern California.

Currently, Dr. Woods is a member of the Howard University Board of Trustees and a member of the National Board of the National Council of Negro Women. She is vice-chairman of the Community Relations Conference of Southern California. Dr. Woods, Phi Beta Kappa, has been listed in "Who's Who In the West", "Who's Who of American Women", and the "Dictionary of International Biography".

In 1969 she was appointed consultant to the National Institute of General Medical Sciences. During this term of service, Dr. Woods, the first woman and only Black on the National Advisory Council, suggested and developed a program for the Black academic community and training of Black youth.

She received her B.S. degree from Howard and her M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Radcliffe College in Neuro-Embryology.

Patricia Harris

A very involved and dedicated person, Mrs. Patricia Roberts Harris is one of the few Black women in the upper echelons of American politics. She has been in many volunteer organizations and served on numerous committees.

Some of her more prominent positions have been Dean of Women at Howard, Ambassador to Luxembourg, and Dean of Howard's Law School. Most recently, Mrs. Harris was appointed as Chairman of the Credentials Committee of the 1972 Democratic National Convention. She also serves on the board of directors for IBM and board of trustees for the Twentieth Century Fund.

She graduated from Howard summa cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa with an A.B. degree in political science and economics and finished first in her class at George Washington's Law School.

Mrs. Harris is a recipient of awards from the National Council of Negro Women, Freedmen's Hospital Auxiliary, and Delta Sigma Theta Sorority.

Vernon Jordan

Presently serving as Executive Director of the United Negro College Fund, Inc., Vernon Jordan has been involved in many activities. He serves on the board of directors for the African-American Institute in New York, the National Urban Coalition and the Overseas Development Council in Washington D.C.

Jordan graduated from Howard's Law School with his J.D. in 1960 and received honorary Doctor of Law degrees from Bloomfield College and Brandeis University. He is a member of the Arkansas, Georgia, and U. S. Supreme Court Bars, the American Bar Association, and the National Conference of Black Lawyers.

Formerly director of the Voter Education Project of the Southern Regional Council, Inc., Attorney-consultant for O.E.O., and Georgia Field Director for the NAACP, Mr. Jordan is a man of experience. His numerous published articles include, "The Challenge and the Promise" and "New Forces of Urban Political Power" in New South, and "The Black Vote In Danger" in Civil Rights Digest.

They tell me:

"When I came along
the white folks treated us good
When I came along

Illustrious children of the sun
Grand protectors of the earth and universe
Unite !!!
You have been divided too long
Much too long.

Then I got my Afro hair-do and realized I am truly beautiful.
When I discovered the true
history of my people
I knew
I am indestructable.

When I use my degree to help my people
I know that
I am
BAAD..... finally together.

Red, Black and Green
Raised the flag of Unity
of Blackness
of Brotherhood
United to learn to Communicate to Lead to Unify
And we finally making it!

From The Editor

The 1972 Bison is finished. We did it!!! Many thanks go to the entire Bison staff, especially those wonderful editors like Bill, James, Laurice, Brenda, and Linda-Lou. They spent so many hours with me at 2215 Fourth Street - Our Home. Of course my greatest thanks go to Dr. Richard A. McLaughlin, the man who must be the most understanding husband in the world. He allowed me to work those long hours.

This is Howard's first yearbook to be circulated to the entire student body, their families and the D. C. community. We have tried to make the book not only Howard's largest, but Howard's best.

Our goal - to include the entire University community in a manner that would inform and enlighten you. We hope we succeeded.

Mrs. Clara J. McLaughlin

THE HOWARD UNIVERSITY
ALUMNI FEDERATION

The Alumni Federation was established in 1964, replacing the General Alumni Association. At the same time, the Office of Alumni Affairs was created to provide technical support to the Federation.

Alumni are urged to keep the Alumni Office informed of their current addresses and other pertinent information, particularly achievements in their fields of endeavor.
