STEWART-FLIPPIN PAPERS
Collection 97-1 to 97-39

Prepared & Revised by:
Karen L. Jefferson
October 1980

Scope Note

The combining of the histories of the two families, Stewart and Flippin has produced a collection of family papers that documents the early history of Blacks in Minnesota, Nebraska, Oregon, California and Hawaii. The papers total 20 linear feet and were donated to Howard University in 1967 by Mrs. Katherine Stewart Flippin. Mrs. Flippin is the grand-daughter of T. McCants Stewart, and wife of Robert B. Flippin. The papers span the period 1852-1974, documenting four generations.

Members of the Stewart and Flippin families were quite prominent in their respective careers and very active in civic organizations. Thomas McCants Stewart practiced law in South Carolina, New York, Hawaii, London, and St. Thomas. He was quite active politically, and during his controversial career served as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Liberia.

His son, McCants Stewart was also a prominent lawyer, practicing in Minnesota, Oregon and California. The women in the Stewart family were very active as well. Mrs. Mary Weir Stewart, wife of McCants Stewart, was involved in education, recreation and civic organizations in Oregon and California. Mrs. Stewart was a founder and first director of the Booker T. Washington Community Center, San Francisco, and served on the Board of Directors of the San Francisco Branch of the NAACP. During and after World War II she was involved with the War Camp Community Services, U.S.O., and the Community Chest, three civic organizations to aid the war effort. She also worked with the Bay Area Council Against Segregation and Discrimination, and the YWCA-YMCA.

Mrs. Carlotta Stewart Lai, daughter of T. McCants Stewart, served 40 years in the education system of Hawaii. Mrs. Lai helped to establish and develop public education for Hawaiian children, and at retirement she was the principal of Anahola High School. She also served as government historian for the island of Kauai.

From the Flippin family, the most documented are the activities of Robert B. Flippin. He served as the director of the Booker T. Washington Community Center from 1937-45; and as a correctional counselor at San Quentin Prison from 1948 until his death in 1963. Mr. Flippin is commemorated for his efforts to promote reform towards treatment of alcoholics. He sponsored the San Quentin Prison Chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous (the first prison chapter in the U.S.), as well as helped establish statewide hospital and institution committees to assist those with alcohol problems.

He also participated in a number of civic organizations including, Council for Civic Unity, Community Chest of San Francisco, and served for several years as treasurer of the San Francisco Branch of the NAACP. George A. Flippin, father of Robert B. Flippin, was quite a controversial figure in Nebraska. During his matriculation at the University of Nebraska, he established himself as an outstanding athlete, and in 1974 was inducted into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame. The controversy about him, however, related to his being a Black physician in the solidly white community of Stromsburg, Nebraska. In 1929, George Flippin became the first Black person to be buried in the Stromsburg Cemetery.

The papers are arranged in series by family members, and are comprised of a variety of materials documenting their respective activities. The collection contains news articles, photographs, scrapbooks, records from various organizational affiliations, and memorabilia. Most significant is the abundance of correspondence which reveals the social attitudes; mores and political atmosphere of the times.
