H. COUNCILL TRENHOLM PAPERS

Collection 179-1 to 179-78

Prepared by:
Helen Rutt
May 1996

Scope Note

The papers of H. Councill Trenholm (1900-1963), college president and educational official, span the period from 1882 to 1964, and measure thirty-four linear feet. H. Councill Trenholm headed Alabama State College¹ for thirty-seven years. The collection focuses on his role at Alabama State and his involvement in numerous educational organizations.

In the early 1920s, while his father, George W. Trenholm, served as President of the State Normal School at Montgomery, Alabama, H. Councill directed the school's extension service. After the 1925 death of his father, H. Councill became President, a position he held until 1962. George Trenholm's careers as a high school principal, organizer of county teacher-training institutes, and President of the State Normal School are well-documented in the Family Papers Series. H. Councill's career at Alabama State is documented throughout the collection, in programs, diaries, clippings, and other printed material. Official records of Alabama State University are not included in this collection.

¹ The institution known today as Alabama State University, entered the twentieth century as The State Normal School. During H. Councill's tenure, it became State Teachers College, Alabama State College for Negroes, and Alabama State College. For the sake of consistency, it is hereafter referred to as "Alabama State."

In addition to his work at Alabama State, H. Councilll Trenholm became actively involved in state and national educational organizations. For most of his professional life, he held elected office with the Alabama State Teachers Association (A.S.T.A.), the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools (N.A.T.C.S.) and its successor, the American Teachers' Association (A.T.A.). He also served as longtime editor of these organizations' publications. Correspondence, writings, programs, and printed material document Trenholm's contributions. This collection also chronicles the history of these organizations through conference materials, membership lists, publications, and files concerning the Joint Committee of the A.T.A. and the National Education Association.

H. Councilll Trenholm played a role in numerous other organizations. The organizational files include materials relating to a wide variety of groups, including the American Red Cross, Association for the Study of Negro Life and History, Commission on Interracial Cooperation, Prince Hall Masons, State Fair of Alabama, and the Y.M.C.A. It also documents the Elks Oratorical Contests and H. Councilll's role as a regional director.

In 1963 and 1973 Portia L. Trenholm donated the collection to Moorland-Spingarn.
