JAMES GUY TYSON PAPERS
Collection 108-1 to 108-39

Prepared by:
Greta S. Wilson
June 1980

MANUSCRIPT DIVISION

Scope Note

The papers of James Guy Tyson, former Howard University football star, lawyer, field director of the American Red Cross, and long term member of various regulatory agencies, are contained in seven boxes, along with numerous wrapped items, measuring eight linear feet. The material spans the period 1907-1970, although the bulk of it falls within the period 1930-1970.

These papers, consisting largely of photographs, reflect Tyson's profound love for sports, particularly football and swimming. They illustrate his ebullience for these and other activities: at Howard University, for his military service, and for his legal career which included many other organizational involvements. Along with the photographs, and further proof of his talent and zest for life, are certificate!, letters, awards and licenses of his athletic achievements, his career as lawyer and member of the Bar Association, the Alcohol Beverage Control Board and with the American Red Cross in New Guinea, Australia. Also included are scrapbooks, artifacts and certain of Tyson's legal files.
