WILLIAM O. WALKER PAPERS
Collection 197-1 to 197-19

Prepared by:
Ida Jones
September 2000

MANUSCRIPT DIVISION

SCOPE NOTE

The papers of William O Walker, (1896 - 1981), journalist and politician, present a wide range of writings that document his activities within those two arenas. The bulk of this collection is correspondence, which span the entire career of Walker. They consist of information pertaining to the founding of the National Newspaper Publishers Association, of which Walker was a co-founder, as well as, information pertaining to state and national Republican Party activities. Naomi Walker, his wife, donated the papers on September 1, 1983. The collection comprises 25 linear feet.

William O Walker contributed greatly to the advancement of the Black Press. His activities concerning the Black Press are documented throughout his long career beginning in 1921 when he joined the Murray Brothers Printing Company, in Washington D.C. Walker briefly left the newspaper industry, then returned in 1932, when he took over the Cleveland Call & Post. Under his direction the Call & Post developed into one of the country's leading Black newspapers.

Another area of importance is Walker's activities with the Republican Party. In 1939 Walker was elected and served on the Cleveland City Council. In 1946 Walker was elected and served as Republican Ward Leader of Ward 17. Elected in 1956 Walker served on the 21st Republican State Central and Executive Committee. The collection contains a variety of materials pertaining to the Ohio Republican Council.

The photographs include some portraits of Walker spanning his entire life. There are images of Walker with notable figures such as Don King, Joe Louis, Daisy Bates, Martin Luther King, Jr., and Tony Brown. There are pictures of Walker with various American Presidents such as Dwight D. Eisenhower, Harry S Truman, Richard Nixon, Jimmy Carter, and Ronald Reagan. Also of interest are images of Anne Walker, his mother and Naomi Walker, his wife.
