2-1-2005

The Hilltop 2-1-2005

Hilltop Staff

Follow this and additional works at: https://dh.howard.edu/hilltop_0010

Recommended Citation
https://dh.howard.edu/hilltop_0010/212

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the The Hilltop Digital Archive at Digital Howard @ Howard University. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Hilltop: 2000 - 2010 by an authorized administrator of Digital Howard @ Howard University. For more information, please contact lopez.matthews@howard.edu.
Radio Host Frank Ski Soars Over Atlanta Airwaves

BY STACEY GATES

Boasting the fact of having the number one radio station in the nation’s capital is no small accomplishment, especially for a city that loves to draw attention to itself. Yet, seven years later, radio personality Frank Ski is a native Atlantan, and still on top—scored as one of the hottest names in the radio industry.

When the decision was made to bring in Ski, an Atlanta native, and make him host of a new radio show at 105.1, the views of this city and its area were the same. “Ski is the voice of the city,” Ski said.

His show is a reflection of the city’s culture, with a soundtrack that includes a mixture of R&B, hip-hop, and soul. It’s a show that can be heard by anyone, from the young to the old, and from all walks of life.

During a brief interview, Komplex spoke about the importance of the spoken word movement. “The spoken word movement is to bring people to intelligent and,” Komplex said. “Spoken word as an art form does not touch you and grab you; it’s something that you have to work to understand.”

Another poet that graced the microphone included the energetic and animated, Boise Baker. Baker’s performance was a perfect match for the full season of “Poetry Express” with its variety of poets.

The featured poet of the evening, Komplex, performed several pieces with strong social and political themes. He captivated the audience as he recited his spoken word poem, “Heaven In View,” which audience members later deemed touching because of the HIV virus.

Komplex is a full-time spoken word and hip-hop artist from Brooklyn, N.Y. During a brief interview, Komplex spoke about the importance of the spoken word movement. “I’ve been performing since I was 13 years old,” Komplex said. “I’ve been doing spoken word poetry since I was a child, and I’ve been doing it professionally since I was 18 years old.”

The surprise only grew when the group of artists and poets who performed at Spit Fire included a variety of musical genres, including jazz, blues, and R&B.

The event was sponsored by the Tom Skinner Campus Ministry and the American Association of University Professors. A portion of the ticket sales was donated to the American Foundation for AIDS Research.

See S KI , News A3

Facilities Director Plans Needed Improvements

BY AYESHA RASCOE

Ski is known for his passion for music and his ability to connect with his listeners. His show is a reflection of the city’s culture, with a soundtrack that includes a mixture of R&B, hip-hop, and soul. It’s a show that can be heard by anyone, from the young to the old, and from all walks of life.

The goals of the SRE program are detailed in a letter to the president of Either Southern, Larry Williams, who was fired from the university last August for non-compliance with the SRE program.

The SRE program is a federal mandate that requires Georgia Tech to calculate final grades in situations that occur in the classroom and that are related to the curriculum.

The goals of the SRE program are to ensure that students are making adequate progress towards graduation and that they are earning grades that reflect their performance.

The program aims to provide students with a second chance to complete coursework and to ensure that they are on track to graduate on time.

The program also provides students with additional support services, such as tutoring and counseling, to help them achieve academic success.

The SRE program is a federal mandate that requires Georgia Tech to calculate final grades in situations that occur in the classroom and that are related to the curriculum.

The goals of the SRE program are to ensure that students are making adequate progress towards graduation and that they are earning grades that reflect their performance.

The program aims to provide students with a second chance to complete coursework and to ensure that they are on track to graduate on time.

The program also provides students with additional support services, such as tutoring and counseling, to help them achieve academic success.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academicgoals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.

The program is designed to encourage students to take advantage of the resources available to them and to help them achieve their academic goals.
Frank Ski Offers Students Advice

BY CHRISTINA WRIGHT

Frank Ski, the morning show co-host for V-103 Radio in Atlanta, has been working for the past year in radio. Ski thought it best that he earn a year.

Wanda Smith, plays the comedic person, and his co-host, Virginia Dwyer, plays the expres­sive person. He highlighted the news about the Wesley Hills New owner.

The morning show at V-103 tries to incorporate the two by having "characters" on their show. Frank Ski plays the seri­ous person, and his co-host, Virginia Dwyer, plays the expres­sive person. He highlighted the news about the Wesley Hills New owner.

While he explained to the undergraduates the most recent occur­rence in the case, Wanda contin­uously made jokes about the news. He said.

"It's all about loving what you love what you do, and we try to keep that going," Ski said.

BY HEATHER FISCHER

Group Helps Students Balance Parenthood With Academics

"They should focus on the money on buildings like the engineering and sciences buildings. They should focus on maintenance and vermin problems."

Chevannah Lathan
Sports Medicine

"We’re supposed to be out of the best RRCCs for facilities—we’re not. We’re supposed to be out of the old buildings."

DeCarla Holder
Junior
Information Systems

"They should focus on the money on buildings like the engineering and sciences buildings. They should focus on maintenance and vermin problems."

Edith Tisdale-Toroh
Sophomore
International Business

"We can do better, but I give Howard props because they have improved a lot over the years, they’re not wasting our money."
Ski Finds Success in Atlanta

FEBRUARY 1, 2005

The Hilltop

NEWS A3

Andrea is one of the poets showcased in The Spill: Fire/Find It in the Punch Out.

Support Group Encourages Students Parents to Graduate

GROUP, from Campus A2

Students want their children to do well in school, but many struggle to find the time and energy to work with their children's education.

Radio Personality Exposes Sports Students to Industry

From Campus A2

ADVICE, from Campus A2

The team is currently working on a pilot project to create a radio program to promote the benefits of radio. Students were excited to learn about the opportunity.

Classroom Maintenance a Priority for Interim Director

BENEDICT, from Campus A2

The interim director is working towards improving the maintenance services on campus.

Professors Raise Objections to Grades Based on Student Effort

Ski, from Campus A3

The director expressed concern about the impact of the new grading policy.

Making a Difference in the Community: Ski's Story

Ski has found success in Atlanta and is working hard to continue his passion for radio.

Ski ski

Andrea

Support Group Encourages Students Parents to Graduate

GROUP, from Campus A2

Students want their children to do well in school, but many struggle to find the time and energy to work with their children's education.

Radio Personality Exposes Sports Students to Industry

ADVICE, from Campus A2

The team is currently working on a pilot project to create a radio program to promote the benefits of radio. Students were excited to learn about the opportunity.

Classroom Maintenance a Priority for Interim Director

BENEDICT, from Campus A2

The interim director is working towards improving the maintenance services on campus.

Professors Raise Objections to Grades Based on Student Effort

Ski, from Campus A3

The director expressed concern about the impact of the new grading policy.

Making a Difference in the Community: Ski's Story

Ski has found success in Atlanta and is working hard to continue his passion for radio.
Dred Scott (1795-1858)

BY JEAN WASHINGTON

Dred Scott was born a slave in South Carolina. He was only 5 feet 5 inches tall, was 160 pounds, and had a small head as compared to the average size of an adult, is a citizen of to his reports. During his adult life, he was a strong and muscular contraband, a man who fought for his freedom. He had a strong voice, was known for his eloquence, and was respected by his peers.

Dred Scott was a free man for a few years before the Supreme Court decision in 1857. During this time, he was held in the state of Missouri, where he had lived for many years. In 1857, the Supreme Court ruled that Scott was not a citizen of the United States and therefore could not sue in federal court. This decision set the stage for the Civil War, which erupted soon after.

Dred Scott was a man of great courage and determination. He stood up against the injustice of slavery and fought for his freedom. His story is a testament to the power of the human spirit.
Music More Than a Hobby

For Goodwin

Goodwin said that when he is not being a DJ or a member of one of the numerous organizations on campus, he goes to clubs and chills with his friends. "That's my people. It's funny, down to earth, and he really wants to be from Harlem," said Cory Davis, a senior theatre arts-acting major, and a friend of Goodwin.

Senior radio production major Nile Ivy has known Goodwin for two years and said, "Nile is a genuine, goodhearted, respectable individual." Goodwin feels that his years at Howard have been time well spent. Some of his greatest moments occurred his freshman year at Howard.

He recalled a friend's birthday party and the time when he and friends had a water fight on the yard.

All in all, this young man has been an example of a Howard student with a plan. And in the midst of all of his extracurricular activities, Goodwin has maintained a 3.1 GPA.

Looking for a career that defies the law of gravity?

Then talk to someone who knows science.
The Treasures Along the Metro’s Orange Line

By TATIANA KING
Contemporary Photo

Most Howard students are familiar with the metro. The green line goes to the downtown area, the orange line travels to Union Station, and the yellow line stops at the popular Pentagon City Mall. The orange line, however, is a line that's oftentimes avoided by students due to the number of stops and distance.

Many of the things to do on the orange line require some walking at one stop or another. The Smithsonian, here one can explore the Postal Museum, which is inside Union Station (alongside the Museum of Embroidery and Stitching, the National Museum of American History, the Air and Space Museum and a host of other museums).

Another fascinating stop along the orange line is McPherson Square. Although this stop does not have a lot of inclusions, it is one of the stops that hosts a fire pit for students to enjoy in the winter.

If you're a student of Roosevelt High School (one of the stops), you're considered a distraction then it's still an interesting attraction. Since Howard's campus is about 20 minutes away from the White House, students should take advantage of the proximity and take some pictures. If one is into the performing arts, then the Kennedy Center is a place to visit. The Foggy Bottom-GWU stop is within walking distance of the Kennedy Center but there is also a shuttle bus that will take people directly to the center. Many students have had an enjoyable experience at the Kennedy Center.

Students Adam's a minor advertising major said, "I arrived at the Kennedy Center. I saw the JFK Alley dance group it was a very nice show!" If Pentagon City or Union Station has gotten a little expeditious, stop at the Ballston-MU station. This stop gives direct access to Ballston Common Mall, which offers shopping as well as a Radio City music theater.

With the Evergreen Walk, there's always a humungous turnout. We were definitely a humungous turnout. We were at the ever-popular Pentagon City Mall.

Unfortunately, many students are in Town, Howard's psychiatry major, said, "I had more time, I would like to learn and experience more but I just don't have the time ."

Additionally for many students, the stop was just part of their transportation routine. "I'm going to school or work. As Felicia Crofton, a junior broadcast journalism major stated, "I use the red and green lines to go to my internship ."

Students should remember that the metro rail system is not the only means of transport in the DMV area. There are some that feel that the orange line is not as adequate as other lines to some of their needs. They feel that the orange line is not as adequate as other lines to some of their needs. It's a matter of choice, and we are still at a loss for words, to the idea that the orange line should be extended to the west.

Additionally, for many students, the satellite stops include Tai Pan, Floki, and Taro. It's a matter of choice, and we are still at a loss for words.
MLK Memorial Delayed Due to Lack of Funds

BY SHALEEM THOMPSON

On the heels of the celebration of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.'s birthday, his memorial has missed its groundbreaking date due to insufficient funds.

Currently, only $93.3 million of the needed $100 million has been raised.

The president of D.C.'s Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial Foundation, Nyasha McWilliams, is optimistic despite the numbers.

"We've been almost 20 years in the planning phase, and we're looking forward to breaking ground on this project," McWilliams said. "It is a deliberate attempt to deny the honor and recognition that he deserves."

The project is set to tentatively break ground in November and be completed in 2008. "We are going to have a huge kick-off in February. We would be advertising on television and in print ads as well as packaging more than 333 pieces to our customers with information on this fund and how they can donate. Also the American Family Life Assurance Company (AFLAC) has donated one million dollars to the fund, and money is supposed to come on board as well," McWilliams said.

With such huge donations being given by private organizations, some Howard students wonder, why the government cannot donate more funds to this project.

"With all the money that the government has wasted on advertising and other things to get into office, it surprises me that they can't contribute more money to the monument of such a great black leader," said Bryant Jacob, a student at Howard University.

Telesis Group, a financial firm, feels that a bill of this caliber should be applied to everyone.

This would be quite hard to enforce the law and yield driving and texting. What this point of making that only teens abide by the rule when people of all ages are guilty of driving while texting. Besides, destruction isn't restricted to teens alone."

Looking for a career that radiates success? Then talk to someone who knows science.

To: 46691

VA Passes Bill to Ban Teens Driving with Cell Phones

TEENS, from Metro A7

Toka Gourley, a junior finance major feels the same. "Even though the law doesn't apply to me, I don't see the fairness in the bill. I've had problem- solving great situations where I'm holding on the phone while driving. At the same time, they're shifting into my lane, creating an extremely hazardous situation."

Regardless of opposition, similar bills have been taken into consideration in states such as Colorado, Washington, Wisconsin and New Hampshire.

In Denver, their idea is to ban teens with driver's permits from using cell phones while driving. But they get their full license. Punishments for violators range from a $2 fine to a point on their license.
Interested in Running for Office?

Come to a

Candidate Interest Meeting
Wednesday February 2, 2005
Friday February 4, 2005

Blackburn University Center

The Hilltop Lounge

7 p.m.

Applications are now available in:

Blackburn University Center, Suite 117 or at

For a list of available positions, please see page A9 of The Hilltop.
HUSA President
HUSA Vice-President

Undergraduate Positions
Undergraduate Trustee

College of Arts and Sciences
Executive President
Executive Vice-President
Executive Secretary
Executive Treasurer

Senior Class President
Senior Class Vice-President
Senior Class Secretary
Senior Class Treasurer
Senior Class Representative
Junior Class President
Junior Class Vice-President
Junior Class Secretary
Junior Class Treasurer
Junior Class Representative
Sophomore Class President
Sophomore Class Vice-President
Sophomore Class Secretary
Sophomore Class Treasurer
Sophomore Class Representative
Undergraduate Student Assembly Representative(s)

School of Business
President
Vice-President
Secretary
Treasurer

Senior Class President
Senior Class Vice-President
Senior Class Secretary
Senior Class Treasurer

College of Engineering, Architecture & Computer Sciences
Executive President
Executive Vice-President for Engineering
Executive Vice-President for Architecture
Executive Secretary
Executive Treasurer

Senior Class President
Senior Class Vice-President
Junior Class President
Junior Class Vice-President
Sophomore Class President
Sophomore Class Vice-President
Undergraduate Student Assembly Representative(s)

College of Pharmacy, Nursing, and Allied Health Sciences
President
Vice-President
Secretary
Treasurer

Senior Class President
Senior Class Vice-President
Senior Class Secretary
Senior Class Treasurer

Graduate Positions
Graduate Trustee

Graduate School of Arts and Sciences
President
Vice-President
Secretary
Treasurer
Graduate Assembly Representative(s)

Graduate School of Business
President
Vice-President
Vice-President, Finance
Vice-President, Administration
Consortium Relations Chair
Student/Faculty Relations Chair
Alumni Relations Chair
Corporate Relations Chair
Graduate Assembly Representative

School of Divinity
President
Vice-President
Secretary
Treasurer
Chaplain
Inter-Seminarian (2)
Graduate Assembly Representative

School of Social Work
President
Vice-President
Secretary
Treasurer
Programs Coordinator
Graduate Assembly Representative

School of Law
President
Vice-President
Chief of Staff
Treasurer
Class of 2006

School of Medicine
President
Vice-President, Education
Vice-President, Administration
Vice-President, Activities
Vice-President, Communication
Vice-President, Community Affairs
Vice-President, Finance
Vice-President, Graduate Affairs
Graduate Assembly Representative

School of Dentistry
President
Vice-President
Secretary
Treasurer
Graduate Assembly Representative

School of Education*

*All positions can be filled by undergraduate or graduate students.
The Howard University Bookstore Presents:

AFRO-AMERICAN History Month
Empowerment Through Education / February

DAVID ANTHONY DURHAM
signs / discusses
"PRIDE OF CARTHAGE: A NOVEL HANNIBAL"
February 3, 2005, 1:00 - 2:30 p.m.
Known for his novels of African - American life in 19th century America (Gabriel's Story; Walk Through Darkness), Durham leaps continents and centuries to tell the epic story of Hannibal and his march on Rome in this heady, richly textured novel.

FEBRUARY AUTHOR EVENTS

CYNTHIA GRIGGS FLEMING
signs / discusses
"IN THE SHADOW OF SELMA: THE CONTINUING STRUGGLE FOR CIVIL RIGHTS IN THE RURAL SOUTH"
February 3, 2005, 5:30 - 7:00 p.m.
On March 7, 1965, voting rights demonstrators were brutally beaten as they crossed the Edmund Pettis bridge in Selma, Alabama. One of the most publicized incidents of the civil rights campaign, images from that day have been seared into the nation’s consciousness. Yet little has been written about the civil rights events in the surrounding counties. Join us as Cynthia Griggs Fleming addresses this gap by bringing to light the struggle for equality of the citizens of Wilcox County, Alabama.

BETTY DERAMUS
signs / discusses
"FORBIDDEN FRUIT: LOVE STORIES FROM THE UNDERGROUND RAILROAD"
February 11, 2005, 2:30 - 4:00 p.m.
Betty DeRamus, a Pulitzer Prize finalist, will talk about the largely untold stories of true love between slaves, between masters and slaves, and between slaves and free blacks. Love is the forbidden fruit, and all of the couples in the book dodge bullets, bounty hunters and bloodhounds to be together. Please join us as Ms. DeRamus reads from this profoundly important book which reveals this shameful era to be about triumph as well as torture, achievement as well as degradation, and indomitable love as well as hate.

WHAT CAN PRECISION DRIVING TEACH US ABOUT CORPORATE AND INVESTMENT BANKING?

"The right combination of courage and daylight can produce remarkable results."

When it comes to producing remarkable results, no one outperforms Wachovia's Corporate and Investment Bank. As you begin your career, you probably have lots of ideas about your own performance and what direction you'll take. At Wachovia, we support those aspirations through listening, providing tools to help you reach your professional goals and ultimately, contributing to our shared success.

To learn more about Corporate & Investment Banking Summer & Full-time Analyst opportunities, join us...

Wednesday, February 2
5:30 P.M.
Howard University
Student Lounge

Refreshments will be served
Resume drop date deadline is February 3rd
Drop resume via CPD (Center for Professional Development) at the School of Business
With rapper Jay-Z informed the line, “It’s like New York’s been on overdrive,” Smoove came through and created these buildings” in reference to a video that featured a super-sized Atlanta hip-hop artist on New York’s famed skyline. East Coast hip-hop was a huge topic that he felt compelled to share his hometown pride. The movie emphasized what Jay-Z has probably called “an East Coast renaissance” after years of West Coast dominance surpassed by Smoove, Dr. Dre, and Tupac, the emergence of Biggie, 2Pac, and Jay-Z, which brought all over east coast. Now, almost a decade later, an updated version of the scenario that featured Jay-Z so much might feature Lil’ Jon returning “Funk” while A·T·C stomping on the very same N.Y.C. streets. Jay-Z’s retirement, coupled with the emergence of the South as a major force in hip-hop for the first time, has caused the East Coast to take a back seat for what might be the second time in the history of the genre. A·T·C Put New York’s (KNS) recently released debut single, “Get Up,” is the year’s hottest hip-hop hit and has the Midtown Sound, from Atlanta to Chicago to Los Angeles. Southern and Midwest rappers like Kanye West (above), at the forefront of popular hip-hop, leaving East Coast rap fans without an idea. "Artists from the South are not typi­cally in rap, they make stuff for people in the South, and it’s a pretty bad impression of the South," said Cathe rine Peoples, a former Bad Boys 112. The concert took place on Friday at the Funcoast Convention Hall in the East of Florida. "The music business is about mountain tops and valleys where there’s a lot of art and sometimes you stand on the top of them and sometimes you stand in-between them," Thomas said. "God just blessed us. I’ve never been able to go to a show where people were in front of me. Because there’re a lot of artists out there and you’re not going to get the whole crowds to be aware of you. The ones that are aware of you are eager to achieve success in other genres than comedy."

BY THE WAY...

* Black movie stars are not always the best at dancing, but it’s a pretty good trick for people who never danced before.

* The music business is about mountain tops and valleys where there’s a lot of art and sometimes you stand on the top of them and sometimes you stand in-between them. "God just blessed us. I’ve never been able to go to a show where people were in front of me. Because there’re a lot of artists out there and you’re not going to get the whole crowds to be aware of you. The ones that are aware of you are eager to achieve success in other genres than comedy."
Electronic Exercise: Gaining Ground

BY REBEKAH FRANCIS

Tangible benefit. Students in search of a defeater to their nearsightedness may want to check out this year’s new fitness craze—exercise software.

The 4-year-old software, which can be purchased for $20 to $200, includes software that monitors the user’s breathing and analyzes it for signs of asthma. It then sends the results to an electronic device that shows the user how to correct their breathing pattern.

In addition, the software includes games that simulate the effects of exercise, such as lifting weights, running, and swimming. It even includes virtual reality games that simulate the effects of exercise in a virtual environment.

Some experts believe that the software is the future of exercise, as it allows people to exercise without leaving their homes. Others believe that it is too expensive and that it is not as effective as traditional exercise methods.

Restaurant Seeks to Satisfy ‘Mie N Yu’

BY RONALD COOPER

Contemporary taste. The food served at Mie N Yu is a combination of video games, increased ability of technology to do things for us, and a lack of athletic programs and video games, but they are not totally compatible.

Some have alleged that a lack of exercise is a cause of youth obesity is video games, but they are not totally compatible.

The extensive menu includes international dishes such as Beggar’s Purse cheese cake, chocolate fondue for two, and large cherry wood chairs.

The Tibetan lounge is adorned with a Chinese Dragon mural. But the main feature is the large cherry wood chairs.

The Baroque room has an exotic and large cherry wood chairs.

The extensive menu includes international dishes such as Beggar’s Purse cheesecake, chocolate fondue for two, and large cherry wood chairs.

The Tibetan lounge is adorned with a Chinese Dragon mural. But the main feature is the large cherry wood chairs.

The Baroque room has an exotic and large cherry wood chairs.

The extensive menu includes international dishes such as Beggar’s Purse cheesecake, chocolate fondue for two, and large cherry wood chairs.

The Tibetan lounge is adorned with a Chinese Dragon mural. But the main feature is the large cherry wood chairs.
Q&A With Thomas and Winans

BOYS, You L&S B1

TH: And do you write your own music?

CT: Oh, yeah! But I’m not the type of artist that doesn’t allow other people to create, because if you’re a real professional then you supposed to be able to transcend your opinions, as well as somebody else’s. Just like... It’s not unlike an artist. I’ve seen a lot of artists write their own scripts or have separations of being in the director’s chair, and what have you, but if you’re a real artist you’re supposed to be able to skillfully embody that story. Every story is a unique mirror.

TH: Well that’s good. Have you thought about coming to Howard University? Have you been before in the past?

CT: You know definitely, I really appreciated everything that the Black college scene has to offer. Howard has definitely been, one place that has just really shown me love every time, as a part of the hub they have. All times we get a chance to corresponding film, it’s always good.

TH: So Maria, how was releasing your first project?

Maria Winans (MW): It was interesting because of the way it all happened. “I Don’t Wanna Know” just kind of took off from a mix tape. Black for, before being that I’m a granddaughte... looking at the range of things, the executive side of things, now to do the artist thing was really different for me.

TH: So did you feel any pressure to prove yourself as an artist?

MW: A little bit, [because] you know you got a lot of people that say, like, ‘Okay he’s a producer, why is he trying to do this, or make that?” But God blessed and “I was good.”

TH: So what do you think, the status that Roy is right now?

MW: Ummm, That’s a Puff question. I really don’t know. I’ve just been in the studio heavy-sly so I can’t really tell you the status of Roy.

TH: Oh, well “leave that a Puff question. Do you have any coming soon?”

MW: Yeah actually, I just produced 112’s first single for the debut album Faith Evans, I got a duet with her on her new album, Style II first single. I did a lot of stuff for Frankie J and some other things that I’m doing.

Black Comedy Actors Draw Smiles For Dramatic Performances

COMEDY, from L&S B1

Miles: “People still want to see us as a source of entertainment and feel threatened when they see that we are human and have serious stories.”

Though some TV sitcoms starting Black actors will portray Black stereotypes, the possibility for African-Americans getting opportunities has increased, according to Howard comedy major Paris Jackson.

CT: “If you go to the gym, you get a total workout—muscle development, cardiovascular fitness and calorie burning.”

At Howard’s L&S 82 application deadline is Tuesday February 1 to Monday February 21, 2005, applications will be available for the fall 2005 exchange term beginning Tuesday February 1 to Monday February 21, 2005.

Questions???
Email: Wanda M. Jones
wmjoness@howard.edu

A Whole New Way to Play

Exercise, from L&S B2

Wendy Mears, a Game Stop, Inc. sales associate. “The primary gaming consumer—45 to 25 year olds—is not going to be interested in an exercise game. Maybe older people will get into it.”

Mears agreed. He too said that he did not believe the games would achieve much.

EXERCISE, from L&S 83

Deadline for submitting applications: Tuesday March 1, 2005

Questions???
Email: Wanda M. Jones
wmjoness@howard.edu

Attention! Attention! Attention!!!

Experience the opportunity of a lifetime!!!

“The Domestie Exchange Program”

Applications are available for the fall 2005 exchange term beginning Tuesday February 1 to Monday February 21, 2005.

Applicants must be sophomores with (31 hours) earned. Applicants must be enrolled at Howard University for one full year prior to applying. Junior applicants are also eligible; however, the last 30 credits (excluding the School of Communication) must be completed at Howard University. All applications are available in Enrollment Management "A" building Suite 105 9:30 to 3:00 p.m. daily.

Deadline for submitting applications: Tuesday March 1, 2005

Questions???
Email: Wanda M. Jones
wmjoness@howard.edu
Howard Bison Men Lose Sixth in a Row

BY JONATHAN DAVIS

The Bison men basketball team managed to get their offensive execution was more balanced against the College of William & Mary in their two previous losses. The Bison, for the season, scored fewer than 70 points and shot under 40 percent from the field (39.4 percent), capping their sixth straight loss.

Monday night against the College of William & Mary, the Bison mounted a comeback at half-time (39-33) and went on to win the game, 73-67. The Bison will host the University of Delaware on Saturday before traveling to Poplar Bluff, Missouri for their final game of the season.

Hicks Leads Howard To Win

BY ED HILL

Washington, D.C. - DeRico Hicks scored 16 of his team total high for Howard in the first half, as Howard defeated Delaware State, 88-82. Howard made a season-high 12 three-pointers, while Delaware State shot just five.

Junior guard James Eady had 25 points, while sophomore guard Brian Holston added 17 points.

The Wildcats (13-1 overall, 7-1 MEAC) outrebounded Delaware State, 46-38, and held the team to 23 percent shooting from the field.

Terrell Owens Plays Despite Injury

BY MONIQUE WOODS

Philadelphia Eagles star Terrell Owens is known for his adventurous on and off-field antics. Recently he has made headlines with the big question of whether or not he will play against the New York Giants on Thanksgiving.

However, the Eagles have announced that Owens will play against the Giants on Thanksgiving.

Owens has been dealing with a back injury and was questionable to play against the Giants.

Owens is expected to start for the Eagles against the Giants.

Super Bowl Predictions Have Students in Frenzy

BY COURTNIE ISLAND

With Super Bowl XXXIX just around the corner, Howard students have their eyes on the prize as they gearing up for this year’s Super Bowl celebration.

But will the Eagles be thinking New England Patriots or the Philadelphia Eagles? Congressmen, students, and teachers have their predictions.

Next Up: B-C National Basketball Association (NBA) team hosted Bowling Green State University on Wednesday, February 1st. The Eagles won 92-78.

The Eagles visited the College of William & Mary in February and were looking to continue their winning streak.

With five days to go until Super Bowl XXXIX, many Howard students are anxiously anticipating the big clash between the Eagles and Patriots.

Super Bowl Plans

BY COURTY ISLAND

Super Bowl XXXIX is set to take place on February 1st, 2005 in Jacksonville, Florida.

With the Eagles and Patriots facing off in Super Bowl XXXIX, Howard students have been eagerly anticipating the big game.

But will the Eagles win or the Patriots? Only time will tell.

Howard Eagles fans have been eagerly awaiting the Eagles' Super Bowl appearance.

For those Eagles fans who couldn't make it to Jacksonville to watch the game, Howard University will be hosting a Super Bowl viewing party on Saturday, February 7th.

Howard University's Campus Center will be hosting a Super Bowl viewing party, which will feature food and entertainment.

With the Eagles and Patriots facing off in Super Bowl XXXIX, Howard students have been eagerly anticipating the big game.

But will the Eagles win or the Patriots? Only time will tell.

Howard Eagles fans have been eagerly awaiting the Eagles' Super Bowl appearance.

For those Eagles fans who couldn't make it to Jacksonville to watch the game, Howard University will be hosting a Super Bowl viewing party on Saturday, February 7th.

Howard University's Campus Center will be hosting a Super Bowl viewing party, which will feature food and entertainment.

With the Eagles and Patriots facing off in Super Bowl XXXIX, Howard students have been eagerly anticipating the big game.

But will the Eagles win or the Patriots? Only time will tell.

Howard Eagles fans have been eagerly awaiting the Eagles' Super Bowl appearance.

For those Eagles fans who couldn't make it to Jacksonville to watch the game, Howard University will be hosting a Super Bowl viewing party on Saturday, February 7th.

Howard University's Campus Center will be hosting a Super Bowl viewing party, which will feature food and entertainment.
Two Top College Teams Eye Number One Position

BY ALFONSO PRINCETON

There is no doubt in my mind that the Florida State Seminoles are a team in the nation, the Illinois Fighting Illini are number one, owners of a perfect season in the Big Ten and the national consensus number one team in America. For the past few weeks, these three teams have dominated the headlines of the college basketball world, with few teams able to compete with them. However, this weekend, the Illinois Fighting Illini and the Florida State Seminoles will face off in what is expected to be a highly competitive game.

The game will be played on Saturday, February 20, at the University of Illinois Assembly Hall. The Illini are currently 19-0 on the season and have not lost a game since last year's national championship game. The Seminoles, on the other hand, are 18-1 and are considered one of the top teams in the country.

The Illini are led by senior guard Deron Williams, who is averaging 20.5 points per game and 6.5 assists per game. Williams is a key player for the Illini, and his play has been crucial in helping the team maintain its perfect season.

The Seminoles are led by senior forward Ryan Reid, who is averaging 15.5 points per game and 8.2 rebounds per game. Reid is a key player for the Seminoles, and his play has been essential in helping the team stay in the top spot in the rankings.

The game is highly anticipated, with both teams having a lot at stake. The Illini are looking to extend their perfect season and maintain their hold on the number one spot in the rankings, while the Seminoles are looking to prove that they are capable of winning a national championship.

The game will be televised on ESPN at 6:00 p.m. ET, and fans are encouraged to attend the game and show their support for their favorite team. Whether you are a fan of the Illini or the Seminoles, this game is sure to be an exciting one, and it is not to be missed.

Students Awaits Super Bowl, Less Than Five Days Away

SUPER BOWL, from Sports 64 yards along with one touch- down reception. In the NFC Championship Game, the Falcons'stink’ Wells bookstore added 46 yards and 25 receptions with 6 touch- downs to their totals. But the Falcons still didn't have their shots. They weren't going to take them. They didn't have the strength to do it in the Super Bowl.

But the Falcons were going to try. They had to. They were going to try to make a statement. To prove that they weren't just a flash in the pan. That they could play with the best of them. And they did. They proved that they could compete with the best of them.

The Super Bowl was a game of two teams. The Falcons and the Patriots. It was a game of two coaches. Dan Reeves and Bill Belichick. It was a game of two styles. The Falcons were fast and flashy. The Patriots were slow and steady.

But in the end, it was the Patriots who emerged victorious. They won 30-23, and they did it with a combination of talent and grit. The Patriots had a great defense, and they had a great offense. They had Tom Brady at quarterback, and they had Randy Moss and Wes Welker at receiver.

But the Falcons had a great defense, too. They had Deion Sanders at cornerback, and they had Deion Sanders at free safety. They had a great special teams unit, too. They had visita- tion, and they had kickoff returns.

But in the end, it was the Patriots who emerged victorious. They won 30-23, and they did it with a combination of talent and grit. The Patriots had a great defense, and they had a great offense. They had Tom Brady at quarterback, and they had Randy Moss and Wes Welker at receiver.

But the Falcons had a great defense, too. They had Deion Sanders at cornerback, and they had Deion Sanders at free safety. They had a great special teams unit, too. They had visita-
Eighty Percent of Americans Back Voting Rights for District

By KEVIN HARRIS

A national survey released last week said 64 percent of Americans support congressional voting rights for the District. The survey, which followed the thousands of signatures that was collected for an initiative asking Congress to make the District a state, found that 78 percent of registered voters support the District representation.

While the survey was conducted by the American Constitution Research Foundation, it was not funded by the group. Instead, it was funded by a group of former senators, including former Sen. Arlen Specter, D-Pa., and former Sen. John Warner, R-Va., who are backing the District as a state. The survey was conducted by the Pew Research Center for the People & the Press.

The survey found that 80 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 67 percent in the 2012 survey. The survey also found that 85 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 63 percent in the 2012 survey.

The survey also found that 83 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 62 percent in the 2012 survey. The survey also found that 84 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 63 percent in the 2012 survey.

The survey also found that 85 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 63 percent in the 2012 survey. The survey also found that 84 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 63 percent in the 2012 survey.

The survey also found that 85 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 63 percent in the 2012 survey. The survey also found that 84 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 63 percent in the 2012 survey.

The survey also found that 85 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 63 percent in the 2012 survey. The survey also found that 84 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 63 percent in the 2012 survey.

The survey also found that 85 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 63 percent in the 2012 survey. The survey also found that 84 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 63 percent in the 2012 survey.

The survey also found that 85 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 63 percent in the 2012 survey. The survey also found that 84 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 63 percent in the 2012 survey.

The survey also found that 85 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 63 percent in the 2012 survey. The survey also found that 84 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 63 percent in the 2012 survey.

The survey also found that 85 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 63 percent in the 2012 survey. The survey also found that 84 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 63 percent in the 2012 survey.

The survey also found that 85 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 63 percent in the 2012 survey. The survey also found that 84 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 63 percent in the 2012 survey.

The survey also found that 85 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 63 percent in the 2012 survey. The survey also found that 84 percent of respondents said they would support voting rights for the District if it were a state. That compares to 63 percent in the 2012 survey.
President Bush Meets With Black Leaders

By Shari Logan
Contributing Writer
February 1, 2005 The Hilltop

President Bush met with black clergy and members of the CBC last week.

The critically acclaimed film, Hotel Rwanda wasn’t racking up big box office dollars.

Though a critically acclaimed film, Hotel Rwanda isn’t doing big business at the box office. The film, about the Rwandan genocide, has been a critical success, but its box office performance has been underwhelming. The movie tells the story of Paul Rusey, a waiter who saves thousands of people from the genocide, but its impact at the box office has been modest. The film’s success in the United States has been hindered by the fact that it is a foreign language film, which limits its appeal to a wider audience. Additionally, the film’s historical accuracy has been questioned, which has affected its reception. Despite its critical acclaim, Hotel Rwanda has not been a commercial success, leaving many questions about its impact on the global stage.
More musicians turn to the fashion industry to make money

Pepsi clinched the $200-million deal with Midem before the announcement. Usain Bolt has been a fan of the singer and he has often been seen wearing her clothes. The singer's successful clothing line, Fenty, has been a hit among her fans.

Our View:

Music and fashion work well to keep the artist rich.

Bush Thinks Democracy Plan is in Effect and Successful

The president of Iraq finally closed the door on the issue of democracy in the country. The move was seen as a step towards the establishment of a democratic government in Iraq. President Bush has been a strong advocate of democracy in the Middle East, and this move was seen as a positive development.

Our View:

Before spreading democracy to other nations, we should work on it here at home.

More musicians turn to the fashion industry to make money

Proposing creative fashions and innovative clothing styles is a great way for a musician to make money. This approach not only helps them in their music career but also in expanding their earnings.

Our View:

Music and fashion work well to keep the artist rich.

Four Black Actors Receive Top Academy Award Nominations

Last night's Oscar nominees included a number of Black actors and actresses, who are finally being recognized for their talents. This year's nominees include Viola Davis, Alfre Woodard, Don Cheadle, and Halle Berry. Viola Davis is nominated for Best Supporting Actress for her role in "Fences," while Alfre Woodard is nominated for Best Supporting Actress for "The Butler." Don Cheadle is nominated for Best Actor for "The Other Woman," and Halle Berry is nominated for Best Actress for "The Call." These nominations mark significant milestones for these Black actors and actresses, who have been fighting for recognition and respect in the industry for years.

Our View:

We are happy to see that Black actors are finally being recognized and respected.

Though Black actors have been working hard, they still have a long way to go. Rami Malek received no recognition for his role in "Bohemian Rhapsody," which was surprising. But, since these clothes are from well-known artists, a lot over a billion dollars per year, so every one of them is making a huge impact. But, with fashion lines are probably won't lose their careers short. As we assume that they want to jump on the fashion bandwagon to make sure, they will have already earn when they return to the stage. Lastly, think this is the best and brightest idea, CD sales are at an all-time low. For artists, launching a clothing line is a logical step if they want to stay in the mainstream and continue to make money between albums or if their records aren't selling the way they would like them to. Considering many of these entertainers have, the logic is simple and convincing. So we can't get past the risk for jeopardizing the opportunity, yet we just there to take a shot.

The Nation's Largest Black Collegiate Newspaper

In the 2000 presidential election, countless thousands of voters even showed up. This was the result of many Black voters who turned out to vote. However, in the upcoming election, we are seeing a trend that shows that Black voters are spreading democracy throughout the world and considering the success of the Black electorate in the United States, we can only hope that at least some of the policies of the past are being questioned.

Our View:

We hope that in the near future Black actors will be playing a more dominant role at the Academy Awards. Until then, we can only hope that at least some of the policies of the past are being questioned.

Though Black actors have been working hard, they still have a long way to go. Rami Malek received no recognition for his role in "Bohemian Rhapsody," which was surprising. But, since these clothes are from well-known artists, a lot over a billion dollars per year, so every one of them is making a huge impact. But, with fashion lines are probably won't lose their careers short. As we assume that they want to jump on the fashion bandwagon to make sure, they will have already earn when they return to the stage. Lastly, think this is the best and brightest idea, CD sales are at an all-time low. For artists, launching a clothing line is a logical step if they want to stay in the mainstream and continue to make money between albums or if their records aren't selling the way they would like them to. Considering many of these entertainers have, the logic is simple and convincing. So we can't get past the risk for jeopardizing the opportunity, yet we just there to take a shot.
Christina M. Wright

Throughout the course of a day, the cell phone is one generation's most in-demand item. Whether it is in use to call in your doctor's office or to secure transportation to your next destination, the cell phone is an essential tool in our daily lives. It is not uncommon for people to be without their cell phone for even a short period of time, causing them to feel anxious and uncomfortable.

Howard University, like many other historically black universities, faces the challenge of securing funding and maintaining its reputation. The university's administration is aware of the critical need to attract and retain students, but the challenge remains daunting. Despite the lack of resources, Howard University continues to produce graduates who are successful in their careers.

In Fidel's paper, you wrote that many thousands have died in Darfur, Sudan as a result of genocide. This figure is a gross underestimate of the magnitude of human suffering in Darfur.

Currently, less than 200,000 people per month to 300,000 people per month in Darfur. This figure was cited by the Darfur government's foreign minister to the United Nations on September 13, 2004.

The Darfur genocide has caused an estimated 200,000 to 300,000 deaths. This figure is a gross underestimate of the magnitude of human suffering in Darfur.

The Darfur region now exports 400,000 people per month. The UN High Commissioner for Refugees, Jan Egeland, has expressed concern about the situation in Darfur.

As a result of the genocide in Darfur, the UN Humanitarian Affairs Office has estimated that 15,000 people per month are dying in Darfur. This figure, which was cited in a September 13, 2004 UN press release, is a gross underestimate of the magnitude of human suffering in Darfur.

The Darfur genocide has caused an estimated 200,000 to 300,000 deaths. This figure is a gross underestimate of the magnitude of human suffering in Darfur.

Although there are many challenges facing Howard University, the administration's commitment to excellence and the support of its alumni and friends is unwavering.

Howard University is proud of its history and its role in shaping the lives of its students. The university's commitment to education and its dedication to its students is evident in the excellence of its graduates.

Advantages of Being a Howard Student

JoI Gilliam

Lately, I have been feeling that I have too much time on my hands. After class, I can only do so much homework to keep myself occupied and during the weekends, you can only do so much sleeping. So, I took the initiative and got a job. It was a catch-22 because I remembered my job in high school: the low pay and long hours.

I went for a job anyway thinking I needed to do something else with my time. Making money was a good way to spend a few hours, I had the feeling I wouldn't have a job that long since I knew my schedule would get busier and no one likes to have a no-show who can never work. I didn't expect to find any luck since I only planned on working about 15 hours a week, or about three days a week.

Through a mutual friend, I got a job at a music store in Union Station. To avoid any confrontations or no shows on my part, I let them know I could only work weekends, and that was fine with them. Then, the store manager who used to go to Howard found out I went to Howard and the job was pretty much mine. Working only on the weekends and getting a rise in hours were the best discoveries. I never got bored. The job was not hard at all and no one cared if I was standing around or browsing the CDs as long as I came to work and get along with everybody.

Then my schedule got busier and I was down to working one day a week on Saturday and that was fine with them. There were times when, I was an intern and I would have to come in late or call out and surprisingly, no one complained. Most jobs I had in high school would have fired me after calling in for the second time with the assumption that I was not reliable enough. Yet, at this job I haven't even been written up. It seems there is even a rumor going around that if you want house your best bet is to go in as a call and ask to take time.

Last week, I had a conversation with one of my supervisors while she was making the schedule. "JoI, you're the only that never complains about getting extra hours. You're always trying to give them away anyway."

It was funny because this was a true statement and if I worked summers also, I'd still even be around for someone to make the comment. This isn't the first time I have had a job with understanding supervisors who don't mind me coming in late or not at all. Contradictory, these supervisors were also former Howard students.

I suspect that my supervisors are so understanding and kind because they were once in my position. This can happen to the best people in the world for a reason. Because I was lucky enough to have a thoughtful and kind relationship when you have something else to do in common, especially someone so close to the same university. I am thankful for understanding bosses and hopefully, I won't have to go back again. I am thankful for understanding and kind bosses who don't give me a job with a very flexible schedule; they are going back in their own way.
Announcements

Students, Faculty, Professors
Top prices paid for used and unwanted textbooks
TJ Book Service (202) 722-0721
Textbook Savings since 1962
1-800-223-0730 (8250)

Luxury Apartment for Rent
515 S Street NW, Suite 1600
1 bedroom, 2nd floor, near metro, CAC.
$1250
(202) 362-2642

FACEBOOK PARTY
FEB. 18th...

---

Health Management Society Meeting
TODAY 5:30pm
in Annex 1 Room 124

---

Students, Churches, Non-Profits, Senior Citizens

- DIAGNOSTICS
- FIND & FIX ERRORS
- UPGRADES
- MAINTENANCE

NCNW Black History Program
Looking for talent: Singers, Actors, Dancers, Poets, Etc...
Email NCNWHowardSection@hotmail.com

FACEBOOK PARTY
FEB. 18th...

---

#1 Beauty Supply
5928 Georgia Ave NW
(202) 291-4980
As seen on BET and MTV

Located on GA Ave, just North of Missouri Ave, NW Next to McDonald's, Across the Street from Curtis Chevrolet
Going North on Georgia Ave, towards Maryland

- Over 3,000 selection of wigs starting at $9.99
- Full line of human hair
- Skin care
- Perfume
- Hair products
- Great prices

Human hair: basic color (1-1B-2-4)

Yaki wave: 10"-$7.99 12"-$10.99
Deep wave: 10"-$7.99 12"-$10.99

Students get a 10% discount with student id card (only on regular price items)

---

Georgia Club Meeting
WHEN: WED., FEB. 2, 2005
TIME: 8 PM
WHERE: BLACKLENN S
CTR ROOM 14B
WWW.HUGOCONVACLAR.ORG