2-4-2005

The Hilltop 2-4-2005

Hilltop Staff

Follow this and additional works at: https://dh.howard.edu/hilltop_0010

Recommended Citation
https://dh.howard.edu/hilltop_0010/213
Divinity Security Threatened by Trespasser

BY RUTH L. TIRABALE

Tracy Reeves and other students at the School of Divinity have complained about the lack of security and feared for their safety.

According to professor of Divinity Frances H. Suggs, one hot shower to take a cold shower was to take place in March.

"I was scared because you can't go anywhere to go to the bathroom," she said. "If you don't understand it, then you don't understand what it means to me."

"I don't understand it," she continued. "I don't know what it means to me."}

For residents of Mays Hall, security issues have long been a major problem.

"It is an extreme occurrence, but it happens so rarely," Suggs said. "We don't need to worry about it every day."

"I don't think it's going to happen again," she added. "But it's important to be prepared for it."
Freshmen Females Learn ‘Rites of Passage’

BY KAREN BRUNDIDGE

Due to enormous amounts of arguging and bickering between resides in

The program was designed to serve as a psychological therapy for all residents. Porsha
Freeman, Sherri Beed, Lynette Banks and Dannyelle
Howes, director of Blackburn Center Roberts
McLeod did not walk in discharge further discussions and the problems.

'Were starting working on this program before Christmas,' McLeod ask. 'For this program, we worked out ways to make a positive impact, teaching these ladies how to make the proper transition (from high school to college). We set them down, went through and outlined all of the substance of the program.'

Featuring performers from the Division of Fine Arts, the program had skits that showing dancing, singing and poetry in between each scene, with each skit fruiting to fresh, new, strong growth, doing the right thing, my body-mind and the people around me.

The scenes portrayed roommates fighting, friends gossiping and interaction between males and females.

Scenes such as ‘The Executor’ and ‘Insulation in the Hall’ served a new role in the ladies.

'It made me really think about how we can’t chose another way out,’ said freshman business major management major. 'I agree with that, you have to respect what they are and stop saying how they need real life situations, and stop being always unstoppable.

According to the directing by presenting an oath, the freshmen pledged to hold the new sinner’s name and not define her character through envy, jealousy, hatred, distrust, disrespect or selfishness in an attempt to lift myself.

They also learned three steps in having a positive attitude: create one, let it be known and maintain it.

Organizations Celebrate Black History Month

BY ADAM WYNN

Throughout the month of February, various on-campus organizations will be holding several events to commemorate Black History Month to bring national attention to the contributions of Black people through­

'Black History Month is a time to reflect on all the achievements we have made thus far while concentrating on what we still need to do,” said

The creation of Black History Month

The organization is founded on the principles of the Black experience and the

Our organization was founded on the principles of the Black experience and the

The Society of Communications Student Council pres­

'Our organization was founded on the principles of the Black experience and the

Our organization was founded on the principles of the Black experience and the

The Alumni Association is hosting two seminars to bring in the month of Black History and Black manhood.

Students Agree More

BY DAVID EDMONDS

In light of Black History Month, many students want to celebrate the achievements of African-American leaders from years past. However, through volunteering to better Black communities, students have the opportu­

The Alumni Association is hosting two seminars to bring in the month of Black History and Black manhood.

The Alumni Association is hosting two seminars to bring in the month of Black History and Black manhood.

The Alumni Association is hosting two seminars to bring in the month of Black History and Black manhood.

The Alumni Association is hosting two seminars to bring in the month of Black History and Black manhood.

The Alumni Association is hosting two seminars to bring in the month of Black History and Black manhood.

The Alumni Association is hosting two seminars to bring in the month of Black History and Black manhood.

The Alumni Association is hosting two seminars to bring in the month of Black History and Black manhood.

The Alumni Association is hosting two seminars to bring in the month of Black History and Black manhood.

The Alumni Association is hosting two seminars to bring in the month of Black History and Black manhood.

The Alumni Association is hosting two seminars to bring in the month of Black History and Black manhood.
School of Divinity’s Lack Of Security Cause Intrusion

DIVINITY, from Campus A1

The recent student council election did not have an armed security guard and did not have a guest past a p.m., said HUSC Vice-President Penda Henry. After the meeting, we met with Chief (Lawrence Thomas and Dean (Karen) Melbourne and we obtained an armed security guard from 9 p.m. to 11 p.m. for the campus.

President of the Divinity student council, Marcus Washington said that while the security has been upgraded, it is not 24-hour security.

Since the incident occurs on Monday, Washington said that the administration has had the quickest turnout.

"If then is the problem, you have to take showers to go to class," said junior political science major, D’Andra Fernandez, with the timing of the maintenance was more precise or when students are not in school.

The hours they say they are going to fix it is usually go over or start before and they don’t give people enough time," Fernandez said. "They should do it later in the afternoon.

Other students, like D’Andra Fernandez, with the timing of the maintenance was more precise or when students are not in school.

The hours they say they are going to fix it is usually go over or start before and they don’t give people enough time," Fernandez said. "They should do it later in the afternoon.

Student Councils Raise Money For Breast Cancer Research

CANCER, from Campus A1

"It was interesting to see the misconceptions about breast cancer and the fact that people would not want to deal with it and would neglect it," said Freshman speech communications major McKenzie Morris.

Shades of survival was the culmination of the combined efforts of the student council to raise awareness and money for breast cancer research. Donations from students totaled over $400 in a three-day period.

Hot Water Turned Off for Repairs

TOWERS, from Campus A1

every week, maybe once or twice last semester," he said. "There was one weekend last semester where the valves had to be cut off, but usually the longest the water is off eight hours.

One of the main reasons Freda Henry, vice provost for student affairs, said that the administration is not 24-hour security.

"If there is a Valhalla on the other side of the mirror, then we can't help anyone," he said. "We still have to help people who are living here.

The School of Communications and the College of Arts and Sciences invited four speakers to enlighten students about Breast Cancer awareness on Wednesday evening in Blackburn.

HOFSTRA UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW

LAW • SKILLS • VALUES

Any law school can teach you to "think like a lawyer." But will you learn the skills you need to thrive in today's competitive and global marketplace? Hofstra University School of Law is nationally recognized for the talent of its faculty and its expertise in skills training and professional responsibility.

Among other programs and opportunities:

- Hofstra Law School is the Northeast Regional Center for the National Institute for Trial Advocacy, the leader provider of advanced training for litigators.

- We offer an extraordinary selection of simulation-based training, externships and in-house clinics.

- We have unique interdisciplinary programs bringing together medical, psychological and legal experts under the Center for Children, Families and the Law and our Child Advocacy Clinic.

- We are home to the Center for Legal Advocacy, the Institute for the Study of Legal Ethics, and the Institute for the Study of Conflict Transformation, promoting cutting-edge scholarship and innovative training in trial and appellate practice, professional responsibility, and alternative dispute resolution.

- We offer extraordinary experiences in international and comparative law through our summer programs in Nice, France, and Sydney, Australia, and our winter program on the Caribbean island of Curacao.

For more information call our Admissions Office at (516) 463-5016 or visit www.hofstra.edu/law
A Moment in Howard's History:

A Moment in Howard's History:

said. "We are a trophy, but we do attain that mentally, and then instilling value into the person.

When I say 'redefine sexy,' I am the confidence of a person, and...

When I say 'redefine sexy,' I am the confidence of a person, and...

objects rather than people," she...

Spears dares to be different.

In addition to enhancing...

Spears dares to be different.

and make-up artist, aspires to offer a more positive portray-

Spears dares to be different.

Spears dares to be different.

"It's not that important. Two people in a relationship should be able to show their love so much.

Santiago does

"It's not that important. Two people in a relationship should be able to show their love so much.

Santiago does

"It's not that important. Two people in a relationship should be able to show their love so much.

Santiago does

"It's not that important. Two people in a relationship should be able to show their love so much.

Santiago does

"It's not that important. Two people in a relationship should be able to show their love so much.

Santiago does

"It's not that important. Two people in a relationship should be able to show their love so much.

Santiago does
Art, the National Palace in Haiti

Howard University President H. Patrick Swygert was honored to receive a $500,000 donation from the family of visual artist Lois Mailou Jones in the Administration Building’s Board of Trustees room Wednesday afternoon.

The donation, from Campus A1

Howard University President H. Patrick Swygert was honored to receive a $500,000 donation from the family of visual artist Lois Mailou Jones in the Administration Building’s Board of Trustees room Wednesday afternoon.

Howard University Admissions Officer An Adored Employee

SANTIAGO, from Campus A4

"He was always very mature as a student, but in a courtroom," I've gotten to see his professional side and along with that, I see that he is very personable with visitors, students, and colleagues," Little said. "He's very professional and the most dynamic person I've ever worked with."

Santiago said that if it were not for his position at Howard he would probably be pursuing a master's degree in education. Yet, no matter what the future holds, Santiago is certain that education will be on the agenda.

Howard alumna and current University Recruitment Officer Nelson Santiago is thought of as professional among colleagues and a favorite among students.

Howard University Admissions Officer An Adored Employee

Want to write for the HILLTOP?

Come grab a story at the budget meeting on Tuesday @ 7:00 PM

Election Concerns Shared at General Assembly Meeting

GENERAL ASSEMBLY MEETING, from Campus A5

"It looks like the room hasn't changed since it was the old book room," Blakemore said. The General Assembly meets every first and third Wednesday each month in the Blackburn Forum.

The Assembly is made up of all representatives of the Undergraduate Student Assembly and Graduate Student Assembly. It serves as the legislative branch of the Howard University Student Association, discussing organization grievances and handling allocated funds.

Determination of Powertrain Warranty

- 5-year, 60,000-mile Powertrain warranty

Standar Features Include:

- 160-watt Pioneer CD stereo with six speakers, including two tweeters and Scion Sound Processing / XM capable and XM satellite ready / Air condition 1 / Choice of wheel wheel cover designs / Anti-lock brakes / Power windows, door locks, and outside mirrors / 5-year, 60,000-mile Powertrain warranty

Price starting at:

- $14,195

Price as shown:

- $16,070

Pioneer CD stereo with six speakers, including two tweeters and Scion Sound Processing / XM capable and XM satellite ready / Air conditioner / Choice of wheel wheel cover designs / Anti-lock brakes / Power windows, door locks, and outside mirrors / 5-year, 60,000-mile Powertrain warranty

Locate your nearest Scion Dealer at Scion.com or call 1-886-70-SCION.

MDP includes delivery processing and handling fee, excludes taxes, title, license and optional equipment. Actual dealer price may vary. TRD USA, Inc. Toyota Racing Development. An alternative to performance parts company marketing a line of parts for Scion Vehicles. These parts are not designed, manufactured, or sold by Scion. Genuine Scion parts, and cannot be utilized for Scion warranty replacement. TRD parts are warranted by TRD, not Scion. Note that certain aftermarket equipment may not be street legal in all states and may impact your vehicle's performance or safety. EPA Estimates for 8 manual 5-speed. Your mileage may vary. See your Scion dealer for additional details on the Scion limited warranty. © 2004. Scion and the Scion logo are trademarks of Toyota Motor Corporation and Toyota is a registered trademark of Toyota Motor Corporation. For more information, call 888-70-SCION (888-70-2641) or visit scion.com.
Jury Selection Begins in Michael Jackson's Child Molestation Trial

BY DANIELLE DAWSON
Contributing Writer

Jury selection began this week at the trial of pop megastar Michael Jackson, who faces multiple counts of child molestation.

Jackson arrived in court Monday dressed in a white suit and appearing to be in good spirits. Regional assistant attorney general David Gray, who drafted the Jackson trial with his lawyers, said he did not make any move to contact any of the 400 people who were screened as potential jurors.

In total, the screening for jurors lasted for one and a half days, with the judge ruling on the first day that 500 people should be brought in to the next step of the jury selection process.

Twelve alternate jurors and 12 regular jurors will ultimately make up the jury for the trial, which is expected to last six months.

Because this case has such a high profile, many are wondering what attorneys for both the prosecution and defense will be looking for in a potential juror.

The attorneys will try to find jurors who are unbiased, have no preconceived opinions on the case, have not been exposed to outside information, and will be looking for a juror who will be open-minded and willing to listen.

A day before jury selection began, the first appearance in which he walked free, Jackson arrived in the courtroom to public approval to pre-judge him. He said that he was not ready to make a plea.

"Please keep an open mind and let me have my day in court," he said at a trial earlier this year. "If I have a fair trial, this matter will be over and, being in jail, it's the honest way as opposed to spending time in jail.

"I'm not a sexual fiend or rapist. I'm not a serial killer. I'm not violent, I'm not a rapist or killing children in the night. I'm not a white angry at rich Blacks or a black man in love with white women. I don't want to be a white supremacist," he said.

A day before jury selection began, the first appearance in which he walked free, Jackson arrived in the courtroom to public approval to pre-judge him. He said that he was not ready to make a plea.

"Please keep an open mind and let me have my day in court," he said at a trial earlier this year. "If I have a fair trial, this matter will be over and, being in jail, it's the honest way as opposed to spending time in jail.

"I'm not a sexual fiend or rapist. I'm not a serial killer. I'm not violent, I'm not a rapist or killing children in the night. I'm not a white angry at rich Blacks or a black man in love with white women. I don't want to be a white supremacist," he said.

"In this case there's going to be a lot of pressure on the public. I'm going to try to keep it real and honest. It's going to be tough. I don't want to be a white supremacist," he said.

Jackson, the 46-year-old icon of entertainment, is expected to take the stand at the outset of the trial, which is expected to last six months.

Clint Eastwood Take Lead in DNC

Former President Bill Clinton has been tapped by United Nations Secretary General Kofi Annan to serve as a special envoy in charge of international campaigns against desertification, said Clinton's spokesman.

The appointment of Clinton to the post was announced by Clinton's spokesman. Clinton is expected to work to end conflicts between those who want the government to continue to support desertification and those who want the government to end it.

The appointment of Clinton to the post was announced by Clinton's spokesman. Clinton is expected to work to end conflicts between those who want the government to continue to support desertification and those who want the government to end it.

Jackson arrived in court Monday dressed in a white suit and appearing to be in good spirits. Regional assistant attorney general David Gray, who drafted the Jackson trial with his lawyers, said he did not make any move to contact any of the 400 people who were screened as potential jurors.

In total, the screening for jurors lasted for one and a half days, with the judge ruling on the first day that 500 people should be brought in to the next step of the jury selection process.

Twelve alternate jurors and 12 regular jurors will ultimately make up the jury for the trial, which is expected to last six months.

Because this case has such a high profile, many are wondering what attorneys for both the prosecution and defense will be looking for in a potential juror.

The attorneys will try to find jurors who are unbiased, have no preconceived opinions on the case, have not been exposed to outside information, and will be looking for a juror who will be open-minded and willing to listen.

A day before jury selection began, the first appearance in which he walked free, Jackson arrived in the courtroom to public approval to pre-judge him. He said that he was not ready to make a plea.

"Please keep an open mind and let me have my day in court," he said at a trial earlier this year. "If I have a fair trial, this matter will be over and, being in jail, it's the honest way as opposed to spending time in jail.

"I'm not a sexual fiend or rapist. I'm not a serial killer. I'm not violent, I'm not a rapist or killing children in the night. I'm not a white angry at rich Blacks or a black man in love with white women. I don't want to be a white supremacist," he said.
Bush Touts Social Security in Union Address

By KEVIN HARRIS

By KEVIN HARRIS

President Bush made Social Security reform the main focus of his State of the Union address Wednesday night, a move that officials in his administration say gives younger workers the opportunity to invest some of their payroll taxes in the stock market.

The president told a joint session of Congress that Social Security would go bankrupt if it is not reformed and he called on Congress to fix the system.

"Fixing Social Security permanently will require an open, candid, and scrupulous review of the options. I know that none of these options will please everyone," Bush said. "But we have to move with even more courage and speed, because our children’s retirement security is more important than any other goal. That is why I will work with members of Congress to find the most effective combination of reforms."

Though Bush campaigned hard on Social Security reform, saying it would be a "vital issue" in his second term, he did not disclose his plan until two days before the address. Bush did not present a complete blueprint, but he discussed events surrounding Social Security.

Defenders of the plan say workers born in 1949 or before can begin investing in private accounts by 2009. By 2010, workers born in 1950 and after would be eligible for investment.

In a show of solidarity in opposition to the president’s plan, Democrats panned it Thursday, saying the system would be bankruptcy by 2011 if change did not occur. Democrats and others, have vowed Social Security would still be able to fund benefits by investing.

Democrats condemned the war in Iraq, saying Congress should fully fund the war. He praised Schlosser’s decision, in which he found the “troubling trend” of dangerous conditions to end.

The president called on prominent blacks like Oprah Winfrey and Bill Cosby to stop the enlistment of black men and women in Iraq to return home with the honor they have earned.

President Bush addressed the House of Representatives in the joint session of Congress on Wednesday morning. He is expected to ask Congress for an additional $80 billion.

Bush said Congress had addressed the war in Iraq.

Democrats condemned the president’s request for war funding, saying Congress should fully fund the war. He praised Schlosser’s decision, in which he found the “troubling trend” of dangerous conditions to end.

"It is important to acknowledge and deal with the long-term effects of this disease," Quimby said.

"There are different reasons why there is suspicion and this goes back to history and the relationship with African-Americans and the government," Quinn said.

"There has been documentation that the health of African-Americans, as well as others, is a profound concern. Therefore, we have had to take action to combat the disease," Quimby said.

"I believe that the government did not start AIDS but they can control it and refuse to act," she said. "I wish that they had a cure for AIDS that we would give to everyone, especially the poor."
Tyler Perry's

Diary of a Mad Black Woman

Time heals the heart. Faith heals the rest.

CREATIVE MINDS PRESENTS H.U. MOVIE NIGHT A FREE SCREENING OF TYLER PERRY'S "DIARY OF A MAD BLACK WOMAN" MONDAY FEB. 7TH, CRAMTON AUDITORIUM 7:00PM (LIMITED SEATING, FIRST COME FIRST SERVE) OPENS NATIONWIDE FEB. 25TH

LIONS GATE FILMS AND DIARY OF A MAD BLACK WOMAN, INC. IN ASSOCIATION WITH BET PICTURES PRESENT LIONS GATE FILMS DIARY OF A MAD BLACK WOMAN, INC. PRODUCED IN ASSOCIATION WITH THOMAS CANNON "DIARY OF A MAD BLACK WOMAN"

KIMBERLY ELISE, SHEMAR MOORE, CICELY TYSON, STEVE HARRIS, TAYLOR GROVE, TOSHAURO WINS, MONICA MARIE LEMUS, ARTHUR P. WOODS, JASON GREER, WENDY LEE YANG, MICHAEL PATTERSON, JOHN ELIJAH RUBEN

www.diaryofamadblackwomanmovie.com
PUT YOUR FIST UP
BECAUSE THE REVOLUTION
IS COMING...
WILL YOU BE READY?

HOWARD UNIVERSITY
General Elections Commission

APPLICATIONS TO RUN FOR OFFICE ARE DUE:
MONDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 2005
9 AM - 5 PM
GENERAL ELECTIONS COMMISSION OFFICE
BLACKBURN UNIVERSITY CENTER
SUITE 116

PLEASE REMEMBER TO BRING:
- Completed Candidate Application
- Candidate Petition Forms
- Code of Fair Campaign Practices
- Non-Refundable Deposit (HUSA and Trustee Candidates Only)

ALL GRADUATE SCHOOL APPLICATIONS (EXCLUDING TRUSTEE CANDIDATES) WILL BE DUE ON MONDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 2005.

For additional information, please contact:
General Elections Commission
(202) 806-4510 • howardvotes2005@yahoo.com

02.28.05
How Do
You
Read It?

Monday.
Tuesday.
Wednesday.
Thursday.
Friday.

February 28, 2005
Breaking Barriers
BY COURTNEY ELAND

With Super Bowl XXXIX only two days away, I find myself in love with the Philadelphia Eagles and rooting for them to win it all.

After losing the NFC Championship game three years ago, when the Eagles were one of the teams believed to be the Super Bowl, the team traded with the San Francisco 49ers to trade Donovan McNabb making a deal only the NFL American football quarterback to start in a Super Bowl after the likes of for one Super Bowl victory (yes, Mr. Patriotic!), or maybe in early January as the Colts could only muster a measly three points at a win by Philadelphia Eagles at Fenway Park, Mass. the Patriots, needless to say, were not ready for the picking. The Patriots, needless to say, were not ready for the picking.

The Hilltop
SPORTS
FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 2005
www.thehilltoponline.com

Patriots Aim for Second Straight
As McNabb Eyes a Philly Title
BY JONATHAN DAVIS

Super Sunday will allow two teams trying to make history in Alford Stadium in Jacksonville, Fla.

The American Football Conference (AFC) championship New England Patriots seek to become the first team to repeat as Super Bowl champions since the 1999-2000 Denver Broncos.

The National Football Conference ( NFC) championship Philadelphia Eagles seek to win their first Super Bowl title in franchise history and quarterback Donovan McNabb will be looking to become the second African-American NFL quarterback to win a Super Bowl ( after Troy Aikman).

Phillies' Finest
After losing the last three NFC championship games, the Philadelphia Eagles decided to flip into the first playoff pool and get some help, particularly on the offensive side of the ball.

They acquired Pro Bowl receiver Terrell Owens from the Baltimore Ravens.

Owens and the Eagles agreed to a $40 million, five-year contract.

The deal was made possible by the Eagles' decision to trade away wide receiver Kevin Curtis.

The Eagles are counting on Owens to help them get over the hump and make it to the Super Bowl.

Owens will be looking to have a big game and get his team one step closer to winning the Super Bowl.

The Eagles signed former Tennessee Titans defensive end Jeron Kearse and cornerback Jerricho Cotchery and defensive end Hugh Douglas both, returned to the Eagles nest.

With that nucleus intact, the Eagles began their Super Bowl quest with a 27-17 win over the New York Giants as Donovan McNabb passed for 336 yards and four touchdowns, three going to Owens, in his regular season debut.

That win on opening day thinned them to 12 wins in their first 15 outings, with the only loss coming at Pittsburgh in week nine. The Eagles used that setback to end off even more consecutive wins, which brought their record to 27-0. Their eight victory in week 12 at the Giants, gave the Eagles their fourth straight NFC West Division Title.

Thieves seemed to be going the Philadelphia Eagles way until Dec. 6, versus the Dallas Cowboys. Owens suffered a major leg injury after being tackled by cornerback Roy Williams. Despite winning the game 27-24, the Eagles were unable to take advantage with Baltimore Ravens on the Sunday night of the season, the Eagles would lose here, but Owens' injured adductor would require surgery and he would be out for a while with a hamstring to the playing field if the Eagles made it to the Super Bowl.

Entering the post-season, the Eagles faced a lot of questions. How would the wide receiver corps of Terrell Owens, Freddie Mitchell and Lewis perform without T.O. Could Donovan McNabb lead the Eagles to the Super Bowl? How would the Eagles do if they didn't play with their home field advantage in the last two games of the regular season?

The Eagles pulled off a stellar 27-17 victory against the Minnesota Vikings. McNabb threw for two touchdowns and Freddie Mitchell stepped up in the absence of Owens catching five passes for 64 yards, scoring two touchdowns.

The Eagles' "D" held Daunte Culpepper, who had four touchdowns passes and five interceptions in the wildcard playoff game against the Green Bay Packers. Against the Eagles, he could only muster one touchdown pass and two interceptions and wide out Randy Moss could only catch two balls all game.

After losing three NFC championship games in succession, the Eagles made this year's contest count. Contributions came through the roster at Philadelphia to thrilled the fans with a 27-10 victory.

The defense laid the leading running game in the league, which saw cemented their division Title....

Super Bowl Madden

This weekend, thousands will descend upon Alltell Stadium in Jacksonville Fla. for a chance at some of the most expensive tickets in the history of sports in a year that saw a 4.9 percent increase in regular season ticket prices.

Some People Don't Learn
BY ZACHARY KENWORTHY

"I think they're ripe for the picking," said Mike Vanderjagt in early January as his Indianapolis Colts patted away the Atlanta Falcons, jumping up against the defending champion New England Patriots, "They've already got one Super Bowl in this city."

The words hit me as I imagined the latter day Vanderjagt was running a short snap across the middle at M&T Bank Stadium, "Ready for the picking?" I asked myself as I picked up my bag from my bedroom floor. Is this why the Indianapolis kicker had taken on the moniker "Vander-jagt in" to variance.

The Patriots, needless to say, were not ready for the picking. In fact, they hadn't been ripe for some time, instead, quarterback Tom Brady was dragged through the snow as the Colts only mustered a measly three points at a win by Baltimore Ravens in Foxboro, Mass.

Vanderjagt had an excuse for not reading the reporting report; he is, in fact, a kinase.

The Patriots, needless to say, were not ready for the picking. In fact, they hadn't been ripe for some time, instead, quarterback Tom Brady was dragged through the snow as the Colts only mustered a measly three points at a win by Baltimore Ravens in Foxboro, Mass.

Vanderjagt had an excuse for not reading the reporting report; he is, in fact, a kinase.

The Patriots, needless to say, were not ready for the picking. In fact, they hadn't been ripe for some time, instead, quarterback Tom Brady was dragged through the snow as the Colts only mustered a measly three points at a win by Baltimore Ravens in Foxboro, Mass.

Vanderjagt had an excuse for not reading the reporting report; he is, in fact, a kinase.

The Patriots, needless to say, were not ready for the picking. In fact, they hadn't been ripe for some time, instead, quarterback Tom Brady was dragged through the snow as the Colts only mustered a measly three points at a win by Baltimore Ravens in Foxboro, Mass.

Vanderjagt had an excuse for not reading the reporting report; he is, in fact, a kinase.

The Patriots, needless to say, were not ready for the picking. In fact, they hadn't been ripe for some time, instead, quarterback Tom Brady was dragged through the snow as the Colts only mustered a measly three points at a win by Baltimore Ravens in Foxboro, Mass.

Vanderjagt had an excuse for not reading the reporting report; he is, in fact, a kinase.
Howard Prepare for Flight Against Lady Eagles

BY LINDSEY WALTON

Following another disappointing loss to the Lady Rattlers of Florida A&M, the Lady Bison basketball team will look to rebound off the 86-70 loss at home to Maryland Eastern Shore on Monday.

Howard started its home schedule by dropping a 68-64 point loss to the Lady Rattlers in Tallahassee (Feb. 2). The Lady Bison (9-11, 5 MEAC) had Monday off to travel and arrange their next MEAC game 45-44 on a lay-up which she was fouled. Tucked away in the next game 45-44 on a lay-up in the game which she was fouled. Tucked away in the game which she was fouled. The Lady Bison had to step up their play in the second half as a battle between Tallahassee Richmonds scored in of her high 46 points. Rosalind, a sophomore forward, scored a total of 11 points and grabbed 29 rebounds. Both players played well, combining for 16 points and half-court and hard-fought to win the Lady Bison 68-64.

The Lady Bison had a close match with its remaining game in the Lady Bison game, rallying to take the lead in the second half. Senior forward Lillie Rattler led 64-66. However, FAMU shot a three-pointer at the end of the game, scoring a total of 15 points and grabbing 29 rebounds. Both players played well, combining for 16 points and half-court and hard-fought to win the Lady Bison 68-64.

The Lady Bison dropped a close road game to the Lady Rattlers of Florida A&M, including a total of 53 shots while averaging a shooting percentage of 49.8 and a shooting percentage of 49.8 and a shooting percentage of 49.8. Lady Rattler lead 64-61. However, FAMU shot 39 assists per game and had a total of 31 points and grabbed 29 rebounds. Both players played well, combining for 16 points and half-court and hard-fought to win the Lady Bison 68-64.

In the loss to FAMU, senior Lady Bison Richmond Willow Brown was also in double figures with 14 in that game. Howard's bench came up big in the first half in six minutes played. Howard's bench contributed to the offense, scoring four of which were non-starters. The early season win over FAMU was the first MEAC victory for the Lady Bison and is expected to remain the team's only game winning streak.

Junior guard, Tomi Kennedy, who averages 12 points per game and 16 total assists off the bench, was named the MEAC player of the week.

Rosa Maria Abdullah, senior guard, averaged 16 points and 10 rebounds. Team leader and senior forward, Daines Hicks, was held to six points less than her average of 17 per game.

In the second meeting between the two, the Lady Rattlers won 86-70 on Monday Jan. 7, in Trenton Gymnasium Howard defeated the Lady Rattlers 86-70 on Friday. Howard's Lady Rattler lead 64-66. However, FAMU shot 39 assists per game and had a total of 31 points and grabbed 29 rebounds. Both players played well, combining for 16 points and half-court and hard-fought to win the Lady Bison 68-64.

In the loss to FAMU, senior Lady Bison Richmond Willow Brown was also in double figures with 14 in that game. Howard's bench came up big in the first half in six minutes played. Howard's bench contributed to the offense, scoring four of which were non-starters. The early season win over FAMU was the first MEAC victory for the Lady Bison and is expected to remain the team's only game winning streak.

Junior guard, Tomi Kennedy, who averages 12 points per game and 16 total assists off the bench, was named the MEAC player of the week.

Rosa Maria Abdullah, senior guard, averaged 16 points and 10 rebounds. Team leader and senior forward, Daines Hicks, was held to six points less than her average of 17 per game.
By Zachary Kenworthy
Sports Editor

In a move that was aimed to jugernaut the impression of a new undergraduate sports management major at Howard, the university decided to implement the program.

The plan is to create an undergraduate program specifically for the field of sports management. A line of work that is increasingly creating opportunities in the district and throughout the nation.

Howard University already boasts a graduate program in sports management, but the move to include an undergraduate program allows for an increasing number of students to gain the experience. The opportunities could prove endless.

The goal of pairing together the program is to empower, but many have hope to see the program get off to a good start. It is a viable program and a very viable field," continued.

The university faculty visited RFK stadium last week. "This is a viable program and a very viable field," explained Dr. Gwendolyn Thompsor. of the DC Spo11s and Entertainment

"The opportunities could prove endless. "

The university undoubtedly plans to utilize every possible opportunity, which includes Thompson and the D.C. Sports and Entertainment Commission. For years, the commission has been providing opportunities for internships and job opportunities.

"We have to do a huge amount of work to bring people to the District, to bring people to RFK, to bring people to the city, to bring people to the stadium," said Thompson. "This is a viable program and a very viable field."
Students Living the Goodlife

BY JANA HOMES

New York Exhibit Traces Migration Patterns of African-Americans Throughout History

BY ERICA WILLIAMS

New York exhibit Traces Migration Patterns of African-Americans Throughout History

Many would consider a move from New York to Atlanta as simply a change of environment. Juniors Mitra Schomburg and Kalu Ugwuomo, both junior social work majors, are living different aspects of themselves and even their distinct cultures in the two different cities.

"What we're doing here, we think Americans would do anywhere," Ugwuomo said. "We're making the best of it."

But despite their best efforts, New York and Atlanta are worlds apart. The exhibit, "In Motion: The African-American Migration," presented a new way to look at the migration patterns of African-Americans in order to change their minds and feelings about African-Americans.

"The group, which was started in 2001, has been responsible for organizing the P. Diddy, half of the group, and the B. Diddy, half of the group, to present the Schomburg Center said the exhibit "is a huge story," Dodson told the Hilltop. "This is a huge story," Dodson told the Hilltop. "This is a huge story, and we want to deal in the people's stories, the stories that the people want and people will always need people," Ghasri said. However, the group's aspirations and efforts are not easily measurable. The exhibit is a response to the question: To whom do we appeal in order to change the perceptions and behaviors of the African-American community. This is organized around the idea that in African-American communities, much of the knowledge of the history of migration.

"There's a lot of stuff going on with the students. It's rarely a 'bored' migration experience, there are many myths about African-Americans, the slave trade and migration. The exhibit attempts to dispel these myths while leaving those who attend with a gain of knowledge and an understanding of the reasons and causes of the migration patterns. Researchers for the project included students from various universities including the University of Chicago, Columbia University and the University of Delaware.

According to Dodson, racism is a huge issue for the African-American community.

"This is a huge story," Dodson told the Hilltop. "This is a huge story," Dodson told the Hilltop. "This is a huge story, and we want to deal in the people's stories, the stories that the people want and people will always need people," Ghasri said. However, the group's aspirations and efforts are not easily measurable. The exhibit is a response to the question: To whom do we appeal in order to change the perceptions and behaviors of the African-American community. This is organized around the idea that in African-American communities, much of the knowledge of the history of migration.

"There's a lot of stuff going on with the students. It's rarely a 'bored' migration experience, there are many myths about African-Americans, the slave trade and migration. The exhibit attempts to dispel these myths while leaving those who attend with a gain of knowledge and an understanding of the reasons and causes of the migration patterns. Researchers for the project included students from various universities including the University of Chicago, Columbia University and the University of Delaware.

According to Dodson, racism is a huge issue for the African-American community.

"This is a huge story," Dodson told the Hilltop. "This is a huge story," Dodson told the Hilltop. "This is a huge story, and we want to deal in the people's stories, the stories that the people want and people will always need people," Ghasri said. However, the group's aspirations and efforts are not easily measurable. The exhibit is a response to the question: To whom do we appeal in order to change the perceptions and behaviors of the African-American community. This is organized around the idea that in African-American communities, much of the knowledge of the history of migration.

"There's a lot of stuff going on with the students. It's rarely a 'bored' migration experience, there are many myths about African-Americans, the slave trade and migration. The exhibit attempts to dispel these myths while leaving those who attend with a gain of knowledge and an understanding of the reasons and causes of the migration patterns. Researchers for the project included students from various universities including the University of Chicago, Columbia University and the University of Delaware.

According to Dodson, racism is a huge issue for the African-American community.

"This is a huge story," Dodson told the Hilltop. "This is a huge story," Dodson told the Hilltop. "This is a huge story, and we want to deal in the people's stories, the stories that the people want and people will always need people," Ghasri said. However, the group's aspirations and efforts are not easily measurable. The exhibit is a response to the question: To whom do we appeal in order to change the perceptions and behaviors of the African-American community. This is organized around the idea that in African-American communities, much of the knowledge of the history of migration.

"There's a lot of stuff going on with the students. It's rarely a 'bored' migration experience, there are many myths about African-Americans, the slave trade and migration. The exhibit attempts to dispel these myths while leaving those who attend with a gain of knowledge and an understanding of the reasons and causes of the migration patterns. Researchers for the project included students from various universities including the University of Chicago, Columbia University and the University of Delaware.

According to Dodson, racism is a huge issue for the African-American community.

"This is a huge story," Dodson told the Hilltop. "This is a huge story," Dodson told the Hilltop. "This is a huge story, and we want to deal in the people's stories, the stories that the people want and people will always need people," Ghasri said. However, the group's aspirations and efforts are not easily measurable. The exhibit is a response to the question: To whom do we appeal in order to change the perceptions and behaviors of the African-American community. This is organized around the idea that in African-American communities, much of the knowledge of the history of migration.

"There's a lot of stuff going on with the students. It's rarely a 'bored' migration experience, there are many myths about African-Americans, the slave trade and migration. The exhibit attempts to dispel these myths while leaving those who attend with a gain of knowledge and an understanding of the reasons and causes of the migration patterns. Researchers for the project included students from various universities including the University of Chicago, Columbia University and the University of Delaware.

According to Dodson, racism is a huge issue for the African-American community.

"This is a huge story," Dodson told the Hilltop. "This is a huge story," Dodson told the Hilltop. "This is a huge story, and we want to deal in the people's stories, the stories that the people want and people will always need people," Ghasri said. However, the group's aspirations and efforts are not easily measurable. The exhibit is a response to the question: To whom do we appeal in order to change the perceptions and behaviors of the African-American community. This is organized around the idea that in African-American communities, much of the knowledge of the history of migration.

"There's a lot of stuff going on with the students. It's rarely a 'bored' migration experience, there are many myths about African-Americans, the slave trade and migration. The exhibit attempts to dispel these myths while leaving those who attend with a gain of knowledge and an understanding of the reasons and causes of the migration patterns. Researchers for the project included students from various universities including the University of Chicago, Columbia University and the University of Delaware.

According to Dodson, racism is a huge issue for the African-American community.

"This is a huge story," Dodson told the Hilltop. "This is a huge story," Dodson told the Hilltop. "This is a huge story, and we want to deal in the people's stories, the stories that the people want and people will always need people," Ghasri said. However, the group's aspirations and efforts are not easily measurable. The exhibit is a response to the question: To whom do we appeal in order to change the perceptions and behaviors of the African-American community. This is organized around the idea that in African-American communities, much of the knowledge of the history of migration.

"There's a lot of stuff going on with the students. It's rarely a 'bored' migration experience, there are many myths about African-Americans, the slave trade and migration. The exhibit attempts to dispel these myths while leaving those who attend with a gain of knowledge and an understanding of the reasons and causes of the migration patterns. Researchers for the project included students from various universities including the University of Chicago, Columbia University and the University of Delaware.

According to Dodson, racism is a huge issue for the African-American community.

"This is a huge story," Dodson told the Hilltop. "This is a huge story," Dodson told the Hilltop. "This is a huge story, and we want to deal in the people's stories, the stories that the people want and people will always need people," Ghasri said. However, the group's aspirations and efforts are not easily measurable. The exhibit is a response to the question: To whom do we appeal in order to change the perceptions and behaviors of the African-American community. This is organized around the idea that in African-American communities, much of the knowledge of the history of migration.

"There's a lot of stuff going on with the students. It's rarely a 'bored' migration experience, there are many myths about African-Americans, the slave trade and migration. The exhibit attempts to dispel these myths while leaving those who attend with a gain of knowledge and an understanding of the reasons and causes of the migration patterns. Researchers for the project included students from various universities including the University of Chicago, Columbia University and the University of Delaware.

According to Dodson, racism is a huge issue for the African-American community.

"This is a huge story," Dodson told the Hilltop. "This is a huge story," Dodson told the Hilltop. "This is a huge story, and we want to deal in the people's stories, the stories that the people want and people will always need people," Ghasri said. However, the group's aspirations and efforts are not easily measurable. The exhibit is a response to the question: To whom do we appeal in order to change the perceptions and behaviors of the African-American community. This is organized around the idea that in African-American communities, much of the knowledge of the history of migration.

"There's a lot of stuff going on with the students. It's rarely a 'bored' migration experience, there are many myths about African-Americans, the slave trade and migration. The exhibit attempts to dispel these myths while leaving those who attend with a gain of knowledge and an understanding of the reasons and causes of the migration patterns. Researchers for the project included students from various universities including the University of Chicago, Columbia University and the University of Delaware.
New Study Offers Keys to Making Relationships Work

By Shanae L. Harris

Students usually approach shaping their lives with the same thought: "What will make me popular?" But there is a way to make relationships better. By sharing tips on how to build strong relationships, Julian Kimble agrees that these Zealand psychologists studied early awkwardness between the two people, "he said. In a relationship, you can be thinking one thing, while your partner is thinking another thing. The partner who can read minds can have a greater advantage. Taylor said.

Another exemplary quality that Cheadle has mastered is versatility. "He is so diverse, history. He was so good at making many Black actors often arc. Another movie watch er looks forward to seeing talented Bla cks on the silver screen. Cheadle has presented a realistic portrayal of the Black community's struggles, "I have no style because my style is not fashionable," he says. "One trait: I feel that style is a trend that is inconsistent." Erica Williams, a sophomore public relations major agreed, "He is so diverse, he doesn't do the same thing in his movies." Cheadle is an Emmy-nominated actor whose credits include "Rosewood," "A Lesson Before Dying," "Devil in a Blue Dress" and "Hotel Rwanda," among many others.

HIGHLY LIAE TO HVE

Studies show that merely remembering and relating to a relationship can increase the body's self-confidence. Researchers concluded that as you form a relationship, you will feel happier and healthier. A relationship is not a growing game. Many times, it is about working on the relationship and not about the relationship itself. Julian Kimble agrees that these Zealand psychologists studied early awkwardness between the two people, "he said. In a relationship, you can be thinking one thing, while your partner is thinking another thing. The partner who can read minds can have a greater advantage. Taylor said.

Another exemplary quality that Cheadle has mastered is versatility. "He is so diverse, history. He was so good at making many Black actors often arc. Another movie watch er looks forward to seeing talented Bla cks on the silver screen. Cheadle has presented a realistic portrayal of the Black community's struggles, "I have no style because my style is not fashionable," he says. "One trait: I feel that style is a trend that is inconsistent." Erica Williams, a sophomore public relations major agreed, "He is so diverse, he doesn't do the same thing in his movies." Cheadle is an Emmy-nominated actor whose credits include "Rosewood," "A Lesson Before Dying," "Devil in a Blue Dress" and "Hotel Rwanda," among many others.

HIGHLY LIAE TO HVE

Studies show that merely remembering and relating to a relationship can increase the body's self-confidence. Researchers concluded that as you form a relationship, you will feel happier and healthier. A relationship is not a growing game. Many times, it is about working on the relationship and not about the relationship itself. Julian Kimble agrees that these Zealand psychologists studied early awkwardness between the two people, "he said. In a relationship, you can be thinking one thing, while your partner is thinking another thing. The partner who can read minds can have a greater advantage. Taylor said.

Another exemplary quality that Cheadle has mastered is versatility. "He is so diverse, history. He was so good at making many Black actors often arc. Another movie watch er looks forward to seeing talented Bla cks on the silver screen. Cheadle has presented a realistic portrayal of the Black community's struggles, "I have no style because my style is not fashionable," he says. "One trait: I feel that style is a trend that is inconsistent." Erica Williams, a sophomore public relations major agreed, "He is so diverse, he doesn't do the same thing in his movies." Cheadle is an Emmy-nominated actor whose credits include "Rosewood," "A Lesson Before Dying," "Devil in a Blue Dress" and "Hotel Rwanda," among many others.

HIGHLY LIAE TO HVE

Studies show that merely remembering and relating to a relationship can increase the body's self-confidence. Researchers concluded that as you form a relationship, you will feel happier and healthier. A relationship is not a growing game. Many times, it is about working on the relationship and not about the relationship itself. Julian Kimble agrees that these Zealand psychologists studied early awkwardness between the two people, "he said. In a relationship, you can be thinking one thing, while your partner is thinking another thing. The partner who can read minds can have a greater advantage. Taylor said.

Another exemplary quality that Cheadle has mastered is versatility. "He is so diverse, history. He was so good at making many Black actors often arc. Another movie watch er looks forward to seeing talented Bla cks on the silver screen. Cheadle has presented a realistic portrayal of the Black community's struggles, "I have no style because my style is not fashionable," he says. "One trait: I feel that style is a trend that is inconsistent." Erica Williams, a sophomore public relations major agreed, "He is so diverse, he doesn't do the same thing in his movies." Cheadle is an Emmy-nominated actor whose credits include "Rosewood," "A Lesson Before Dying," "Devil in a Blue Dress" and "Hotel Rwanda," among many others.

HIGHLY LIAE TO HVE

Studies show that merely remembering and relating to a relationship can increase the body's self-confidence. Researchers concluded that as you form a relationship, you will feel happier and healthier. A relationship is not a growing game. Many times, it is about working on the relationship and not about the relationship itself. Julian Kimble agrees that these Zealand psychologists studied early awkwardness between the two people, "he said. In a relationship, you can be thinking one thing, while your partner is thinking another thing. The partner who can read minds can have a greater advantage. Taylor said.

Another exemplary quality that Cheadle has mastered is versatility. "He is so diverse, history. He was so good at making many Black actors often arc. Another movie watch er looks forward to seeing talented Bla cks on the silver screen. Cheadle has presented a realistic portrayal of the Black community's struggles, "I have no style because my style is not fashionable," he says. "One trait: I feel that style is a trend that is inconsistent." Erica Williams, a sophomore public relations major agreed, "He is so diverse, he doesn't do the same thing in his movies." Cheadle is an Emmy-nominated actor whose credits include "Rosewood," "A Lesson Before Dying," "Devil in a Blue Dress" and "Hotel Rwanda," among many others.
X tra, X tra
READ ALL ABOUT IT...

THE REVOLUTION
WILL NOT BE TELEVISED,
BUT IT WILL BE IN THE HILLTOP.

02.28.05
Who Will Win the Super Bowl Shuffle?

SUPERBOWL, from Sports B1

Playoff win versus the Rams the week before, Atlanta could only rush for 30 yards on the ground. Falcons star quarterback Michael Vick and running back Warrick Dunn ran for 121 yards, but had no touchdowns. In an interception and was sacked four times. Twice by defensive end Derrick Burgess.

The Patriot Way

After winning Super Bowl XXXVI last season, many would think that the New England Patriots would have a severe case of hang over and would not perform with the same kind of intensity. They proved that to be untrue, particularly in the team's Week 1 matchup versus the Indianapolis Colts, who were designated as the AFC Championship Game to get to the Super Bowl last year. Quarterback Tom Brady, who threw for 1010 yards, was sharp and a missed wide receiver from the Cincinnati Bengals, who threw a touchdown pass for 3,692 yards, had 28 touchdowns and 17 interceptions. Brady's main targets were wide receivers David Givens, David Patten and Deion Branch. The offense also got a huge boost this season thanks to the acquisition of running back Corey Dillon from the Cincinnati Bengals, Dillon rushed for 1,137 yards, which was a New England record for a single season and scored 12 touchdowns.

In the divisional playoffs versus the Indianapolis Colts, the Pats once again put the clamps on one of the top offenses in the NFL history. The Colts, who averaged 32.8 points per game during the regular season and lit up the Denver Broncos for 49 points in the wild-card playoff round the week before, were held to a field goal in their 29-10 loss to the Pats. Manning, who passed for an NFL record 49 touchdowns in the regular season, had no touchdown pass in the playoffs. In the AFC championship game at Heinz Field, home of the Pittsburgh Steelers, the Patriots showed the nation who the real champions of the AFC are.

The Patriots offense scored at will against the number one ranked defense in the NFL and ran up 322 total yards. The defense came up with a near Oriental in middle linebacker Tyvon Branch and the other by strong safety Rodney Harrison, which he ran back 86 yards for a touchdown. That put the Pats up 2-0 and they never looked back, stunning the Steelers 41-27 and helping them to return to the Super Bowl. The win also ran Patriots' head coach Bill Belichick's record to 9-1 in the postseason, tying him with legendary coach Vince Lombardi for best record in the post-season.

On Sunday, two teams will be competing not just for the Super Bowl title, but to make their mark in history. The Pats will try to become the first team in seven years to win back-to-back Super Bowls and the second team to win three Super Bowls in four years. The Philadelphia Eagles will try to win their first Super Bowl in franchise history and quarterback Donovan McNabb is expected to make his first Super Bowl start.

That was Then... Beginning 2.28.05...

monday... tuesday... wednesday... thursday... friday.

The Hilltop Goes Daily.
Juvenile Behind “Blaster” Worm Receives Light Sentence

Jeffrey Lee Parson, a 16-year-old from Mississippi, was using the computer name "br34ker" when he created a worm that infected and rained close to 120,000 computers in 2002. He initially pled not guilty, but changed his plea to guilty according to USA guidance or support for him.

Parson was facing a potential sentence of up to 10 years in prison and a $250,000 fine. Instead, he will serve all months in a low-security prison, and is months of community service according to USA Today.

Our View:
If judges are going to take negligence into account, it should be applied universally.

BBK Paraphernalia Auctioned in Michigan

A paraphernalia auction in Howell, Mich., drew a large crowd of people eager to bid on knox Klan paraphernalia, according to the Associated Press. Bidders could sort through old robes, patches, buttons, and shoes that were once worn by Ku Klux Klan members. The rules said for close to a dozen pieces, one of which was not a piece of KKK paraphernalia, but that was not bid on by anyone, according to the article. The bidder emerged from the crowd.

Our View:
To deny setting rights denies a part of history we have to acknowledge and learn from.

BET’s College Downhill

This is the true story of eight stragglers picked to live on a ranch and attend Langston University. They will have their lives taped, to find out what happens when, people stop having fun while surviving rough and tumble. Meanwhile, the national press is all moved. We’ve been invited to fly to Dallas, Houston, and Johnny Cash, Tom Jones, and Alvin on this season of BET’s “Hilltop.”

Our View:
The low-budget series is a blip opportunity to showcase HBCUs.

The Nation’s Largest Black Collegiate Newspaper

THE HILLTOP

Our View:
We also recognize that not every person who fed up with the items was racist. Not all whites are racists; however, some items could be harmful. Representatives from museums and historians also gathered to add to their historical collections for the sake of education. Someone could also argue that black people shouldn’t have been killed by black paramedics, but that doesn’t change the fact.

THE HILLTOP

Our View:
To deny setting rights denies a part of history we have to acknowledge and learn from.

A paraphernalia auction in Howell, Mich., drew a large crowd of people eager to bid on knox Klan paraphernalia, according to the Associated Press. Bidders could sort through old robes, patches, buttons, and shoes that were once worn by Ku Klux Klan members. The rules said for close to a dozen pieces, one of which was not a piece of KKK paraphernalia, but that was not bid on by anyone, according to the article. The bidder emerged from the crowd.

Our View:
To deny setting rights denies a part of history we have to acknowledge and learn from.

THE HILLTOP

Our View:
To deny setting rights denies a part of history we have to acknowledge and learn from.

THE HILLTOP

Our View:
To deny setting rights denies a part of history we have to acknowledge and learn from.

THE HILLTOP

Our View:
To deny setting rights denies a part of history we have to acknowledge and learn from.

THE HILLTOP

Our View:
To deny setting rights denies a part of history we have to acknowledge and learn from.

THE HILLTOP

Our View:
To deny setting rights denies a part of history we have to acknowledge and learn from.
Heartbreak Hotel Rwanda

KAREN D. LAWRENCE

These days it's not often that we come across a movie with substance, one that captures our very own humanity. The world seems to have moved away from international events, forcing us to take a hurried look at ourselves. Such a thing happened to me last Friday when I went with a couple of friends to see "Hotel Rwanda," directed by Terry George (starring Don Cheadle, Sophie Okonedo, Nick Nolte, and others among others).

Cheadle is an African American actor and director, born February 29, 1964, in Cleveland, Ohio. He is known for his roles in films such as "Hotel Rwanda," "Dead Poets Society," and "The Color Purple." He has received critical acclaim for his work and has won several awards, including an Academy Award nomination.

In a brief discussion with my friends, one of them remarked that "Hotel Rwanda," released in 2004, is one of the most significant of the entire movie.

What Cheadle Olarkin was saying is that although Black Americans were involved in the United States with great benefits, this society saw them as above Africans. Here's where my anger subsides to a mere, shall we say, a minimal and big wins: Yet when a White person does something to upset the Black community, we suddenly pull to the same level, putting the White in center. Still, the Black and White system of the African population. We are looking at the same issue, but one thing, the very idea that the Rwandans were left to defend the genocide by themselves without any outside help does not hold water, "Africa, one mile. It matters not to any other world power what that matter wants to help another country is when they believe it is in their best interest, like the Rwandan general who refused to help Rwandan refugees because he was offered a salary."

I sat fuming in my seat, having been driven away, summarizing over different issues, but in that same moment, I felt that we should try to do better. Even though we may be separated from Africa by culture and conditions, we are all human, and we all have blood. This is where our brothers and sisters are, and we should be concerned about them. I often hear complaints about the many countries that are more advanced in technology and have power over nations in Africa. The power we have is increased by the number of Africans who are living in the United States. In our world there is a greater need for workers for the American industry. Thus, the people turn to America's core to fend of starvation and to becoming workers for the American industry. Therefore, the people turn to America's core and all its possessions. Theperiphery will respond by making an amazing profit. The cost of life will be reduced to a minimum, and we must happen tomorrow is that you are the writer. I wrote for me.

In the final analysis, it's obvious that there is a need for peace in the world. We should not let our differences divide us. We are all Africans by culture and descent. We should always strive to help Africans and to strive to help them. Such a thing happened to me last Friday when I watched "Hotel Rwanda." It's a powerful movie, and it made me realize that there is a need for more, not less, in this world.

UZOMA PETER LANE

Dear JON SHEPPARD,

Every week I read the front page of the Hilltop newspaper, through the Karen reporting, information from the many stories that appear in the front page of the sports section, I notice there are very few Hilltop articles, and the Hilltop is not published. The missing thing is not only me. I wonder if we could be captured on film doing a great play or being a great winner, but to my disappointment, there is nothing there about softball. Therefore, it is my opinion that there is something that is not being talked about and that needs to be brought to the forefront for discussion and growth. Our fans are the same as families that we greatly respect. The fact is that the fans of people passing by and that is the reason we are interested in softball. Our games are announced by the Hilltop, and there may be some on any of our sites. People are motivated and informed by what is going on at the University. All fans had to read late about our games and would wish to know if they have known so there could be happy thoughts. I wondered whether the Hilltop needed a writer for this article, but I believe that there would be more than happy thoughts if a writer were to write about our teams. I write for my own self-satisfaction, but for the last two years, but I believe I will write for my Hilltop. Softball is about to open soon, and Howard will want to see us.

Thanks,

SYMPLEE KAYOTICALLY IN LOVE WITH SOFTBALL

Potato Head Valentine's Day

MENA NORTON

Girl has a really great personality, just needs a good edge line and a new wardrobe. It's absolutely gorgeous but her attitude is a little... well ... stinky. It's been hurt but before that's why he acts so shy in public. It's rare when we're alone. He's not obsessed with sea, it just thinks he knows what he's doing, too. So, that's not his girl, he would have told me. Nah, man don't a woman, she's just mising. She's too busy with classes to pay her own bills so why's help. I come on, she's cute after the weave and the weave. That's not her. She's nice when we're alone. He's not a, she's the one that has to work. Her breath isn't that bad. She's nice when we're alone. He's not a, she's just busy. Her breath isn't that bad. She's nice when we're alone. He's not a, she's just busy.

This Valentine's Day doesn't have to be tough for everyone because you have the bounty of perfection and victory. It may even be telling you that you could actually enjoy yourself and let love in. You don't have to be to enjoy the holiday (though that's always nice). Think of the people in your life in little plastic figures, put the right one together and make dinner reservations. Getting a good last minute gift that turns out to be exactly what your heart desired because it is exactly what you hoped for. When something plain-old, old is asked and added something new.

Dear JON SHEPPARD,

I am compelled to write to you again to forewarn you of the danger inherent in allowing the poor to remain on the periphery of nations that feed on their suffering and exploitation. Many find out days later about the Rwandans' plight also made this happen. It on TV, we say, 'Oh, that's going on somewhere in Africa.' We say it on TV, we say, 'Oh, that's going on somewhere in Africa.'

The Rwandans' plight also made this happen. It on TV, we say, 'Oh, that's going on somewhere in Africa.'

FEBRUARY 4, 2005 THE HILLTOP

I applaud those with something to say about something. That's what we are doing. We would rather block the future of our own people, and when we get to the root of the issue, it's over nothing important.

For one, there is division among the Hutu and the Tutsis. Black in the U.S. For one, there is division among the Hutu and the Tutsis. Cheadle, Sophie Okonedo, Nick Nolte, and others among others.

Our intellect and kindness and substance, one that connected us with the writer. I wrote for me.

POTATO HEAD. Valentine's Day.

It's so amazing that you're dirt.

UZOMA PETER LANE
Happy Birthday Danielle Ruth!!!
From Audacious

151 S Street NW (Near Shaw Hall) Fantastical renovation 1 lg. 1 br near metro, 2nd floor new appr. CAC 10 Cell little well prepared, on-site laundry.
1250 202-382-2642

Buy Black!
Howard Deli
1. Shortie Special
4.95
2. Sandwich Special
5.90
3. Sub Special
6.75...
All featuring "Ghetto Sweet" Iced Tea!
2612 Georgia Ave., Northwest
MC-Visa-Debit.
Kenny & PePe

WEBSITE

To receive
Get Involved.
NAACP
General Body Meeting
7:30 Blackburn Forum
Freeman has hot deal rooms for rent on Capitol Hill. Rent is $450.00 per month, students that are neat and courteous are offered. Contact: Ms. Fonke
202-543-7945

“SEX!!”
Punch Out
Thursday, Feb. 10th
6:30PM

THE MUSLIM STUDENT ASSOCIATION
presents
A SHOW-TIME AT BLACKHILL
A talented show-case in raise money for the terrorist relief in Africa
Audition in Drew Hall's Lounge
8th, 9th, 10th 7-9:30PM
All talent is welcomed! Show will be quite stylish and prices will be given to the acts.
COME OUT TO SUPPORT TSUNAMI RELIEF IN AFRICA!!
For more information:
e-mail: homespunreach@yahoo.com

The Brothers of Iota Phi Theta Fraternity, Inc, Alpha Tau Chapter
proudly present: IOTA Joke/Joint - Open Mic
Today in the Blackburn Punchout at 7pm
Hosted by D-Mite with DJ Underdog featuring Mclo-D +the Rados
Admission is Free!

THE UNDERGRADUATE STUDENT ASSEMBLY IS CALLING ALL ARTISTIC FAUN FOR Vol. 12 OF THE ONION JOURNAL
Please Submit:
Poems
Short Stories
Photographs
Illustrations
for publication in this year's journal
Applications in Suite 100 of Blackburn Deadline 2/8/05

NC/NW Black History Program
Looking for talent
Singers, Actors, Dancers, Poets, Etc.
Email NC/NW, Howard
Section to (email) com
If you are interested

Courtney: Way to get back in there, I guess you gonna be in there like swimwear.
Toni: The missing Hilltopper.

Opportunities
Writers, Cartoonist, and Editors wanted for the Georgia Avenue Defender. If interested, email georgia_aave_defender@yahoo.com

HAPPY BELATED 21ST BIRTHDAY
LAUREN STEPHENS!!!
We appreciate you for those late night cover stories!
- The Hilltop Staff

#1 Beauty Supply
5928 Georgia Ave NW
(202) 291-4980
As seen on BET and MTV
Located on GA Ave, just North of Missouri Ave, NW.
Next to McDonald’s, Across the Street from Curtis Chevrolet.
Going North on Georgia Ave, towards Maryland.

All HILLTOPICS
Are due, paid in full, the Tuesday and Friday before publication date.
Announcements by campus organizations for meetings, seminars or nonprofit are charged $5 for the first 20 words and $1 for every 5 words thereafter.
Individuals advertising for the purpose of announcing a service, buying or selling are charged as local companies with a rate of $10 for first 20 words and $2 for every 5 words thereafter.

Want to travel the world on a budget? Foreign Service event 2/11/05 11:30 in -reception, 12:30pm
Location: Bancroft Center Contact L.B. society@yahoo.com

The Brothers of Sigma Pi National Honor Fraternity, Inc, present
Romanticism: A Showcase of HU’s Best TONIGHT!
Friday, February 4, 2005
Blackburn Hilltop Lounge, 7pm
If you’re single, come ready to mingle. If you’re not, you come to have fun.

NC/NW Black History Program
Looking for talent
Singers, Actors, Dancers, Poets, Etc.
Email NC/NW, Howard
Section to (email)
If you are interested

#1 Beauty Supply
5928 Georgia Ave NW
(202) 291-4980
As seen on BET and MTV
Located on GA Ave, just North of Missouri Ave, NW.
Next to McDonald’s, Across the Street from Curtis Chevrolet.
Going North on Georgia Ave, towards Maryland.

WEEKLY BREAD

do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about itself; each day has enough worry of its own
Matthew 6:34