MANUSCRIPT DIVISION

Scope Note

The papers of Robert Shaw Wilkinson (1865-1932), educator and president of the Colored, Normal, Industrial Agricultural and Mechanical College of South Carolina (now South Carolina State University), document his career as an original faculty member and as president from 1911 until his death in 1932. As president, also, of the Association of Land Grant Colleges for Negroes, Dr. Wilkinson continually assessed the condition of these segregated schools and addressed the disparities between colored and white teachers' salaries, and between the colored and white facilities, equipment and buildings. Under his leadership, the South Carolina school experienced enormous growth in its physical facilities as well as in its academic and extra-curricular offerings.

The collection was donated in 1979 by Dr. Wilkinson's son, Robert S. Wilkinson, M.D., and consists of 1½ linear feet.

The bulk of the collection consists of a bound scrapbook (928 pages along with a detailed table of contents) compiled by Mabel C. James, Dr. Wilkinson's secretary from 1917 - 1930. The volume dates from 1925 (?) - 1932. Included are general statements about Dr. Wilkinson's life and work, reports, correspondence, news clippings, lectures, printed programs, articles, addresses, and information on the state of Negro education.. There is also material related to his service as District Deputy Grand Master of the Second Mason District Free and Accepted Masons.
