12-4-1998

The Hilltop 12-4-1998

Hilltop Staff

Follow this and additional works at: https://dh.howard.edu/hilltop_902000

Recommended Citation
https://dh.howard.edu/hilltop_902000/229

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the The Hilltop Digital Archive at Digital Howard @ Howard University. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Hilltop: 1990-2000 by an authorized administrator of Digital Howard @ Howard University. For more information, please contact lpez.matthews@howard.edu.
Protect Personal Property, Students Warned

By Miss Marva

As Howard University students prepare to return home for the upcoming spring break, the Office of Residence Life says it’s working to ensure residence halls and safeguard the personal property of students.

Molle Hopkins, acting associate dean of Residence Life, says the office is asking students to take expensive items such as televisions, stereos, and computers to the residence halls before heading home for the winter break, which begins next week.

"The locks will be changed temporarily on the outside doors of each dormitory to prevent possible intruders from coming in," she said.

A Residence Life memorandum issued this week told students to unplugging electrical appliances and complete specific procedures such as unplugging electrical appliances and leaving times and―guarding their dormitories.

The procedures, the memorandum said, will help prevent fires and ensure a safe and secure environment through the winter holiday.

"We are asking all students to be extra cautious and follow procedures outlined in the memorandum," Hopkins said.

The University does not take responsibility for any damage to personal property.

Wednesday, March 4, 1998

Hilltop Staff/ERIC HALL

Columbia Heights Metro Station Construction Sparks Complaints

By RAYMOND ROY

Hilltop Staff Writer

Although work has only just started on the $16 million expansion of the Columbia Heights Metro Station, some have already complained about the noise.

"I've been here since Monday morning," said one resident who did not want to be identified. "We've seen people out shoveling snow off the sidewalks, including the Metro." The resident added that the noise was "very loud, very heavy, and very persistent.

"I've been here since Monday morning," said another resident who did not want to be identified. "I'm not sure what's going on, but it's been loud and heavy.

The University does not take responsibility for any damage to personal property.

Wednesday, March 4, 1998

Hilltop Staff/ERIC HALL

Researchers Find New Clues to HIV Replication

By JASON T. NORTH

The Howard Chronicle

A team of Howard researchers have developed a new method of measuring viral load, which they say could provide insight into viral dynamics.

"This method is a valuable tool for researchers studying viral replication in vivo," said lead investigator Dr. Karen Brown. "We're excited about the potential of this technique to advance our understanding of viral infection and disease progression.

The technique, which involves capturing and analyzing viral RNA from infected cells, was recently published in the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.

Tuesday, March 3, 1998

Hilltop Staff/ERIC HALL

The Big Cook-Off

By PETER A. ADAMS

The Howard Chronicle

Over 50 teams gathered in the Student Center on March 2 to participate in the first annual Big Cook-Off, a competition to determine the best recipe for a dish featuring Howard University's signature dish: jambalaya.

"The event was a huge success," said event organizer Mr. John Smith. "We had over 50 teams participate, and the recipes were all incredibly diverse and delicious.

The winning team was announced at the end of the event, and the recipe will be featured in a special edition of the Hilltop Chronicle.

Tuesday, March 3, 1998

Hilltop Staff/ERIC HALL

Graduation Rates Rise Among HU Athletes

By KRISTIE K. BROWN

The Howard Chronicle

Nearly all of Howard University's athletes graduate on time, according to a report released last month by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Since 1991, atheni¬
nally nearly 90 percent of the athletes who entered Howard University's Men's Basketball program this year, said he attributed Howard's successful graduation rates to the strong community relationships with athletic excellence.

"It's important to support athletes because the University is an important sponsor," the report said. "We need to support our athletes and give them the resources they need to succeed.

The report also noted that Howard University's Men's Basketball program has one of the highest graduation rates among Division I basketball programs.

Wednesday, March 4, 1998

Hilltop Staff/ERIC HALL

For General Assembly, Quorum Remains Elusive

By ANDREW T. O'BRIEN

The Howard Chronicle

The General Assembly held a special meeting Tuesday, but failed to reach a quorum, leaving the fourth consecutive month the Assembly has failed to muster enough members.

While the absence of representatives present did not affect the meeting's agenda, some members expressed concern about the Assembly's ability to conduct business.

The Assembly met to discuss a motion to adjourn, and to consider a resolution requesting the President to convene the Assembly.

The meeting was called to order by the President, who noted that the quorum was not present. "We need a quorum to conduct business," said the President.

The meeting adjourned without action.

Wednesday, March 4, 1998

Hilltop Staff/ERIC HALL

CAMPUS

The Voice of Howard University Since 1924

Whether you're on campus or at home, stay connected to the Howard Voice wherever you are. Listen to our latest news and updates, right from the Hilltop. Subscribe today to stay informed.

See Issue 4, Volume 2, No. 15
Howard Gospel Choir Travels To U.S Virgin Islands

By Allan R. Clyde

The Howard Gospel Choir recently made a trip to the Virgin Islands, where they performed at the popular St. Thomas Jazz Festival. The trip was organized by Howard University's Alumni Club and was funded by a special scholarship fund established by the Howard Alumni Association.

The Choir traveled throughout the island, providing entertainment at various venues including schools, churches, and local events. The trip culminated in a performance at the Virgin Islands Jazz Festival, where the Choir was awarded the Grand Prize for their performance.

The trip was a great success, according to Dr. John Jones, the Choir's founder and publisher of the Howard Gospel Magazine. "It was an incredible experience," said Jones. "We were received with open arms everywhere we went. It was a true testament to the power of music to bring people together."
“Finals are necessary because no one can determine whether you pass or fail your class.”

“Yes, definitely, because I think what you learn in the class is important.”

“Something is needed to ensure student knowledge of subjects, but final exams generally test people’s memorization skills rather than what someone learned.”

“No. I feel that our performance has been evaluated—how are we supposed to review everything that we have done this semester in two or three days?”

—Rachet Hunt, junior

—Paul Alvaranga, graduate student

—Jason Reed, junior

—Erica Saunder, graduate student

—Melanie McGhee, sophomore

Compiled by Bishop Seabury, April O. Turner and Photographer Eric H. Hill

GE Student Conference Builds Leadership Skills

By Mia Somershell

Hitop Staff Writer

Leadership was the theme word at last week’s General Electric Student Conference in Baltimore. The event, designed to build leadership skills of the students so they can move more marketable in the future, included several leadership developing activities, most of which required group work.

One of the more hands-on activities of the conference was one that required everyone role-playing. Students were placed in groups that acted as regional development teams for a Land Acquisition Competition. The plans were to determine which areas within a 44-acre land mass were suitable for farming.

The ultimate goal was to recognize which properties GE represented. Students developed an overall plan and, halfway through the project, switched the roles spontaneously. The interactive exercise addressed the idea of risk taking, team building, working under pressure, and some of the moment changes in management. The teams found the exercise difficult, but enlightening.

Lori Parker, president of the Society, Marketing Group of GE Financial Assurance, addressed the forward student about using the quality of “scrut” to succeed in a “Stash,” which is a scenario involving a lack of financing. She talked about the visualization and eventual achievement of goals.

The student participants were also given a presentation about how to sell the Wall Street Journal effectively, which stresses having a good presentation and so forth.

This activity was designed to give the forward student knowledge of business affairs. Amanda Chen, although not present with the conference that Wednesday, could have given a longer presentation and perhaps had a gift for the students involved to the Wall Street Journal. With many of the students from the School of Engineering, she was disappointed that there was only one representative from the engineering side of GE.

GE has identified and addressed the issue of under-representation of the engineering field, said Kelly Wright, a Mark ell in GE’s Six Sigma Quality Program. She did most of the work to make the point that the conference was successful: "One thing we will definitely change going into the January event is that we will probably get some people involved.”

She said the trip was comprised of 42 students, including 15 engineering majors, 3 business majors and one political science major. Waller, a junior, is a senior electrical engineering major, has recently accepted a job offer with GE. He said that the benefit received from the conference would be that he is more marketable in the future.

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority Lends a Helping Hand by Volunteer Service

Residents Complain About Construction

MTERI/ON A1

As in City’s variety style, overers complained that the various construction had dramatically slowed business.

‘Carts can’t pass through the section and people are scared to walk across the street,” said one of the store’s owners, who did not wish to give her full name, saying the situation is intolerable.

“Some of the people have called to say, ‘We almost closed down. We lose money everyday,” said the owner of another store’s owner, who declined to be identified.

As she shopped in one of the stores, the owner felt that nothing can be done, except to be patient. She said he was unaware of explicit measures to be taken to prevent such things from happening again.

A community center will be built on Irving Street, but Mallory had reservations. "There won’t have to walk all the way to the new station, but Mallory had reservations. "There won’t have to walk all the way to the new station,” she said. "Of course with any community construction workers begin their shifts earlier in construction, was considered. On most days, construction would be “dressed up.”

Many of the residents have seen their neighborhood’s crumbling building converted into a new addition. Later in construction, was considered. On most days, construction would be “dressed up.”

Among other community service activities, one of the store’s owners was handing out books to children and parents that attended the event. "The kids really did open up to us and we will do again,” Olden said. "The kids really did open up to us and we will do again," Olden said. "The kids really did open up to us and we will do again," Olden said.

Members of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority Inc., Alpha Chapter conducted three weeks of work at the Purple Pines Care Center, furnishing the Light. 30 Years of Alpha Excellence, with volunteer service at the Center for Community Non-violence on Saturday, Nov. 21.

Members of the sorority's national sisterhood organized, trained, and books for the children. The first day, the sorority read stories, handed out books to the children and performed a variety of activities, such as drama. The second day, they performed a prayer service. "The kids really did open up to us and we will do again," Olden said.

With service to hundreds of cities around the world, United Flight Attendants have the opportunity to experience new and exciting cultures on a daily basis. We are able to reach 82 vertically and be no taller than 6'2" in height. Flight Attendant. Travel Privileges, Exceptional Benefit Package.

Explore the World

As a Flight Attendant, a career with United Airlines can take you everywhere.

With service to hundreds of cities around the world, United Flight Attendants have the opportunity to experience new and exciting cultures on a daily basis. We are able to reach 82 vertically and be no taller than 6'2" in height. Flight Attendant. Travel Privileges, Exceptional Benefit Package.
Graduation Rate Among American Athletes Drops to 57 Percent

Howard University Students to Protect Valuables

University Officials Urge Students to Protect Valuables

HIV Rates Soar Among Heterosexual Women

How to Find and Win Grants and Contracts

Office of Research Administration

- Get an insider's look at the federal grants marketplace and find out how to become the grant opportunities that are right for your organization.
- Gain the specialized knowledge you need to be a winner in the competitive private-sector funding arena.
- Receive a copy of David Buell's popular "How To" Grant Manual. Successful Grantwriting Techniques for Obtaining Public and Private Grants, Third Edition (a $29.95 value) and other handouts.

How to Find and Win Grants and Contracts

Office of Research Administration

- Get an insider’s look at the federal grants marketplace and find out how to become the grant opportunities that are right for your organization.
- Gain the specialized knowledge you need to be a winner in the competitive private-sector funding arena.
- Receive a copy of David Buell’s popular "How To" Grant Manual. Successful Grantwriting Techniques for Obtaining Public and Private Grants, Third Edition (a $29.95 value) and other handouts.

 Workshop Dates:
Monday, December 14, 1998 or Tuesday, December 15, 1998

Time: 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Cost: $175 per person (limited to 40 people per day)

Location: Howard University
The America III Building - The Forum

Contact Person(s):
Ms. Betty Fontaine - 800-559-3137
Ms. Debra Probst - 800-667-3137

Meet the Instructors:
David G. Buell, the author of the "How To" Grant Manual in its third edition, is one of the leading authorities in grant solicitations. He has served all aspects of grants and is the book’s recommender for the American Council on Education’s Professional Development Program for faculty, administrators, and others in education.

The Armour J. Blackburn Center, The Foundation

HOWARD UNIVERSITY
THE HOWARD UNIVERSITY STUDENT ASSOCIATION
OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

"Every generation of students must find its destiny, and other faithful by choice..."

Howard E. Washington

On behalf of the entire student body, it is my humble honor to extend our congratulations to the faculty and extended families of Howard University. We are sincerely thankful, and indebted to God and you for sharing Howard with us.

Kwame has been, and will always be, an inspiration to us all. His dedication and commitment to justice, facts, organization, and the destruction of communism remains unparalleled. His philosophy is The Politics Of The Oppressed.

His intellectual, analytical, and aspirational achievements have taught us that we should live our lives, in such a way, that God, our nation, and our parents will never regret we gave them. Through a purpose-oriented lifestyle, he taught the power of education, sacrifice, and self-reliance. By his actions, he taught us that we must work hard, be strong and valuable, and in that way, we become students of what he himself was a great teacher and student he was, teaching and learning, from his beginning to his end.

Kwame has owned his place among the immortals of our time. In our consciousness, he is the complete, Martin Luther King Jr., Fannie Lou Hamer, Coretta Scott King, Marcus Garvey, and Harriet Tubman. Long live Kwame!"
Happy Holidays
From
The Hilltop

HOWARD UNIVERSITY SENIORS
On January 29, 1999 In DC...

Interview On-Site With Over 70 Outstanding Employers At Careers '99 New York
Collectively these employers are recruiting for over 2,500 openings, and set aside positions to be filled by Careers '99 student participants. Now in its 13th year, Careers '99 is an extremely effective strategy to increase your number of second interviews and job offers. One major reason is that students attend by invitation only! To be considered for an invitation, please apply online at www.careerconferences.com or fax an updated resume with current GPA to:
C99DC - (203) 741-0033 by 12/14/98. Invited students will be mailed a personal invitation and additional Conference information (only invited students will receive a reply).
There Is Absolutely No Charge Of Any Kind To Apply Or Attend

MAXIMIZE YOUR JOB SEARCH WITH CAREERS '99 - APPLY TODAY!!
Announcing a store where you can't try anything on. The Levi's® Online Store. www.levi.com
NATION/WORLD

South Africa Attempts to Deal with Racism in Social Institutions

By Michelle McLean

Headline Staff Writer

Sports is the most prominent social institution in South Africa. Since the country acquired its independence in 1994, it has attempted to achieve apartheid and integrate political and social institutions. Despite the country's efforts, sports is still an area of conflict and social inequality.

President Nelson Mandela, the National Sports Council or NOS, began an investigation of SARU, the South African Rugby Union, for alleged race discrimination. The NOS is an independent body that was set up after the end of apartheid to ensure that sports in South Africa are non-racial and have a positive impact on the lives of the people. The investigation is looking into whether SARU has been fair in its selection process and in its treatment of players from different racial groups.

The SARU has denied any wrongdoing, but the NOS has ordered the union to provide evidence of its policies. The NOS is expected to release its report soon, and the outcome is expected to have a significant impact on the future of rugby in South Africa.

The South African government has been consistent in its efforts to promote equality in sport, and the NOS has played a crucial role in this process. The government has invested heavily in sport, and the NOS has been a key partner in this effort. The government has also been active in promoting the rights of athletes, and the NOS has been instrumental in this process.

Despite these efforts, there are still significant challenges in sports in South Africa. The country has a long history of racial discrimination, and this has left a legacy of inequality in sport. The government has been active in trying to address this legacy, but there is still a long way to go.

The NOS has been instrumental in this process, and it has played a key role in promoting equality in sport. The NOS is expected to release its report soon, and the outcome is expected to have a significant impact on the future of rugby in South Africa.

The government has been consistent in its efforts to promote equality in sport, and the NOS has played a crucial role in this process. The government has invested heavily in sport, and the NOS has been a key partner in this effort. The government has also been active in promoting the rights of athletes, and the NOS has been instrumental in this process.

Despite these efforts, there are still significant challenges in sports in South Africa. The country has a long history of racial discrimination, and this has left a legacy of inequality in sport. The government has been active in trying to address this legacy, but there is still a long way to go.

The NOS has been instrumental in this process, and it has played a key role in promoting equality in sport. The NOS is expected to release its report soon, and the outcome is expected to have a significant impact on the future of rugby in South Africa.

The government has been consistent in its efforts to promote equality in sport, and the NOS has played a crucial role in this process. The government has invested heavily in sport, and the NOS has been a key partner in this effort. The government has also been active in promoting the rights of athletes, and the NOS has been instrumental in this process.

Despite these efforts, there are still significant challenges in sports in South Africa. The country has a long history of racial discrimination, and this has left a legacy of inequality in sport. The government has been active in trying to address this legacy, but there is still a long way to go.
Along the Color Line

Looking down over the Johannesburg skyline, one can be overwhelmed by the stark contrast between the affluence of a few and the poverty of many. The city is a microcosm of the broader challenges faced by South Africa as a whole. The view from the academic institutions and the daily lives of students offers a glimpse into the complexities of life in this country.

The University of South Africa (Unisa), the largest university in southern Africa, has a long history of serving students from diverse backgrounds. It is often referred to as a "people's university" due to its inclusive nature and the fact that it was one of the first institutions to offer higher education to Black students. The institution's history is intertwined with the struggles for liberation and development of the Black community in South Africa.

In the 1960s, students fought against apartheid, demanding educational rights and equal opportunities. This struggle continued through the years and led to the establishment of the National Student Association (NSA), which was one of the main organizations leading the student movement.

The NSA played a crucial role in the struggle against apartheid, advocating for the rights of all students regardless of their race. They organized protests, rallies, and teaching boycotts to pressure the government into making concessions. In 1966, the University of South Africa was declared a "white university," which led to a boycott of the institution by Black students.

During this period, many students faced significant challenges. They often had to juggle their studies with part-time work, as financial resources were limited. The apartheid government also implemented strict laws that limited the rights and freedoms of Black students. Despite these obstacles, the student movement continued to grow, drawing support from a wide range of individuals and organizations.

In the decades that followed, the University of South Africa has continued to evolve, adapting to the changing political landscape and addressing the needs of its diverse student body. Today, the institution stands as a testament to the resilience and determination of South Africa's students and the broader movement for liberation.

As we reflect on the legacy of the student movement, it is important to remember the sacrifices made and the progress achieved. The story of the University of South Africa is a story of hope, resilience, and the power of collective action. It serves as a reminder that even in the darkest of times, there is always the potential for light to emerge.

The Strength which Endures

Looking beyond the structural inequalities and social challenges, the University of South Africa continues to be a beacon of hope for future generations. It is a place where students from diverse backgrounds come together to learn, grow, and challenge the status quo. The institution's commitment to excellence in education and research is unwavering, providing a platform for intellectual exchange and the pursuit of knowledge.

In the face of adversity, the University of South Africa has demonstrated its strength and resilience. It has adapted and evolved to meet the needs of its students and the broader society. The institution's legacy is one of perseverance and progress, a testament to the human spirit's capacity to overcome challenges and build a better future.

As we look to the future, let us continue to support and celebrate the achievements of the University of South Africa. It is a symbol of hope, a source of inspiration, and a reminder that even in the darkest of times, light can be found. Let us continue to be part of the ongoing journey of knowledge, growth, and social justice. Let us be proud of the strength which endures at the University of South Africa.
The General Assembly members in attendance in violation of the HUSA constitution, in Howard student governance. Moreover, the conclusion of the first semester meetings represents a failure of leadership and passing resolutions, any decisions the Assembly arrives at are immediately rendered. There must be consequences to bear for this appalling lack of professionalism in the General Assembly. Authorities in the administration have the right to refuse accounts submitting non-camera ready artwork and requests for specific placement on a page. THE Hilltop accepts checks, money orders and cash. Classified, campus and local advertisers must remit payment upon placement of the order. The Hilltop has the right to refuse any advertisement. Please call 202.306.6666 for rates.
former high school football star LaKeem Dwight felt like he was missing a challenge in sports when he got to college. So he decided to do something about it. Create a new sports challenge not just for himself, but for Howard.

Because he loved the links and had been watching since his freshman year for an active golf club on campus, he found the Howard Golf Association. Today, the Senior Communications major says he was "totally set free through golf."

It's not the only one. In only one year since it started, the association has grown to five active members including Wardell Jones, Brandon Neal and Redrick Thompson. The "Nerdsome five" as they call themselves are currently training for the Junior Qualifying Tournament for the National Intercollegiates.

LaKeem, or "Keems," as he team calls him, is more than the driving force behind the club. He also was the first place winner in the Norfolk State Golf Tournament in September. Keep up the hard work, guys! If you're interested in finding out more about Howard's golf club, contact Brandon Neal at bet@howard.edu.

Attention: Women Runners

Quality. Performance. Value. You don't have to be a pro athlete to demand them for your workout. Now, for all you weekend warriors and recreational athletes, there's Nike's Air Imara. The Air Imara was named one of the top women's running shoes by Fitness Magazine for its great support, padding, fit and stability. Its unique design offers excellent cushioning and heel stability, but isn't so built up that your feet loss touch with the road. To ensure better fit, the Air Imara is also available in widths. And at $70 a pair, the Air Imara is an excellent value for students on a budget.

Run of the Month: Looking for a way to burn off a little extra tension from all that studying? Why not go for a run? It's a great way to reduce stress, clear your head and improve your focus. If you haven't noticed, there are plenty of great places to run around campus. The run is a great way to meet people and motivate yourself to work out more often. Special thanks to CHAMBRE MALONE, CHARISSA MOBLEY, BRIA TOLBERT, TAMISHA THOMAS, LAUREN COLEMAN and MARSHA FRANCIS for your participation!

Howard Golf Association is an active golf club on campus, Howard has been wishing since his freshman year for an active golf club on campus. Today, the Senior Communications major says he was "totally set free through golf." He's not the only one. In only one year since it started, the association has grown to five active members including Wardell Jones, Brandon Neal and Redrick Thompson. The "Nerdsome five" as they call themselves are currently training for the Junior Qualifying Tournament for the National Intercollegiates.

Howard Golf Association is an active golf club on campus. Howard has been wishing since his freshman year for an active golf club on campus. Today, the Senior Communications major says he was "totally set free through golf." He's not the only one. In only one year since it started, the association has grown to five active members including Wardell Jones, Brandon Neal and Redrick Thompson. The "Nerdsome five" as they call themselves are currently training for the Junior Qualifying Tournament for the National Intercollegiates.

Howard Golf Association is an active golf club on campus, Howard has been wishing since his freshman year for an active golf club on campus. Today, the Senior Communications major says he was "totally set free through golf." He's not the only one. In only one year since it started, the association has grown to five active members including Wardell Jones, Brandon Neal and Redrick Thompson. The "Nerdsome five" as they call themselves are currently training for the Junior Qualifying Tournament for the National Intercollegiates.

Howard Golf Association is an active golf club on campus, Howard has been wishing since his freshman year for an active golf club on campus. Today, the Senior Communications major says he was "totally set free through golf." He's not the only one. In only one year since it started, the association has grown to five active members including Wardell Jones, Brandon Neal and Redrick Thompson. The "Nerdsome five" as they call themselves are currently training for the Junior Qualifying Tournament for the National Intercollegiates.

Howard Golf Association is an active golf club on campus, Howard has been wishing since his freshman year for an active golf club on campus. Today, the Senior Communications major says he was "totally set free through golf." He's not the only one. In only one year since it started, the association has grown to five active members including Wardell Jones, Brandon Neal and Redrick Thompson. The "Nerdsome five" as they call themselves are currently training for the Junior Qualifying Tournament for the National Intercollegiates.

Howard Golf Association is an active golf club on campus, Howard has been wishing since his freshman year for an active golf club on campus. Today, the Senior Communications major says he was "totally set free through golf." He's not the only one. In only one year since it started, the association has grown to five active members including Wardell Jones, Brandon Neal and Redrick Thompson. The "Nerdsome five" as they call themselves are currently training for the Junior Qualifying Tournament for the National Intercollegiates.
ered warm weather. Nothing could have prepared me for shirts cover the chests of California males, D.C. natives sunny Southern California. During the winter season, the extremely high number of drivers run red lights, as well concerned, cresses, khakis, and jeans that sag slightly below the waist-ing for the upcoming season. Where Polo and butt-up California. In Cal, the lowest temperature I run used to is 60 degrees, maybe even terest in opening a checking or savings account before to show friends and family you care with out going broke. Allison Wilson, an international business major at Georgetown University, said, "It's tough to get to buy gift cards with limited money. It's important to save up to make one purchase that will last."

make gifts by hand

music

French Hip-hop Duo Makes U.S. Debut

| by Brianna L. Gordon | Hilltop Staff Writer |

The holiday season is drawing near and no mott which holiday you celebrate, gift giving is always a matter of tasting. The best way to show friends and family you care is by giving a thoughtful gift. A sweater is one of the best gifts you can give for the holiday season, especially for the cold weather we are facing this year. A sweater is a timeless gift that will be appreciated by the recipient. It is a thoughtful and practical gift that will be remembered for years to come.

For those who are looking for a different gift, a scarf is another great option. A scarf is not only fashionable, but it is also functional. It can be worn in different ways, making it a versatile gift. A scarf can be a thoughtful gift for those who are hard to shop for and is sure to be appreciated.

When it comes to gift giving, it is important to consider the recipient's interests and preferences. It is always a good idea to ask for gift ideas or seek advice from friends or family members. This will ensure that the gift you choose is something the recipient will enjoy and appreciate. Remember, the best gifts are the ones that show thought and effort, not necessarily the most expensive.

Happy holiday shopping and enjoy the season!
Daood Delivers Sultry Blend of Words, Jazz

By: PHERON X WATKINS

Hilltop Staff Writer

Music doesn't have to be campus generated, or recycled material to make a listener's heart beat to different rhythms. A man with his own thoughts shouldn't have to bash his bag about fully inflated opinions, and then flip-flop and make the sound of life as he has been shaped into. He doesn't have to invent his own rules about how much he "loves" a woman, and "needs" sex. "Deep River in Her Voice" and "Ribs of Guilt" are two poems dedicated to Bilbo Ruffin that shows how much he "loves" a woman, and "needs" sex.

A primary and entertaining type of music that many African American men have with their fathers. Above a compelling bass line and precise drum beat reminiscent of a military march, Daood begins "The Old One".

The best way to start your Friday.

Vesta Returns With Stunning Sophomore LP

By: BRANDI FORTE

Hilltop Staff Writer

"All Because I'm Free," and "I'll Be Alright," Reminiscences of Stevie Wonder's "You and I". Vesta comes with variety, and masses the listener through the key, "Mixing "You and I" with Rave," a break up story where Vesta tells it better in preparation for what she has to do. Throughout the album, Daood describes the era of rap and "love" songs, poetry lives.

THE HILLTOP

is looking for energetic reporters to cover campus, city, national and foreign news.

you don't have to be a journalism major, all you need is a zeal to learn and write.

for more information, contact managing editor Rochelle Bishop @ 202/806-6866.

Happy Holidays.

The Hilltop.

The best way to start your Friday.

Deadline to apply is Friday, Dec. 11.
SPORTS Page
Friday, December 4, 1998

Howard Wins Final Game Against Delaware State

Ted White and Other Seniors go out with a Win

By KENNETH K. BROWN

Howard University Sports Editor

All-American quarterback Ted White led Howard University to a 91-74 victory over Delaware State University on Senior Day at the Value City Arena.

The Bison (9-13) were led by freshman center Yetta Enohaklale, who cleared the way for hundreds of black college players who followed in his footsteps. Senior Howard Bison players have been nominated for the distinguished Howard University basketball team.

Response photo to photo

Photo by Mark Coleman

The Howard University Women's basketball team defeated the University of Maryland 65-57 in their home opener on Friday, November 20th, allowing them to have a successful season.

The game was the first of two against Howard University. The team is looking forward to a successful season.

The Lady Bison were without the services of their star player, Yolanda McRae, who had an injury in the previous game. The team is currently 1-1 in the MEAC.

MEAC WEEKEND WITH NICK

GREENSBORO, NC - MEAC Commissioner Charles S. Harris announced recently that the league would offer a three-year deal with Nike, effective immediately.

Nike's commitment to excellence in collegiate athletics is an extension of the MEAC's long-standing relationship with the sportswear giant.

The new contract will provide promotional opportunities for Nike at its events. In addition, Nike will offer annual summer internships at their World Headquarters.

The MEAC has a long tradition of producing successful athletes, and Nike's support will help bridge the gap between the MEAC and the national stage.

The Bison defeated Delaware State 93-74, breaking a two-game losing streak that included losses to nationally ranked North Carolina and Virginia. For the season, Delaware State ended the season with a miserable 0-11 record.

The Bison's victory was a testament to their hard work and dedication. They fought through adversity and emerged victorious.

The Lady Bison are currently 1-1 in the MEAC and are looking forward to a successful season.

At Home, Lady Bison Crush Maryland

By JOHN WILLIAMS IV

The Howard University Women's basketball team defeated the University of Maryland 65-57 in their home opener on Friday, November 20th, allowing them to have a successful season.

The game was the first of two against Howard University. The team is looking forward to a successful season.

The Lady Bison were without the services of their star player, Yolanda McRae, who had an injury in the previous game. The team is currently 1-1 in the MEAC.

MEAC WEEKEND WITH NICK

GREENSBORO, NC - MEAC Commissioner Charles S. Harris announced recently that the league would offer a three-year deal with Nike, effective immediately.

Nike's commitment to excellence in collegiate athletics is an extension of the MEAC's long-standing relationship with the sportswear giant.

The new contract will provide promotional opportunities for Nike at its events. In addition, Nike will offer annual summer internships at their World Headquarters.

The MEAC has a long tradition of producing successful athletes, and Nike's support will help bridge the gap between the MEAC and the national stage.

The Bison defeated Delaware State 93-74, breaking a two-game losing streak that included losses to nationally ranked North Carolina and Virginia. For the season, Delaware State ended the season with a miserable 0-11 record.

The Bison's victory was a testament to their hard work and dedication. They fought through adversity and emerged victorious.

The Lady Bison are currently 1-1 in the MEAC and are looking forward to a successful season.

At Home, Lady Bison Crush Maryland

By JOHN WILLIAMS IV

The Howard University Women's basketball team defeated the University of Maryland 65-57 in their home opener on Friday, November 20th, allowing them to have a successful season.

The game was the first of two against Howard University. The team is looking forward to a successful season.

The Lady Bison were without the services of their star player, Yolanda McRae, who had an injury in the previous game. The team is currently 1-1 in the MEAC.

MEAC WEEKEND WITH NICK

GREENSBORO, NC - MEAC Commissioner Charles S. Harris announced recently that the league would offer a three-year deal with Nike, effective immediately.

Nike's commitment to excellence in collegiate athletics is an extension of the MEAC's long-standing relationship with the sportswear giant.

The new contract will provide promotional opportunities for Nike at its events. In addition, Nike will offer annual summer internships at their World Headquarters.

The MEAC has a long tradition of producing successful athletes, and Nike's support will help bridge the gap between the MEAC and the national stage.

The Bison defeated Delaware State 93-74, breaking a two-game losing streak that included losses to nationally ranked North Carolina and Virginia. For the season, Delaware State ended the season with a miserable 0-11 record.

The Bison's victory was a testament to their hard work and dedication. They fought through adversity and emerged victorious.

The Lady Bison are currently 1-1 in the MEAC and are looking forward to a successful season.

At Home, Lady Bison Crush Maryland

By JOHN WILLIAMS IV

The Howard University Women's basketball team defeated the University of Maryland 65-57 in their home opener on Friday, November 20th, allowing them to have a successful season.

The game was the first of two against Howard University. The team is looking forward to a successful season.

The Lady Bison were without the services of their star player, Yolanda McRae, who had an injury in the previous game. The team is currently 1-1 in the MEAC.

MEAC WEEKEND WITH NICK

GREENSBORO, NC - MEAC Commissioner Charles S. Harris announced recently that the league would offer a three-year deal with Nike, effective immediately.

Nike's commitment to excellence in collegiate athletics is an extension of the MEAC's long-standing relationship with the sportswear giant.

The new contract will provide promotional opportunities for Nike at its events. In addition, Nike will offer annual summer internships at their World Headquarters.

The MEAC has a long tradition of producing successful athletes, and Nike's support will help bridge the gap between the MEAC and the national stage.

The Bison defeated Delaware State 93-74, breaking a two-game losing streak that included losses to nationally ranked North Carolina and Virginia. For the season, Delaware State ended the season with a miserable 0-11 record.

The Bison's victory was a testament to their hard work and dedication. They fought through adversity and emerged victorious.

The Lady Bison are currently 1-1 in the MEAC and are looking forward to a successful season.
Attention Students!

Proposals are being accepted for the 1998 General Assembly Elections.

Chair

Preliminary proposals due to the UGSA Office in Blackburn Center, 108 by 5:00 pm on Friday, December 18, 1998.

The position of General Election Assembly Chair runs elections for all student government positions next semester. All candidates must be a full-time student and be in good academic standing.

The George Washington University
Center for Career Education

MAKE IT LEGAL
WITH A PRESTIGIOUS GW LEGAL ASSISTANT CERTIFICATE

GW offers the real-world legal skills employers want. Approved by the ABA, GW's nationally recognized program is taught by experienced attorneys. Unlike the whole program in one semester or as your schedule allows through the consortium.

perms. Graduate with a certificate that prepares you for a legal career: bachelor's degree is required.

The GW's Columbian School of Arts and Sciences offers five courses to undergraduates and graduates.

Make a case for your success. Enroll now.

For more information and to receive a Spring '99 catalog,
Call (202) 973-1175
Web: www.gwu.edu/ccc E-mail: cce@www.gwu.edu
Registration begins Jan. 4 • Application deadline: Jan. 8
Classes begin Jan. 19

The Howard University Community Choir presents a

Christmas Gospel Concert

Sunday, December 6, 1998
6:00 p.m.

Andrew Rankin Memorial Chapel
Howard University - Main Campus
2395 Sixth Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C.

Admission is free - Jesus paid it all!

Celebrate Jesus Christ • Celebrate Jesus Christ • Celebrate Jesus Christ
IN MANY COMPANIES IT TAKES YEARS TO PROVE YOU CAN LEAD...

WE'LL GIVE YOU 10 WEEKS.

What Was That Again?

Dissences are, you're probably growing weary of all the advice about starting a career. Not just a job, mind you, but an honest-to-goodness Marine division. If that sounds hard--and it's likely evening--

CIGNA is ready to help.

We're a worldwide leader in financial services. From health care and investment services to protecting lives, homes and businesses, we strive to help you or our reputation or a business of Caring. Our workforce -- approximately 40,000 strong -- is diverse, yet everyone is committed to improving the lives of the people we serve every day.

We offer numerous roles for college graduates with experience of business, but we don't hire people for just one job. Individuals get the chance to define their role through their strengths and career goals. And we help through one-of-a-kind job rotation and professional development tracks.

The people who work here genuinely enjoy seeing the opportunity. Sure, we hand them plenty of responsibility--most prefer the challenge to bring out their best. Beyond that, we take pride as a company in the way we nurture their dreams outside the workplace--in their families and communities.

One CIGNA: Many Opportunities.

We're an equal opportunity employer. It's CIGNA. Women, men, and people of all races, religions, national origins, and ethnicities;

www.cigna.com

Georgetown University
School for Summer & Continuing Education

The European Union
Antwerp Exchange Program
May 23 - June 5, 1999

An opportunity for students to study economic integration in the context of the European Union

Director:
Professor Rodney D. Ludema

For a brochure and an application please contact:

School for Summer and Continuing Education
Poulton, 2nd Floor, 37th & P Streets NW
Box 571010, Georgetown University
Washington, DC 20057-1010
202-687-5719
e-mail harringe@gunet.georgetown.edu

Howard University Bookstore

BRING YOUR BOOKS TO:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Wed.</th>
<th>Wed.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>12/2</td>
<td>12/16</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

9:00 - 4:00
(except for 12/16, 9:00 - 2:00)
No Sat. or Sun. Hours

WE BUY THE LARGEST RANGE OF BOOKS
HARD OR SOFT BOUND.
THE HILLTOP

THE YEAR TECH THOUSAND

Acanthus

In this Year Tech thousand,
Genetic and technology supercede biology.
While you claim life is simple, a paper-thin chip slips right behind your temple
Survive as the trend suddenly exists on your neck,
Rates based on processing speed.
Now you feel obsolete, knowing you were the original intel.
But you filled your heart drive with tinsel, games.
Now you look the姑娘s to save your mankind.
So when you crash, there ain't no reboot,
because there's no repairman to politize.
The ultima shows the global populous,
bringing Megatron to your metropolis.
But there's no basis,
only Popular Mechanics spliced,
with order.
Now breakfast is a glass of eugon, two cells; and the daily paper.
Better yet, you download your daily instructions from a local satellite,
and aren't rages at the speed of light.
But you lack true insight, our physical enhancement is incompatible with spiritual advancement, and there's a chance that...
Human beings are being processed in a synthetic-syn, cardiogenic outputs, and environmental stressing so the Iluminated Super computer can order the world through new mechanisms.
But it's not logical to everyone.
Or it's a chance on that.
Cybernetic humans are being cloned to serve as drones for are-based species who want to start a vacation home.
But that's for out, too.
Or, there's a chance that...
Malicious erstwhile menace, so-called new technology to spiritually dissect humanity to spiral towards cosmic destruction.
But that's unbelievable, isn't it?
So you remain complacent, in a virtual free reality, deaf, dumb, and blind to conspiracy.
Happily relearning mechanical augmentations, optimizing circuits, animals play with their own destinies.
Now, access your memory randomly.
Networks on Kerovic, emptiness where technology exist in tune with technology.
Mankind, space travel, computers,
but no matter whatsoever, we live here and machines,
they can never replicate my maleness.
So you can keep your fabricated illusions of literature, but filled fantasies and actually, the mind of school.
is that anything physical is a spiritual soul that the most high meant for us to use, for over this earth, we were destined to rule.
This is my vision, in the year Tech thousand.

The featured writer is a senior legal communications major.

@Comput.err.Love@.com

Mo, Stephans

Cosmic consequence contradicts cyber circumstances.
Inputs to this confused cyber-what the eyes see,
Again the output is a cosmos of psycho-technology.
Can it be that it was all so simple then;
When sapiens were virgins;
Mind unfeathered, not infected by technological perversion.
Or does humanity flourish
Upon the cybers and highlords.
The high-tech and complex.
Yet, with liberation to attest or oppress
The human obssession with cyber-space progression.
I see an infinite query succession in one with this question;
Has man truly executed a plan to en-mass sacrifice the nature
the place in space known to man as his land?
And,
Can he control the destruction and obstructions of this "cyber-space" place that is of his own construction?
Its technology exists
to transmigrates the chaos that persists, said me say many, many things come of this.
Cyber-pets, cyber-sins.
Computer now inscribed via internet.
Can we perform GENTLY
Into a world of new-technologies
only to touch softly upon its potential
So that to our sensual it may not become essential.
Or, have we silly, silly sapiens—through technological advances continued a circumstance of cosmic consequence?

The featured writer is a senior political science major.

Jabari Hall-Smith

Physics and electronics studio artist.
Finally, a store to satisfy your pocket fetish.

Announcing the opening of the Levi's® Online Store. www.levi.com
Enrollment Management

News Brief #7
4 December 1998

Payment Schedule for Spring 1999
Registration/Late Registration

New Entrants and FSR

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Date</th>
<th>Day</th>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Student Status</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>6 Jan.</td>
<td>Wednesday</td>
<td>9 AM - 2 PM</td>
<td>Undergraduate</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>4 PM - 6 PM</td>
<td>Graduate/Professional</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Permit to Register required for entry into the Ballroom.

Continuing Students

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Date</th>
<th>Day</th>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Student Status</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>7 Jan.</td>
<td>Thursday</td>
<td>9 AM - 11 AM</td>
<td>Undergraduate (A-K)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>12 noon - 2 PM</td>
<td>Undergraduate (L-Z)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>4 PM - 6 PM</td>
<td>Graduate/Professional (A-Z)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The Capstone (Howard University Photo ID card) and Printout are required for entry into the Ballroom.

Students must adhere to the schedule on 6 and 7 January.

Ballroom Hours

5, 8, 11, 12, 14, 15 January: 9 AM - 3 PM
13 January: 9 AM - 6 PM

NOTE: The University reserves the right to restrict access to the Ballroom when its maximum capacity is reached based on fire and other capacity codes.
Any Howard University student who would like to recruit at their former high school during the Christmas break, should contact Enrollment Management/Recruitment at 806-2900.*

*Enrollment Management/Recruitment encourages all students involved with recruiting to make their visits official by coordinating directly Recruitment, Room G-19, "A" Building.
President H. Patrick Swygert invites The Howard University Student Body to a Holiday Reception

Wednesday, December 9, 1998
3:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m.

Gallery Lounge
Armour J. Blackburn University Center
TOWN MEETING

H. Patrick Swygert
President

invites
All Students
to join him in a follow-up discussion regarding the proposed
Howard University
Student Code of Conduct

Friday, December 4, 1998
4:00 p.m.
School of Business - Room 218
ALL ARE WELCOME !!!!