9-26-2006

The Hilltop 9-26-2006

Hilltop Staff

Follow this and additional works at: https://dh.howard.edu/hilltop_0010

Recommended Citation
https://dh.howard.edu/hilltop_0010/326

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the The Hilltop Digital Archive at Digital Howard @ Howard University. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Hilltop: 2000 - 2010 by an authorized administrator of Digital Howard @ Howard University. For more information, please contact lopez.matthews@howard.edu.
plans in store for empty Shaw entrance space

BY TRAVER RIGGS

The lot near the Shaw metro entrance will soon become Plans in Store for Empty Shaw Entrance Space.

“Especially for those students who are going to be downtown for work, extra-curricular activities, and social life is a major priority,” said panelist William Roberts, Hillel Staff Writer. “In order to be a successful student leader, you need to use criticism to their advantage,” Roberts added.

“It’s a great balancing act,” said Nandi Murphy, a junior in the high student government. “I think the panel was a good representation of what we are sponsoring as well as what they promised,” Gada said.

“Students like Cauley Morrow were able to find administrative offices of the university to work right now to finalize the plans.”

Employees were pleased with the turnout as higher student governmentpositions were open.

“I think the panel was a good representation of what the university was offering, the students are sponsoring as well as what they promised,” Gada said.

The turnout was higher than expected, according to Stinfil felt that energy and enthusiasm from the student leaders was what students wanted to see on campus. Murphy said, “I think we should use criticism to their advantage.”

HUSA and Chapel Assistants hold their joint event, Leadership Week, which focuses on being a good leader, handling criticism and balancing the various aspects of college life.

The Maryland, DC, and Virginia states have been working to remove the Shaw metro entrance. The Shaw metro entrance was scheduled to open up a dividing wall that was being interfered with by the Shaw metro entrance.

“Many are blind-sided by the fact that the "Land at Rock Hill" (which originated anywhere in Africa), said Britain Retties, a spokesperson for the Higher Education Commission. "I wanted to learn more about the history of African women and men," said Kolokho Mosina, a senior graphic designer major.

Many were not alone. The Shaw metro entrance was scheduled to open up a dividing wall that was being interfered with by the Shaw metro entrance. The Shaw metro entrance was scheduled to open up a dividing wall that was being interfered with by the Shaw metro entrance.

“Many are blind-sided by the fact that the "Land at Rock Hill" (which originated anywhere in Africa), said Britain Retties, a spokesperson for the Higher Education Commission. "I wanted to learn more about the history of African women and men," said Kolokho Mosina, a senior graphic designer major.

Many were not alone. The Shaw metro entrance was scheduled to open up a dividing wall that was being interfered with by the Shaw metro entrance. The Shaw metro entrance was scheduled to open up a dividing wall that was being interfered with by the Shaw metro entrance.

“Many are blind-sided by the fact that the "Land at Rock Hill" (which originated anywhere in Africa), said Britain Retties, a spokesperson for the Higher Education Commission. "I wanted to learn more about the history of African women and men," said Kolokho Mosina, a senior graphic designer major.

Many were not alone. The Shaw metro entrance was scheduled to open up a dividing wall that was being interfered with by the Shaw metro entrance. The Shaw metro entrance was scheduled to open up a dividing wall that was being interfered with by the Shaw metro entrance.

“Many are blind-sided by the fact that the "Land at Rock Hill" (which originated anywhere in Africa), said Britain Retties, a spokesperson for the Higher Education Commission. "I wanted to learn more about the history of African women and men," said Kolokho Mosina, a senior graphic designer major.

Many were not alone. The Shaw metro entrance was scheduled to open up a dividing wall that was being interfered with by the Shaw metro entrance. The Shaw metro entrance was scheduled to open up a dividing wall that was being interfered with by the Shaw metro entrance.

“Many are blind-sided by the fact that the "Land at Rock Hill" (which originated anywhere in Africa), said Britain Retties, a spokesperson for the Higher Education Commission. "I wanted to learn more about the history of African women and men," said Kolokho Mosina, a senior graphic designer major.

Many were not alone. The Shaw metro entrance was scheduled to open up a dividing wall that was being interfered with by the Shaw metro entrance. The Shaw metro entrance was scheduled to open up a dividing wall that was being interfered with by the Shaw metro entrance.

“Many are blind-sided by the fact that the "Land at Rock Hill" (which originated anywhere in Africa), said Britain Retties, a spokesperson for the Higher Education Commission. "I wanted to learn more about the history of African women and men," said Kolokho Mosina, a senior graphic designer major.
THE HILLTOP

WILLIAM WHITFIELD, A PLAZA TOWERS RESIDENT, SUGGESTED THAT students might be more forthcoming if some sort of joke were attached to the message. "They say to be on the floor of the closet, now they're on the door of the closet," he said.

"I don't think people would come to work on a random day if there weren't a punch line," Whitfield said.

"They used to be on the door of the closet. Now they're on the door of the chute." Whitfield said. "People would think there's a reason why the trash chute signs have been moved."

What will be waiting for them in the trash chute is when students just try to flush things down through the chute.

"I think the signs are up to protect the students from liability suits," Whitfield said. "They're not just there to prevent people from using the trash chutes."

The presence of the signs in the trash chute raises important questions. The University of Howard has a trust issue with their students.

"I think they do, but not with the chutes. It's just absurd to have signs here," Whitfield said.

At Howard, students have experienced problems with posting signs in the trash chutes.

"A maintenance employee put a sign on the wrong side and he had to remove it," said a Howard student.

"They said to be on the floor of the closet, now they're on the door of the closet." Whitfield said. "People would think there's a reason why the trash chute signs have been moved."

"I think the signs are up to protect the students from liability suits," Whitfield said. "They're not just there to prevent people from using the trash chutes."

Howard Offers oppor tunities that students should take advantage of the many opportunities at Howard. "It is a matter of trial and error; join different organizations to find what is best for you. Do not be afraid." Eunice Charles, a junior biology major, said.

"Students should be encouraged to join different organizations, to explore the liberal arts, and to fulfill their career goals." Rogers said being active in organizations is vital to helping students pursue their futures careers.

"The Writing Center is a great place for students to use the free services and strategies to help improve their writing," Rogers said.

Although Locke Hall is a place for students to gather before class to study and explore the liberal arts, it is also a place for students to meet new people and with similar interest," Alain Locke said.

"The Writing Center helps students hone their scribe skills," Rogers said. "We have a lot of fresh men who come to the Writing Center, ever since we have increased the work of our writing center, the students have greatly improved." The Writing Center is a great place for students to come to hone their scribe skills.

What's In A Name?

HOPEFUL WRAP UP IN THE LEVEL OF THE WEST TOWERS NEXT MONDAY AT 7PM!!!

COAS STUDENT COUNCIL TO HOST CLUB FAIR

In order to give Arts and Sciences students, many apply for their colleges, and Howard University students will also have to come to the Morgan Library to attend the Arts and Sciences Student Council will be hosting its first organization fair for the Fall term this night from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m.

"Many students especially freshmen, talking to the representatives of the respective clubs and get an idea of what is going on in the school," Roberts said.

There will be organizational present at the fair, students can look forward to having a variety of organization that will be attending the fair.

"The Morgan Library is a place for students to use the free writing services and strategies to help improve their writing," Rogers said.

"The Writing Center is a great place for students to use the free services and strategies to help improve their writing," Rogers said.

Although Locke Hall is a place for students to gather before class to study and explore the liberal arts, it is also a place for students to meet new people and with similar interest," Alain Locke said.

"The Writing Center helps students hone their scribe skills," Rogers said. "We have a lot of fresh men who come to the Writing Center, ever since we have increased the work of our writing center, the students have greatly improved." The Writing Center is a great place for students to come to hone their scribe skills.

What's In A Name?

COAS STUDENT COUNCIL TO HOST CLUB FAIR

In order to give Arts and Sciences students, many apply for their colleges, and Howard University students will also have to come to the Morgan Library to attend the Arts and Sciences Student Council will be hosting its first organization fair for the Fall term this night from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m.

"Many students especially freshmen, talking to the representatives of the respective clubs and get an idea of what is going on in the school," Roberts said.

There will be organizational present at the fair, students can look forward to having a variety of organization that will be attending the fair.

"The Morgan Library is a place for students to use the free writing services and strategies to help improve their writing," Rogers said.

"The Writing Center is a great place for students to use the free services and strategies to help improve their writing," Rogers said.

Although Locke Hall is a place for students to gather before class to study and explore the liberal arts, it is also a place for students to meet new people and with similar interest," Alain Locke said.

"The Writing Center helps students hone their scribe skills," Rogers said. "We have a lot of fresh men who come to the Writing Center, ever since we have increased the work of our writing center, the students have greatly improved." The Writing Center is a great place for students to come to hone their scribe skills.

What's In A Name?

COAS STUDENT COUNCIL TO HOST CLUB FAIR

In order to give Arts and Sciences students, many apply for their colleges, and Howard University students will also have to come to the Morgan Library to attend the Arts and Sciences Student Council will be hosting its first organization fair for the Fall term this night from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m.

"Many students especially freshmen, talking to the representatives of the respective clubs and get an idea of what is going on in the school," Roberts said.

There will be organizational present at the fair, students can look forward to having a variety of organization that will be attending the fair.

"The Morgan Library is a place for students to use the free writing services and strategies to help improve their writing," Rogers said.

"The Writing Center is a great place for students to use the free services and strategies to help improve their writing," Rogers said.

Although Locke Hall is a place for students to gather before class to study and explore the liberal arts, it is also a place for students to meet new people and with similar interest," Alain Locke said.

"The Writing Center helps students hone their scribe skills," Rogers said. "We have a lot of fresh men who come to the Writing Center, ever since we have increased the work of our writing center, the students have greatly improved." The Writing Center is a great place for students to come to hone their scribe skills.

What's In A Name?

HOPEFUL WRAP UP IN THE LEVEL OF THE WEST TOWERS NEXT MONDAY AT 7PM!!!

COAS STUDENT COUNCIL TO HOST CLUB FAIR

In order to give Arts and Sciences students, many apply for their colleges, and Howard University students will also have to come to the Morgan Library to attend the Arts and Sciences Student Council will be hosting its first organization fair for the Fall term this night from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m.

"Many students especially freshmen, talking to the representatives of the respective clubs and get an idea of what is going on in the school," Roberts said.

There will be organizational present at the fair, students can look forward to having a variety of organization that will be attending the fair.

"The Morgan Library is a place for students to use the free writing services and strategies to help improve their writing," Rogers said.

"The Writing Center is a great place for students to use the free services and strategies to help improve their writing," Rogers said.

Although Locke Hall is a place for students to gather before class to study and explore the liberal arts, it is also a place for students to meet new people and with similar interest," Alain Locke said.

"The Writing Center helps students hone their scribe skills," Rogers said. "We have a lot of fresh men who come to the Writing Center, ever since we have increased the work of our writing center, the students have greatly improved." The Writing Center is a great place for students to come to hone their scribe skills.
Phirst Pham Inaugural Week Begins

SEPTEMBER 26, 2006

Phirst, from News A 1

so that both lecture halls two and three could be used for the event.

"We realized that if we come together we will be able to affect more students," Hurley said.

With Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Incorporated in its centennial year and Alpha Kappa Alpha drawing nearer to its own centennial in 2008, fourth year architecture major and member of the Beta Chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha James Harmon said, "It's pivotal to have it [the week] this year and this time."

Activities, which according to Hurley, "not only are fun, but also educate," have been planned for everyday of the week. Today the Knowledge Bowl is at 7:06 p.m. in room 1008 of the Numa P.G. building.

"It will be interesting to see how much black knowledge people on an HBCU campus actually have," Harmon said.

Wednesday's program is "Speed Dating: How Much You Really Know About Your Date" in lecture hall five of the School of Dentistry. Speakers on HIV and AIDS will be in attendance.

"It will be fun, but it's important to know what can happen if everyone dates," Hurley said.

Thursday the two organizations will join together to visit Bruce Monroe Elementary School to make arts and crafts with the children. There will be a party that evening at the Gallery in Silver Spring. Hurley said that all are welcome to attend.

"On Friday there will be a physical fitness activity in the yard," Hurley said. "We'll be playing kickball," said Hurley.

The week wraps up on Saturday. Bruce Elementary School will attend the football game with the AKAs and Alphas where they will be provided with food.

Thomas encourages everyone to participate. She said, "We want to see new faces, new life, and new energy."

The Hilltop

Soney Says...

Reading The Hilltop in class is not a good thing.*

We don’t just pay for your education, we complete it.

Phirst Pham Inaugural Week Begins

SEPTEMBER 26, 2006

Phirst, from News A 1

so that both lecture halls two and three could be used

"We realized that if we come together we will be able to affect more students," Hurley said.

With Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Incorporated in its centennial year and Alpha Kappa Alpha drawing nearer to its own centennial in 2008, fourth year architecture major and member of the Beta Chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha James Harmon said, "It's pivotal to have it [the week] this year and this time."

Activities, which according to Hurley, "not only are fun, but also educate," have been planned for everyday of the week. Today the Knowledge Bowl is at 7:06 p.m. in room 1008 of the Numa P.G. building.

"It will be interesting to see how much black knowledge people on an HBCU campus actually have," Harmon said.

Wednesday's program is "Speed Dating: How Much You Really Know About Your Date" in lecture hall five of the School of Dentistry. Speakers on HIV and AIDS will be in attendance.

"It will be fun, but it's important to know what can happen if everyone dates," Hurley said.

Thursday the two organizations will join together to visit Bruce Monroe Elementary School to make arts and crafts with the children. There will be a party that evening at the Gallery in Silver Spring. Hurley said that all are welcome to attend.

"On Friday there will be a physical fitness activity in the yard," Hurley said. "We'll be playing kickball," said Hurley.

The week wraps up on Saturday. Bruce Elementary School will attend the football game with the AKAs and Alphas where they will be provided with food.

Thomas encourages everyone to participate. She said, "We want to see new faces, new life, and new energy."

The Hilltop

Soney Says...

Reading The Hilltop in class is not a good thing.*

Our scholarship covers tuition, textbooks and supplies and even gives you a monthly stipend for living expenses. But it's the experience you'll gain after graduation that sets this program apart. As an Air Force dentist, you'll be in a supportive team environment where teaching and mentoring are ongoing. You'll have exposure to various specialties, and the weight of emergencies or difficult cases won't rest on your shoulders alone. For more information about our Health Professions Scholarship Program, call or visit us online.

1-800-588-5260 • AIRFORCE.COM/HEALTHCARE

Morgan Stanley is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer committed to workforce diversity. 12/2006

Morgan Stanley

VISIT AND APPLY ONLINE AT WWW.MORGANSTANLEY.COM/CAREERS/RECRUITING

Morgan Stanley is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer committed to workforce diversity. 12/2006
BY CHARLOTTE YOUNG

For four years, or more at least, the District functioned as a social mecca for students attending Howard University.
After graduation however, the decision to leave Washington, D.C. or make a home for a little while longer comes into play.
No other place is so politically intertwined as D.C.
and no other place has as many opportunities for jobs, learning, yet and social events.
No other place has so much of a second home for students as a territory. The District functions as a melting pot. The District is so financially integrated with the rest of the U.S.
No other place has the same
blending of ethnicities and races that we have here. A lot.

Original from Cincinnati, Brave currently does not want to return to her home. Though she loves living in D.C., she would want to stay in the District after graduating

BY ASHLEY TANNELL

Looking to have a night
out, but don’t know where to begin? Chinatown might be the answer. It’s close. Yet just far enough to get a feel for the Chinatown community was built after its downfall stemning from the 1968 riots, the
area became more
diverse neighborhood.
Since then, the continuous development has increased its size significantly in recent years.

Some students feel the impact. Thomas LaGon, a sopho­
sor chemistry major, Faith Brown, attend Howard University. A finance major, takes advantage of
opportunities for jobs, learning, art and music events,
while longer comes into play.

No other place has the same
blending of ethnicities and
races that we have here. A lot.

BY ASHLEY TANNELL

Looking to have a night
out, but don’t know where to begin? Chinatown might be the answer. It’s close. Yet just far enough to get a feel for
the Chinatown community was
built after its downfall stem­
ning from the 1968 riots, the
area became more
diverse neighborhood.
Since then, the continuous development has increased its size significantly in recent years.

Some students feel the impact. Thomas LaGon, a sopho­
sor chemistry major, Faith Brown,
attend Howard University. A
finance major, takes advantage of
opportunities for jobs, learning, art and music events,
while longer comes into play.

No other place has the same
blending of ethnicities and
races that we have here. A lot.

BY ASHLEY TANNELL

Looking to have a night
out, but don’t know where to begin? Chinatown might be the answer. It’s close. Yet just far enough to get a feel for
the Chinatown community was
built after its downfall stem­
ning from the 1968 riots, the
area became more
diverse neighborhood.
Since then, the continuous development has increased its size significantly in recent years.

Some students feel the impact. Thomas LaGon, a sopho­
sor chemistry major, Faith Brown,
attend Howard University. A
finance major, takes advantage of
opportunities for jobs, learning, art and music events,
while longer comes into play.

No other place has the same
blending of ethnicities and
races that we have here. A lot.
The Hilltop
Survey Says...

A copy of
The Hilltop and $1.35 will get you on the Metro.*

The Hilltop wants to read what you have to say. Submit a 500 word perspective to Who's the driving force behind record-breaking deals? You & Us Working closely with our clients, UBS has been the driving force behind some recent record-breaking deals, including the $24.5 billion acquisition of Kerr-McGee Corporation and Western Gas Resources by Anadarko. If you want to hear more about opportunities to join a firm with this momentum, an outstanding training program and unlimited career potential, visit our Graduate Recruiting website at:

www.ubs.com/graduates

UBS is an equal opportunity employer committed to diversity in its workplace. (M/F/D/V)
At last Saturday's first home football game against FAMU, The Grenade Standard's new $50,000 PA system was expected to give spectators and the football team a better quality sound. There were some problems with the new system, as constant static continued to interrupt the game and distract the football players on the field.

"It was annoying," every time we would go to the sideline to get coached up, the static would happen," said Adiln Fincl, a junior wide receiver.

Hankin added that he understood this would happen because, "All the Mic's [the wireless microphones] are on a new sound system and it was messing up."

The constant static was attributed to the wireless microphones picking up different frequencies around the area of Greene Stadium. The helicopters and airplanes arriving at the hospital across the street behind the stadium could have possibly interfered with the static by chance that the sound systems was tuned into.

"We noticed that when the ambulances and the helicopters came closer to the hospital, the static would kick in," said senior Datcher, facilities manager. To order to fix the static during the game, Kory Hankin, a standby deputy, tried to switch the frequency during the first half and after halftime.

"It was a problem with their wireless microphone," Hankin said.

Hankin believes that there may be something coming from the hospital or the surrounding areas, that is possibly interfering and picking up the frequencies.

"I don't know if the hospital had anything to do with it, or not, but all the static was interfering," Hankin said.

There was also another microphone that was given to the stadium's new $50,000 PA system.

"We noticed that when the ambulances and the helicopters came closer to the hospital, the static would kick in," said senior Datcher, facilities manager. To order to fix the static during the game, Kory Hankin, a standby deputy, tried to switch the frequency during the first half and after halftime.

"It was a problem with their wireless microphone," Hankin said.

Hankin believes that there may be something coming from the hospital or the surrounding areas, that is possibly interfering and picking up the frequencies.

"I don't know if the hospital had anything to do with it, or not, but all the static was interfering," Hankin said.

There was also another microphone that was given to the stadium's new $50,000 PA system.

"We noticed that when the ambulances and the helicopters came closer to the hospital, the static would kick in," said senior Datcher, facilities manager. To order to fix the static during the game, Kory Hankin, a standby deputy, tried to switch the frequency during the first half and after halftime.

"It was a problem with their wireless microphone," Hankin said.

Making the transition from high school student to college student is tough for many students, but the transition from high school athletic to college athletic can be even more challenging.

Freshman soccer player Joel Senior seems to have made that transition quite well as he enters the middle of his season playing soccer with the Owls.

"It has been great playing here, I like everyone on the team and it has been an easy adjustment," Senior said.

Senior has also proven himself to be an asset to the team early in the season. He has one of the highest goal averages on the team and has strong technical ability.

Freshman midfielder Joel Senior has made an immediate impact on the Bacon men's soccer team this season.

\"He is a very good player,\" said assistant coach Curtis Lindy. \"We look to get things from him because of his ability.\"

To keep his mind focused and his ability before and during the game, Senior goes through a set of rituals to prepare for competition. He usually enjoys quiet and alone time as a pre-game ritual so that he has a clear mind before the game.

Senior is a native of Jamaica, where he looked up to Manchester United. \"I knew it was going to be expected,\" said Senior. \"I look up to a lot of different people, but I really look up to Ronaldo.\"

Having a set of rituals for pre-game preparation, Senior aspires to be a college player in the near future.

\"All we do is just work," said Senior. \"I have to make sure I use the team to build up my own strengths and weaknesses.\"

He feels that he is strong in making decisive, high-stakes plays when necessary and execute them successfully. However, Senior does feel like he needs to work on his speed on the field.

Playing for a college team can be challenging and stressful. Balancing college work and keeping up with parental remind- ers as well as being athletic can also be a challenge, one that Senior seems to have figured out.

\"I know it was going to be hard work, but it\'s something I expected,\" he said.

Aside from soccer, Senior remembers to enjoy his time with friends and listening to music in his favorite music. With hard work and the qualifications of being an athlete of the Howard men's soccer team, Senior aspires to one day play for a professional soccer team.

\"I would love to play for Manchester United,\" Senior said.

Senior began playing soccer 11 years ago at a young age in Jamaica, where he looked up to Manchester United. \"I knew it was going to be expected,\" said Senior. \"I look up to a lot of different people, but I really look up to Ronaldo.\"

Having a set of rituals for pre-game preparation, Senior aspires to be a college player in the near future.

\"All we do is just work," said Senior. \"I have to make sure I use the team to build up my own strengths and weaknesses.\"

He feels that he is strong in making decisive, high-stakes plays when necessary and execute them successfully. However, Senior does feel like he needs to work on his speed on the field.

Playing for a college team can be challenging and stressful. Balancing college work and keeping up with parental remind- ers as well as being athletic can also be a challenge, one that Senior seems to have figured out.

\"I know it was going to be hard work, but it\'s something I expected,\" he said.

Aside from soccer, Senior remembers to enjoy his time with friends and listening to music in his favorite music. With hard work and the qualifications of being an athlete of the Howard men's soccer team, Senior aspires to one day play for a professional soccer team.

\"I would love to play for Manchester United,\" Senior said.

"I don't know if the hospital had anything to do with it or not, but something was interfering," Kory Hankin, RO Sound Systems.

"That could have had a big impact on the game being projected as well but we did notice a strong improvement in the sound after we turned the board microphone off," he said.

The wireless microphone reported some problems with the static signal.
Shoes

Fit for the right occasions. Neither is the female student population. The number of books is not one of these. Female students are not expected to be mal engaged, or even to walk on the Yard with five pairs of heels. However, going to an 8:10 class with 15 pounds of textbooks is a different story. I am not suggesting that we open our hearts.

Overview:

Gi·mini:

Taurus:

Cancer:

and bad times. Be more emotionally engaged until the intensity is expressed. Then, and only then, is it possible to better loosen up the blockages in your life.

Scorpio:

Virgo:

Aquarius:

Capricorn:

Pisces:

On the whole, people are in the awesome footsteps, they can be a problem. They are not the same. I am not suggesting that we open our hearts. However, going to an 8:10 class with 15 pounds of textbooks is a different story. I am not suggesting that we open our hearts.

Overview:

BLACK WOMAN, I AM IMPRESSED. YOU LOOK MAGNIFICENT!), "FIT THE UNBEATABLE!"

DEE TUBBS, DANNY GLOVER FROM "MAGNUM, P.I." BASKER VANCE, THE PAR FROM "FAMILY MATTERS" IN "TIE TIGHT," DAMON BROWN IN THE LAST JOKER, COLIN POWELL, SAM JACKSON IN "MENTAL LIONS," AND ALL THE BLACK SIDELINERS WITH FEW INDEPENDENT STORY LINES AND LOVE SCENES SACRIFICED, SO THAT BLACKWOOD COULD FINALLY TAKE CENTER STAGE.

ANY CHANCE OF A BLACK WOMAN BEING AT ALL IN A LEADING ROLE?

WE'RE STILL THAT SAME RAMPART: TELLIN REESE WITHERSPOON OR SANDRA BULL, YOU KNOW, IF YOU'LL ONLY GET YOUR LOVE IN THE TRIUMPH NEXT YEAR, YOU'LL BE IN THE TREADER WITH THEM.

"We're So Educated on the Issues"

Overheard at the Shuttle The Stop

Girl: I can't believe that guy wrote that article about us basically saying we were like a bunch of chicken-eating coons.

Friend: What guy?

Girl: You know the guy that works for the New York Post.

Friends: The Post wrote an article about Howard.

Girl: Yeah. On Saturday or something. Saying that basically we only protested Laura Bush because she made us miss Soul Food Thursdays.

Friend: Oh yeah. Clearly we were protesting her shutting down the campus for an educational summit where she and her husband are such clear objects of supporting minority education policies. I'm not saying we're racist or anything.

Girl: NO, we were protesting the war in Iraq.

Friend: But Soul Food Thursdays do go on in Iraq.

TV SHOWS

"He Said... She Said"

Adapted from horoscopes courtesy of tarot.com

Overheard® at the Mecca

Girl #1: Have you heard from ?

Girl #2: Naw, I don't know what's wrong with her. I been tryna call her for over a week and she won't return my phone calls.

G1: That's messed up.

G2: But the worst part was she went on facebook and untagged all her pictures with me. She didn't have time to call me back but she can go untag me and stuff!

G1: Trolloip.

"We're So Educated on the Issues"

Overheard at the Shuttle Stop

Girl: I can't believe that guy wrote that article about us basically saying we were like a bunch of chicken-eating coons.

Friend: What guy?

Girl: You know the guy that works for the New York Post.

Friends: The Post wrote an article about Howard.

Girl: Yeah. On Saturday or something. Saying that basically we only protested Laura Bush because she made us miss Soul Food Thursdays.

Friend: Oh yeah. Clearly we were protesting her shutting down the campus for an educational summit where she and her husband are such clear objects of supporting minority education policies. I'm not saying we're racist or anything.

Girl: NO, we were protesting the war in Iraq.

Friend: But Soul Food Thursdays do go on in Iraq.

TV SHOWS

"He Said... She Said"

Adapted from horoscopes courtesy of tarot.com

Overview: The passionate Scorpio Moon turns up the heat on our emotions so we can harness the power of the full moon on Saturday. It can be intense and jump headfirst into the issues at hand. It's not about playing the blame game; it's about accepting responsibility and moving forward. Be more emotionally engaged until the intensity is expressed. Then, and only then, is it possible to better loosen up the blockages in your life.

On the whole, people are in the awesome footsteps, they can be a problem. They are not the same. I am not suggesting that we open our hearts. However, going to an 8:10 class with 15 pounds of textbooks is a different story. I am not suggesting that we open our hearts.

Overview:

Gi·mini:

Taurus:

Cancer:

and bad times. Be more emotionally engaged until the intensity is expressed. Then, and only then, is it possible to better loosen up the blockages in your life.

Scorpio:

Virgo:

Aquarius:

Capricorn:

Pisces:

On the whole, people are in the awesome footsteps, they can be a problem. They are not the same. I am not suggesting that we open our hearts. However, going to an 8:10 class with 15 pounds of textbooks is a different story. I am not suggesting that we open our hearts.

Overview:

BLACK WOMAN, I AM IMPRESSED. YOU LOOK MAGNIFICENT!, "FIT THE UNBEATABLE!"

DEE TUBBS, DANNY GLOVER FROM "MAGNUM, P.I." BASKER VANCE, THE PAR FROM "FAMILY MATTERS" IN "TIE TIGHT," DAMON BROWN IN THE LAST JOKER, COLIN POWELL, SAM JACKSON IN "MENTAL LIONS," AND ALL THE BLACK SIDELINERS WITH FEW INDEPENDENT STORY LINES AND LOVE SCENES SACRIFICED, SO THAT BLACKWOOD COULD FINALLY TAKE CENTER STAGE.

ANY CHANCE OF A BLACK WOMAN BEING AT ALL IN A LEADING ROLE?

WE'RE STILL THAT SAME RAMPART: TELLIN REESE WITHERSPOON OR SANDRA BULL, YOU KNOW, IF YOU'LL ONLY GET YOUR LOVE IN THE TRIUMPH NEXT YEAR, YOU'LL BE IN THE TREADER WITH THEM.

"We're So Educated on the Issues"

Overheard at the Shuttle Stop

Girl: I can't believe that guy wrote that article about us basically saying we were like a bunch of chicken-eating coons.

Friend: What guy?

Girl: You know the guy that works for the New York Post.

Friends: The Post wrote an article about Howard.

Girl: Yeah. On Saturday or something. Saying that basically we only protested Laura Bush because she made us miss Soul Food Thursdays.

Friend: Oh yeah. Clearly we were protesting her shutting down the campus for an educational summit where she and her husband are such clear objects of supporting minority education policies. I'm not saying we're racist or anything.

Girl: NO, we were protesting the war in Iraq.

Friend: But Soul Food Thursdays do go on in Iraq.

TV SHOWS

"He Said... She Said"

Adapted from horoscopes courtesy of tarot.com

Overview: The passionate Scorpio Moon turns up the heat on our emotions so we can harness the power of the full moon on Saturday. It can be intense and jump headfirst into the issues at hand. It's not about playing the blame game; it's about accepting responsibility and moving forward. Be more emotionally engaged until the intensity is expressed. Then, and only then, is it possible to better loosen up the blockages in your life.

On the whole, people are in the awesome footsteps, they can be a problem. They are not the same. I am not suggesting that we open our hearts. However, going to an 8:10 class with 15 pounds of textbooks is a different story. I am not suggesting that we open our hearts.
Call's to Chapl in Sunday forenoon an d a full week of campus organi zation events he tting their annual events. The The Hilltop supports organi zations and helps them spread awareness of their groups by having "Sisterh oods." This week's organization event is not doing the direct students and groups they are involved in just yet.

Looking at the back of our own paper we see that four of the Greek sororities and fraternities are having weeks along the University week's time and choose quality students from different group, host to have already in place thanks to the abundance of weeks and doing the diverse students housed in clubs. Having in interest in many of the Hilltop has been completch the part that Negroes' Georgetown Incident should be a good thing. We should do a better job meeting the objective of being an organization over quantity. And with the diversity of groups we see that four teams don't overlap so much and campus groups should make sure they are offering quality over quantity.

The University Organization Assembly is already in place thanks to the past. HUSA administration and the goal of unifying camp- pos groups will be achieved as well. With the abundance of weeks and events going on, organizations should do this part to make their event successful. Our campus clubs must go back to the root of being an organization to organize.

Perspective: Rebutting the "Rowdy Negroes" Georgetown Incident

As a new, proud Howard student it was shocking to read an article in The Hilltop on Thursday Sept 21, 2006 regarding the so-called "crashed Georgetown party" by a group of "Rowdy Negroes" from our school.

Apparent ly, the perspec tive was not to our side, and the story has been completely misinformed. As I am here to set the story straight regarding the party that Howard students, and others, showed up in attendance.

First off, we were not invited guests, considering other students and myself have been to the "crashed party," who let us know that it was okay to join in the party on their campus. We were going last minute just to catch a party, and for the other interaction that are close to us in D.C.

Since when is it ok to party with fellow students from different schools? Anyway, as the party pro- gressed for about 10 minutes everything was all good. This music, the people, the dancing, it was the typical house party to which we all have been missing from home.

As well began to get hyped, we started reggae's our school, as they did Georgetown stu- dents. Shots of JD and GT were flowing and the vibe and it seemed as though it was all fun and games. Until then there were apparently local and GT students who decided they thought we shouldn't be there. We were never asked to leave that party, instead they took it upon themselves to fight us as we started a fight. We simply went to have a good time for free with some friends that we haven't seen in a while. Should we be penalized for wanting to have a good time when we weren't the bringing? And there were reports of our fellow students were jumped, security officers from their school beaten up? NO! We were put in a unsafe condition by their security officers. We made it back safely, but first personally was bad to hear how NO! We were put in a unsafe condition by their security officers

Well, that's all we have to say. GT nothing against you guys, but don't be so worry, HU will gladly stay on our side of the street.

Brettin C. Quarles, freshman

Organization Overload

The University Organization Assembly is already in place thanks to the past. HUSA administration and the goal of unifying campus groups will be achieved as well. With the many choices now presented to students, organizations must make sure the events they dis- cuss are worth- while. Though it's the Howard thing to do we should not overlap our events, if a club does not enough great events for an entire week, it shouldn't spread it's event over a week's time and choose qual- ity over quantity. And with the abundance of weeks and events going on, organizations should do their part to make their event successful. Our campus clubs must go back to the root of being an organization to organize.
Freshman 15: What Causes the Weight Gain, How to Avoid it?

BY C.H. MILLES
Freshman 15: What Causes the Weight Gain, How to Avoid it?

O f f i c i a l s advise students to work out regularly and eat moderate portions to avoid gaining any weight that would tempt them. "I don't think it's a problem for all freshmen, but there is a lack of exercise to exercise and a lack of diet. We need to lose weight at the end of the year," said Scott.

"I recommend that they try to lose weight by going to the gym and at home," said Scott. "It's important to lose weight and maintain a healthy diet."