11-6-2006

The Hilltop 11-6-2006

Hilltop Staff

Follow this and additional works at: https://dh.howard.edu/hilltop_0010

Recommended Citation

https://dh.howard.edu/hilltop_0010/345

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the The Hilltop Digital Archive at Digital Howard @ Howard University. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Hilltop: 2000 - 2010 by an authorized administrator of Digital Howard @ Howard University. For more information, please contact lpez.matthews@howard.edu.
John Legend Performs at Crantons

BY MELISSA TYLER

Cranston Auditorium was filled to its maximum capacity with John Legend and his fans, including Howard’s own Auditorium on Friday evening. Cranesome Experience, in Cranesome Association (ASA) held its annual event, which some members of the audience were familiar with. The show started off with the ASA dance troupe, which pranced and performed around the stage. The lights dimmed and everyone knew what to expect. The ASA dance troupe, with its latest single entitled “Lover,” took the stage.

The first song of the evening was performed by the ASA dance troupe, which pranced and performed around the stage. The lights dimmed and everyone knew what to expect. The ASA dance troupe, with its latest single entitled “Lover,” took the stage.
Academic Advisor, Students Offer Advice for Avoiding the Delays that Come With General Registration

Students cope with the thought of spring registration fast approaching, as registration and bookstore deadlines have been looming and are fast approaching. Students cope with the thought of spring registration fast approaching, as registration and bookstore deadlines have been looming and are fast approaching. Students cope with the thought of spring registration fast approaching, as registration and bookstore deadlines have been looming and are fast approaching.

Academic Advisor, Students Offer Advice for Avoiding the Delays that Come With General Registration

Students cope with the thought of spring registration fast approaching, as registration and bookstore deadlines have been looming and are fast approaching. Students cope with the thought of spring registration fast approaching, as registration and bookstore deadlines have been looming and are fast approaching. Students cope with the thought of spring registration fast approaching, as registration and bookstore deadlines have been looming and are fast approaching. Students cope with the thought of spring registration fast approaching, as registration and bookstore deadlines have been looming and are fast approaching.
Before CEO, There's ROTC.

Army ROTC will help you develop the leadership skills and character you need to succeed in your future career. You'll graduate as an Officer, a leader of the U.S. Army.

For information about Army ROTC scholarships and officer career opportunities, contact Captain Eric Sigmund at 562-826-6164, email sigmund@howard.edu, at East Douglas Hall, Room 1073.

READ IN CLASS IS NOT A GOOD THING.*

We invite you to explore the Summer III Student Nursing Experience with Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota. This program is for junior-year students of a four-year baccalaureate nursing program. The Summer III program is a paid nursing experience that begins in early June and lasts for 10 weeks. This is a supervised nursing program that allows students to work alongside an RN Clinical Coach. This program also provides scholarships for students.

For more information and to view a short video about the Summer III program, please visit our website or contact:

Mayo Clinic Human Resources, OE-4
2001 St. Street SW
Rochester, MN 55905
ph: 800-562-7984
e-mail: summer3@mayo.edu

Application Deadline: January 15, 2007

www.mayoclinic.org/summer3-est

Road Trip!

Howard University
vs. Hampton University
3:00pm

&

Bowie State University
vs. Virginia Union University
5:00pm

Come support the Howard University Men's Basketball team in another showdown against the Hampton Pirates!

Get on the bus for just $51.00 which includes your $15.00 game ticket.

Pay your way today! Visit
Crampton
Auditorium to reserve your seat.

Seating is limited!

*系列活动细节请访问Howard University Athletics.
The Black Vote is based on the fact that blacks traditionally vote Democratic. With elections on the minds of Michael Steven, a Republican, Democrats have openly supported their design over Democratic politicians. Those findings of dollars, the number of events, and the number of vote call to the Democratic Party. The party that they feel is better is the one that they support for Democrats.

Democratic say the Democratic party's identity is in "appearing the GOP." Senator John Kerry (D-Mass.) is a vocal Democrat in opposition to the administration's policy. "The external issues include institutionalized racism. Some that the government has just begun," Fortier said. "The Black community has much more cohesiveness than the Republican campaign." He also agrees that the Democratic State Committees are intended. Many Blacks feel that the party that they support for Democrats.

The Black community has much more cohesiveness than the Republican campaign. He also agrees that the Democratic State Committees are intended. Many Blacks feel that the party that they support for Democrats.

The Black community has much more cohesiveness than the Republican campaign. He also agrees that the Democratic State Committees are intended. Many Blacks feel that the party that they support for Democrats.

The Black community has much more cohesiveness than the Republican campaign. He also agrees that the Democratic State Committees are intended. Many Blacks feel that the party that they support for Democrats.

The Black community has much more cohesiveness than the Republican campaign. He also agrees that the Democratic State Committees are intended. Many Blacks feel that the party that they support for Democrats.
Identity Theft threatens MySpace Users

By Victoria Kirby

By Victoria Kirby

In October 2005, Nortel, an Internet security company, discovered that a hacker had accessed unexpected information into gaining up their account details through a practice known as phishing.

In order to acquire personal information from the popular online community, the user registered an account on the site without being authenticated, thus, under the guise of legitimate outils, phishers use e-mail addresses to require recipients into giving away information such as social security numbers, credit card information and bank account information.

Garuba suggested that Internet patrons adhere to precautions that keep users from falling prey to scams.

"You should be wary of anything that asks you for personal information. Never click on a link in an e-mail if it looks suspicious. Phishing, by definition, is when you are contacted directly by telephone through a publicly advertised number. The caller then asks for personal identification numbers, which is also important," he added.

Garuba also used the example of Web sites and situations students to be careful when performing online transactions on computers that do not belong to them.

Many Howard students believe that it is the responsibility of online patrons to protect themselves from Internet scams and personal identification.

"You can't hold 100 percent of the fault on the hackers, vendor or whatever you want to call that person. The majority of the fault goes to the user who publishes their life stories and shortcomings on MySpace," said sophomore anthropology major Brian Austin Bacon.

Senior anthropology major and MySpace.com user Brittany Gates is wary of the threat of online accessibility to her personal information.

"I really find it disturbing that private information can be easily tricked out of you," Gates added.

She also said that it's frightening that information could be used against you in some way.

Gates encourages other patrons to be cautious in giving up any personal and financial information about themselves online.

"First, be wary of unsolicited e-mails. Second, don't download any files they send you. Third, don't open any attachments and don't click any links. Fourth, don't enter personal details into a Web site that you don't believe is legitimate. If it looks suspicious, just don't do it. If you access a Web site and you don't know where it's coming from, then do not enter personal data into a Web site that you don't know where it's coming from. And people should identify themselves with the site."

Phishing is a rising form of identity theft that allows scam artists to use a victim's personal information to conduct unauthorized online transactions.

Director of Electronic Business, and Computer Security, Mosi Garuba explained phishing as the method by which scam artists trick victims into giving away private information.

"Often going as legitimate outils, phishers use e-mail addresses to require recipients into giving away information such as social security numbers, credit card information and bank account information.

Garuba suggested that Internet patrons adhere to precautions that keep users from falling prey to scams.

"You should be wary of anything that asks you for personal information. Never click on a link in an e-mail if it looks suspicious. Phishing, by definition, is when you are contacted directly by telephone through a publicly advertised number. The caller then asks for personal identification numbers, which is also important," he added.

Garuba also used the example of Web sites and situations students to be careful when performing online transactions on computers that do not belong to them.

Many Howard students believe that it is the responsibility of online patrons to protect themselves from Internet scams and personal identification.

"You can't hold 100 percent of the fault on the hackers, vendor or whatever you want to call that person. The majority of the fault goes to the user who publishes their life stories and shortcomings on MySpace," said sophomore anthropology major Brian Austin Bacon.

Senior anthropology major and MySpace.com user Brittany Gates is wary of the threat of online accessibility to her personal information.

"I really find it disturbing that private information can be easily tricked out of you," Gates added.

She also said that it's frightening that information could be used against you in some way.

Gates encourages other patrons to be cautious in giving up any personal and financial information about themselves online.

"First, be wary of unsolicited e-mails. Second, don't download any files they send you. Third, don't open any attachments and don't click any links. Fourth, don't enter personal details into a Web site that you don't believe is legitimate. If it looks suspicious, just don't do it. If you access a Web site and you don't know where it's coming from, then do not enter personal data into a Web site that you don't know where it's coming from. And people should identify themselves with the site."

Phishing is a rising form of identity theft that allows scam artists to use a victim's personal information to conduct unauthorized online transactions.

Director of Electronic Business, and Computer Security, Mosi Garuba explained phishing as the method by which scam artists trick victims into giving away private information.

"Often going as legitimate outils, phishers use e-mail addresses to require recipients into giving away information such as social security numbers, credit card information and bank account information.

Garuba suggested that Internet patrons adhere to precautions that keep users from falling prey to scams.

"You should be wary of anything that asks you for personal information. Never click on a link in an e-mail if it looks suspicious. Phishing, by definition, is when you are contacted directly by telephone through a publicly advertised number. The caller then asks for personal identification numbers, which is also important," he added.

Garuba also used the example of Web sites and situations students to be careful when performing online transactions on computers that do not belong to them.

Many Howard students believe that it is the responsibility of online patrons to protect themselves from Internet scams and personal identification.

"You can't hold 100 percent of the fault on the hackers, vendor or whatever you want to call that person. The majority of the fault goes to the user who publishes their life stories and shortcomings on MySpace," said sophomore anthropology major Brian Austin Bacon.

Senior anthropology major and MySpace.com user Brittany Gates is wary of the threat of online accessibility to her personal information.

"I really find it disturbing that private information can be easily tricked out of you," Gates added.

She also said that it's frightening that information could be used against you in some way.

Gates encourages other patrons to be cautious in giving up any personal and financial information about themselves online.

"First, be wary of unsolicited e-mails. Second, don't download any files they send you. Third, don't open any attachments and don't click any links. Fourth, don't enter personal details into a Web site that you don't believe is legitimate. If it looks suspicious, just don't do it. If you access a Web site and you don't know where it's coming from, then do not enter personal data into a Web site that you don't know where it's coming from. And people should identify themselves with the site."
The Howard University Bookstore Presents:

Actress and Comedienne

Mo’Nique

SKINNYCOOKS CAN'T BETRUSTED

New York Times bestselling author of

Skinny Women are Evil

Booksigning Event
Wednesday, November 8, 2006
11:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m.

with Sherri McGhee McCoye
Recipe Consultant G. Garvin

The Howard University Bookstore
2225 Georgia Ave, NW, Washington DC 20059

For more information call 202.238.2640 or visit hubookstore.com
The Bison held their own throughout the first half of play, but could not manage a comeback after several game-altering mistakes helped widen the Bulldogs’ lead.

The Bison offense, which had held to only three total yards in the second half, was held in Rutherford with 66 yards on 14 carries and Johnson, who accounted for 101 total yards.

Redskins Stun Cowboys With Game-Ending FG

Kicker Nick Novak made a 47-yard field goal at the 1:01 mark of the fourth quarter to give the Redskins a 22-19 win over the Dallas Cowboys, following a bizarre sequence. Novak missed a 40-yarder with 31 seconds left, which led to a Cowboys 30-yard attempt. Mike Vanderjagt’s attempt was blocked by Washington’s Troy Vincent. Redskins safety Sean Taylor recovered the fumble, returned it to the Dallas 47 and drew a 15-yard facemask penalty, setting up Novak’s unlikely game-winner.

Bison Sports Short

Senior, Groot Earn All-ASC Honors for Men’s Soccer

Howard freshman midfielder Joel Groot was named the Rookie of the Year for the Atlantic Soccer Conference and was also selected to the ASC First Team. He is joined by senior forward Jason Groot as an all-conference selection.

Senior, a native of Jamaica who played high school soccer at Archbishop Carroll, was named to the ASC Second Team and earned all-conference honors for the Bison in his senior season.

In addition to earning all-conference honors, Sesner was also named the ASC Rookie of the Year, earning All-Conference recognition for his contributions as an all-conference selection.

Scoreboard & Schedule

Scores

- Volleyball: Howard 3, Winston-Salem State 0
- Football: Howard 10, S.C. State 20

Today’s Games

- None

Welcome to the South: Tri-State Invasion!

- Live and Direct!
- 8PM-10PM

- Incense and Candles! Monday-Thursdays 10PM-12AM

Good Morning HU!

- Monday-Friday 8AM-10AM

HOT SHOWS!

- Tuned in For...

The Battleground

- Monday-Wednesday, Friday 8PM-10PM

Welcome to the South!

- Tuesday-Thursday 8PM-10PM

Live and Direct!

- Monday-Wednesday 4PM-6PM

Tri-State Invasion!

- Monday-Wednesday 4PM-6PM

Incense and Candles!

- Monday-Thursdays 10PM-12AM

Hit Us Up!

- (202) 865-8800

Channel Fifty-Even

New Special Features: THE STRIP!!!

Mondays!!! 9PM!!!

Comedy Skits from HU Students!
BY AMARIS NOBLE

Young Love, an electro-indie band from New York, is on tour with British rapper Lady Sovereign for the month of November.

TH: Can you give us a brief history of Young Love?

Keyes: I was in a rock band [Reunion] and when it started to fall apart, I moved to New York. I went out to clubs to dance and party and started writing songs. I was inspired by being in that city. Most of the songs on it are about eighteen-year-olds.

TH: Who did you tour with?

Keyes: I was touring with [Stepsister] and a friend of mine who was living in Brooklyn called and said that his roommate bailed on him so he had an extra room. The next day I called and told him I was on my way. I showed up with my guitar and a bag of clothes and food. It was crazy.

TH: Tell us about the name.

Keyes: I recorded the whole album in London. It's a little town called Bath. I met another musician to help me out so I called it Bob (Robert), the guitar player from Reunion and asked him to work with me.

TH: How do you perform?

Keyes: When Bob and I got back from recording the album, we found out we had a door in two weeks, so we had to get a band together. I called up some friends and started working it out. Every show, the arrangements would be in London at the time and we moved him to New York. We also called Russ, the bass player from Reunion, to come up to New York to play with my Eric, whom I met in New York, and the younger brother of a friend of mine and pop up to be really good at the keys. That pretty much replaced the band.

TH: Describe your sound for those who may not be familiar with Young Love.

Keyes: The sound we were going to be on tour with Justin Timberlake, singing on a ballad, but.

TH: How is it different from your last album?

Keyes: That's a secret.

TH: What do you think the future holds for Young Love?

Keyes: Well, we’re just finished the Good Charlotte tour and we’re going to be on tour with Lady Sovereign so another month after the record comes out I'm on tour forever.

The Abercrombie & Fitch Look: Still Under Construction

Despite conspicuous posters of blonde women in bathing suits, the face of Abercrombie & Fitch (A&F) has undergone some serious changes that push past the most daunting glitz found in the Abercrombie experience. It has transitioned, when walked into the store one day, a once-black employee at the entrance of the 57th Street store, where they wouldn’t have applied for a job. According to Mends-Cole, the A&F look, like the rest of the world, is in full swing.

In 1999 by MALDEF, the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, didn’t take up the case against A&F until 2001, when Urias Mends-Cole, the lead plaintiff in the $10 million lawsuit, was recruited when he was working in the store. His job was to recruit minority employees, a job that he had applied for. The suit was filed when he was recruited when he was working in the store. His job was to recruit minority employees, a job that he had applied for. The suit was filed when he was recruited when he was working in the store. His job was to recruit minority employees, a job that he had applied for.

A & F’s corporate diversity plan was written into the corporate diversity plan in 2001 that resulted from court-ordered litigation. The company of the all-American image is a big company that has been under minor employees who worked at the A&F stores. It is a big company that has been under minor employees who worked at the A&F stores. It is a big company that has been under minor employees who worked at the A&F stores. It is a big company that has been under minor employees who worked at the A&F stores.

"The stereotype of the "all-American" suburban kid for which the company has been criticized.

Important note: employees are not excluded from the workforce. About 40 of them are black and 5 to 10 percent are Asian. However, when looking at the entire workforce, employees are not excluded from the workforce. About 40 of them are black and 5 to 10 percent are Asian. However, when looking at the entire workforce, employees are not excluded from the workforce. About 40 of them are black and 5 to 10 percent are Asian. However, when looking at the entire workforce, employees are not excluded from the workforce. About 40 of them are black and 5 to 10 percent are Asian. However, when looking at the entire workforce, employees are not excluded from the workforce. About 40 of them are black and 5 to 10 percent are Asian. However, when looking at the entire workforce, employees are not excluded from the workforce. About 40 of them are black and 5 to 10 percent are Asian. However, when looking at the entire workforce, employees are not excluded from the workforce. About 40 of them are black and 5 to 10 percent are Asian. However, when looking at the entire workforce, employees are not excluded from the workforce. About 40 of them are black and 5 to 10 percent are Asian. However, when looking at the entire workforce, employees are not excluded from the workforce. About 40 of them are black and 5 to 10 percent are Asian. However, when looking at the entire workforce, employees are not excluded from the workforce. About 40 of them are black and 5 to 10 percent are Asian. However, when looking at the entire workforce, employees are not excluded from the workforce. About 40 of them are black and 5 to 10 percent are Asian. However, when looking at the entire workforce, employees are not excluded from the workforce. About 40 of them are black and 5 to 10 percent are Asian. However, when looking at the entire workforce, employees are not excluded from the workforce. About 40 of them are black and 5 to 10 percent are Asian. However, when looking at the entire workforce, employees are not excluded from the workforce. About 40 of them are black and 5 to 10 percent are Asian. However, when looking at the entire workforce, employees are not excluded from the workforce. About 40 of them are black and 5 to 10 percent are Asian. However, when looking at the entire workforce, employees are not excluded from the workforce. About 40 of them are black and 5 to 10 percent are Asian. However, when looking at the entire workforce, employees are not excluded from the workforce. About 40 of them are black and 5 to 10 percent are Asian. However, when looking at the entire workforce, employees are not excluded from the workforce. About 40 of them are black and 5 to 10 percent are Asian. However, when looking at the entire workforce, employees are not excluded from the workforce. About 40 of them are black and 5 to 10 percent are Asian. However, when looking at the entire workforce, employees are not excluded from the workforce. About 40 of them are black and 5 to 10 percent are Asian. However, when looking at the entire workforce, employees are not excluded from the workforce. ...
The Fenty Take-Over in D.C. Schools

Tomorrow's elections could mean much bigger changes for the city of Washington, D.C. The mayor, Anthony Williams, has already announced that he will not seek a third term, leaving the fate of the District's public school system in limbo. With Williams' departure, the question of who will lead the city's public schools could become even more pressing.

Many residents are underwhelmed by the current state of the school system, and there is a growing sentiment that change is necessary. Supporters of mayoral hopeful Vincent Gray, who is running on a platform of educational reform, believe that Gray could bring the necessary leadership to improve the schools.

Our View:
Go, Fenty, for starting to effect change in the District before even being elected!

Not only is Fenty's plan worth a try, we have already seen the success of reforming a school system around Mayor Bloomberg in New York City. Fenty has already been throwing his hat into the ring, and we hope he can take good lessons moving forward.

Education Members of the D.C. councilman Julius Hobson who was a champion for education as a young American stand up and see that they really need a better school system around Mayor Bloomberg in New York City. Fenty has already been throwing his hat into the ring, and we hope he can take good lessons moving forward.

The Hilltop:
The Hilltop: The Nation's Only Black Daily Collegiate Newspaper

PERSPECTIVES
Perspectives:
HIV/AIDS Epidemic

The Hilltop:
The Nation's Only Black Daily Collegiate Newspaper

PERSPECTIVES
Perspectives:
HIV/AIDS Epidemic

Dear Editor,

I am responding to your Oct. 17, 2005 article entitled, "Educating the Metropolitan Area on HIV/AIDS," which featured Hilltop students and staff from Metropolitan Washington D.C. PATHWAY. The student is not only a local youth to elevate them on their sexual and reproductive health. As a youth activist with Advocates for Youth, I understand the current situation.

However, I am concerned that not enough attention is being paid to the importance of positive health advocacy. Through increased awareness is an important tool in fighting this pandemic, with increased advocacy, ensuring the youth of America can become a more successful process.

With over 35 million people currently living with HIV/AIDS of which a third are between 13-19 years of age, it is imperative that it is important to encourage caregivers and families to demand more funding towards HIV/AIDS programs to complement sexual education and access to contraceptives. It is our responsibility to focus this from our policies, leaders, and youth advocates.

Under the President's Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief (PEPFAR), which is a joint effort of U.S. and African leaders to fight the HIV/AIDS pandemic in 15 of the most affected countries, funding is expected to go towards prevention, care, treatment and research for HIV/AIDS.

However, a stipulation exists where a third of all funding must go toward abstinence-only sexual education, abstinence only sexual education is an ineffective means of reducing HIV/AIDS infection rates; additionally, it limits the funding that could go toward other prevention, care, treatment and research efforts.

Under the Protecting Against Transmission of HIV for Women and Youth (PATHWAY) Act, subsidies are required to replicate the upkeep of the PATHWAY Act. This would allow for better attention of funding towards prevention strategies which are scientifically proven methods of preventing HIV/AIDS. Giving young people adequate information and access to contraceptives is dangerous and irresponsible. This is why it is still important for young people to lobby for such issues.

Advocacy is important as it provides the youth with a political perception of a given issue, but also influences policy decisions, government funding and health care policies and political climate.

While U.S. government officials within the Senate and House of Representatives, it is important for American to be on the top of the issue that often their daily news, I believe that educating Americans on HIV/AIDS is not enough, but rather enlightening them on how to be proactive is of course to educate and treatment for HIV/AIDS represents a step toward effective fighting this pandemic.

Sincerely,
Lesley M. Burniel
HILLTOPICS

November 6, 2006

CLASSIFIEDS
The Hilltop prints Hilltopics every Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The first 20 words are $10 and $.25 for each additional word.

ALL CLASSIFIED ADS MUST BE PAID FOR AND SUBMITTED SEVEN DAYS IN ADVANCE. LATE FEE FOR ALL CLASSIFIED ADS NOT SUBMITTED SEVEN DAYS IN ADVANCE.

Payment acceptable by cash or check. Any questions please contact The Hilltop Business Office (202) 806-4749 or by e-mail www.hilltopbusiness@gmail.com.

THE BROTHERS OF IOTA PHII FRATERNITY, INC. WILL HOLD AN INTERNATIONAL O.N. 3/8/2006 @ 733 ECU2ID STREET, NW AT 7:08 PM (ECU2ID IS ACROSS FROM THE SCHOOL OF "B")

HOWARDIOTAS.COM

2007 HOMECOMING STEERING COMMITTEE CHAIR AND TREASURER APPLICATIONS ARE AVAILABLE!!!!!! PICK-UP APPLICATIONS IN THE OFFICE OF STUDENT ACTIVITIES BLACKBURN CENTER, SUITE 117 APPLICATIONS ARE DUE FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 17TH AT 5:00 PM IN THE OFFICE OF STUDENT ACTIVITIES FOR ADDITIONAL INFORMATION PLEASE CALL (202) 806-7000

WARRANT OFFICER FLIGHT TRAINING

IF YOU ARE 19-28 YEARS OLD, HAVE A HIGH SCHOOL DIPLOMA AND ARE OTHERWISE QUALIFIED, YOU MAY APPLY TO THE Warrant Officer Flight Training Program and Learn to Fly one of the Army's Sophisticated Helicopters. You may qualify for $37,224 FOR COLLEGE THROUGH THE MONTGOMERY GI Bill. To find out more, contact 410-669-1181.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES STUDENT COUNCIL HOSTS YOU. IF YOU WOULD LIKE TO HAVE YOUR WORK PUBLISHED IN THE "FLAGSHIP" NEWSPAPER, PLEASE CONTACT REGINALD DAVIS AT 202-806-7009

THE COAS STUDENT COUNCIL IS HOSTING A TOWN HALL MEETING: "DAWN OF A NEW DAY" NOVEMBER 9TH, 2006 BLACKBURN GALLERY LOUNGE 7:00 PM REFRESHERMENTS WILL BE SERVED.

EPP PRESENTS... THE WOMEN BEHIND IT ALL. ALL LECTURE SERIES HELD ON NOVEMBER 15TH. GET YOUR FREE TICKET IN CROMPTON.

THE UNIVE STUDENTS' TRUSTEE COMMITTEE & CRISPAN PRESENT "AUDIENCE WITH YOUR UNDERGRADUATE TRUSTEE: VOICES FROM BLACKBURN" TUESDAY, NOV. 7-6:00 PM BLACKBURN HEALTH BUILDING TO VOTE YOUR CONCERNS!

JOIN THE LADIES OF ALPHA CHAPTER DELTA SIGMA THETA SORORITY, INC. FOR FOOD, FUN AND FELLOWSHIP AT COMMUNITIES AND SUPPORT THE 20TH ANNUAL WOMAN TO WOMAN CONFERENCE ON 1216 10TH STREET, THURSDAY NOVEMBER 9, 2006 FROM 5:30 PM

POLITICAL SCIENCE WEEK:

"LEADERSHIP FROM THE HILTOP TO THE HILL"

-MONDAY

POLITICAL MIX & MINGLE MEET FELLOW POLITICAL SCIENCE MAJORS 7:00PM DOUGLASS HALL D-21

-TUESDAY ~

ELECTION NIGHT PARTY MEETING IN FRONT OF DOUGLASS HALL AT 6:00PM

-WEDNESDAY ~

"ACCEPTING YOUR CALL TO LEADERSHIP" SPEAKER: DR. DEBBI THOMAS CO-Sponsored BY ZETA PHI BETA SORORITY, INCORPORATED 7:00PM DOUGLASS HALL D-21

-SATURDAY ~

"A TRIP TO THE HILL" MEETING AT FRONT OF DOUGLASS HALL AT 10:00AM

-THURSDAY ~

POLITICAL SCIENCE SOCIETY FUNDRAISING MEETING IN FRONT OF DOUGLASS HALL AT 1:30PM

COLLEGE OF ARTS & SCIENCES STUDENT COUNCIL PRESENTS "ASSC IN YOUR AREA... DREW HALL" NOVEMBER 6TH, 2006 7:00-8:00 PM REFRESHERMENTS WILL BE SERVED.

THE NATIONAL SOCIETY OF BLACK ENGINEERS

INVITE ALL MAJORS TO... "HOW CAN I IMPACT THE COMMUNITY?" CARL MACK, THE CURRENT PRESIDENT OF THE NATIONAL SOCIETY OF BLACK ENGINEERS SPEAKS NOVEMBER 9TH IN THE ENGINEERING AUDITORIUM

HOWARD UNIVERSITY COLLEGE DEMOCRATS PRESENTS: ELECTIONS 2006 IN NOVEMBER 6TH 4-7 PM T-SHIRT DISTRIBUTION IN BLACKBURN LOWER LEVEL (T-SHIRT INCL. WITH $20 DUES PAYMENT)

NOVEMBER 7TH 7-11PM ELECTION NIGHT PARTY AT DUFFY'S PUB IN 2100 VERMONT AVE. NW LACROSSE FROM 8:30 CLUB TO 21 TO DRINK "FREE ADMISSION FREE FOOD FREE ELECTION COVERAGE"

FOR MORE INFORMATION: HUCCOLLEGEDEMO CRATS@GMAIL.COM

TREMENDOUSH!!!