2-23-2007

The Hilltop 2-23-2007

Hilltop Staff

Follow this and additional works at: https://dh.howard.edu/hilltop_0010

Recommended Citation

https://dh.howard.edu/hilltop_0010/396

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the The Hilltop Digital Archive at Digital Howard @ Howard University. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Hilltop: 2000 - 2010 by an authorized administrator of Digital Howard @ Howard University. For more information, please contact lopez.matthews@howard.edu.
Students Discuss Social Injustice, Black Diaspora

BY EISON FARBER

Students gathered last night in the Blackburn Reading Lounge to listen to their fellow classmates engage in an open panel discussion. The event was convened by Golden Kay, the Howard University SACLNT chapter and the College of Arts and Sciences.

The panel, which was moderated by Jello Jamaica studies professor Gregory Carr, focused on prominent issues such as Hurricane Katrina, stereotypical images of black women in mainstream media as well as the upcoming presidential election.

The forum gave the panel the opportunity to convey their opinions on the topics that related to their specified expertise.

Students were later given the opportunity to make comments and ask questions. A majority of which focused on the discussion and served as a catalyst for further thought.

Adams was the lead panelist on this issue, focusing on the hierarchy of the news industry and its role in the power of gatekeepers.

"Women are misrepresented as a whole, particularly in journalism," Adams said.

He continued, "I'm convinced by the trend that black women have a lot to say, and we have to own media and not fall into the mainstream media.

The event was convened by BY MESSIAH, a junior political science major.

Smith, who is a native of New Orleans, opened up the panel discussion to ask about lessons learned and things he feels he has to focus on.

Wilson, a student from California, focused on the civil rights movement.

"Music videos are the best creation of BET," Wilson said.

Baker asked the panel the question of how they should go about articulating, then executing the plan of action.

Golden Kay sponsored a forum for students to voice their opinions on the impact of black women in society. The forum featured Caribbean food, dancers and models. Music was provided in Burr Gymnasium. The event, which lasted from 7 p.m. to midnight, was open to anyone.

"A woman's sexuality is a curse and a gift and a curse," Baker said.

"It is hard to think of a modern woman who has her sexuality stripped away," the novelist said.

Sapphire, who takes over the leadership of Howard's chapter of the Delta Sigma Theta sorority, commented on Adams' presentation and their belief that because you're young and you're a kid, it's not for you to take at face value.

"It is crucial that men understand that because you're young and you're a kid, it's not for you to take at face value," Baker said.

The members of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity Incorporated, helped "Black Women In Media," a discussion about black stereotypes and presented solutions to them. It was also an opportunity to progress the black community.

Ray Baker, a senior broadcast journalism major, moderated the event.

"This is just the beginning of a change in the black community that are not understood," Baker said.

"We also have a great opportunity and a great responsibility to take this thing up to the next level and make sure we keep going.

There was a panel of distinguished figures from the Howard and Howard community, including Dr. Clive Wilkie and Dr. Barbara Bland, professors in the School of Communication, Carla Bradly, who serves as Mayor Adrian Fenty's aide in the director of media and communication, and News Journa, a professor in the School of Communication.

"We have to be the voice of the people," Brailey said.

"We have to be the voice of the people."
CapComm Challenges Students

By TRAVIS RINGGOLD

CapComm is an advertising and public relations agency as “the Black college experience.” Howard opened her eyes to never being exposed to known the Haitian Student Association (HSA) and African Students Association (ASA) having large student organizations that still exist on Howard’s campus. Each year, the Haitian Student Association holds an annual event called “Fantasy Island” to sensitize and inform the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creative way to involve the community and this is a creativ...
GET ANTIBIOTICS FROM YOUR DOCTOR, NOT YOUR MEAT.

We're serving naturally raised meat that doesn't require a prescription.

In fact, all of the meat we serve in D.C. — beef, chicken and pork — is free of antibiotics and added growth hormones, fed a vegetarian diet and raised humanely.

We think meat raised this way naturally tastes better.

Serving naturally raised meat is another step in our ongoing Food With Integrity journey — bringing you the best ingredients from the best sources.

Chipotle

MEXICAN GRILL

— ALL MEATS SERVED IN D.C. ARE NATURALLY RAISED —

VERIZON CENTER @ 7TH & G STREET

---

Nobel Minds

Explore the fascinating life of Nobel Laureate Dr. Ivar Giaever, awarded the 1973 Nobel Prize in Physics.

Airing on WHUT-TV
February 25, 2007
3pm and 8:30pm

This program is being brought to you by

Honeywell

For more information on the Honeywell Nobel initiative visit their website at www.honeywellscience.com/lectures
BY AMBER ENGLISH

The battle of increased awareness of caffeine consumption, the Coca-Cola company announced this week that it will unveil new cans detailing the caffeine content of its soft drinks.

The nutritional label will include the exact amount of caffeine in each serving. They will be unveiled in Coca-Cola Classic packages in May, and will expand to Coca-Cola's other brands throughout the year, according to a press release by the Coca-Cola company.

This information is already included on the packaging for both Coca-Cola's energy drinks, Full Throttle and Energy, and World Fruit, which is an expansion of Coca-Cola's "continued commitment to expanding nutritional labeling."

In 2005, the company started its Belt (Packaging with basic nutritional information for both eight-ounce serving and half-liter serving sizes).

The Coca-Cola Company confirmed that every package around the same time PepsiCo announced that it would start labeling its diet drinks. Pepsi Max will start doing so later this year.

The new drinks will have been taken with an increase of caffeine and sugars for the full taste, according to the People's Web site. Although FIFA also is officially considered safe by the FDA, it poses certain risks in terms of the risk for Type 2 diabetes.

The Coca-Cola Company said it is "taking a significant step" in response to the new labeling laws, which will "help our customers make informed choices about their caffeine intake."

In the United States, the CDC estimates that there are about 30,000,000 individuals who regularly consume caffeine, and World Fruit in particular.

"We've Got Issues..." will appear in The Hilltop every other Friday. Produced in part by Project Voice, "We've Got Issues..." will look at a particular topic that is pertinent to the black community. It will also present the basic facts and perspectives of the conservative and liberal wings. Then it's your turn after reading both perspectives, tell us what YOU think.

Issue: Funding for HIV/AIDS

According to the Department of Health and Human Services, in 2006, 10.1% of the U.S. population, or about 13.4 million Americans, were infected with HIV/AIDS.

The CARE Act was named after Ryan White, an Indiana native who lived with HIV/AIDS and against AIDS-related discrimination,偏爱帮助全国各地的地区。然而，根据其规定之一，它禁止了同性恋、双性恋和变性人的资格。这项法律还为接受医疗和心理健康服务的人提供了一条途径，以避免在工作或享受国家资助的医疗福利时的歧视。

In the United States, some school districts have gone as far as to ban soft drinks in schools.

However, various health organizations have released findings which say otherwise. These groups include the World Health Organization and the American Psychiatric Association.

"It is possible that caffeine may have a role in reducing the risk for Type 2 diabetes and in reducing the risk of heart disease," said Dr. Paul L. Cohen, director of the National Institute on Aging.

In the United States, some school districts have gone as far as to ban soft drinks in schools. The phenomenon has been mirrored in other countries, where parents have banned soft drinks from their homes. This is because of the connection between caffeine and obesity, according to the Korea Times. In regard to the caffeine levels, analysts expect PepsiCo to follow Coca-Cola's move.

During the early 1990s, the prevalence of HIV/AIDS in urban areas exploded, with 84.5 percent of AIDS cases, according to the Rural Center for AIDS/STD Prevention, where rural areas only accounted for 15.5 percent of AIDS cases, according to the Rural Center for AIDS/STD Prevention.

In regard to the caffeine levels, analysts expect PepsiCo to follow Coca-Cola's move.

However, in other parts of the world, the reaction has been more mixed. In Thailand, nearly two schools banned soda and other sugary drinks in an effort to curb rising rates of childhood obesity, according to the Korea Times.

So far as to ban soft drink machines, such as juice machines, from schools.

In 2005, Sens. Hillary Clinton and Chuck Schumer of New York introduced a new amendment to the CARE Act that would allocate funding to rural areas with at least 200,000 inhabitants. The amendment would provide basic nutritional information on its packaging. Pepsi is expected to follow.

In the United States, some school districts have gone as far as to ban soft drinks in schools. The phenomenon has been mirrored in other countries, where parents have banned soft drinks from their homes. This is because of the connection between caffeine and obesity, according to the Korea Times. In regard to the caffeine levels, analysts expect PepsiCo to follow Coca-Cola's move.

The CARE Act was named after Ryan White, an Indiana native who lived with HIV/AIDS and against AIDS-related discrimination, and whose efforts helped advocate for the rights of people living with HIV/AIDS and AIDS-related discrimination. The CARE Act was signed into law in 1990, and has been amended and reauthorized several times since then. It is one of the largest federal health care programs in the United States, and its provisions are implemented by the Health Resources and Services Administration and the Health Resources and Services Administration.

In the United States, some school districts have gone as far as to ban soft drinks in schools. The phenomenon has been mirrored in other countries, where parents have banned soft drinks from their homes. This is because of the connection between caffeine and obesity, according to the Korea Times. In regard to the caffeine levels, analysts expect PepsiCo to follow Coca-Cola's move.

The CARE Act was named after Ryan White, an Indiana native who lived with HIV/AIDS and against AIDS-related discrimination, and whose efforts helped advocate for the rights of people living with HIV/AIDS and AIDS-related discrimination. The CARE Act was signed into law in 1990, and has been amended and reauthorized several times since then. It is one of the largest federal health care programs in the United States, and its provisions are implemented by the Health Resources and Services Administration and the Health Resources and Services Administration.

In the United States, some school districts have gone as far as to ban soft drinks in schools. The phenomenon has been mirrored in other countries, where parents have banned soft drinks from their homes. This is because of the connection between caffeine and obesity, according to the Korea Times. In regard to the caffeine levels, analysts expect PepsiCo to follow Coca-Cola's move.

The CARE Act was named after Ryan White, an Indiana native who lived with HIV/AIDS and against AIDS-related discrimination, and whose efforts helped advocate for the rights of people living with HIV/AIDS and AIDS-related discrimination. The CARE Act was signed into law in 1990, and has been amended and reauthorized several times since then. It is one of the largest federal health care programs in the United States, and its provisions are implemented by the Health Resources and Services Administration and the Health Resources and Services Administration.

In the United States, some school districts have gone as far as to ban soft drinks in schools. The phenomenon has been mirrored in other countries, where parents have banned soft drinks from their homes. This is because of the connection between caffeine and obesity, according to the Korea Times. In regard to the caffeine levels, analysts expect PepsiCo to follow Coca-Cola's move.

The CARE Act was named after Ryan White, an Indiana native who lived with HIV/AIDS and against AIDS-related discrimination, and whose efforts helped advocate for the rights of people living with HIV/AIDS and AIDS-related discrimination. The CARE Act was signed into law in 1990, and has been amended and reauthorized several times since then. It is one of the largest federal health care programs in the United States, and its provisions are implemented by the Health Resources and Services Administration and the Health Resources and Services Administration.

In the United States, some school districts have gone as far as to ban soft drinks in schools. The phenomenon has been mirrored in other countries, where parents have banned soft drinks from their homes. This is because of the connection between caffeine and obesity, according to the Korea Times. In regard to the caffeine levels, analysts expect PepsiCo to follow Coca-Cola's move.

The CARE Act was named after Ryan White, an Indiana native who lived with HIV/AIDS and against AIDS-related discrimination, and whose efforts helped advocate for the rights of people living with HIV/AIDS and AIDS-related discrimination. The CARE Act was signed into law in 1990, and has been amended and reauthorized several times since then. It is one of the largest federal health care programs in the United States, and its provisions are implemented by the Health Resources and Services Administration and the Health Resources and Services Administration.

In the United States, some school districts have gone as far as to ban soft drinks in schools. The phenomenon has been mirrored in other countries, where parents have banned soft drinks from their homes. This is because of the connection between caffeine and obesity, according to the Korea Times. In regard to the caffeine levels, analysts expect PepsiCo to follow Coca-Cola's move.

The CARE Act was named after Ryan White, an Indiana native who lived with HIV/AIDS and against AIDS-related discrimination, and whose efforts helped advocate for the rights of people living with HIV/AIDS and AIDS-related discrimination. The CARE Act was signed into law in 1990, and has been amended and reauthorized several times since then. It is one of the largest federal health care programs in the United States, and its provisions are implemented by the Health Resources and Services Administration and the Health Resources and Services Administration.

In the United States, some school districts have gone as far as to ban soft drinks in schools. The phenomenon has been mirrored in other countries, where parents have banned soft drinks from their homes. This is because of the connection between caffeine and obesity, according to the Korea Times. In regard to the caffeine levels, analysts expect PepsiCo to follow Coca-Cola's move.

The CARE Act was named after Ryan White, an Indiana native who lived with HIV/AIDS and against AIDS-related discrimination, and whose efforts helped advocate for the rights of people living with HIV/AIDS and AIDS-related discrimination. The CARE Act was signed into law in 1990, and has been amended and reauthorized several times since then. It is one of the largest federal health care programs in the United States, and its provisions are implemented by the Health Resources and Services Administration and the Health Resources and Services Administration.

In the United States, some school districts have gone as far as to ban soft drinks in schools. The phenomenon has been mirrored in other countries, where parents have banned soft drinks from their homes. This is because of the connection between caffeine and obesity, according to the Korea Times. In regard to the caffeine levels, analysts expect PepsiCo to follow Coca-Cola's move.

The CARE Act was named after Ryan White, an Indiana native who lived with HIV/AIDS and against AIDS-related discrimination, and whose efforts helped advocate for the rights of people living with HIV/AIDS and AIDS-related discrimination. The CARE Act was signed into law in 1990, and has been amended and reauthorized several times since then. It is one of the largest federal health care programs in the United States, and its provisions are implemented by the Health Resources and Services Administration and the Health Resources and Services Administration.

In the United States, some school districts have gone as far as to ban soft drinks in schools. The phenomenon has been mirrored in other countries, where parents have banned soft drinks from their homes. This is because of the connection between caffeine and obesity, according to the Korea Times. In regard to the caffeine levels, analysts expect PepsiCo to follow Coca-Cola's move.
Three-time NBA Chp Dennis Johnson Dies at 52

Dennis Johnson, a free agent NBA All-Star who was a member of their championship teams, died Thursday after collapsing at the end of his practice session with his NBA Development League team.

He was 52.

"He was one of the most understated players in the history of the game," said Former Boston coach Danny Ainge Thursday.

"I will always remember him as a team player and not a self-centered player," said former Harvard coach Tommy Amaker, who played with Johnson at Harvard.

Johnson's passing is a blow to the basketball community, as he was known for his hard work and dedication to the game. He will be missed by all who knew him.

---

Around the Sports World

Don't Blink, Or You Might Miss...

By GARY GRANT

No. 4 Pittsburgh vs. Johnnies - Sat. - 1 p.m., CBS

As March and NCAA tournament time approaches and nears, there is only one team that has consistently had the upper hand.

The Panthers from the Pennsylvania State University have been a terror on the court this season, winning games with ease in the process. Their record of 25-0 is the best in the nation, and they have earned the top seed in the tournament.

---

By ELLIOTT JONES

No. 4 North Carolina vs. No. 12 Duke - Sat. - 2 p.m., ESPN

This Sunday, North Carolina and Duke will square off in a men's basketball game that is expected to be one of the best of the year. The Tar Heels have a 13-7 record, while the Blue Devils are 13-10.

Both teams are expected to put on a show, and fans are excited for the matchup.

---

THE HILLTOP

SCOREBOARD & SCHEDULE

Notes

Weekend Games

Friday

Softball @ Virginia State 2 p.m.

Saturday

Women's Basketball @ Coppin State 2 p.m.

Sunday

Lacrosse @ Monmouth 1 p.m.

By CAR YN GRANT

No. 12 Georgetown - Sat.

Men's & Women's Tennis @ MEAC Roundup (Coppin State) - Thursday-Saturday

North Carolina & South Carolina College

---

By ERIKA ROBINSON

Bison Express Boosts Athletics Behind the Scenes

An athletic department cannot be successful without a source of income, yet there are many colleges that are struggling to provide needed financial support for their athletic departments.

Bowie State University, however, has implemented a booster organization of alumni and friends. A Booster Organization of Alumni and Friends, or B.O.A.F., was created in the late 1980s in an effort to support Bowie State's sports.

The organization centers on alumni and friends who are willing to give back to the University and help in the contribution to the success of Bowie State's athletic program.

"Having this group is a must," said President Danese, who has been president for the past five years, and has thought about trying to educate the alumni.

Reaching out to the band and the cheerleaders, the organization schools the students that this money is used to provide scholarships for student athletes and their coaches.

They also stress the point that they want athletes to graduate. "We believe the responsibility of giving back to the school that gave us as much as we did to it," Danese said.

To encourage former alumni, along with friends of the University to give back, there are several projects in effect. Mercer is working on establishing a radio network to broadcast games on TV and radio.

Currently the University utilizes radio to reach an audience of about 150,000 listeners.

"We want to show that physical facilities, money, the alumni who have returned to Bowie, is exciting," Danese said.

Any fan or Howard alumni who are willing to support athletics can be a part of the B.O.A.F. and can contribute to the improvement and success of Howard State University.

---

Around the Sports World

Miami's Wade Dislocates Shoulder in Loss, Considering Surgery

Don't Blink, Or You Might Miss...

---

Don't Blink, Or You Might Miss...

---

Don't Blink, Or You Might Miss...
"Vagina Monologues" Coming to A Stage Near 'U'

Counselors Climb to 'Cure' Homosexuality

BYSACI A. ANDERSON

The debate questions whether one is born gay or if one's sexual orientation can be altered through counseling.

"It's literally about the very way that we think," said Monica Harris, a junior psychology major. "It's about the way we see sex, how's producer. "We talk about things we think about, but are afraid to talk about.

"We don't want to be seen as a sexual. Homo sexuality is not a choice," Caldwell said. "It is a learned life style was fueled recently by Rev. Ted Haggard.

"I don't think [gay people) become homosexual, but if you're raised gay, that's your identity. I don't think there's a cure for that," said David T. Haggard, managing director of The National Association of Evangelists and was found out of his position after he produced "The bat Colorado Springs, Colo., after a former male prostitute alleged that he had a three-year affair with the defendant.

"I don't think that homosexuality is a permanent way of life, or if one's sexual orientation can change at will.

"I don't think that gay people can turn straight from homosexuality to heterosexuality. There are still mental health professionals that believe that it's as simple as a snap of the fingers."

"I don't think that homosexuality is a mental illness," said RAGOSAH member and Palestinian American, Jordan Phylis Yvonne Stickney. "I don't think that there's a cure for that."
The Mammy Effect in Hollywood

As the black community anticipates the 79th Academy Awards this Sunday, we have to take long consideration for the images that are released and accepted in mainstream entertainment. Although we note that not all “black stereotypical” images are evil, there is a line between appropriate and offensive images released. The role of Mammy is a critical character throughout history. Typically possessed of a simple and insolent African-American image, for years the mammy symbol has been the main image of the African-American community as a whole.

Our View: Playing the role of the mammy only serves to perpetuate negative stereotypes about black women and the African-American community as a whole.

Correction: 2/22 Edition

The Hilltop apologizes for a mistake in yesterday’s article titled Meridian Students Petition for Changes in Meridian Hill dormitory. No fire alarms were triggered, however. Again, we apologize for the error.

The Hilltop: The Nation’s Only Black Daily Collegiate Newspaper

Jana Hones Managing Editor
Ayasha Rascoe Editor-in-Chief
Christina M. Wright Managing Editor

Drew Castlew Campus Editor
Stacy A. Anderson Copy Chief

Brittany Hutson Campus Editor
Denise Horr

Shanae Harris Campus Editor
Phillip Lucas

Danielle Kwasiwe Life & Style Editor
Denise Horr

Brittany Johnson Life & Style Editor
Denise Horr

Morgan Nevilles-Moore Life & Style Editor
Jasmin Melvin

Amber English Nature & World Editor
Je remy Williams

Daily SuDoku

Directions: Each row, each column, and each 3x3 box must contain each and every digit 1-9 exactly once.

1 3 9
d 2 6 8
e 5 4 7 ~

The Hilltop: The Nation’s Only Black Daily Collegiate Newspaper

Jana Hones Managing Editor
Ayasha Rascoe Editor-in-Chief
Christina M. Wright Managing Editor

Drew Castlew Campus Editor
Stacy A. Anderson Copy Chief

Brittany Hutson Campus Editor
Denise Horr

Shanae Harris Campus Editor
Phillip Lucas

Danielle Kwasiwe Life & Style Editor
Denise Horr

Brittany Johnson Life & Style Editor
Denise Horr

Morgan Nevilles-Moore Life & Style Editor
Jasmin Melvin

Amber English Nature & World Editor
Je remy Williams

Read The Hilltop ONLINE

www. THEHILLTOPONLINE.com

The Hilltop encourages its readers to share their opinions with the newspaper through Letters to the Editor or Perspectives. All letters must be submitted at: thehchilltoponline.com. Letters should be sent electronically on our Web site at www.thehilltoponline.com.

The Hilltop encourages its readers to share their opinions with the newspaper through Letters to the Editor or Perspectives. All letters must be submitted at: thehchilltoponline.com. Letters should be sent electronically on our Web site at www.thehilltoponline.com.

The Hilltop encourages its readers to share their opinions with the newspaper through Letters to the Editor or Perspectives. All letters must be submitted at: thehchilltoponline.com. Letters should be sent electronically on our Web site at www.thehilltoponline.com.

The Hilltop encourages its readers to share their opinions with the newspaper through Letters to the Editor or Perspectives. All letters must be submitted at: thehchilltoponline.com. Letters should be sent electronically on our Web site at www.thehilltoponline.com.
The Hilltop prints Hilltopics every Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The first 20 words are $1.00 and $.25 for each additional word.

ALL CLASSIFIED ADS MUST BE PAID FOR AND SUBMITTED SEVEN DAYS IN ADVANCE. $1. LATE FEE FOR ALL CLASSIFIED ADS NOT SUBMITTED SEVEN DAYS IN ADVANCE.

Payment acceptable by cash or check. Any questions please contact The Hilltop Business Office (202) 806-4749 or by e-mail www.hilltopbusiness@gmail.com

EXCELLENCE AWARDS AVAILABLE TODAY SIGN UP IN THE HUSA OFFICE. DUE MARCH 14 9:50 PM ONLY.

Join the Class of 2007 as it prepares for graduation. Admissions are considered on the basis of academic achievement. Submit your Senior Will today.冬уст $25!

Students should submit applications to The Hilltop Business Office located on 5th Floor.

Celebrate Black History Through "On My Journey Now" A Song/ Dance/ Spoken Word Presentation of the Negro Spiritual

Sunday, February 25, 2007
4:00 PM
Info: Call (301)499-3004 or 1-800-774-0566 Twice Productions

STUDENT ACTIVITIES PRESENTS: "Lift Every Voice" BLACK HISTORY MONTH ORATORICAL CONTEST & EXHIBITION.

WHEN: FEBRUARY 26TH 2007 WHERE: BLACKBURN CENTER AUD.

WHO: 6-8 PRE-Screened Contestants. PRIZES FOR PARTICIPANTS. CO-Sponsored with Coas & Phi Sigma Pi National Honors Fraternity

Hilltop Rules! Are you a graduating senior?

Do you love Howard University?

Express your feelings and re-live your favorite HU memories in the Graduation Edition of the The Hilltop!

Submit your SENIOR WILL today! Just $25!

Include a picture of your choice.

Hilltopbusiness@gmail.com or 202.806.4749