9-20-2007

The Hilltop 9-20-2007

Hilltop Staff

Follow this and additional works at: https://dh.howard.edu/hilltop_0010

Recommended Citation
https://dh.howard.edu/hilltop_0010/437

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the The Hilltop Digital Archive at Digital Howard @ Howard University. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Hilltop: 2000 - 2010 by an authorized administrator of Digital Howard @ Howard University. For more information, please contact lopez.matthews@howard.edu.
Pelosi addressed the Howard community yesterday at Cramton. She talked about providing grant money for Nation University's campus, making it an "extremely occasion." Pelosi made time to make a trip to Howard University to deliver a report card on what Congress has been up to.

The act was unveiled on the 60th anniversary of the March on Washington. It is an extremely occasion. The bill, which was introduced by Rep. John Conyers Jr., D-Mich., is a fundamental change to our democracy.

Pelosi's speech was widely praised for its clarity and specificity. She called for elected officials to "be more accountable to the people," and for Congress to "lead the country rather than just follow it." Her speech was also praised for its eloquence and her passion for the cause.

"We have always believed that the American people deserve better," Pelosi said. "That is why we are here today, and why we are fighting for this bill."

The bill would strengthen the role of the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau in regulating financial institutions, and would prohibit banks and other financial institutions from engaging in abusive or unfair practices. It would also establish a national consumer bureau that would oversee and enforce consumer protection laws across the country.

"This bill is about empowering the American people," Pelosi said. "It is about ensuring that our financial institutions are held accountable to the American people."

The bill is expected to pass the House and the Senate, and President Obama has said he would sign it if it becomes law. "We support this bill," Obama said. "It is the right thing to do, and it is the right time to do it."

The bill is a key part of Obama's broader agenda to "reform the system" and "restore the faith" of the American people. "This is about rebuilding trust," Obama said. "It is about making sure that our financial institutions are held accountable to the American people."

"The American people have suffered enough," Obama said. "We will not stand by while our financial system continues to fail."

The bill is expected to have a significant impact on the financial industry, and many experts believe it will lead to a more stable and fairer financial system.

"This is about making sure that our financial institutions are held accountable to the American people," Obama said. "It is about rebuilding trust."
CAMPUS September 20, 2007

2 CAMPUS Cleaner, Neater Campus Desired by Students By DANA SU KONTARAKA Staff Writer Freshman biology major Renatta Benons is excelling socially by committing to organizations that cater to her interests and support her beliefs.

"I'm not falling victim to apathy," Benons, a sophomore, has said. "My friends are very concerned about the environment."

"I like being part of organizations that are doing something to make the world a better place," she said.

Benons is a member of the Howard University Student Environmental Association, which is responsible for grounds care on the main campus. Benons is also a volunteer for Seeds of Change, a club for students with Chinese roots, which she embraces as a "background," Benons said.

"I'm not sure if many students know they can get help," said John Stegall, a senior marketing major. "I think a lot of people are just not aware of the resources that are available to them."
Come add to an 83-year old legacy!

The Hilltop has filled most positions in the editorial and business office, but there are still a few open. Below are the ONLY remaining positions:

- Online Editor
- Layout Editor
- Graphic Designer
- Staff Writer (Sports)
- Copy Editors (2)
- Staff Photographer
- Photo Assistants (2)

Got an Eye?
Show YOUR perspective!

Photo Budget
Meetings
Tuesdays @ 7 p.m.

P-Level of the West Towers

AVIAN INFLUENZA STUDY
TO PARTICIPATE, VOLUNTEERS MUST:
• Be healthy and 18 to 59 years old
• Be HIV negative and not have Hepatitis B or C
• Meet criteria to donate blood

Doctors at the National Institutes of Health are conducting a research study (#06-1023) to test the avian influenza vaccine and to study the potential for new treatments for flu.

AS PART OF THE STUDY
• Volunteers will receive 2 doses (one or two injections) of an investigational vaccine against avian influenza into the muscle one month apart
• Volunteers must be willing to donate plasma by plasmapheresis (a standard type of blood donation, similar to a platelet donation)
• Volunteers will be compensated

Call today to learn more | 1-800-411-1222
http://clinicaltrials.gov/ct2

Today's Science Student
Tomorrow's Leader

Recognized worldwide for our cutting-edge medical and scientific research, the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Disease (NIAID) has a responsibility to improve global health in the 21st century. Our basic and applied research programs are aimed at improving diagnosis, treatment, and prevention of immunological, allergic, and emerging and re-emerging infectious diseases.

Visit NIAID for its 5-day exploratory program:
Intramural NIAID Research Opportunities
February 3-7, 2008

Explore NIAID's unique research training programs during INRO and
• Hear scientific lectures from some of the world's most talented investigators.
• Tour Institute laboratories and see the state-of-the-art scientific equipment.
• Interview with principal investigators for potential research training positions.

The open application period is from 8/15/07 - 10/15/07.

To learn more about INRO and submit your application, please visit http://www.niaid.nih.gov/labs/training/inro

P-Level of the West Towers

Submit a perspective to the E&P Editor.

http://thehilitop.com
HopStop.com Offers Guides to Public Destinations

BY JAMIA HOGAN

HopStop.com, a Web site offering quick, easy-to-use navigation for those who need to travel between destinations, has launched a new tool at HopStop.com/hopstopashop.com.

The new tool, called the Metro Guide, is an easy-to-use navigation tool for those who need to travel between destinations on the District's Metro system.

The Metro Guide allows users to find the quickest route between two points, using the District's Metro system. The tool also allows users to see the estimated time of arrival for their chosen route.

HopStop.com is one of the most-used navigational websites in the world, offering quick and easy-to-use navigation tools for those who need to travel between destinations.

The Metro Guide is just one of the many tools that HopStop.com offers to help make travel easier and more efficient. Whether you're planning a trip or just need to get from one place to another, HopStop.com has the tools to make your journey as smooth as possible.

Don't miss out on the convenience of the Metro Guide. Visit HopStop.com today and start making your travels easier!

Write for Metro!
Bring story ideas to Hilltop budget meetings.
Mondays at 7 p.m. in the West Towers.

THE HILLTOP

Rental Pressure Increases for Senior Citizens Living in the District

BY MONICA JONES

The D.C. Tenant Advocacy Coalition (TENAC), a nonprofit organization that is dedicated to fighting tenant's rights, has found that many elderly residents are being hit with huge rent increases.

According to Stephen M. Anderson, director of the D.C. Tenant Advocacy Coalition, the latest rent increase data show that many elderly tenants are being hit with 200 percent rent increases, which is a huge increase.

Anderson said, "The price of renting a rental unit is not enough to cover the elderly and disabled. The price is out of reach for many of these tenants."

Director Mervin J. Brown, president of The Metropolitan Transit Authority (WMATA), said that they have received reports of rent increases for tenants who are elderly and disabled.

Brown said, "We have received reports of rent increases for tenants who are elderly and disabled. These increases are not enough to cover the cost of rent."

Anderson said, "If you think about it, they have to put aside some basic things such as grocery shopping money."

Mervin J. Brown, president of The Metropolitan Transit Authority (WMATA), said that they have received reports of rent increases for tenants who are elderly and disabled.

Brown said, "We have received reports of rent increases for tenants who are elderly and disabled. These increases are not enough to cover the cost of rent."
Think about it. Most gifts are pretty unimaginative. A lamp turns on, it turns off. Pretty exciting stuff.

But give Savings Bonds, and you'll be giving the gift of future possibilities—from a down payment on a car to help with college tuition. With eight denominations to choose from, there's a size for every occasion. You can select the popular Series EE Bond or the inflation-protected I Bond. They're available through most banks, where you work, or automatically through the new Savings Bonds EasySaver Plan at www.easysaver.gov.

Call 1-800-US BOND for recorded rate information, or write to:
Savings Bonds Pocket Guide,
Parkersburg, WV 26106-1328.

For complete information about U.S. Savings Bonds, visit our Web site at www.savingsbonds.gov.
No one looks back fondly on the time they spent in a parking garage.

When we lose a historic place, we lose a part of who we are. To learn how you can help protect places in your community, visit NationalTrust.org or call 1-800-315-NTHP. History is in our hands.
When your children ask where you got married,
will you have to say,
"Over there, by the unleaded?"
Bigger is Not Always Better. Health Outweighs Beauty

McNair's

Perspective

According to the National Institutes of Health, obesity has become an epidemic in American schools. High blood pressure and a host of other life-threatening health issues have been linked to America's steady growing dilemma of obesity. The National Institutes of Health have issued a warning about obesity promoting a growing problem in American dream. But as positive results are depicted as part of the American dream, but they have gone so far they have become irrelevant.

The key concept of being a Healthy American dream. But as positive results are depicted as part of the American dream, but they have gone so far they have become irrelevant.

Our View:

Being Big can be Beautiful, but being healthy is what's most important.

Perspective Become Fact After the School of Pageant/Column

The School of Communications Pageant Coordinator, Mr. McNair, has been working in the pageant for the past ten years. He has seen the pageant go through many changes and is the one responsible for the current pageant. He has also been working with the school on the pageant and has been involved with the pageant for many years. He is also the one who submitted mine to the School of Communications Pageant Coordinator.

The Perspective section of the pageant is the views of the The Hilltop.

The Hilltop is the student newspaper of Howard University. It is published weekly during the school year and monthly during the summer. It is the official newspaper of Howard University. It is published by the School of Communications at Howard University. It is the official student newspaper of the university.

The Hilltop was founded in 1923 by Howard University students. With a readership of more than 5,000, The Hilltop is the largest black college newspaper in the nation.

The opinions expressed in the Editorial and Perspectives page are the views of the The Hilltop Editorial staff and do not necessarily reflect the views of Howard University or its administration.

The Hilltop reserves the right to edit letters for space and grammatical errors and may, in its discretion, refuse to print any inappropriate, libelous or defamatory content. All letters must be submitted a week prior to publication.

The Hilltop
Bison Athletes Use Prayer as Outlet Before The Game

BY STEPHEN KNOX

BY AVERY GREEN

Communicating Editor

September 20, 2007

Collegiate, Professional Referees Face ‘Skepticism’

BY AVERY GREEN

Communicating Editor

September 20, 2007