The National Park Service (NPS) announced yesterday that an investigation into the possible sex crimes committed by a National Park Service employee is underway.

The investigation was prompted by a tip from a concerned citizen who claimed to have observed suspicious behavior near the entrance of the park.

According to sources, the individual was seen entering and leaving the park multiple times over a period of weeks.

The NPS is currently conducting a thorough investigation to determine whether any criminal activity has taken place.

Officials are urging anyone with information about this incident to come forward and assist with the investigation.

The NPS has also reminded visitors to remain vigilant and report any suspicious activity they observe in the park.

In other news, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has approved a new project aimed at reducing plastic waste in local communities.

The initiative, known as the "Zero Waste" program, seeks to encourage residents to recycle and compost their waste, thereby reducing the amount of plastic that ends up in landfills.

The EPA has partnered with local businesses and organizations to promote this program, and is providing resources and support to help communities implement successful zero waste practices.

Governments around the world are increasingly acknowledging the environmental impact of plastic waste, and are taking steps to address the issue.

The Zero Waste program is part of a broader national effort to combat plastic pollution, and is expected to have a significant positive impact on the environment.

For more information on the Zero Waste program and how to get involved, visit the EPA website or contact your local environmental agency.
Campus Police Department Names New Chief

By Davonne Foster

Newly appointed Campus Police Chief Mark Low is a black graduate student studying criminal justice and psychology. He has previously served in various police capacities, including as a police officer and a detective. Low was appointed to the position after an extensive search by the Campus Police Department.

Low replaces former Chief John Jones, who retired after 25 years of service. Jones is a highly respected member of the campus community and is known for his commitment to community policing and his dedication to serving the campus community.

Low's appointment was announced by the University's interim president, who praised his qualifications and experience.

Low will be responsible for overseeing the 30-member Campus Police Department, which is responsible for ensuring the safety and security of the campus.

Low said he is excited to take on the new role and looks forward to working with the Campus Police Department to ensure a safe and secure environment for all members of the community.
Brightens rooms.

Brightens futures.

Give a Gift That Brightens More Than Just a Room.

Think about it. Most gifts are pretty unimaginative. A lamp turns on. It turns off. Pretty exciting stuff. And there are some gifts that no one knows what they're supposed to do.

But give Savings Bonds, and you'll be giving the gift of future possibilities—from a down payment on a car to help with college tuition. With eight denominations to choose from, there's a size for every occasion. You can select the popular Series EE Bond or the inflation-protected I Bond. They're available through most banks, where you work, or automatically through the new Savings Bonds EasySave Plan at www.easysaver.gov.

Bison Edge Coppin State Eagles in Overtime

By Drew Durand
Combating Writer

The Bison men’s basketball team picked up a big win in a hard-fought battle Monday night. Howard defeated the Coppin State Eagles (14-7, 7-7 MEAC) in overtime, securing a dance team berth in the MEAC.

The big game was Howard’s only opportunity to secure the MEAC Tournament berth. Howard could use the experience this season, given their struggles in the past.

The key to the win was Howard’s defense, which held Coppin State to just 67 points, while Howard scored 75.

The Eagles jumped out late, leading by nine points at one point in the game. However, Howard’s defense held strong and prevented the Eagles from scoring.

In the end, Howard’s hard work paid off, as the team secured its first win of the season and its first MEAC Tournament berth.

Coppin State Eagles Soar Past Lady Bison in Televised Contest

By Drew Durand

The Lady Bison (16-1, 2-4 MEAC) saw their season come to an end Monday night, falling to Coppin State (22-0, 7-0 MEAC) in a televised game.

In the first half, both teams battled hard, with Coppin State holding a slim 1-point lead at halftime. However, in the second half, the Lady Bison came back strong, taking a 1-point lead with less than 5 minutes left in the game.

Despite their best efforts, the Lady Bison were unable to secure a win, falling to Coppin State 80-79.

Okoh Under Investigation

Oko Okoh

University of Maryland’s newest record setter, Okoh, is under investigation for possible academic misconduct.

Okoh, who holds the personal bests of 4:01.95 in the 800m, 4:53.70 in the 400m, and 1:50.69 in the 800m, was recently suspended by the university after allegations of academic misconduct were brought to light.

The investigation is ongoing, and the university is working closely with the NCAA to ensure compliance with all rules and regulations.

Brother to R&B ‘Legend’ Hopes to Bring Versatile New Sound to the Game

By DANIELLE KARTING

Kash, which is up-and-coming R&B star, has gained a lot of attention in recent years. Known for his smooth vocals and catchy tunes, Kash hopes to bring a fresh perspective to the genre.

"I've always been passionate about music," said Kash. "I grew up listening to everything from old school R&B to contemporary artists. I've always known that I wanted to be a singer, but I didn't know how to get started."

Kash began his musical journey by performing at local events and逐渐地 gaining popularity. His music has been described as a fusion of old school R&B and contemporary pop. His debut album, "Streets of Love," was released last year and received critical acclaim.

"The album’s response has been overwhelming," said Kash. "I’m incredibly grateful for the support from my fans and the industry. I’ve heard some incredible feedback on the album and I can’t wait to see what the future holds."

Kash is currently working on his second album, which he hopes will continue to showcase his versatility and ability to connect with listeners.

"I want to make sure that my music resonates with people of all ages," said Kash. "I want to create music that is timeless and will stand the test of time."

Kash has high hopes for his career and is looking forward to the opportunities that will come with success.

"I’m ready for whatever comes my way," said Kash. "I’m ready to take on the world and prove myself as an artist."

Kash is a true example of hard work paying off. His dedication to his craft and passion for music is evident in his music and performances.

"I just want to keep growing and learning," said Kash. "I want to continue to evolve as an artist and deliver music that resonates with listeners."

Kash is a shining example of the power of determination and hard work. His success is a testament to the fact that anyone can achieve their dreams with dedication and persistence.

Blige’s ‘Growing Pains’ Worth Struggle

By SHARON H. LEWIS

The gem of hip-hop with whom almost everyone is familiar, Aaliyah’s "Grown Woman," is a well-rounded blend of R&B and hip-hop. Her fifth studio album, "Missy," is the result of her growing and expanding her musical palette.

The album has been described as a departure from her previous work. With the songwriting and production crafted by Missy Elliott, the album features a mix of R&B and hip-hop elements.

Blige’s second track, "Just Can’t Get Enough," is a dance-oriented track that showcases her skills as a singer and dancer. The album also features collaborations with some of the industry’s biggest names, including Jay-Z and Missy Elliott.

"I’m really excited about this album," said Blige. "I’ve been working on it for a long time and I’m thrilled with the final product. I think it’s going to be a big hit with fans."
