HUSA Push Forces General Assembly to Step Up

BY JESSICA LEWIS

The Howard University Student Association (HUSA) General Assembly held its final meeting in the following week's time, the assembly members focus on the Selection Committee devoted to finding a Staff Writer for Coppin State University. The students have extremely rewarding experiences and are looking forward to accepting an offer at Coppin State University, Vice President for Student Affairs, Franklin D. Chambers, will resign in January 2009 to accept an offer at Coppin State University as their new vice provost to replace him. Chambers said, "I really love Howard, and I don't regret it. The people here are passionate and are an experience, having had family members attend Howard.

Following the resignation by a national search, Coppin would select a体制改革 to address issues in their stated fields of expertise," Chambers added that after an assembly or committee meeting, the 10 representatives halted the dismissal until a presentation was made to the General Assembly today.

"I think I have been able to work with some people in General Assembly, and I believe we will serve in the future," Chambers said.

Student body president Nicholas Owen, a member of the Selection Committee, said, "I am really interested in the future of the Howard University's chapter of the National Council for Negro Women (NCNW). This holiday, Howard University's chapter of the National Council for Negro Women (NCNW) is working with the Bed-Stuy Branch, NCNW, and the Howard University Branch, NCNW, to collect food and clothing items for those in need.

"It's as real as you can get," Harvey said. "We are on the streets feeding the homeless. NCNW volunteers go out into the D.C. community to make a difference. For the first time, NCNW helped raise money for blankets for the holiday with SERV. We collected 50 blankets that will stay with Harvey and her friends are planning their Black Friday promo-

Students Faced With Different Travel Expenses for Holiday

BY TAHIRAH HAIRSTON
Staff Writer

With the holidays quickly approaching, holiday travel expenses can vary greatly on a budget.

"I paid $300 for my Thanksgiving ticket in 2007, but this year I paid $350," said Andrea White, junior television production major. "I bought my tickets last year, but this year I bought my tickets last week."

"Travel Price Comparison from 2007 to 2008"

Amtrak Train Ticket
2007: $60-$131
2008: $64-$177
(11% increase)

Northwest Plane Ticket
2007: $300
2008: $400 with fees such as luggage check

Northwest Luggage Fees
1st luggage $15
2nd luggage $25
3rd luggage $125
4th-10th luggage $200 (for luggages that weigh no more than 50 lbs.)

Northwest Plane Ticket
2007: $300
2008: $400 with fees such as luggage check

Gas Prices
2007: $3.00 or more
2008: $2.00 or less

"Flying is probably the cheapest way to travel, but I haven't flown in a while," said Dominique Ford, freshman English major. "I was working on it, but I bought a flight with Northwest for $132 round-trip."

"The best of any opportunities that come in."

"To put more effort into my schoolwork in general."

"To stay focused on important things."

"To live a healthier lifestyle."

"The only thing I'm going to do differently this Christmas is going to be staying in instead of going out," said John Clark, senior math major.
