Obama Delivers Health Care Speech to Students at the University of Maryland

BY CAMILLE AUGUSTIN

President Obama delivered a speech to thousands of students at the University of Maryland in College Park, Maryland.

"We need a fix for the health care system that has been broken for too long," the president told students at the University of Maryland in College Park.

Obama said that the speech would be his last address to the country as president, and he urged Congress to work together to pass a reform measure.

"I have been looking at the American people for 17 years," said Obama. "I am looking at people who have been without health care for a very long time." Obama added that the reforms will be hard work, but that it is worth it for the future of the country.

"I want to make sure you understand that the proposals I'm going to make are not pie in the sky," Obama said. "I want to make sure you understand that the proposals I'm going to make are not pie in the sky. They are real and they are tough. They are going to take a lot of work." Obama added that the proposals will be subject to debate and improvement, and that he would work with the opposition to make sure they are put into practice.

Obama's proposals include extending health care coverage to 32 million people, reducing the cost of health care, and providing accountability and transparency in the health care system.

"We need to put an end to the politics of divide and conquer," Obama said. "We need to come together and work towards solutions that work for all Americans." Obama added that the proposals will be subject to debate and improvement, and that he would work with the opposition to make sure they are put into practice.

Obama's proposals include extending health care coverage to 32 million people, reducing the cost of health care, and providing accountability and transparency in the health care system.

"We need to put an end to the politics of divide and conquer," Obama said. "We need to come together and work towards solutions that work for all Americans." Obama added that the proposals will be subject to debate and improvement, and that he would work with the opposition to make sure they are put into practice.

Obama's proposals include extending health care coverage to 32 million people, reducing the cost of health care, and providing accountability and transparency in the health care system.

"We need to put an end to the politics of divide and conquer," Obama said. "We need to come together and work towards solutions that work for all Americans." Obama added that the proposals will be subject to debate and improvement, and that he would work with the opposition to make sure they are put into practice.

Obama's proposals include extending health care coverage to 32 million people, reducing the cost of health care, and providing accountability and transparency in the health care system.

"We need to put an end to the politics of divide and conquer," Obama said. "We need to come together and work towards solutions that work for all Americans." Obama added that the proposals will be subject to debate and improvement, and that he would work with the opposition to make sure they are put into practice.

Obama's proposals include extending health care coverage to 32 million people, reducing the cost of health care, and providing accountability and transparency in the health care system.

"We need to put an end to the politics of divide and conquer," Obama said. "We need to come together and work towards solutions that work for all Americans." Obama added that the proposals will be subject to debate and improvement, and that he would work with the opposition to make sure they are put into practice.

Obama's proposals include extending health care coverage to 32 million people, reducing the cost of health care, and providing accountability and transparency in the health care system.

"We need to put an end to the politics of divide and conquer," Obama said. "We need to come together and work towards solutions that work for all Americans." Obama added that the proposals will be subject to debate and improvement, and that he would work with the opposition to make sure they are put into practice.

Obama's proposals include extending health care coverage to 32 million people, reducing the cost of health care, and providing accountability and transparency in the health care system.

"We need to put an end to the politics of divide and conquer," Obama said. "We need to come together and work towards solutions that work for all Americans." Obama added that the proposals will be subject to debate and improvement, and that he would work with the opposition to make sure they are put into practice.

Obama's proposals include extending health care coverage to 32 million people, reducing the cost of health care, and providing accountability and transparency in the health care system.

"We need to put an end to the politics of divide and conquer," Obama said. "We need to come together and work towards solutions that work for all Americans." Obama added that the proposals will be subject to debate and improvement, and that he would work with the opposition to make sure they are put into practice.
School of "C" Begins Campaign for Legacy

BY MARY GODFREY
Contributing Writer

A capital campaign for a new John H. Johnson School of Communications is underway this year with the plan to raise $10 million.

The School of "C" Legacy Campaign is one of the capital campaigns that Howard University has been involved in during recent years.

According to Communications Dean James Davis, the school wants to "raise funds to support the capital campaign that has been going on for several years.

"This semester, the school wants to raise $10 million to support the capital campaign," said Davis.

The campaign is headed by President Sidney J. Ribeau, who has been the driving force behind the campaign.

"Ribeau has been leading the campaign," said Davis.

"He has been working hard to raise the necessary funds for the school," said Davis.

The school has already raised $5 million, and the goal is to raise the remaining $5 million.

"We are confident that we will reach our goal," said Davis.

The campaign is expected to continue for the next several years, and the school hopes to raise the remaining $5 million by 2012.

"We are confident that we will be able to raise the remaining $5 million," said Davis.

The campaign is expected to continue for the next several years, and the school hopes to raise the remaining $5 million by 2012.
Lab Technician Arrested for Death of Yale Student

BY LE' DIA J. SMITH
Staff Writer

A Yale University laboratory technician was arrested only Thursday and charged in the murder of a Yale graduate student August M. Lee. Her body was found bloodied and in a state of obvious physical violence, and it was determined that she had been killed in her dormitory room outside of the motel where she worked. Police said they were unable to enter a locked dormitory room where the body was found.

M. Lee's body was discovered at 7 a.m. on Friday, September 5. Police had been searching the area for several hours when they received a call from a neighbor who had heard a disturbance.

According to police, M. Lee was last seen alive at 3 a.m. on Thursday, September 4, and it was during this time that she was violently assaulted.

In an interview with the New Haven Register, Police Chief James Lewis said that he could not provide details about what prompted her attacker's actions.

Police said that they were unable to enter the dormitory room because the door was locked. They were later able to gain entry and found M. Lee's body in a state of obvious physical violence.

A lab technician, identified as Ricelle Simmons, was arrested on Friday and charged with murder.

Simmons is a lab technician at the Yale University Medical School and worked in a lab where M. Lee was also employed.

Police said that they were unable to enter the dormitory room because the door was locked. They were later able to gain entry and found M. Lee's body in a state of obvious physical violence.

Simmons has been charged with murder and is being held without bail.

The incident is the first murder on campus in recent memory.

In a statement released on Friday, Yale University president Richard C. Levin said that the university was shocked and saddened by the death of a member of its community.

"This is a tragic and senseless loss," Levin said. "Our thoughts and prayers go out to the family and friends of August M. Lee."

Yale's Department of Public Safety said that they were unable to provide further details about the case.

The case is continuing to be investigated by New Haven police.

The Hilltop Staff Writer

Visit

THEHILLTOPONLINE.COM

FOLLOW US ON TWITTER.COM/THEHILLTOP
Debate Continues Over Health Care in America

BY RILEY WILSON

President Obama’s experience for health care reform has been mixed. His historic speech for U.S. citizens to gain sensible benefits for the health insur-

The insurance program, Medicare, that mostly provides insurance coverage to U.S. citizens who are 65 years of age or older, is once again in discussion, but how many people are not yet in it.

Medicare was first signed into law in 1965 by President Lyndon B. Johnson. At the time, these were able to predict the impact that baby boomers, people born between 1946 and 1964, would have on the strength of this system.

There was a reported 78 million babies born within this time frame, most of which are currently over the age of 50, and according to a press release from the American Hospital Association, “The 65+ population will steadily increase between 2010 and 2030.”

The release also estimates that by 2030, more than 37 million will be facing more than one chronic condition.

The inclusion of obesity, smok-

Medicare offers hospital in-

The question is what Congress and the Obama administration will do in order to ensure that the U.S. insured number, 81 million and the U.S. deficit, $105 billion, doesn’t increase and that those who are young, as in the Medicare system, get taken care of.

The French Bid Adieu to the Beloved Kiss

BY OLILE MONTGOMERY

France is known as the city of lights and the city of love, a place where people generally use the most standard aspects of good

That’s real. I don’t blame

The French will take precautions, but they don’t view this as a "precautionary thing.

Similarly, French problem, Nicolas Sarkozy, has encouraged that it will never again be the same and to wash their hands fre-

Now, however, “la bise” has

We see an

"Swine Flu" is airborne, and one thing is very important: not to cough into their hands or faces rather than their sleeves, and to wash their hands fre-

Another factor of the French government, like others, is to encourage citizens to cough into their hands or faces rather than their sleeves, and to wash their hands fre-

Find something funny?

Submit your Friday Folly to hilltopnews@gmail.com
BY STEPHEN KNOX
Contributing Writer

For many, September is a gloomy month. Summer ends, vacation time is over and school begins after a month-long break. One event, however, seems to brighten the mood of sports fans all across the country: the beginning of fall football.

Opening weekend of college football has become so celebrated that both the NFL and the NCAA try to lure fans with big-time games on prime-time television. The 2009 Super Bowl was the second highest-rated event in the history of TV. Although the NFL is the professional league, there are some that prefer the college game.

One of those people is sports management major Thomas Woods. "In college, the players play harder," Woods said. "Not only do they understand that if they get to the NFL, their contracts aren't guaranteed, so they're playing not just for their school, but to make sure they get the highest quota bonus possible if they get to the NFL."

Jason Helen Heckert also appreciates the intensity of college sports, but notices a difference in fan involvement. "The fans are much more educated," Heckett said. "Not only do they have more about their own team, but they also have the experience of seeing the teams play against each other." He also noted that the student section in both college and professional games are not nearly as loud as the NFL. "In college football, there are so many unknowns because only certain teams are really good," Heckett said. "All 11 teams in the NFL have talent on any given Sunday, whereas college has bigger differences."

Rashad McCollum, formerly known as Chad Johnson before he had his name changed, helps contribute to the belief that professional athletes lose their passion for the game after their college careers.

"I was a wide receiver for a year in the NFL," McCollum said. "At the beginning of the season, you think you have a chance. As you go down the road, you think you have a chance to be a Hall-of-Famer, but people get hurt and they leave the game. Not only that, but you have to play with 32 teams in the NFL."

One of the biggest differences between college and professional sports is the level of competition. "As a player, I would never try to compete with the best players in the NFL," McCollum said. "I would try to compete against the best players in college football."

Jason Clark from San Antonio believes the NFL is more competitive than college. "As a former football player, I think college is more competitive," Clark said. "The NFL is more competitive because the games are played with the best players in the world."

Clark also believes the level of competition is what makes the game so good. "I think that's why it's so good," Clark said. "The NFL is where the best players in the world play."

Clark also noted the evolution of the game of football. "There are less injuries in football now that they used to," Clark said. "The way they've changed the rules of the game has been great."

Today's Sports Trivia:

What former Cincinnati Reds was suspended from baseball for gambling on games?

Answer: Pete Rose

Have a sports throwback photo in mind?

E-mail TheHilltopSports@gmail.com with suggestions.
ZORA'S VOICE WAS HEARD THROUGH HER LEGACY, THE HILLTOP.
BEGIN BUILDING YOUR LEGACY TODAY.
Numerous Outbursts Show Lack of Etiquette

Raise your hand if you've heard a constituent express thank you for not speaking. We've heard it before. We've heard constituents thank us for not speaking.

"Thank you for not speaking," the constituent would say, "I'm not looking for trouble, but I'm not looking for your opinions on certain issues." It's a common refrain, especially when legislators are trying to pass a bill or amendment without much opposition.

Representative Joe Wilson, a staunch supporter of President Donald Trump, recently found himself in hot water after a constituent complained about his behavior during a town hall meeting.

"I was absolutely taken aback," the constituent said. "I've never seen anything like it before. He was just going on and on about how great the president is, and how he's doing everything right, and how we should all support him. It was just too much for me." The constituent's outburst was met with laughter from other attendees.

Others have been more subdued, but they still make their feelings known. Senator Elizabeth Warren, for example, has often been known to interrupt and challenge President Trump during press conferences and public appearances.

Our View: These outbursts are disrespectful and this is starting to get out of hand.

Be accurately ordered under the new health care plan. According to former President Barak Obama's remarks, it was not a simple case of a president trying to protect his country. Rather, it was a matter of making sure that the policies put into place actually benefited the people of this country.

Race or genre, one is unacceptable. There are House rules that prohibit this type of behavior, but more so, people, especially those politicians, should hold the custom formed to keep our democracy from becoming too partisan.

We've watched a few unforgettable figures speak and believe more finns in our country want to see us as we are without constant yelling. With former Williams speaking to the U.S. Open, Michael Jordan doing it all on the NBA Hall of Fame career, and more news this year, it seemed that people have truly forgotten how to behave. This is a serious etiquette problem. It's not the time to get upset at an event during a game or in off-hours worth of time during an important speech, but it's neither to take a microphone out of someone's hand during their acceptance speech to tell the world why this recipient was not the most qualified, or to interrupt the PRESIDENT during a speech and yell him to keep his hands off LYNDON whilst yelling to stop it all more.

That's just too much. We live in a country where we're granted freedom of speech, but we also need to exercise all of our rights all of the time.

Change will not wait if we come for some other person or some other time. We are the ones we've been waiting for. We are the change that we seek.

-Jack Obama

Send your perspectives to HilltopEditorials@gmail.com

To write a story for The Hilltop?

Come back in our next budget meeting.

Sunday at 6 p.m. in the Howard Plaza Towers West P-Level

THE HILLTOP
The Nation's Only Black Daily Collegiate Newspaper

Crystal J. Allen
Managing Editor

Traver Riggins
Managing Editor

Jada F. Smith
Managing Editor

Lorrie Johnson
Deputy Managing Editor

Naya Sarcobough
Editorial & Production Editor

Alexis D. Berry
Design & Technology Editor

Ryan Foster
Photo Editor

Charles Meltzer III
Nicollet McClendon

Derrick Farrier
Online Editor

Erica Hawkins
Copy Editor

Jadara Harris
Art Director

Clayton K. Walker
Sports Editor

Rafea Williams
Auditor

Faraday Oliver
Editor

Robert Williams
Copy Editor

Seani Robinson
Photographer

Jennifer Albert
Operations Manager

THE HILLTOP
Now in its 80th year, The Hilltop is the nation's oldest black collegiate newspaper. We're looking for writers and photographers to cover campus events and the surrounding community. Submit your work to thehilltopeditorials@gmail.com.

The Hilltop encourages its readers to share opinions with the newspaper through letters to the editor or op-eds. All letters should be complete address and telephone number and should be sent electronically to our Web site at hilltopcommunications.com.

The Hilltop reserves the right to edit letters, space and grammar errors as well as any inappropriate, defamatory or offensive content. All letters must be submitted a week prior to publication.

DAILY SUDOKU
Directions: Each row, each column and each 3x3 box must contain each and every digit 1-9 exactly once.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>8</th>
<th>7</th>
<th>2</th>
<th>6</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>9</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>9</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>9</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>6</th>
<th>4</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8</td>
<td>7</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

THE HILLTOP
Now in its 80th year, The Hilltop is the nation's oldest black daily newspaper. We're looking for writers and photographers to cover campus events and the surrounding community. Submit your work to thehilltopeditorials@gmail.com.

The Hilltop encourages its readers to share opinions with the newspaper through letters to the editor or op-eds. All letters should be complete address and telephone number and should be sent electronically to our Web site at hilltopcommunications.com.

The Hilltop reserves the right to edit letters, space and grammar errors as well as any inappropriate, defamatory or offensive content. All letters must be submitted a week prior to publication.

Jada F. Smith
Managing Editor

Deontay Morris
Deputy Managing Editor

Naya Sarcobough
Editorial & Production Editor

Alexis D. Berry
Design & Technology Editor

Ryan Foster
Photo Editor

Charles Meltzer III
Nicollet McClendon

Derrick Farrier
Online Editor

Erica Hawkins
Copy Editor

Jadara Harris
Art Director

Clayton K. Walker
Sports Editor

Rafea Williams
Auditor

Faraday Oliver
Editor

Robert Williams
Copy Editor

Seani Robinson
Photographer

Jennifer Albert
Operations Manager

THE HILLTOP
Now in its 80th year, The Hilltop is the nation's oldest black daily newspaper. We're looking for writers and photographers to cover campus events and the surrounding community. Submit your work to thehilltopeditorials@gmail.com.

The Hilltop encourages its readers to share opinions with the newspaper through letters to the editor or op-eds. All letters should be complete address and telephone number and should be sent electronically to our Web site at hilltopcommunications.com.

The Hilltop reserves the right to edit letters, space and grammar errors as well as any inappropriate, defamatory or offensive content. All letters must be submitted a week prior to publication.

Jada F. Smith
Managing Editor

Deontay Morris
Deputy Managing Editor

Naya Sarcobough
Editorial & Production Editor

Alexis D. Berry
Design & Technology Editor

Ryan Foster
Photo Editor

Charles Meltzer III
Nicollet McClendon

Derrick Farrier
Online Editor

Erica Hawkins
Copy Editor

Jadara Harris
Art Director

Clayton K. Walker
Sports Editor

Rafea Williams
Auditor

Faraday Oliver
Editor

Robert Williams
Copy Editor

Seani Robinson
Photographer

Jennifer Albert
Operations Manager

THE HILLTOP
Now in its 80th year, The Hilltop is the nation's oldest black daily newspaper. We're looking for writers and photographers to cover campus events and the surrounding community. Submit your work to thehilltopeditorials@gmail.com.

The Hilltop encourages its readers to share opinions with the newspaper through letters to the editor or op-eds. All letters should be complete address and telephone number and should be sent electronically to our Web site at hilltopcommunications.com.

The Hilltop reserves the right to edit letters, space and grammar errors as well as any inappropriate, defamatory or offensive content. All letters must be submitted a week prior to publication.

Jada F. Smith
Managing Editor

Deontay Morris
Deputy Managing Editor

Naya Sarcobough
Editorial & Production Editor

Alexis D. Berry
Design & Technology Editor

Ryan Foster
Photo Editor

Charles Meltzer III
Nicollet McClendon

Derrick Farrier
Online Editor

Erica Hawkins
Copy Editor

Jadara Harris
Art Director

Clayton K. Walker
Sports Editor

Rafea Williams
Auditor

Faraday Oliver
Editor

Robert Williams
Copy Editor

Seani Robinson
Photographer

Jennifer Albert
Operations Manager

THE HILLTOP
Now in its 80th year, The Hilltop is the nation's oldest black daily newspaper. We're looking for writers and photographers to cover campus events and the surrounding community. Submit your work to thehilltopeditorials@gmail.com.

The Hilltop encourages its readers to share opinions with the newspaper through letters to the editor or op-eds. All letters should be complete address and telephone number and should be sent electronically to our Web site at hilltopcommunications.com.

The Hilltop reserves the right to edit letters, space and grammar errors as well as any inappropriate, defamatory or offensive content. All letters must be submitted a week prior to publication.

Jada F. Smith
Managing Editor

Deontay Morris
Deputy Managing Editor

Naya Sarcobough
Editorial & Production Editor

Alexis D. Berry
Design & Technology Editor

Ryan Foster
Photo Editor

Charles Meltzer III
Nicollet McClendon

Derrick Farrier
Online Editor

Erica Hawkins
Copy Editor

Jadara Harris
Art Director

Clayton K. Walker
Sports Editor

Rafea Williams
Auditor

Faraday Oliver
Editor

Robert Williams
Copy Editor

Seani Robinson
Photographer

Jennifer Albert
Operations Manager

THE HILLTOP
Now in its 80th year, The Hilltop is the nation's oldest black daily newspaper. We're looking for writers and photographers to cover campus events and the surrounding community. Submit your work to thehilltopeditorials@gmail.com.

The Hilltop encourages its readers to share opinions with the newspaper through letters to the editor or op-eds. All letters should be complete address and telephone number and should be sent electronically to our Web site at hilltopcommunications.com.

The Hilltop reserves the right to edit letters, space and grammar errors as well as any inappropriate, defamatory or offensive content. All letters must be submitted a week prior to publication.

Jada F. Smith
Managing Editor

Deontay Morris
Deputy Managing Editor

Naya Sarcobough
Editorial & Production Editor

Alexis D. Berry
Design & Technology Editor

Ryan Foster
Photo Editor

Charles Meltzer III
Nicollet McClendon

Derrick Farrier
Online Editor

Erica Hawkins
Copy Editor

Jadara Harris
Art Director

Clayton K. Walker
Sports Editor

Rafea Williams
Auditor

Faraday Oliver
Editor

Robert Williams
Copy Editor

Seani Robinson
Photographer

Jennifer Albert
Operations Manager

THE HILLTOP
Now in its 80th year, The Hilltop is the nation's oldest black daily newspaper. We're looking for writers and photographers to cover campus events and the surrounding community. Submit your work to thehilltopeditorials@gmail.com.

The Hilltop encourages its readers to share opinions with the newspaper through letters to the editor or op-eds. All letters should be complete address and telephone number and should be sent electronically to our Web site at hilltopcommunications.com.

The Hilltop reserves the right to edit letters, space and grammar errors as well as any inappropriate, defamatory or offensive content. All letters must be submitted a week prior to publication.
Hilltopics are printed everyday. The first 20 words are $10 and .25 for each additional word. There is a 25% additional charge for small images. All classifiers must be submitted and paid for 3 business days in advance.

We accept payment in the form of cashier's checks, money orders, business checks, and major credit cards. NO CASH. Any questions? Contact The Hilltop Business Office at 202.806.4409. Email your reservations and artwork material to classified@hilltoponline.com be sure to supply your run date, background and text colors.

The cabbage all men and women. Beacon, Liturgical Dance Ministry invites you to:
Open Call Sept. 19th 12-2pm Cook Hall
Sept. 20th 2-4pm Blackburn

CALLING A CHAPLAIN

BETA KAPPA CHI NATIONAL SCIENTIFIC HONOR SOCIETY FIRST GENERAL BODY MEETING IS 9/21/09 AT 5:30PM IN T J. J. HALL.

BETHEL, CHAPLAIN

THE LADIES OF ZETA PI BETA SORORITY, INC. ALPHA CHAPEL PRESENTS ZETA WEEK: SORORITY PRESENTS "24TH ANNUAL INTERNATIONAL COASTAL CLEANUP WEEK" ALPHA CHAPEL

IMAGES

The John H. Johnson School of Communications Student Council Presents School of Communications Week 2009

Night out with ADVANCE Meet in front of CB Powell Building Tonight at 6pm. Campus Clean-Up & BBQ C.B. Powell Building Saturday, September 19, 2009 11 am

BUY BLACK!

Howard Deli 2612 Georgia Ave 202.332.5747

Sandwich Special - $6.50 Shortie Beef BBQ - $6.50

9" Sub Special - $7.99 Ghetto Sweet Iced Tea

Homemade Cake and Cookies

VISA-MC-AMEX

Alpha Phi Omega National Service Fraternity, Zeta Phi Beta Chapter Rush Week 2009

Pith to the Finish (Formal Rush) Tonight 7:30pm Blackburn Gallery Lounge

The Brumel: Leveraging Capabilities and Visioning Our Environment

Call to Chapel Sunday, September 20, 2009 Cramton Auditorium 11:00am

The Holden Dollar: Effecting Change Through Economic Stability

Monday, September 21, 2009 Blackburn Digital Auditorium 7:00pm

Reach: Extending Pulse to Provide for Others

Tuesday, September 22, 2009 Blackburn Digital Auditorium 7:00pm

Creve de la Ceintre, Exuding Proper Etiquette in the University of Academia

Wednesday, September 23, 2009 Blackburn Digital Auditorium 7:00pm

Defense Mechanisms: Strengthening Our Minds and Protecting Our Bodies

Thursday, September 24, 2009 Surrey 7:00pm

In the Absentee: Absent, Alone and Unchecked

Friday, September 25, 2009 Blackburn Digital Auditorium 7:00pm

Rhythm Reminder:

Tickets Are Now On Sale International Showcases

Gospel Show
Poetry Night
Comedy Show
Celebrity Basketball Game
Fashion Show 1 & 2
R&B Show
Step Show

STOP BY THE CRAMTON BOX OFFICE TODAY OR VISIT TICKET MASTER.COM

The Women of Alpha Chapter, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Incorporated invite you to our literary circle taking place October 13th, 2009, the book entitled Color Me Butterfly by L.V. Marlow, will be the topic of discussion.

The School of Visual and Performing Arts presents "24th Annual International Coastal Cleanup Week: "The Call of the Cabbage"" Alpha Chapel presents Zeta Week: Sorority Presents..."