Scope Note

The Miles Stevens Pendleton Jr. papers range from 1960-1990. The Pendleton papers provide a window into the life of a man whose career involved political affairs.

The majority of his papers contain correspondence between him and his immediate family, spanning the years 1960-1995. These letters detail personal information, overseas matters, as well as, document his daily endeavors and observations.

There are six series: correspondence, financial records, organizational affiliations, printed material, news clippings, artifacts, and photographs. The most prolific series is correspondence. Of interest are postcards that document areas of Europe and Western Africa where Mr. Pendleton worked and notated brief updates about conditions within area countries.

The collection also contains a variety of photographs chronicling his life. The majority of photos contain images of him with military officials, ambassadors, friends/associates, and family. There are a few newspaper clippings about the Burundi Massacre and the photographs from what could possibly be his home during the Massacre period.

The papers were donated by the family of Miles Pendleton Jr. in 2011 and measures 1.5 linear feet.
